The championship finals will be played at 9:00 p. m. on Wednesday, preceded by the third-place game between the losers of Tuesday night's first-round games. The winner will represent the region in the Minnesota state high school tournament in Minneapolis on March 19, 20 and 21.

An advance ticket sale will be held, and all advance ticket holders are requested to use the northwest entrance to the Fieldhouse. Admission is 50 cents for students, and $1.25 for adults, and the advance ticket sale here is being conducted from Ralph Skay's Attendance Director's office in the high school.

Supt. D. S. Eikenes of East Grand Forks is serving as tournament manager, and he announced that the annual dinner for school and Region 8 officials is planned for 5:30 p. m. at the East Grand Forks American Legion club room.

Tournament officials for the regional games will be Dana Powers of Breckenridge, and Cliff Hermes of Campbell.

The doors to the UND fieldhouse will be opened at 6:30 p. m. on Tuesday and Wednesday.

$13 Million Road Jobs to Be Awarded Mar. 20

One of the biggest highway construction lettings in state history is scheduled for March 20, the Minnesota highway department announces. Bids on 25 trunk highway projects estimated to cost $13.6 million will be received by the department at its central offices in St. Paul.

The projects involve construction of 41 bridges (which is the largest number of bridges in any one letting), grading of 114 miles, surfacing of 31¼ of those miles, installation of a pumping station, fencing, traffic signal systems and building removals.

The biggest project involves grading of 9.7 miles in Steele county on THs 35, 3 and 218 and construction of 21 bridges between CSAH 31 and the junction of TH's 35 and 14 at Owatonna. Most of the work will be on TH 35, involving 6.6 miles of grading and 16 bridges. This segment will connect with the eight miles of TH 35 north of Owatonna, the first piece of Interstate freeway opened in the state in 1958. Other work involes a new alignment of TH 218 to connect it with the Inter-state and a connection of TH 3 with the Interstate. Surfacing of these segments of THs 35, 3 and 218 is programmed for the spring of 1965.

Some other major projects in the March 20 letting are: grading of 16 miles and two bridges on TH 10 between Dilworth and one mile west of Hawley, in Clay county; grading of 7.3 miles and four bridges on TH 90 between the Rock river, south of Luverne, and the east Rock county line, in Rock county; grading of 9.6 miles and concrete paving and traffic signs on 13.2 miles of TH 90 between the west state line and the junction of TH 75 south of Luverne, in Rock county; two projects involving TH 169, calling for grading, base and bituminous surfacing of 9.3 miles between Garrison and Bennettville and of 8.9 miles between Bennettville and Aitkin, in Aitkin and Crow Wing counties; grading of 9.1 miles and one bridge on TH 169 between St. Peter and the north Nicollet county line, in Nicollet county; grading, gravel base and plant-mixed bituminous base on eight miles of Highway 2 between 1.1 miles west of the east line of Polk county and Bagley.

Peace Corps Tests Given Here Mar. 14

Organization Needs 5,000 Volunteers, Says Shriver

The Peace Corps has announced that the next Peace Corps placement test, required of all applicants interested in serving overseas, will be given on Saturday, March 14 at approximately 825 locations in principal cities throughout the United States. The test begins at 8:30 a. m. in places including the postoffice in Thief River Falls.

Over 5,000 qualified Volunteers are needed to begin training this summer, said Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps. The most critical skills in demand, he said, are in the fields of agriculture, health, engineering, construction and education—particularly math and science teaching.

The two required tests, the general aptitude test and the modern language aptitude test, take about one and a half hours to complete.

To take the placement test, applicants should bring with them a completed Peace Corps questionnaire. Forms are available at the postoffice.

Rural Civilian Defense Bulletin Now Available

"National Emergency" Book To Acquaint Rural People With Defense Procedures

In the event of a large-scale nuclear attack, agriculture must be able to recover quickly and continue producing food and fiber.

The "National Emergency" bulletin (RCD-2), published by the Agricultural Extension service of the University of Minnesota, is designed to acquaint the state's rural people with Civil Defense procedures. Clifton Halsey, state rural Civil Defense agent, says the bulletin will help them to accomplish this goal.

The bulletin defines the responsibilities of the U. S. Department of Agriculture for food production and rural defense information and education. The rolls of the USDA County Defense board, State Defense board and National Defense board are explained and some tips are offered on rural Civil Defense.

Additional sources of information and a listing of other available bulletins on Civil Defense are also included in the "National Emergency" bulletin. The bulletin will be mailed by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service.

Persons can also pick up the "National Emergency" bulletin at the extension office, or by writing to Clifton Halsey, c.o. University of Minnesota, Institute of Agriculture, St. Paul, Minnesota, 55101.

Mary Hemingway Heir to $1,000,000

Daughter of Former TRF Couple Gets Huge Estate

Mary Welch Hemingway, widow of author Ernest Hemingway, is expected to receive about one million dollars of a gross estate of $1.41 million left by the famed author, according to an accounting filed recently in New York.

The accounting, filed with the Transfer and Estate Tax Section of the State Tax Commission, stipulated that the rest of the estate would go for taxes—past and present—various debts, funeral expenses and legal fees.

Hemingway, who won both the Nobel and Pulitzer prizes, was found dead of a shotgun wound at his home in Ketchum, Idaho, July 2, 1961.

His wife, Mary, (the former Mary Welch of Bemidji), is the sole beneficiary. Her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Welch, at one time lived in Thief River Falls.

Qualified Charitable Gifts Tax Deductible

(This is the ninth in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar association, Public Relations Committee.)

Taxpayers who itemize their deductions may deduct the amount of gifts made to qualified charities during the year. Qualified charitable organizations include, domestic organizations operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes; Federal, state or local governments; veterans organizations and non-profit cemetery and burial companies.

Charitable gifts to needy persons or organizations other than qualified ones are not deductible even though motivated by charitable intentions. Dues which are paid to qualified charitable organizations or where benefits are derived from the payments of dues to such organizations are normally not deductible.

The amount of the charitable deduction on the Federal return is limited to 20 per cent of adjusted gross income and this is increased to 30 per cent if the additional 10 per cent is donated to a church, educational organization or hospital. On the Minnesota return, the contribution limit is 20 per cent if the additional 10 per cent is donated to a church; educational organization or hospital. On the Minnesota return, the contribution limit is 20 per cent of taxable net income before the deduction for contributions is taken.

The contribution is allowed only in the year in which it is paid even though the tax is paid on an accrual basis and a pledge is submitted to the charity. The contribution may be made in money or other property. When the contribution consists of property other than cash, the amount deductible is the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift.

If property is given which has a value greater than its initial cost, the contribution is still measured by the value of the property and no tax is payable on the increase in value over the cost.

The charitable contribution deduction applies also to the fair market value of used property which is donated to charity, such as used clothing, toys and household articles. Expenses incurred for traveling and transportation while serving a charitable organization may be deducted if not reimbursed. However, no deduction is allowed for time donated to a charity.

If a charitable contribution is made in the form of property, a description of the property, the date of the gift and the method used to determine its value must be stated on the return. For gifts of property valued at more than $200, this statement must set forth any conditions placed on the gift, its cost if acquired within five years of the date of the gift, a copy of any appraisal used to establish value and a statement concerning any interest retained in the property.

Contributions to political organizations and candidates up to $100 may be deducted on the Minnesota return, but no deduction is allowed on the Federal return for political contributions.

Co-ops Advised to Work for Quality

Farm Credit Leader Is Speaker at RRV Shows

At a noon luncheon today, Feb. 27, following a Seminar for Farm School in connection with the Red River Valley Winter Shows, area farmer cooperative officials heard Glenn E. Heit, deputy governor and director of Cooperative Bank Service for the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. D.

This advice came from Mr. Heit, "The quality image projected by farmer cooperatives over the years has had much to do with the continued growth of co-ops and will be an increasingly important factor in the years ahead.'

Heitz said, "Our marketing cooperatives are dealing increasingly with fewer, but larger specification buyers who frequently are interested as much in a constant source of high uniform quality products, as they are in price. On the other hand, farmers continue to be concerned with a continuing source of quality farm supplies and services at reasonable prices to assist them in the operations of their farms. It is our view that improved efficiency of operation and maintenance of quality standards are quite consistent and compatible."

At his post Heit heads that part of Farm Credit Administration which supervises nationally 13 banks for cooperatives which loaned over $1 billion last year to farmer coops. These banks obtain their loan funds through the sale of debentures (nearly $1 billion last year) to private investors.

"The power of a man increases steadily by continuance in one direction. Magic of Electricity

If one single thing is to be credited with the growth of industry in America, it must be electric power— a power which was credited in 1960 with providing the equivalent of 428 extra men helping each factory worker in the United States.

Electric companies in the United States expect to spend around $140 billion in the next 20 years to increase their capability to 492 million killowatts—over three and one-half times the 1960 level. Expansion of this magical utility will be concurrent with the expansion of our industry.

A utility company magazine had the following to say about electricity, and it isn't far from a fact: "Electricity is something that starts the Lord knows where and ends in the same place. It is 1-36th of a second faster on its feet than its nearest competitor, backyard gossip, and when turned loose in Europe will get to the United States five hours before it starts. Nobody knows exactly what it is, because it has never stood still long enough...."

A Red Face

The face of communism in Bulgaria is rosy red from embarrassement. It is because communist authorities in that country decided to prove the fallacy of capitalistic economic superiority. Their "proof" backfired.

As a test situation, Liliana Dimitrova Corporation in Sofia, a textile mill, was allowed to operate virtually without state interference. To the embarrassment of communist leaders, the corporation exceeded its yearly production plan about six weeks ahead of schedule, made a profit for the state, boosted workers' earnings by 10 per cent for the year and expanded employment in the community.

According to Ralph T. Moore in the "Oregon Voter", the communists aren't having too much success in explaining how it could be that this happened. There is growing demand on the part of the Bulgarian public that there be further expansion of such economic liberty.

Editorial comment in communist papers now mentions "....the strange doctrine, that every economic enterprise be allowed maximum independence and that factory-level initiative be fully restored." It appears the communists slipped into their own trap and the citizens of Bulgaria are not anxious to let them out very easy.

Is There Room for Two?

We have been assured by educators and others in high places, as well as area proponents of higher educational opportunity in northwestern Minnesota, that there is no conflict of interest between plans for a technical college at the Northwest School of agriculture and the hopes for a junior college at Thief River Falls. The two schools, they say, are entirely compatible.

In this theory, on the basis of what we have heard, we are compelled to agree. There would without a doubt be some question of what courses would be offered and to what extent at either school, so as not to conflict with each other or with our own vocational-technical school. These differences, however, should not be overly difficult to resolve.

Now the interesting question about the higher education situation in northwestern Minnesota is this: Will the state Legislature see fit to establish two facilities for higher education in northwestern Minnesota? In other words, while the two schools are excellent in thought and theory, will they also be compatible in legislative financial appropriation?

The whole situation, ideal or otherwise, boils down to the question of how much money the legislature is willing to appropriate when it comes to the time of actual decision. This will be, as they say in the profession of chemistry, the acid test.

The Northwest Educational Improvement association at Crookston has recently adopted a resolution with several points. These are logical in content and in sequence. The first calls for the establishment of a branch of the University of Minnesota at Crookston by 1965. The second states that courses at this technical school should not conflict with the area vocational-technical school in Thief River Falls. The third calls for the location of a junior college in Thief River Falls.

The state junior college board, authorized by the legislature and appointed by the governor, is to make its recommendation on junior college sites to the legislature by Jan. 15, 1965. There just may be a question in the minds of legislators as to priority if only one of the two schools is considered for appropriations.

Having either or both schools would help our area's educational void. In this community, of course, we have preference for the junior college. We feel it more closely meets the needs of the area than a technical school. In the interests of all concerned, however, it is best that northwestern Minnesota presents a unified front in its requests, makes its needs and feelings known, and lets the chips fall where they may.

There is certainly room for two institutions of higher learning in Northwestern Minnesota. It is to be hoped that the legislature will find enough money also.

A Fitting Reward

James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, is apparently getting his due reward for illegal activities. Target of legal attempts to put him behind bars for he past seven years, Hoffa was finally found guilty of jury tampering in Chattanooga, Tenn.

It was the fifth federal trial for the union boss since 1957, but the first conviction on charges against him. Maximum sentence would be 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. Hoffa was convicted of offering a $10,000 bribe to the son of a negro juror in the 1962 trial at which he faced a charge of conspiracy.

About all that can be said of the conviction is that it is about time Hoffa begins to pay his debt to society. His mis-management of union funds has been a discredit to union administration and his underworld conduct and contacts have served to undermine fundamental purposes of unionism. Members of Teamsters Union locals should, and probably do, realize that their president has been doing them a great injustice for some time.

Hoffa's conduct and remarks have been unbefitting any official of high national office and his disregard of and contempt for the law have been disgraceful. Hoffa himself has said that the Chattanooga trial would determine his future as a labor leader. It behooves union members to be more selective in their leadership the next time around.

Down the Drain

Efforts of people in four counties to secure improved library service have been thwarted by the governing body of a single county. Marshall county commissioners put a heavy stamp of disapproval on a proposed multi-county library plan with a 5-0 vote against the proposal last Tuesday.

Roseau and Kittson county boards put themselves in an unattractive position by tabling action to "wait and see" how the Marshall county board would react. By riding the fence they showed a lack of intestinal fortitude—neither having the courage to approve the plan or the personal strength to disapprove it.

Marshall county commissioners, by disapproving the plan, have shown a lack of faith in their own ability. Under terms of the trial program offered, without cost to the counties involved, commissioners need only agree to CONSIDER continuation of the program at the end of the trial period. They were apparently afraid they would be unable to say "no" then. By refusing to let the reading public assist in evaluation of the multi-county program, the commissioners have displayed a fear of being proved wrong.

No matter what the commissioners may say, they were not considering cost to the county when voting on the proposal. No cost to the county is (or was) involved at this time. If they claim to have been considering cost, then they are guilty of not understanding the question on which they were voting.

In our democratic society, we elect officials to do two things—to administrate the affairs of the governing body to which they are elected and to do the will of the people they represent. We seriously wonder if the Marshall county commissioners heeded the requests of their constituents. We are inclined to believe they did not, but rather that they confused far-sighted personal vision with a near-sighted approach.

As for Roseau and Kittson county inaction, residents of those counties should expect more than they received from their commissioners. At least Marshall county board members (probably because they were forced into the situation) had the courage to make a decision. Right or wrong, at least that much should be expected of every public official.

State funds, already appropriated and available, will now go to some other multi-county unit. Our four-county area will be devoid of the service it could have had and will continue aimlessly along, not really knowing for sure whether or not the library program might have been successful. Cross off the multi-county library as the diamond lost in the cloudy water and effectively swept down the drain.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

by Governor
KARL ROLVAAG

Recently I had the pleasure to lead a small but enthusiastic group on a five-day sweep of the West Coast and Arizona. The trip was designed to stimulate tourism and was made in cooperation with Western Airlines.

Reverse Sun Break

Each year thousands of Minnesotans take their vacations during the winter months. They spend millions in Southern California and the Southwest. But we feel that a good many former Minnesotans and millions of others would like to reverse the familiar "sun break" and would like to escape their hot summer climates for an air-conditioned rest here in beautiful Minnesota. We went West determined to sell the "fly North in summer" idea.

A Picnic Visit

We joined with the Minnesota Society of Southern California for their winter picnic in Long Beach. Hundreds of retired Minnesotans were on hand as we urged them to come home for their vacations this summer. We were able to meet and to shake hands with fomer citizens of Rochester, Duluth, Albert Lea, Pipestone, Mankato, the Twin Cities, and half a hundred or more other communities. One of the highlights, at least for me, was to meet the children of those who had retired in the West and their children.

True Minnesotans

I met many true sons and daughters of Minnesota out West—children who have a deep and an abiding interest in this state. It was truly touching to see them reach out eagerly for the little state flags we distributed as a gift for all of the children at the picnic. I can assure you that these people have a deep and an abiding love for our state. Countless numbers of them expressed a sincere interest in returning to their heritage, even if only for just a short vacation.

Another Highlight

There were many wonderful experiences on this short journey. Certainly another highlight was a visit to the United States Manufacturing Company of Glendale, a prosthetics firm. This company is presently shipping machinery to Northern Minnesota to begin operations there. During the visit I signed a contract for temporary leasing of a state building with J. Morgan Greene, president, who will soon be in production and providing badly needed jobs in the Virginia area. Mr. Greene served as host at a breakfast for a number of his business friends and associates whom he felt would be interested in the "Minnesota Story." Mr. Greene is certainly one of the finest Minnesota boosters we have out West.

Litton Likes us

I was also pleased to meet and discuss business growth opportunities with George T. Scharffenberger, Fred W. O'Greene, Allen Orbuch and other executives of Litton Industries. Litton recently began electronics operations in Duluth and more recently in Hibbing and Minneapolis. These officials indicated in clear terms that they are pleased with their new operations in our state and that thought is being given to further expansion of their operations in Minnesota. We, of course, are extremely happy to have them here.

Star . . .

The Star 4H club will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday evening March 17 at 8 p. m. at the town hall.

Cadillac

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

THIS OWNER LOVES IT!

The three pictures above illustrate one reason for their enthusiasm. The top car is a 1963 model . . . the center car is a 1962 Cadillac . . . and the lower car is four years old. The styling through the years has evolved and refined, but each is unmistakably a Cadillac.

These owners share a common knowledge. Not even most new motor cars offer the degree of pleasure and reliability that come with a previously owned Cadillac.

First, there is Cadillac's renowned craftsmanship, which results in a car of unusual endurance.

Next, consider value. The equipment on a Cadillac of older vintage is still extra cost on most new cars . . . and includes such features as Hydra-Matic, power steering, power brakes, power windows on most models . . . plus many Cadillac engineering advancements that still have not found their way into other new 1964 cars.

And don't overlook Cadillac's reputation for operating economy—comparable to many smaller cars.

So when you make your next motor car investment, new or used, consider only one name—Cadillac.

Driving a car that's six years old? You have lots of company, according to the Triple A. Average age of all passenger cars in use today is about six years. At the close of World War II, average of all cars was nine years, but it's been dropping steadily ever since.

Board Views Sketches for Proposed LHS Remodeling

Preliminary sketches of proposed remodeling at Lincoln high school were presented by "Ozaly" Roberts of the architectural firm of Hammel and Green when the Thief River Falls board of education met Monday evening at the school.

Funds were included in the bond issue passed last year to cover the remodeling necessary to bring the high school science and home economics departments up to state standards. Also included in the remodeling plans are the welding and auto body departments of the area vocational-technical school, arrangement to return a library to the Knox elementery school and provide for a school bus garage.

School officials were informed some time ago that they were in jeopardy of losing special financial aid if the vocational departments of the high school were not brought up to standard. Departments for auto body repair and welding will be moved from rental property into district-owned facilities now existing. The library at Knox was converted into temporary calssrooms nearly three years ago. Robert said he would supply cost estimates at a later meeting with the board.

After considerable discussion regarding a request from a Girl Scout troop to use a school bus for a trip to Washington, D.C., the board decided to deny the request. While buses have been made available to scout organizations for short trips in the past, the board expressed the opinion that a trip to Washington was beyond the reasonable limits of such bus use.

Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Dorothy Westlund in the business department and Mrs. Darlene Wilhelm, girls' physical education instructor. Both are effective at the end of the school year.

Supt. M.R. Hankerson was directed by the board to arrange to call for bids for two new school buses. It was also noted that several letters had been received from interested parties concerning the name of the new school.

Discussion was also held on the teachers' salary proposal and it was stated by the board that a final decision on salaries would be made at the March 18 meeting of the board.

Secondary Road Costs Announced

$280,794 Is Outlay In Pennington Co. In 1963

The size and cost of Minnesota's secondary roads — that is, county systems, whether built with federal aid or state aid — sometimes is overlooked by the general public, total for which are overshadowed by sheer bulk of the trunk highways and the glamorous Interstate system.

But to see the aggregate figures on the county systems revises such hasty impressions. For example, Minnesota's 87 counties in 1963 built or improved a total of 1,621 miles of roads at a cost of $23,534,078.

These figures compare favorably with 1962, when a total of 1,705 miles of roads were constructed at a cost of $23,813,447. Or to go back to 1958, which was the biggest year in the six-year period, 2,007 miles of road were constructed for a cost of $24,518,421. Totals for the whole six-year period are 10,746 miles costing $136,152,906.

For 1963, the total mileage and program expenditures in counties in this area were as follows: Pennington, 24.02 miles costing $280,794; Red Lake, 28.92 miles, $29,662; Marshall, 33.45 miles, $489,545; Polk, 44.67 miles, $509,215; Roseau, 18.23 miles, $234,689; and Kittson, 10.35 miles, $154,791.

Foreign Trade Is Topic of NW Minn. Farm Forum Apr. 3

Implications of foreign trade as they apply to Northwestern Minnesota farmers will be discussed at the Northwest Minnesota Farm Forum to be held Friday, April 3, in Thief River Falls. The forum will begin at 10 a. m. in the National Guard armory.

Speakers for the forum covering "The Minnesota Farmer in Foreign Trade" will include Dr. Elmer Learn, head of the department of economics, Minnesota Institute of Agriculture; Senator Eugene McCarthy; and Representative Odin Langen.

Sponsored by the agriculture committee of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, the forum program has been arranged to provide appeal to all of Northwestern Minnesota's rural population. A lunch will be served at noon with a 25-cent charge to be made for the meal.

Topics to be discussed will be the European common market, wheat sale to Russia, imports and exports of grain, sugar and livestock, fundamentals and economics of foreign trade, St. Lawrence Seaway, foreign policy in relation to exports and imports and the local implications of foreign trade. The public is encouraged to attend the forum. Opportunity will be provided to ask questions of the speakers at a panel discussion.

Fred Sorensen heads the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee which is making arrangements for the farm forum. A large crowd from Pennington and surrounding counties is expected to be in attendance.

Mrs. Emil Haugen and daughter Kimberly Lee, of Hillsboro, N. D. were guests on Thursday and Friday of last week at the home of Mrs. Haugen's aunt, Mrs. Gaston Ward.

St. Hilaire Dairy Plant Elects Two to Board Monday

Name Clarence Anderson Director of Creamery after C. Swanson Resigns

With a large number of members and patrons present, the annual meeting of the St. Hilaire Cooperative Creamery association was held Monday afternoon.

In the annual election, Reuben Lehrer was reelected to the board of directors for a three-year term, while Clarence Anderson was elected for a one-year term, succeeding Clarence Swanson, who resigned.

Guest speakers at the meeting were Carl Mattson of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Minneapolis, and Tom Johnson, representing the American Dairy association.

Marlan Augustine, District 17 director of Land O'Lakes, read the annual report on 1963 operations of the creamery, revealing that the plant last year received more milk and less cream than in 1962. A total of 7,666,369 pounds of milk was received, up 185,000 pounds from 1962, while 102,019 pounds of cream was received, down 33,000 pounds from the preceding year.

An average net price of 60.83 cents was paid for butterfat in cream, and 82.09 cents a pound for all butterfat in milk.

Pre-School Roundup Set for Saturday

Annual pre-school roundup sponsored by the local PTA units will be held Saturday at the Washington school gymnasium from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

All children who will be five years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1964, and who will be entering kindergarten in the fall are invited to attend. It is also emphasized that children of new residents who will be entering kindergarten or first grade this fall must call for an appointment with Mrs. Merle Lindberg at 681-1536 or Mrs. Margaret Race at 681-1336.

All rural kindergarteners and children who will begin school for the first time must attend the roundup. If a child is unable to attend, the parent should call and notify either Mrs. Lindberg or Mrs. Race.

The child's birth certificate and medical record should be brought to the roundup. The birth certificate can be obtained at the clerk of court's office in the county where the child was born. A hospital birth certificate will not be accepted. It has been requested that parents come prepared to give information as to when the child had his shots and other health information.

At the roundup the child will be registered, a complete medical history taken, and he will be measured and weighed. He will also meet a kindergarten teacher, after which lunch will be served to the child and parent.

George Stockman, director of elementary education, will be at the roundup to answer any questions which parents may have concerning the local schools.

Goodridge Band Concert Friday

The 35-piece concert band of the Goodridge schools will present their mid-year concert on Friday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. Under the direction of A. M. Lehrer, the band will be appearing locally for the first time in their newly-acquired band uniforms. The group will be joined in concert by the girl's glee club and the brass choir.

Band numbers will include, among others, "Burnished Brass", by Cacavas, "Appalachian Suite" by Kinyon, and "Berceuse" by Godard. "Do-Re-Me" and "Some Enchanted Evening", both by Rogers and Hammerstein, will be included in the vocal selections.

No admission will be charged for this school event. The band mothers organization will serve lunch in the cafeteria following the concert.

Former TRF Man In Mpls. Event

Prof. Allen R. Solem, formerly of Thief River Falls, was scheduled as one of the faculty members at the University of Minnesota participating in an executive processes seminar to begin April 1 in Minneapolis. The seminar will discuss new mangement theories and decisions.

"Brigadoon" Operetta Opens Friday at LHS

Performances Set Friday, Saturday and Monday Night

Colorful costuming, many musical numbers, orchestration, acting and pageantry await the persons attending "Brigadoon", the Lincoln high school operetta, to be presented Friday, Saturday and Monday in the school auditorium. Offered three nights as a convenience to the public and in hopes of paying the costs of production, the operetta will begin at 8 p. m. each evening.

Special costumes have been rented for the production to assure the proper theme for the operetta which has an 18th century Scottish highland setting. Kilts, plaid scarves and flowing dresses will be in evidence throughout the production. Humor is never lacking in the narrative portions of the story.

Tommy and Jeff, two young New Yorkers of the present day, inadvertently stumble on Brigadoon, an 18th century Scottish village which comes into being for only one day in each century. They find the villagers happily participating in the celebration of a wedding which should have taken place two centuries earlier.

Jean MacLaren is to be married to young Charlie Dalrymple, pleasing everyone in the village except Harry Beaton, who also loves Jean. Tommy and Jeff enter into the spirit of the occasion, and their enthusiasm is whetted by Tommy's meeting Jean's sister Fiona; and Jeff's being snared by Meg Brockie described as a girl of more determination than charm.

Events of the day, and the eventual triumph of love and faith over fantasy, make for an entertaining evening and happy ending. Orchestration provided by the high school orchestra directed by James Holsten and art work by LHS students directed by Donald Lerud add to the presentation.

Vendors at the fair include Ken Larson, Kathy Svendsgaard, JoAnn Kraemer, Paul Wold, Marc Pream, Paul Stokke, LuAnn Johnson, Farol Folden, Dave Gunderson, Dave Gustafson, Emily Hoel, Darlene Peterson, Kathy Ose, Carol Carlson, Lois Collver and Ivan Ose. Dancers include Lisa Liloria as "Maggie", Peter Furuseth, James Anderson and Mike Kelly, Linda Jensen, Tamra Steen, Mary Patten, Geri Thompson, Marc Pream, Dave Gunderson, Evan Anderson, Mike Magnuson, Janet

Council Opposes Soo Passenger Service Petition

Asks Assurances That Freight Service Will Not Be Diminished Also

Thief River Falls city council went on record Tuesday evening as opposed to a Soo Line railroad petition to discontinue passenger service between Thief River Faalls and Oslo. The decision was 6-1 with Alderman Dr. A. E. Jacobson casting the dissenting vote.

The resolution stated "..that the council of Thief River Falls do hereby go on record as opposing the petition of the Soo Line Railroad company unless specific assurances are given that freight service will not be diminished in quality or frequency."

At the adjourned session, the council also authorized Gordon Relerson, city clerck, to attend the annual clerk's school at the University of Minnesota on March 23-24. Permission was also granted for placing two 10-minute parking stalls in front of Narverud Cleaners on LaBree avenue and Bredeson Cleaners on Main avenue.

A policy change permitting city officers 7½ cents per mile mileage when attending meetings on city business was also authorized by the council. There was previously a flat fee schdeule for travel and per diem espense.

The council also voted to provide legal counsel for Robert Lund as secretary of the cemetery board and as an individual in a suit against the city, cemetery board and as individual in a suit against the city cemetery board and Lund. Next session of the council will be the regular meeting on Tuesday.

State Puts Load Limits in Effect

Restrictions Effective In This Zone March 16

Higher temperatures along with spring break-up has made it necessary for the state highway department to place seasonal load restrictions in effect in Zones 4, 5 and 6, on Monday, March 16. Thief River Falls is in Zone 6.

This means that all roads in the proposed load restriction map for 1964, will be in effect.

Posted signs govern the restriction on each section of highway. Vehicles operating on nonrestricted roads are subject to the usual statutory weight limitations.

No permits for overweight axle loads exceeding legal or posted axle weights or for widths exceeding 10 feet will be issued during the period of load restrictions.

Sunday dinner guests at the Gust Haugens were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knutson, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Haugen, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Engelsrud all of Newfolden. Afternoon and evening visitors were Dale Peterson and son, Gregory, and Mrs. Oscar Peterson of Warren.

Brownie Scouts Hold "Festival of Nations"

Emphasis seemed to be mainly on color and fun—but the participants in the annual Festival of Nations staged at the city auditorium on Saturday afternoon by the Brownie Scouts realized the "One World" ideal underlying the occasion. The festival was one of many events held nation-wide in connection with Girl Scout week, March 8-14.

Girls in costumes of various nations danced and played games traditional to that nation. In evidence were Japanese kimonos with bright sashes, Mexican hats and other semi-tropical garb, Dutch winged caps with ersatz braids poking out underneath and Dutch "boys" in short pants with colorful suspenders (and looking suspiciously like girls despite their boyish costumes) A rustic windmill for atmosphere also stressed the international character of the Girl Scout movement.

Hawaiian maidens in "grass" skirts, fabricated from crepe paper and worn over tights, depicted the hula to the strains of "Blue Hawaii" Leis swinging from small shoulders were made of pastel facial tissues.

Norwegian costumes featured white blouses ad black jackets and skirts with colorful trim. This troop also stressed the fact that girl scouts the world over have fun.

On tables along one wall were displayed souvenirs of the respective nations—paper lanterns, authentic grass skirts, money, hats, and a relish dish of native wood brought the atomosphere of Hawaii to the festival. A flag, tapestries, jewelry, wooden plate and a wood carving depicted Norway. A rising sun flag from Japan, along with a brass soup and rice bowl and a lighter crafted form metal in the shape of a pagoda made Japan table bright with travel posters told of fun in the sun.

The event was staged under direction of dedicated troop leaders and cooperative parents. The thread of friendship and cooperation and of fun combined with learning tied the whole festival together in the spirit of Girl Scout unity.

Falls Squares Enjoy Varied Activities

Seven squares from the Falls Squares and two sets from Ed DeLap's teenage classes danced Saturday night at the city auditorium to the calling of Danny Downs of Hillsboro, N. D. The Denny Inmans and Gene Durhams served the lunch which was furnished by the club members, while the Al Bacons and Gordon Johnsons had charge of hospitality.

Danny Downs announced coming events of interest to the dancers, among them the festival at Grand Forks, N. D. to be sponsored by the Belles and Beaux, on Sunday, March 15, with Joe Johannesen calling, and Downs as emcee.

After the dance Saturday night, the Squares staged an after-party at Noper's Fireside room to surprise the Ed DeLaps on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, which occurred recently. Coffee and a two-tiered wedding cake were served. A mock wedding was enacted by some members of the group, Ken Kohler leading the procession as the country preacher, followed by Jo-Ann Kohler as the groom, Bob Mattson as the bride, Malcolm Magnuson as the bridesmaid, Lotus Benke as the best man, and Herb Hartje as the father of the bride. The bride and groom carried bouquets of celery and radishes tied with a red ribbon.

The next local dance will be March 21 at the city auditorium, with Ed DeLap calling. The theme is "Come as a Song," and members are to wear costumes which will suggest a song title. A graduation dance April 4 will be for the adult class which Ed DeLap has been instructing for the past 12 weeks. The Spring Festival will be held April 18, at which time Joe Johannsen will be the caller.

Soo Credit Union To Hold Annual Meeting Friday

Fred Stahl, Executive Manager of Minnesota League, Will Be Speaker

Soo Line employees' credit union will hold its annual meeting at the Eagles' auditorium Friday at 7:30 p. m. Business of the evening will include reports of officers and election of officers for the coming year.

To be elected are one director for a 3-year term, one director for a one-year term because of a resignation, three members of the supervisory committee for three, two, and one-year terms respectively, and three members of the credit committee for 3, 2, and 1-year terms respectively. Formal declaration will be made at this time of payment of a 4½ per cent dividend on shares and a 10 per cent interest refund on loans.

Members of this credit union and their wives will be joined by members and wives of the Pennington county and Municipal Employees' Credit Union to hear Fred Stahl of Minneapolis, executive manager for the Minnesota League of Credit Unions, who will answer questions from the floor after his address.

A social hour and smorgasbord lunch for the combined group will follow to conclude the program for the evening.

Ulferts To Speak To Northrop PTA On Monday Night

"Why Don't Johnny's Parents Read Well?" will be the question discussed by R. J. Ulferts, chairman of Carnegie Public Library board, at the regular meeting of the Northrop Parent and Teacher association to be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the Northrop school gymnasium.

According to officials of the PTA, "unusual" guests will be present for discussion of the topic. A book exchange will follow the program with children's and adult books being brought by members and offered for sale at modest prices. Proceeds will be used for purchase of something of interest to Northrop school children.

In addition to the program and book exchange, the local library will have a book display and bulletin board at the school. Lunch will be served and all members are encouraged to be in attendance.

Anniversary Set At Sand Valley Church June 21

Plans for the 50th anniversary of Sand Valley congregation near Traff are being made with the event to be held the weekend of June 21. Thor Lund, president of the church council, presided at a business session following regular services Sunday and moderated discussion on the observance.

Chairmen selected for various committees include Melvin Nelson, program; John Handy, finance; Alvin Paulson, publicity; Pervin Quam, welcoming; Mrs. Agney Hamry, food; Mrs. Thor Lund and Mrs. Alvin Paulson, invitations. Thor Lund will serve as general chairman. Pictures from the history of the congregation will be collected and all members are urged to help in providing the photos.

Marshall County RAD Committee Conducts Survey

Questionnaires are being mailed this week to 1,500 Marshall county residents by the family living committee of the county Rural Areas Development group, according to Mrs Verne Green of Newfolden, committee chairman.

Stamped, self-addressed envelopes are included with the full-page questionnaire on family living for easy return to the RAD headquarters at the Marshall county extension office in Warren. The returns are to be in no later than March 20, Mrs. Green said, and support of all people receiving the forms will be greatly appreciated by the committee.

Withheld State Income Tax Rates to Change July 1

Attorney General Rules Rate Revision Requires 90-day Notice to Firms

Minnesota's revised income tax withholding tables will be put into effect July 1, Tax Commissioner Rolland Hatfield indicated Monday.

"I'm redoing the tables to become effective July 1," Hatfield said. He implied that a further statement on the matter might be made by his office.

Hatfield said many employers had wished to put the new tables into effect March 6, when the federal tax cut took effect. Gov. Karl Rolvaag claimed a 90-day notice to employers was necessary for a change in state withholding rates.

Rolvaag's view was upheld by Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale last week, in which Mondale said Hatfield may not make a blanket change in the 90 days although the commissioner can permit individual firms to adjust machine-computed state withholding on workers' checks.

The Rolvaag-Hatfield feud over the timing of a withholding change will make no difference in the amount Minnesota taxpayers will owe next year. State residents will have to ante up slightly more taxes because of the federal tax cut, but this would have occurred if the withholding change is made now or later.

A tip on night driving from the Triple A: Dim your lights at night when you come up behind another car as well as when you meet one. The glare from lights can confuse the driver ahead and might cause an accident.

John Lager Rites Set for Saturday

Veteran LOL Field Man Died March 7 at Age of 75

Funeral Services for John Lager a resident of Thief River Falls since 1935 who passed away on Saturday March 7, at the Northwestern Hospital at the age of 75, will be held on Saturday afternoon, March 14, at 2:00 P.M. in Zion Lutheran church. Rev. Leland Steen will officiate and interment will be in the Greenwood Cemetery.

The body will be reposing at the Green Funeral Home from Thursday evening until noon on Saturday and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

Mr. Lager was born on September 12, 1888, at Lancaster, Minn. He was one of ten children.

As a young man he became an apprentice at the Lancaster Creamery in 1912, where he later became manager and operator. He attended several buttermaker short courses at the University of Minnesota. He won many honors and credits in his operations. On May 29, 1926 he was united in marriage to Miss Carrie Vik of Lake Bronson.

In 1935 the family moved to Thief River Falls where he became the manager and later field man of District 17 of Land 'O Lakes Creameries. He served there for 29 years.

LEGAL NOTICE

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS: Pennington County plans to construct CSAH 27, from the South County line, thence North a distance of 5.0 miles to the Red Lake River Bridge.

WHEREAS: County Ditch No. 58 runs partly along said CSAH 27, paralleling it from the Southwest Corner of the NW¼ of Section 14, T152N, R39W; thence Northerly along the East side parallel with CSAH 27, a distance of 0.5 miles to the Southwest Corner of Section 11, T152N, R39W, (Hickory Twp.) thence at a deflection angle of 90 degrees left or Westerly and continuing West along C. R. No. 54, and

WHEREAS: It is advantageous and desirable in the construction of said CSAH 27 to move the location of said County Ditch No. 58 approximately 20 feet East from its present location on that part paralleling CSAH 27, retaining the same original ditch grade and flattening the slopes to blend with the new road construction. Said alterations and change will not in any way effect the functioning and efficiency of said County Ditch No. 58.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: By the Board of County Commissioners of Pennington County to instruct its County Engineer to file the Plans and Profiles of said CSAH 27 showing the contemplated changes and alterations of County Ditch No. 58 in detail with the County Auditor, who shall thereupon fix a time and place for hearing thereon and to give notice of hearing by publication as defined by Minnesota Statutes, Section 106.011, Subdivision 2.

March 11, 18, 25, 1964

ADVERTISEMENTS FOR BIDS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District at the County Commissioners' Room in the Pennington County Court House in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, at 1:00 P. M. on Friday, April 3rd, 1964, for the construction of Bridge No. 10 over the Lost River, located two miles east of Oklee, Minnesota.

Bids may be mailed to Stanley N. Mortenson, District Secretary, at Thief River Falls, Minnesota, marked "Bids on Bridge No. 10". Bids will be opened and read publicly immediately after the hour set.

The work involves the construction of a three-span bridge, precast concrete channel deck (31-31-31x20'), 1360 linear feet treated timber piling, 6.15 MBM treated timber, and related items.

Plans, specifications and proposals may be obtained at the office of Lloyd Olstedal, Consulting Engineer, Court House, Crookston, Minnesota. Plans $3.50.

Bids must be accompanied by a certified check payable to the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District, or a Bidder's Bond in the amount of ten per cent (10%) of the total bid, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract and furnish surety bond in the amount of seventy-five per cent (75%) of the contract price.

No bids will be entertained which exceed by more than 30% the Engineer's estimated cost of $25,000. The Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Dated this 6th day of March, 1964.

STANLEY N. MORTENSON, Secretary

Bemidji Edges Prowler Quint; to Play Ada for Regional Title

The Ada Vikings of District 30 and the Bemidji Lumberjacks of District 29 will meet in the Region Eight basketball tourney finals at Grand Forks tonight, Wednesday. In first-round play on Tuesday evening, coach Dennis Anderson's Ada squad defeated the Middle River Skippers of District 32; and the defending regional champion Bemidji squad edged out Thief River Falls of District 31, 52 to 49.

As a preliminary to tonight's regional championship tilt, the Middle River Skippers and the Prowlers will, with the tip-off slated for 7:30 p. m., play for third place in the tourney. The championship game is scheduled to start at 9:00 p. m.

In Tuesday night's opener, between Ada and Middle River, the Vikings from District 30 utilized their height advantage, having a six-foot six-inch center in Dave Cirks managed to control the boards.

The Vikings gained an 18 to 10 first period lead, and maintained that point-advantage throughout the game. The Middle River squad, with center Rick Holmes showing exceptional accuracy from out on the court, and with forward Eldon Sparby driving in for layups and hitting on jumpers from the free throw lane, kept within reach of the Ada club until late in the fourth period. The Vikings were able to play ball-control and set up their scoring plays to pull away from the ever-trying Skippers and win by a 64 to 52 margin.

The Prowlers played the defending champion Lumberjacks to a standstill for three periods, holding a 10 to 5 first period lead, a 21 to 19 advantage at the intermission, and a 39 to 39 score with 6:35 of the final period to be played. But John Dow, who was the game's high scorer, dropped three quick goals into the west basket, and the Jacks were in the lead which they never relinquished, winning, finally, by a 52 to 49 score.

The Prowlers jumped into an early lead on field goals by Ken Larson and Mark Anderson, but Bemidji, Howard Hoganson and Dow scored fielders to knot the game at 4-all. A rebound shot by Larson, and then a left-handed swisher by Larson, and a jump shot by Bob Olson gave the Prowlers a 10 to 5 first period edge.

Rich Nelson opened the second period with a field goal and the Prowlers a seven-point lead. Bob Warford scored a pair of field goals, and when Dow followed with another pair, the Jacks gained a 13 to 12 lead. Mark Anderson's shot from circle, and Olson's jumper from the lane pushed the Prowlers into a lead which they held until the half-time intermission, with the teams leaving the floor with the Prowlers having a 21 to 19 edge.

The Prowlers, on a field goal by Nelson, a free throw by Anderson, and then a drive-in layup shot by Anderson, pulled away to a 26 to 19 lead in the opening minutes of the third period. After Hoganson and Warford had scored field goals for the Jacks, Olson added a field goal and a free throw and Larson flipped in a field goal, and the Prowlers held a 31 to 23 lead.

A scoring drive, led by Hoganson, Dow, and Warford overcame that point-deficit and gave the Jacks a 39 to 35 lead at the end of the third period.

With 1:55 to play, Nelson scored on a rebound, paring the Bemidji lead to two points, 49 to 47. Warford drove in for a layup shot, and when Marv Hanson added a free throw point, Bemidji held a 52 to 47 lead with thirty seconds to play. Olson scored for the Prowlers with eleven seconds to play, but the Jacks controlled the ball to protect their three-point lead.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

A Gallant Effort

The basketball Prowlers can be proud of the effort they made on Tuesday evening when they extended the defending champion Bemidji Lumberjacks to the limit before giving up that 52 to 49 win to coach Bun Fortier's club. And the Prowler fans can be proud of the game battle that Kenny Larson, Rich Nelson, Bob Olson, Mark Anderson, Rick Jensen, and Gary Hagen put up. They gave everything they had, and the coaches and the fans can't ask for more.

The Prowlers maintained the point advantage throughout much of the game, and at one time, early in the third period, the locals built up an 8-point lead. But it was the double-barrelled attack of the Bemidji forwards, John Warford and John Dow, that provided the Jacks with their winning momentum. Warford was limited to a free throw in the first pelod, and Dow was held to one field goal, but the two boys collected 34 points in the following three periods, with Warford scoring 8 field goals and Dow adding 9 field goals.

And the Prowlers were in the ball game early in the fourth period, having knotted the score at 39-all. But Dow's three field goals, and Warford's driving the baseline for a couple of layups, shoved Bemidji into a lead that gave the Jacks the opportunity to go into a semi-stall to control the ball.

And tonight it will be the Ada Vikings turn to upend Bemidji, and I'm hoping that the Vikings are successful. In Dave Cirks, the tallest player in the regional tourney, the Vikings have a player who will cause Bemidji some trouble, and Jay McNamar, a burly jump-shooting guard, will be troublesome, too.

The Vikings, in their 64 to 52 win over Middle River, employed a man-to-man defense, but it's doubtful if this defense will be able to contain such a speedster as John Warford, and as he goes so goes the Jacks.

Hitting the Broom

The second annual Lincoln high school bonspiel was held at the Fair Grounds last week, and the Don Erlandson rink moved through the double-knockout-competition to win the championship.

The rink, with Jim Anderson at skip, Don Erlandson at third, Terry Nelson at second, and Elroy Frolland at lead, will participate in the state high school bonspiel to be held this weekend.

The Erlandson rink, which was undefeated in bonspiel play here, and which defeated the Peter Furuseth rink in the finals, will be leaving town on Friday enroute to the state 'spiel.

A Change Is Due

Not since 1931, and that's 33 years ago, has there been any shuffling of the district and regional basketball boundaries, and a change is about due.

Since 1931, and especially since World War II, there has been a shifting of population centers in the state, and there has been many consolidations of school districts, but the basketball tournament arrangement remains the same as it was in 1931.

It's a fact that Region Eight could stand some bolstering, and it would be a fine boost for basketball if such schools as Moorhead, Detroit Lakes, Hawley, Fergus Falls, and others were added to Region Eight.

In recognition of the fact that there has been a shifting of population the congressional districts were changed a couple of years ago. It perhaps wouldn't be such a foolish idea if the basketball regions were made to coincide with the congressional districts.

And how would you like to be Russ Adamson the coach of the Willmar Cardinals? You have an unbeaten team, and yet you have to play such teams as Edina, Minneapolis Central or St. Cloud Tech in regional play. That Region Five is about as tough a region, and especially so since the exploding suburbs such as Edina, Richfield, St. Louis Park, Hopkins, Robbinsdale, and the others. Maybe we should invite Willmar to play in Region Eight?

Finals Played in Elementary Sports

Playoff finals in the elementary school hockey league took place Friday night in the Thief River Falls city arena with the Bruins edging the Maple Leafs 1-0 to win the Midget title and the Rangers shading the Blackhawks 2-1 to gain the Junior crown.

In other Midget league games for pupils in grades 2, 3 and 4, the Canadiens beat the Blackhawks 3-2 for third place while the Red Wings topped the Rangers 3-0 for consolation honors. Junior league action for grades 5 and 6 found the Red Wings beating the Maple Leafs 2-0 and the Leafs coming back to top the Bruins 1-0 in another contest.

Following each game, team members were treated to barbecues, potato chips and chocolate milk. Food was donated by Piggly Wiggly and Hartz supermarkets, Bridgeman and Land O'Lakes creameries, Danny's Food Markets and Holsum Bread.

George Stockman, director of elementary education, termed the league play a "tremendous success" and attributed the fine season to excellent parent response and assistance. The large number of boys interested in playing made more teams necessary and a better league. Letters of appreciation were presented to a number of people who had assisted in the program.

During the season a total of about $400 was collected in donations, concession returns, promotion game with the Thieves and admission at the playoff games. About 400 people attended the finals competition with $67 in admission being received, Stockman said.

The basketball season on an elementary level also concluded Saturday without a playoff being held. Four teams competed in the fourth grade league (NBA Midgets) and eight teams in the fifth and sixth grade league (NBA Juniors).

Results of final games in the Junior league included the Royals 36, Lakers 3; Knickerbockers 12, Hawks 6; Warriors 20, 76'ers 16; and Pistons 16, Celtics 13. Midgets league scores were Royals 18, Hawks, 16; Knickerbockers 6, Lakers 2.

Exemptions Offered on U.S. Income Taxes

(This is the tenth in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

Normaly, an exemption is available to the taxpayer for his spouse and all other dependents in his household. The test for dependency requires that the taxpayer furnish more than one-half of the support of such person who resides in his house for the entire taxable year, or a dependent who is a close relation such as a parent, grandparent, brother, sister or person similarly related by marriage. Except for the case of a child under 19 years of age or a child who is a student, the dependent may not earn $600 or more. In the case of a child under 19 or a student over that age, an exemption may be claimed if the child received over one-half of his support from the taxpayer regardless of the amount of his earnings. A husband cannot claim an exemption for his wife if she files an individual return nor may an exemption be claimed for a married dependent who files a joint return with his or her spouse.

Taxpayers who reach 65 years of age before or during the year are entitled to an additional $600 exemption and an additional exemption is available for a spouse who also attains age 65 during the taxable year. An additional exemption is available to a taxpayer or his wife for blindness. Even though a person dies during the year, an exemption may be claimed if the test for dependency was met during the portion of the year in which he lived. A dependency exemption is also available for a dependent born during the year regardless of the amount of time such person lived during the taxable year.

In cases where several persons support a dependent, and no one contributes more than one-half of the dependent's support, all of the persons contributing 10 per cent or more of the dependent's support may combine and agree to let one of their number claim the dependency exemption. In order for a taxpayer to avail himself of the exemption, all of those contributing at least 10 per cent of the dependent's support must agree not to claim the individual as a dependent and a multiple support declaration must be filed with the return of the person who claims the exemption.

In determining whether or not an exemption is available, it is often necessary to determine the amount of support actually furnished. Support includes the necessities of life such as food, clothing, shelter, medical care and education, but it is not limited to the bare necessities of life. In determining support, the reasonable rental value of lodging furnished and the fair market value of goods will constitute items of support. A proportionate share of the household expenses may be considered as support items furnished to the dependent.

On the Minnesota income tax return credits are allowed against the tax for dependents rather than as a deduction from income. In general, the basis for allowing the credits is the same as for the Federal exemptions. One significant difference is that the state credit must be apportioned for the time during the year for which the dependency status applies, except that the credit for being age 65 or older and for blindness are not prorated if they apply to only a portion of the year.

National Parley of Farmers Union Slated in St. Paul

62d Annual Convention to Open Sunday; Freeman and Humphrey to Speak

The largest farm organization convention in Minnesota's history will take place next week when farm delegates and visiting members of National Farmers Union come to St. Paul for their 62nd annual convention.

This is the first time in 34 years that the national sessions are being held in Minnesota and an attendance of several thousands is anticipated.

An impressive array of nationally-known speakers has been scheduled for the convention which will take place March 15 - 19th at the St. Paul municipal auditorium and the Lowry and St. Paul hotels.

National Farmers Union is headed by James G. Patton, president who is completing his 23rd year in office.

Problems of peace, low farm income, unemployment and rural economic growth will be discussed by experts in these fields.

Guest speakers highlighting the sessions include Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman; R. Sargent Shriver, Jr., director of the U. S. Peace Corps; Under Secretary of State W. Averill Harriman; U. S. Senators Hubert H. Humphrey and Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and Quentin N. Burdick of North Dakota; and Dr. John Kenneth Galbraith, Harvard economics professor, noted author, and former Ambassador to India.

State Ranks 15th in Number of Cars

Minnesota Had 1.9 Million Motor Vehicles in 1963

Minnesota ranks fifteenth in the nation in the number of motor vehicles registered, sixteenth in the number of licensed drivers and seventeenth in the number of miles travelled, according to estimates by the Minnesota highway department's safety division statistician.

In the Upper Midwest region, Wisconsin ranks slightly ahead of Minnesota in all categories.

Last year, 92 million American drivers travelled 800 billion vehicles miles for social, recreation and business purposes in 80 million registered motor vehicles.

Minnesota had 1,870,000 licensed drivers last year for 1.9 percent of the national total; 1.9 million motor vehicles registered for 2.3 percent of the total; and motorists travelled 15.4 billion vehicles miles in the state for 1.8 percent of the total.

Ranking first in the nation in all three categories is California, with 8,532,571 motor vehicles registered, 9,677,965 licensed drivers and 78 billion vehicle miles travelled.

As part of its program to educate Minnesota youngsters and their parents to the need for poison precautions, the Minnesota Department of Health next week is furnishing copies of a colorful cartoon-and-rhyme folder called "10 Little Tasters" to all public, parochial and private school children in the first three grades. The massive, statewide distribution effort is being handled in cooperation with the Minnesota Junior Chamber of Commerce, with the St. Paul and Minneapolis Jaycees providing the needed manpower. Dr. A. B. Rosenfield, director of the Health Department's Special Services Division, is shown emphasizing a point to David Thoele, 7, who is obviously intrigued with the folder, while Minnesota Jaycee President Art Olson of Fairmont looks on approvingly. David's father is Gil Thoele, Jr., St. Paul, State Jaycee Safety Committee Chairman. March 15-21 has been designated as National Poison Prevention Week.

Admission Policy Tightened at BSC

Freshmen Must Register Four Weeks in Advance

Tightening of admissions policies at Bemidji State College for transfer students and a four week application deadline for freshmen were major items of business contracted by the BSC faculty senate last week.

Under the ruling for transfers, the applicant must have maintained a scholastic standing in his former school that is comparable to students in the same class at BSC. Until this ruling was passed all transfer students were given a trial quarter.

Freshmen and transfers must apply for registration at BSC four weeks prior to the opening of any quarter during the regular academic year. This deadline does not apply to summer sessions.

E. J. Aalberts, college registrar, pointed out that the deadline on admissions is necessary in order for the administration to plan class size, faculty teaching and advising assignments and housing policies. This fall 150 more freshmen registered than were expected. This caused classes and counseling duties to expand to a point where students did not receive the aids that the college wished to give them.

In other action the senate voted to withhold registration privileges for the second quarter of any person's college career unless that person maintained a minimum scholastic average during the first quarter.

Rutford Honored for Conservation Service to State

Skuli Rutford, conservation and educational leader at the University of Minnesota for 40 years and recently retired as director of the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service, has been selected by the state award committee to receive the 1964 plaque for "Meritorious Conservation Service to Minnesota", annually sponsored by the Northwest Boat, Sport and Travel Show.

Rutford joined the University of Minnesota staff in 1924 as Yellow Medicine county agent, was St. Louis county agent 1928-1932, then state director of rural rehabilitation. In 1943 he became assistant state extension director and in 1954 was appointed director, where he headed a staff of 350 workers. His long experience provided him with a broad philosophy on education and agricultural problems.

Parker Anderson, St. Paul, former University extension forester, will make the presentation on April 3 at the Sports Show which runs at the Minneapolis auditorium March 27 - April 5.

Hoffa Convicted on Jury-fixing Charges

Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was convicted in Chattanooga, Tenn., Wednesday, along with three other men, on charges of trying to fix the jury that heard Hoffa's conspiracy trial in Nashville, Tenn., in 1962.

Hoffa, leader of the nation's largest labor union, sat in stunned silence as jury forman Hal W. Bullen of Chattanooga read the verdict—guilty on two counts and innocent on a third.

Immediately after the conviction Hoffa was taken into technical custody in lieu of a $75,000 bond, which was posted and he was then released.

It was his first conviction in five federal trials dating from 1957, and brought congratulations to the prosecutors from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Asked for further comment he called the verdict "a railroad job, in my opinion." He said he pitied "those who do not have the funds to go to appeals courts."

Judge Frank Wilson gave his attorneys 10 days to file motions for a new trial.

Hoffa said he would not resign as president of the union.

"Despite what you like to think, the members will be behind Hoffa all the way," he said.

Hoffa faces up to 10 years in prison and $10,000 in fines if the convictions stand up. Two businessmen were acquitted along with him on the third charge.

All six were accused of trying to bribe and corrupt the Nashville jury, from which three jurors or prospective jurors were dismissed after reports that someone tried to contact them.

Seed Buyers Are Advised of Laws

Regulations Available from Ed Moren, Inspector

Farmers in Minnesota are again warned against ordering or purchasing seed from anyone selling seed which has not been cleaned and tested for germination, purity and weed seed content, or seed not labeled with a complete seed label or tag.

Farmers buying screenings must have a permit from the Minnesota department of agriculture.

The seed section of the department desires any information regarding any activity dealing with the sale of seed that does not comply with the Minnesota Seed Law. All complaints should be reported to the county inspector, Ed Moren.

For information on the Minnesota seed law, those concerned may contact the county seed inspector.

Ice Fishing Derby Slated Mar. 14-15 at Manitoba Lake

Everything from snow sculpturing to "jam pail" curling will be on the program when the fourth annual ice derby and carnival gets under way at West Hawk Lake, Manitoba, March 14 and 15.

The two-day event, sponsored by the Winnipeg Game and Fish association, is billed as the largest organized winter fish derby and carnival in southern Manitoba. In 1963 it attracted over 5,000 people to the lake on No. 4 highway in Whiteshell Provincial Park.

Pries valued at $1,000 are offered for competitors in ice fishing, power toboggan races, ice surface trap shooting, and other colorful events.

Strictly for the ladies, there will be a "powder puff derby", power toboggan race and log cutting, ice digging and snow shovelling competitions.

All ice fishing holes will be precut and the entry fee is one dollar. Guns will be supplied at the carnival site for the ice surface trap shooting contest.

Your John Deere Day hosts on film, Charlie Weaver, Donna Douglas, and Margaret Hamilton.
SEE YOU ON
JOHN DEERE DAY
Plan now for you and your family to take a day off and join us, Charlie Weaver, Donna Douglas, and Margaret Hamilton for John Deere Day
We star in a laugh-packed tale that finds me, Charlie Weaver, panic-stricken over a Mount Idy beauty who is "bit" by the love-bug and lured by the promised wealth of my antique shop.
The men of the family will see on film and on display, what's new from John Deere for 1964. You'll see the very latest in farm tractors, combines, tillage equipment, pickers, the "110" Lawn and Garden Tractor, and a whole parade of other equipment, brand new for 1964 — and built better for more profitable farming.
John Deere Day means fun for the whole farm family, and a complete preview of "What's Cookin' at John Deere for '64." Lunch is free . . . so see you next funday, John Deere Day, 1964.

Editorials . . .

"Poverty has existed since the beginning of history. In the United States, it has been alleviated as nowhere else. Charity has been carried to incredible lengths, in the private as well as in the public realm. . .All good citizens want to continue such good works of charity. But this doesn't mean that the productive citizen, whether a farmer, industrial worker, white-collar employee or professional man is responsible for such poverty as exists in the nation. It is a fact of human nature that some people are shiftless and prefer to live as drones."

—Thurman Sensing

Talking Turkey

Minnesota turkey growers take their business seriously, and we should be particularly aware of their business in Thief River Falls. At the 25th annual convention of the Minnesota Turkey Growers association recently, more than 2,200 people were in attendance.

Minnesota is in first place in turkey production in the nation, passing California during 1963. California experienced the results of over-production in 1962—suffering the same fate as Minnesota in 1961. The state turkey growers convention was the largest state convention in the nation, exceeded only by the national conclave at Louisville, Ky.

Turkeys contribute a great deal to the economy of our area, both in production and processing. Thief River Falls hatcheries are serving northwestern Minnesota and North Dakota growers by furnishing poults. Feeding and caring for turkeys provide employment on the farm and in the feed trade. Processing in the local plant provides seasonal employment for a large number of people and full-time employment for others.

This community is looking to the future and working toward further processing of turkeys. Our area can raise quality birds at a competitive price. Further processing to provide additional appeal to the consumer and allow year-round processing would be a "natural" for our area—and would be of benefit to growers and the community's economy.

Thief River Falls has been a hub in turkey production and processing for a number of years—and the industry has been good to Thief River Falls. A plant for further processing (pardon the pun) would be an extra helping of dressing.

Public Enemy No. 1½

Speculation is being made in some quarters that inflation may replace unemployment as the nation's number one economic problem by this time next year. In a dispatch from Washington, Peter S. Nagan states that inflation is "the gnawing fear of officials in Washington".

Our national leaders, however, would lead us to believe that something resembling price stability has been attained. We would certainly like to believe what they would have us believe, but we doubt the assurances we are given.

"With the value of the dollar at stake, you're bound to see a lot more attenion than usual being paid to price indexes in the months ahead,"—Nagan said. The Soviet Union has long declared that the key to destroy America lies in economic disaster within our nation. With our material welfare and position in the free world at stake, we must admit that our inflationary trend bears careful watching.

On Flying Kites

Spring winds bring forth the kite-flying season and some of our community's youngsters are already at the challenging game. Since electricity was allegedly discovered with a kite, the dangers of electricity and kite flying have been compounded. The following rules for safe kite flying have been set forth by a West Coast utility firm:

"Don't cross streets or highways while flying kites. Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail. Don't use tinsel string, wire or twine with metal in it. Don't fly a kite near television or radio aerials. Don't fly a kite near electric power lines. Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite. Don't touch fallen electric wires. Don't try to fly a kite in the rain."

Obeying these safety rules won't take the fun out of kite flying. Safety doesn't stand in the way of pleasure in this spring sport. Find a safe place for the launching—and go fly a kite.

Problems in Korea

While Korea has been generally quiet on the news scene for some time, military personnel stationed there are still waging a continuing struggle. The battle is being waged against ". . .highly organized groups of thieves who pilfer an average of $70,000 worth of property each month", according to M-Sgt. Dan Henderson, chief of the Korea Bureau of "Pacific Stars and Stripes", U. S. military publication.

The writer quoted General Hamilton H. Howze, top U. S. commander in Korea, as saying, "These groups include men, women and children who use every means to distract our sentries while holes are being cut in the barbwire surrounding our installations." The general said his forces ". . . face a most serious problem in protecting military property against thievery."

Sentries are instructed to apprehend trespassers on government property, the article says. Guards challenge intruders three times in both English and Korean and then fire a warning shot. If the trespasser continues to refuse to halt, sentries have instructions to shoot him in the leg.

Apparently law in Korea is much different from our concept of law in the United States. Korean court records show that during a five-month period in early 1962, 189 Korean nationals were apprehended by U. S. authorities for committing theft offenses against the U. S. Only 40 per cent were prosecuted in ROK courts—the rest were set free. Those prosecuted received sentences ranging from a warning to a fine of 800 won (55 cents).

The army is required to use almost 3,000 troops daily to guard and protect equipment and supplies. The organized groups of theives not only enter military compounds but also steal from slow-moving vehicles at every opportunity. It was even reported that a truck driver, signaling a left turn, had his watch stolen by a Korean who came by on a bicycle.

Theft of food or clothing could be expected in the battle for survival in a poor war-torn nation. Loss of radar equipment, engines and other parts from vehicles or equipment could be serious to defense operations. Being on guard against his "friends" must make the serviceman's duty doubly difficult.

Medicare Again

Proponents of the medicare plan through social security are again stirring the political waters in attempts to push the program through Congress. In the meantime, as the program is given discussion throughout the nation, more and more public opinion polls are showing the public more and more unfavorable toward the idea.

According to the Health Insurance Institute, 60 per cent of the total non-institutionalized aged population of the United States was protected by some form of health insurance at the end of 1962. This compares with only 26 per cent in 1952. The percentage represents 10.8 million persons who are 65 years of age and older protected by programs issued through insurance companies, Blue Cross and Blue Shield and other private programs.

Polls taken by congressmen last year revealed the public's attitude. Of 48 known polls, states the Insurance Economics Society of America, 38 showed that the voters were against the administration's King-Anderson bill.

Robert Novak and Rowland Evans in the New York Herald Tribune state the following: "Politicians of both parties suspect that medicare has lost its political punch. Some back up these suspicions with private polls. . . Many a voter is less anxious for Uncle Sam to pay his hospital bills once he understands that Uncle Sam would also take more out of his paycheck in social security deductions."

In nations of the Orient, age is a thing of honor and commands respect. Families are obligated to care for the older members who can not care for themselves. Perhaps we could learn from these so-called "backward" nations. Care for the aged should be a moral obligation of any family—not a nation-wide social problem.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

"Women are never satisfied. They are always trying either to put on weight, take it off, or rearrange it."

* * *

"A woman spends the first part of her life looking for a husband and the last part wondering where he is."

One thing they all value in common

. . . the strong community interest of every Thorp office

A SMALL Northwoods resort owner needs financing of new fishing equipment, boats, motors. His local Thorp Loan & Thrift office, aware of the special problems of the community, is glad to arrange financing — on terms adjusted to the future profits his program makes possible.

A city housewife — in need of new appliances to better care for her big family . . . she, too, seeks the help of her nearest Thorp office. Soon her family is enjoying the many benefits of truly modern living without strain on Dad's paycheck.

The farmer, too, with smooth-running machinery vital to his work and living . . . the handy home owner who makes his own home improvements . . . men, women and small businessmen throughout Minnesota . . . all benefit from the local, hometown interest of each of Thorp's offices. Financial needs are always discussed and repayments arranged on the basis of individual requirements.

Thorp personnel are good neighbors. Every Thorp office is a loyal member of its community — a sound and growing financial institution.

Whatever your special needs may be: a prompt loan of $50 to $5000 or more — or purchase and repairs financing of every kind — call on the Thorp office most convenient to you. You'll find a cordial welcome, friendly understanding, and a keen desire to give you immediate help.

Numedal Contributes To Heart Fund

Residents of Numedal township are sincerely thanked for their Heart volunteer workers and contributing generously to help reduce heart disease-Minnesota's number one killer. Mrs. Ernest Helgenset, Mrs. Ray Olson, Ed Berg and Randal Carpenter joined 45,000 other volunteers throughout the state in an effort to reach Minnesota's heart fund goal of $575,000.

"Every Heart fund dollar raised through the campaign will be spent in Minnesota to further and expand programs of research, education and community service," said Mrs. Frank Hible, chairman of Numedal township heart fund drive.

The Minnesota Heart association has invested well over 2½ million dollars in heart research during the past ten years, a portion of which helped develop the world famous open heart surgery techniques now practiced in Minnesota operating rooms.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES
Volume Fifty-three Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota Wednesday, March 11, 1964 Number Twenty-one

1964 State Highway Map Is Ready April 1

Distribution of the 1964 Minnesota official highway map will start April 1, the Minnesota highway department announces.

The new map, which has been many months in preparation, will appear brighter and more colorful becuase of changes and modifications, and easier to read. However, the actual changes of content from the 1963 edition as to highways and towns will be slight. Pictures in the new map are all new.

The front panel picture will show a scene on the newly reconstructed TH 169 through the old Pillsbury mine between Hibbing and Chisholm, the only known highway to pass through an open pit mine.

Among the other pictures are one of the three-level bridge on TH 5 at the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport. Others show views of scenic and recreational spots in Minnesota which are attractive to motorists. Many of the pictures used were submitted by employees of the highway department.

Major highway changes indicented on the new map are the additional mileage on the Interstate highways, particularly on the western loop on TH 494, west of Minneapolis, and on TH 90 between Dexter and Stewartville. On the ruglar trunk highway system TH 71, a new segment, is shown from the junction of TH 9 near Sibley State Park to the south terminus near Eagle Lake in Kandiyohi county. There are numerous secondary highway changes however.

Boundaries of most of the state forests and of the Superior National Forest have been altered to conform with new definitions. The alternate route of the Great River Road through Baudette to Warren is shown. The point of entry from Ontario to Minnesota has been changed from Pigeon River, which was closed on Nov. 1, 1963 to Grand Portage.

The detail insert maps of the leading Minnesota cities — the Minneapolis-St. Paul Metropolitan area, St. Cloud, Winona, Rochester, Austin, Mankato, Moorhead and Duluth—have been updated. The Metropolitan area map colors also have been improved for legibility.

Such standard features as the U. S. mileage and route map, the index of cities and villages and the city-to-city mileage chart, remain unchanged.

An order for 600,000 copies has been placed with the printers.

The maps will be distributed in quantity to the Department of Business Development (for tourist promotion), to commercial clubs, travel information agencies and the highway department district offices and maintenance area offices, where the public can obtain them upon request.

Individual requests may also be made to the department's Public Information Section, State Highway Building, St. Paul, 55101.

New Federal Tax Regulations out

New Schedule Applies Only to Income for 1964

A schedule containing the reduced federal income tax rates and other major changes made by the Revenue Act of 1964 to help taxpayers prepare estimated tax declarations for 1964 is now available, according to George O. Lethert, district director of internal revenue in St. Paul.

The Form 1040-ES supplement is available at post offices, some banks, and local field offices of the Internal Revenue Service. The information on this form is for use by taxpayers required to file declarations of estimated tax on 1964 income, Mr. Lethert said. In preparing their declarations these taxpayers should use the forms previously mailed to them, and apply the new tax rates and other provisions of law which have been changed.

Mr. Lethert reminded taxpayers that provisions of the new tax law apply to 1964 income only; 1963 income tax returns are not affected by the reduced rate of tax or changes in the law.

Declarations of estimated tax for 1964 must be filed no later than April 15, Mr. Lethert stated, and taxpayers are required to pay at least 25 per cent of the estimated tax owing with this return.

Minnesota Masons Honor Dr. Mayo at Cancer Hospital

Progress Repirted on Raising $1,000,000 More for Hospital Addition

"We are most grateful to the Masons of Minnesota for providing this hospital, and for planning the addition of two more floors," said Dr. Charles W. Mayo of Rochester, chairman of the University board of regents, in accepting a special Masonic citation in an impressive ceremony at the Masonic Memorial Cancer Hospital on the University campus last week.

The first award for 'Distinguished Humanitarian Serivce" ever made by Minnesota Masons was bestowed by Grand Master Edwin W. Toms of Ely upon Dr. Mayo in the form of a gold plaque. The citation reads.

'We, the Masons of Minnesota, by this Distinguished Humanitarian Service Award, acknowledge and commend the exceptional humanitarian achievements of Dr. Charles William Mayo, whose dedicated mind and skilled hands have guided the instruments of healing in the theater of medicine and instruments of peace in the theater of nations to the lasting benefit of all mankind."

Following his expression of gratitude to the Masons for the gift of the fine modern hospital to the University and to all humanity, Dr. Mayo pointed out that "Patients treated here benefit from the most recent develoments resulting from the study of this malligent disease. The proposed addition of two floors will afford even greater opportunity for research.

"Without the Masonic Memorial Cancer Hospital in this medical center we would be most inadequate in this branch of medicine."

The million dollar hospital and research center was completed and presented to the University October 4, 1958. Now, less than six years later, Minnesota Masons are well along toward another million-plus dollars to build and furnish two additional hospital floors, one to accommodate more patients, the other to house the most modern laboratory money and skill can provide. It is planned to have construction well under way by the sixth anniversary of the orginal Masonic gift.

THE POWER TO STAY

An anchor seems like dead weight, doesn't it?

But what mariner would sail without it? For an anchor is not dead weight. It commands the tremendous force of gravity in a wild, raging sea. It can grip solid land to fight driving wind or swirling current!

A few men have thought they could go farther faster without religious faith . . . until the squalls found them drifting helplessly on bitter shoals!

God gave us forces of motion and progress. We see . . . aspire . . . achieve.

But the power to go is treacherous without the power to stay.

So God gave us the Truth our churches offer every human heart.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fun Night Well Attended

A large crowd gathered at the school gym Saturday evening, where the Strandquist S Club had scheduled an evening of fun to provide for their trip to the tournaments.

The fun began when the 5th and 6th graders and the Karlstad 5th and 6th graders played their game. Strandquist was in the lead by four points although both teams showed plenty of fight. The cheer leaders then challenged our young women, referred by Mrs. Harlan Henrickson. Some of our high school lads, with their various costumes, came to the aid of their team by entering the skirmish. The Country Cousins and the City Slickers huffed and puffed their way through to a tie of 25, so there were no hard feelings to leave it at that. The high school girls then became very busy serving refreshments, which ended a very social evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Westman and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Donarski and family of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Stennes gathered at the home of their mother, Mrs. Sam Dahl, Sunday afternoon to help her celebrate her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Renstron and family and Mr. and Mrs. Art Anderson visited at the Kittelson home Sunday in observance of Arnold's birthday.

Today I received a card from Miss Kate Budyiscezewski, who is enjoying a visit with relatives in Buffalo, New York. Weather seems pretty much the same as Minnesota. I hope she'll also visit the World's Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Anderson visited with Miss Emily Carlson at Karlstad Sunday afternoon.

Many of our local people attended the Munro-Johnson wedding in the Karlstad Tabernacle Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Mabel Olson recently returned from Minneapolis where she visited with her grandchildren.

Oscar Locken of Lake Bronson visited Friday afternoon at the Jonas Stromlunds.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Stromlund attended the birthday party for Marlon Pederson at the Andrew Pederson home in Karlstad on Sunday afternoon.

"Five-Day Plan" Of

Smokers Given Chance To Break the Habit

Smoers who want to rid themselves of the smoking habit will be given the opportunity to try the "Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking" beginning next week. The five-day plan was provided in Thief River Falls last April and has been given with effective results in more than 200 communities in the United States.

Openin; session will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, March 22, at the Lincoln high school cafeteria, with the course to continue through Thursday, March 26. There is no charge to the public for the course which is offered by the medical department of the Minnesota Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists as a public service to help improve the health of the community and to contribute to the national physical fitness program.

Directors of the program will be Dr. S. E. Pollman and Gerhart Schwarz. The five-day plan is not a religious program, and sessions are designed to take one hour each evening during the five days they are held.

The five group therapy sessions will include lectures or discussions by a physician-clergyman team on the physiological and psycological aspects of the smoking problem; films on smoking and its harmful effects on body and mind; demonstrations of procedures helpful to overcoming the smoking habit; and exchange of experiences by participants as they fight the habit under the five-day plan.

The plan is a personal control program with an outline booklet that tells the participant how to relax, how to avoid familiar spots or activities that might lead to a smoke, when to exercise and how to breathe, what to eat and drink and with whom and what to think at crucial times. A buddy system similar to that used by Alcoholics Anonymous is a vital part of the program and follow-up care after the course closes.

Surveys made over a period of three years reveal that by the third day of the program, approximately 50 per cent of the participants lose their craving for tobacco; by the fifth evening, 70 per cent or more have either lost their craving or it has diminished so that they have the problem under control.

On the first evening of the course, a film entitled "One in 20,000" will be shown. The film depicts a lung cancer operation in full color. Persons wishing to make reservations for the course are asked to call 681-1293. Advance registration is not required but will be of assistance to the sponsors in making preparation ofr the number expected. Material used in the course must be ordered prior to the start of the program.

National attention on smoking and health has been created by the recently published report by a committee appointed by the U.S. plan is designed to help those people who sincerely want to rid themselves of the smoking habit.

It is estimated that lung cancer, much of which has been attributed to cigarette smoking, will cause 50,000 deaths in the United States in 1964. This is about 10,000 more than the estimated loss of life due to traffic accidents.

Per capita cigarette consumption in the United States has risen from 138 in 1910 to 3,986 in 1961. Deaths from chronic bronchitis and emphysema rose from 2,300 in 1945 to 15,000 in 1962 while deaths from arteriosclerotic, coronary and degenerative heart disease rose from 273,000 in 1940 to 578,000 in 1962.

Fashion Section Will Appear in Wednesday Times

To call attention to fashions available for the Spring and Easter season, Thief River Falls merchants have cooperated with the Times to produce a special Spring Fashion Section. The section will be printed in the Wednesday edition of the Times.

Included in the special section, to be printed on colored newsprint, will be photographs of local models in the latest styles as well as advertising and public information.

Favorite Food Show Will Be Held Saturday

Pennington county 4-H favorite food show will be held on Saturday at 9:30 a. m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium, according to Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, Pennington county home agent.

All 4-H members that are enrolled in any of the food units and-or the home improvement and family living project are encouraged to participate.

Participants will be judged on the following: personal appearance; understanding of the nutritious foods; appearance, flavor and quality of the food; a balanced menu; and the over-all appearance of the table.

There is no talking and no food preparation at the city auditorium. The favorite food is the only one brought, and it is prepared at home.

This show gives 4-H members the chance to gain confidence in themselves and will make giving demonstrations at the county fair much easier. "This is the time to participate and put your skill to work," Miss Offerdahl states. "If there are any questions concerning the county extension office." the county extension office."

191 Children Attend Pre-School Round-Up

A total of 191 children attended the annual PTA roundup held Saturday at the Washington school gymnasium. This compared with 217 attending in 1963. General chairman of the event was Mrs. Merle Lindberg, assisted by Mrs. Rundall Noper and Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse.

Each child who attended the roundup was given an authorization slip which entitles him to a free check-up and free pre-school shots by appointment with his family doctor during the months of April, May and June.

A permit was also given to each child which will entitle him to a free eye examination by one of the local optometrists during May and June. This permit must be presented to the optometrist at the time of examination.

A pink dental card was issued to each child, and it is suggested that the child's teeth be examined by a dentist during the summer months. After examination the dentist will sign the card and this should be brought to school when the child enters next fall.

PTA chirmen representing the local schools were Mrs. R. J. Dryden, St. Bernard's; Mrs. Harold Burrell, Knox; Mrs. Ed DeLap, Northrop; and Mrs. C. R. Waldera, Washington.

George Stockman, director of elementary education, was in attendance to answer questions pertaining to the local elementary schools, and kindergarten teachers present were Misses Ella Fiskerbeck, Phyllis Pierce and Ruth Mickelson and Mrs. Art Bredeson.

Nurses assisting at the roundup were Mesdames Neal Fox, James Nepper, Joe Forberg, Norman Olson, Andy Williamson, Gordon Reierson and Dick Hamilton. Lutheran Deaconess Hospital, (Minneapolis) nursing students who assisted were Mrs. M. Forbragd, Mrs. G. Kaste and Miss Carlene Johanson.

The following workers represented the PTA units: Mesdames Robert Looker, Elton Cummings, Robert Larson, Roy Lee, Herbert Swenson, Wallace Tunberg, Carl Lee, Robert Lasha, William Pederson, Arnold Narverud, Harold Burrell and Ed Broughton.

Teenagers assisting were Debbie Dryden, Debbie Hall, Meg Wurst, Suzanne Bedard, Barbara Nepper, Jeanne Dryden and Jane Aakhus. Lunch served to the parents and children was donated and served by PTA members.

Jaycees Conduct Community Survey

Members of the Thief River Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce are engaged in an ambitious community service program known as the Community Development Survey. All homes in Thief River Falls are to be contacted within the next few weeks.

The comprehensive survey seeks information on the attitude of city residents toward a number of questions. Jaycee volunteers will be calling at all homes in the city, requesting the cooperation of home owners and housewives in filling out the survey forms. About 10 to 15 minutes of time is all that is required of the householder.

"We urge all residents of the city to cooperate in the survey so that we can accurately evaluate the results of the study," states Rick Contos, project chairman. "From the survey form we will be more able, as a Jaycee chapter, to direct our community service projects toward those goals that the public believes to have the greatest need.

"Too often the Jaycees have gone door-to-door on fund-raising efforts," Contos added. "In this instance the public will have an opportunity to see what the organization is doing in its major field of community service. There is no obligation to the householder."

Mayor Orin Green termed the survey a "worthwhile effort" and extended the chapter his best wishes for "every success" in the survey. "An ambitious program of this type is a big undertaking for an organization," he said, "and the Jaycees are to be commended for their community interest. A good response to the survey could mean far-reaching results in civic improvements. I urge all citizens to give the Jaycees their full cooperation."

Officials of Eight Counties Met Here

Continue Discussion of Multi-county Work Farm

A group of 22 officials representing eight Northwestern Minnesota counties assembled Friday in Thief River Falls to continue their study of the feasibility of establishing a multi-county work farm to accommodate short-term prisoners as authorized by the 1963 state legislature.

Meeting with the officials was Judge J. H. Sylvestre of Crookston, who pointed out the acute need for such a facility, augmented by the new state criminal code which shifts more cases to the counties. Also in attendance was H. T. Mittleholtz of Bemidji, representing the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Following the discussion, it was agreed that the individual counties represented at the meeting should make an inspection trip to St. Louis county, where a similar facility is in operation.

Dog Licenses Are Due by April 6

Dog licenses in Thief River Falls will be due on or before April 6, according to the Thief River Falls police department. City ordinance states that dogs in the city must be licensed on or before that date.

Dog owners must present current rabies tags when applying for licenses, which cost $2 for males and spayed females and $6 for females.

Students Turn Roman at Latin Banquet March 7

Setting for the annual Latin banquet at Lincoln high school cafeteria on March 7 was reminiscent of the banquet halls of ancient Rome. The 100 Latin I and II students of Mrs. Blanche Larson, reclined at low tables which were decorated with colored vases and palm fronds. They were garbed in togas and sandals, and wore 'olive' wreaths on their heads.

"Slaves", male members of the eighth grade class planning on Latin courses, obeyed the commands of the diners, who summoned them with claps of their hands.

The menu, written in Latin, consisted of ham, deviled eggs, raw vegetables in salad bowls, fruit, round loaves of bread cut into wedges and dipped in honey, grape juice which took the place of the Roman wine, and milk.

Assisting in the food preparation were girls of the classes, who were helped in serving by Mrs. Quentin Jones, Mrs. Bacon, Mrs. Hanson and several other ladies. Boys of the classes set up the tables. Latin songs were sung by the class, under the direction of Alice Weckwerth, and a Hootenanny, 'forecast" by ancient Roman seers was a popular entertainment of the 20th century, was integrated with the entertainment. Karen Ferber and Meg Wurst sang the folk songs, to the piano accompaniment of Henry Wood. Erlin Carlson played several selections on the piano.

Mrs. Larson was in general charge of the affair, while Mark Stromberg was emcee of the program and Dick Stenberg introduced the Hootenanny group. The sophomore girls also presented a skit.

Mrs. Blanche Larson was presented with a corsage and a centerpiece by the students.

Mrs. Fred P. Grant and Lucius Knight, Named OES Heads

Mrs. Fred P. Grant was elected worthy matron of Winslow Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, to succeed Mrs. Fred Monroe, and Lucius A. Knight was chosen worthy patron, succeeding J. M. Roche. Election of officers was held at the meeting of March 11.

Others elected were: associate matron, Mrs. Sig Quam, and associate patron, Sig Quam; Mrs. Irvin Wilson was named as conductress, and Mrs. Howard Brandt as assistant conductress. Appointive officers will be announced at a later date. Open installation will be held on Saturday, March 21 at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albecht of Brooks were Thursday visitors at the Alfred Bakke home

Janie Larson Says Vows Here With Gordon Hipsher

Vows of marriage were exchanged on March 7 in the chapel of Trinity Lutheran church of this city between Janie Larson of this city and Gordon Hipsher of East Grand Forks. Performing the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Reuben A. Wangberg. About 45 guests were in attendance. Mrs Walter Larson at the piano played traditional nuptial music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Larson of Thief River Falls, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hipsher of East Grand Forks.

The bride was escorted by her father and given by him in marriage. She chose for her wedding attire a white nylon and lace street-length formal with a lace jacket buttoned at the back. Her waist-length veil was arranged from a lacy crown and her bouquet was of red roses and white carnations with ribbon accent.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cole of Warroad, best man and matron-of honor, respectively, close friends of the pair.

Mrs. Cole's costume was a suit of rosy beige. Her all-white corsage was of carnations with other white flowers in the arrangemnent. Mr. Hipsher and Mr. Cole wore dark business suits.

The bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the couple's honor at their home after the ceremony. Guests at the wedding also attended the reception. They were from Warroad, Roseau, East Grand Forks, Minneapolis, Litchfield, and Thief River Falls.

Mrs. Chester Swanson, cousin of the bride, poured. The three-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Gil Sannes, was trimmed in red roses and topped with a miniature bridal pair. It was cut and served by Mrs. Hilda Hoveland, Minneapolis, the godmother and aunt of the bride.

The bride is a student at Lincoln high school here. Mr. Hipsher, a graduate of Roseau high school and the Area vocational technical school is employed in East Grand Forks.

Eagles Aux. Marks 14th Anniversary Tonight

The 14th anniversary celebration of the local Eagles' auxiliary's institution will be staged at the Eagles club rooms tonight (Monday) beginning with a pot-luck supper at 6:30. Elizabeth Schmidt, Crookston, the Minnesota state auxiliary president, making her initial appearance here, will be honored and will address the combined auxiliaries. Officers and past presidents will be given special honors. A birthday cake will also be featured as part of the anniversary observance.

Auxiliaries from Fargo and Grand Forks, N. D. and from Hallock have signified their intention to be present, and other area auxiliaries have also been invited. A business meeting will follow the supper and the special entertainment which will be presented by local auxiliary talent. Conducting the business session will be president Tillie Carlson.

A number of local club women attended the District 1 meeting at Crookston on Sunday, where women from Bemidji, Walker, and Crookston were also in attendance.

90th Birthday of Hilda Anderson Occasions Party

A former resident of Thief River Falls, Mrs. Hilda Anderson whose 90th birthday was on March 4, was honored on Sunday, March 8, at Sheltering Oak home at Roseau, where she is a resident. Her family presented her with a corsage of white and pink roses. A daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Groven, was hostess.

The program in Mrs. Anderson's honor included several Scandinavian songs by Mr. and Mrs. Gunner Gunnerson of Pine City, Minn., two piano duets, and violin solos by her great-granddaughters and son of Minneapolis. The entire group joined in singing "The Lord's Prayer" and the birthday song.

Centering the serving table was a decorated cake and candles, a gift from the family. Mrs. Werner Jacobson of Thief River Falls cut and served the cake, and Mrs. Paul Groven of Minneapolis was at the coffee service.

Pictures were taken, and gifts, money and cards were presented to the guest of honor. Approximately 100 persons were in attendance. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Werner Jacobson; Mrs. Eleanor Groven, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Groven, all of Minneapolis; a son of the honored guest, Pete Jenson and his wife, formerly of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlson and son of Badger; Mr. and Mrs. Gunner Gunnerson of Pine City, Minn. and Bertil Gunnerson of Anchorage, Alaska. Residents and employees of the home were also guests.

Viking Garden Club Is Briefed on RRV Shows

The March meeting of the Viking Town and Country Garden Club was held Wednesday afternoon at the Arthur Grandstrand home. Members answered roll call by naming a favorite garden tool. The history of the club was narrated by its historian, Mrs. Bert Kron. Another Boy Born With Ready-made Tooth

For the second time reported in less than a year, a baby boy born at Northwestern Hospital in Thief River Falls has come with a ready-made tooth (or teeth.) On Friday, the 13th of March, a son, Robert Charles, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson of route 3, city, and it was discovered that he had one lower tooth. A second appears almost ready to emerge, according to his mother, who says that none of her other five offspring had a similar distinction. That it is a dubious distinction is attested to by the fact that the attending physician, Dr. Leo Herber, fearing that the tooth might be a potential trouble-maker, had it removed.

Bruce Gerardy, the son of the Ron Gerardys of this city, was born with two lower front teeth. Now seven months of age, he still has the original teeth, but has acquired no other to date. However indications point to several about to appear farther back in the lower jaw.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. RAY NELSON

Cottage cheese, butter, eggs . . . all protein foods, all products of our area, and all in surplus supply . . . get a big play in this meatless menu idea. In addition, Mrs. Nelson says, it's savory, the oregano and sweet basil lending a touch of the exotic. Served with potatoes, almost any style, it needs only a salad or vegetable, or both, and dessert, if you must, to make a complete meal. There's no bother, either; this is a one-bowl operation . . . no complicated blending. It just happens! Especially easy when you beat the eggs at the outset and add the other ingredients to them.

COTTAGE CHEESE LOAF

- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 1 stick (¼-lb.) butter, melted
- 1 large carton cottage cheese
- ½ pkg. Special "K" cereal, medium size
- ½ teaspoon sweet basil
- 5 eggs, beaten
- ½ cup chopped walnuts

Mix and bake in a greased 8x8 inch pan for 1 hour at 350 degrees. (Mrs. Nelson prefers to set the baking dish in a pan of hot water, to prevent sticking.)

The Nelsons live on the first farm east of town, where they raise a large herd of milk cows. Mr. Nelson also sells bulk milk tanks.

Their seven children are all grown up except David, 9. Two sons are away at school, one at Maplewood academy and the other at Union College in Lincoln, Nebraska; one married son helps with the farming operations, and another, recently married, lives in Minneapolis. They have two married daughters, one in California and one in Oregon. Mrs. Nelson is dreaming, and hoping, that they can all get together at the farm this summer. The five grandchildren are also eagerly awaited.

As for hobbies, Mrs. Nelson says that a dairy operation means a lot of work and a minimum of leisure. She does work with the Dorcas society and at the welfare center of the Seventh Day Adventist church, however, planning also a number of events for the young people. Occasionally they manage to take trips to see their children. All of the children have taken piano lessons, and music is a family joy; preferences run to sacred and classical numbers. Good reading is also shared activity. They read a number of magazines. Most of their reading is non-fiction.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Gjernes

Art devotees have visited the showing of the works of Arthur Headley and Don Lerud at your library. Their enthusiasm and appreciation is most encouraging to "Friends of the Library", sponsors of the event. The week-long exhibition began with coffee hour for viewers. Local businessmen, anxious to be a part of the cultural growth of the city, accepted no remuneration for the foodstuffs, consequently, "Friends of the Library" as well as the exhibit visitors are extending a personal 'thank-you" to the management of L. B. Hartz, Red Owl and Piggly-Wiggly.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mostue, long-time members of the "Friends" organization, requested, and were given permission to place floral decorations in the showroom.

Membership in the "Friends of the Library" is open to any individual interested in the advancement of the services of their Carnegie Public library. Membership cards are available at any time, from officers, members of the group, or at the main desk in your library. Mrs. Dean Headley is membership chairman. The fee is nominal, the service...extensive.

The "Friends", with Mrs. Orin Green currently serving as president, will sponsor another event in the near future! Watch for the notice! It is going to be something a little different from any entertainment offered in our fair city for quite some time.

Along with art the past week, your library has had book shipments. Now "The Martyred" by Richard E. Kim is on the shelf and is one of those (or perhaps we should say "another" one of those) which won't long remain on the shelf. The moving, poignant message it contains will keep it circulating long after the new has worn off it.

The book deals with religious beliefs and unbelievers It also deals with war, and martyrs, (religious martyrs) and despair and men. It will force the reader to self-examination and will make him wish, and hope, that he doesn't fall too short! The writer, a Korean who saw his country at war and who served it during that time, is now teaching at Long Beach State college. This is Kim's first novel... readers of it will sincerely trust it is not his last.

Alan Moorehead has authored "Cooper's Creek", the story of an expedition which attempted to cross Australia from south to north. You'll witness the Burke-Wills tragedy, you'll trudge beside the caravan of wagons, horses and camels. You'll become footsore and weary and you'll be a part of the human folly and frailty patterns. You'll struggle and stumble along the way back to the base camp. You'll enjoy the drama and the adventure. It all happended a hundred years ago.

These are only two of the new books...there are others and there will be more. Try "Too Young to be a Grandfather" by Willard Temple if you want to laugh. Try "The Land Breakers" if you want to relive fictionalized history. Try "The First World War" by General Richard Thoumin if you want to think, and "Reuben, Reuben" if you'd rather not! The author of the latter is Peter de Vries, and it satarizes today's society.

Read for fun, read for knowledge, read for free at your public library.

Red Lake Falls Hosts Taxpayers' Ass'n. Speakers

Charles P. Stone and Ted Miller To Speak At Meeting March 23

Two representatives of the Minnesota Taxpayers association will be speakers, Monday, March 23, at a meeting to be held at 8 p.m. in the municipal building in Red Lake Falls.

Topics for the discussion will be Minnesota's spending program for the present biennium and financing of that program; a review of what the association believes is wrong with our present tax structure; and recommendations for tax reform in Minesota.

Charles P Stone, general counsel for the Minnesota Taxpayers association since 1956, and Ted Miller, research director for the association, will be the guest speakers.

Stone was associated with the Minnesota tax department from 1942 to 1956, special assistant attorney general assigned to the tax department from 1942-1949, assistant attorney general and chief counsel for the tax department from 1949 to 1951 and deputy commissioner of taxation from 1951 to 1956.

Miller was accountant for the Minnesota highway department from 1933 to 1942, budget examiner for the department of administration from 1942 to 1951, research analyst for the Legislative research committee from 1951 to 1959 when he joined the taxpayers group.

The public is encouraged to be in attendance at the March 23 meeting and lunch will be served.

Mr. Lien has accepted a position at the First State Bank of Ada and will start work there on April 1st.

PUBLIC OPINION

Dear Editor:

I have read your anlysis of the condition of the vile news of the so called Liberals in our Government in your editorial.

I will say amen to every word of it. Their professor who calls himself Sibley claims to have some Russian blood in his system. I too am of Russian ancestry but I do not agree with Sibley or any of his ilk or tribe.

Besides I believe it is impossible that a man of this type shall be allowed to ride the tax payers necks and then take advantage of his position to sow rattle snake poison into the minds of our innocent youth under the banner of Academic Freedom.

As a young man I rode the range in the West. I saw a good many of these serpents called rattle snakes. I did not know that the kind of poison they dispensed would be fed into the minds of our young at the University with a brand called Communism.

This kind of debauchery is sanctioned by our Governor and his Liberal cohorts.

Sodom and Gomorrah were destroyed by this type of morons. The mighty Roman empire fell at the hands of political opportunists and gangsters.

It will go the same way with our nation. A Lutheran minister in a sermon stated it is later in the day than we think. Our people of stable mind must rise as Christians to save our nation from the inevitable if we are to survive.

Our nations farmers have been sold down the river like blindfolded sheep. Judas betrayed his Savior.

The Devil took the Savior up on the Mount and showed him the world. He said all this I will give you if you will fall down and worship me. Since '32 we have been fed this kind of hog-wash by those who talk so much about the ill-fed and do nothing about it after election.

To my fellow Americans I say let us put our Government in the hands of decent men and women. We must oust every character on election day that bears the shroud of Liberalism and I mean all the way to the nation's Capitol.

Let us give our support to Goldwater. This will be the right step for Academic Freedom.

P.S.

I want this letter published please. I am sorry I have not been able to write with a better hand; I am 80 years old.

My Grandpa, a native of Russia, settled in Goodhue before the Civil War.

Dr. Fukushima Is Speaker at Lions

Presents Observations on Conditions in Japan

Guest speaker at the Lions club luncheon Wednesday noon was Dr. Heine Y. Fukushima, chief medical technologist at Northwestern hospital. Introduced by Dr. Leo Herber, program chairman, she gave interesting sidelights on life in Japan, where she had lived for many years.

Among her observations were that Japan has no welfare services, the family being held responsible for its members; the average farm comprises two acres; transportation is difficult in such a congested country; a banquet in Japan lasts four hours or longer, with a great deal of conversation; and the telephone is a luxury.

Dr. O. D. Belch, club president, announced that a 25th anniversary banquet will be held in the Elks club rooms Tuesday evening, Mar. 31.

Potato Variety Trials Held in RRV

Bounty Variety Yields 221 Cwt. Per Acre in '63

Results of the 1963 potato variety trials in the Red River Valley have been reported by Orrin C. Turnquist, extension horticulturist at the University of Minnesota.

Among the highest yields over all locations were Bounty, Kennebec and Red Pontiac varieties averaging 221, 202 and 200 hundred weight per acre respectively.

LaRouge, Irish Cobbler, Red LaSoda, Snowflake and Norland followed with average yields of 194, 187, 182, 178 and 170 cwt., respectively.

The highest yields were found at Baker, Minn., and Grand Forks, N. D. Other locations included Argyle and Crookston, Minn., and Park River, N. D. The 1963 potato variety trials were conducted under the joint supervision of the Agricultural Extension Services at the University of Minnesota and the North Dakota State University.

Social Security Applicants Are Offered Advice

Manager of Grand Forks Office Explains What Information Is Needed

Clifford Kittelson, district manager of social security in Grand Forks, asks: "Are you planning to retire soon? Do you keep putting off inquiring about your social security status? If so, do you know what documents will be needed when you apply? Don't depend on your neighbor's recollection of what he was asked for—his situation may not apply to you."

Resolve today to prepare for your eventual retirement and inquire before you retire. Generally, you will need the following:

1. Proof of your age.
2. Evidence of earnings—if you work for wages, your Form W-2, withholding tax statement, for the year before you apply; if you have your own business, a copy of your complete federal income tax return for the past year and the cancelled check showing payment of the social security tax will be needed.
3. If your wife is applying at the same time, she will need proof of her age.

Plan to make application at least 60 days before your actual retirement. If you have any doubts about getting the proofs you will need, your social security representative can help you resolve these well ahead of the time your first check is due.

GOP Delegates Are Selected for Red Lake County

Robert Forsythe, state GOP chairman, spoke to Red Lake County Republicans at the court house in Red Lake Falls Tuesday night at the biennial convention of the party.

The convention, chairmaned by Robert Dodds, elected D. E. Ostby delegate to the state convention June 11. County chairman Aurel Parenteau and Chairwoman Mrs. Anne Healy are automatic delegates, Elected alternates were Roger Eckstein, Jos. Harren and E.F. Kiland.

Elected delegates to the district convention at Moorhead April 17-18 was Roger Eckstein, and alternates named were Marc Parenteau, Jos. Harren and Ed Heupel.

Forsythe stated that in this election year the Republicans have big objectives in maintaining or increasing strength but that the Democrats at the national level had given the GOP plenty of campaign issues.

50 Attend Photo Lesson Wednesday

Fred Heck Gives Lesson For Home Photographers

About 50 people attended the photography lesson that was given by Fred Heck, Marshall county soils agent, on Wednesday, according to Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, Pennington county home agent.

Heck divided the lesson into four parts—why take pictures; functions of a camera; how to take a picture and set a camera; and equipment available, reference materials and handy hint sheets.

When the lesson was completed, Heck encouraged the women to "shoot up" a roll of film and take interesting pictures. "If you are going to own a camera, use it!" he said. "Don't let it set in the closet and get dusty."

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Start when your children are young to give them experience in money management. Making and following a plan for giving a child money will bring better results than hit-or-miss handouts. A regular "no-strings-attached" allowance that grows as the child's needs grow is one way.

Parents who say they cannot afford to give allowances are not being realistic. Most parents spend money on their children. In fact, some teenagers who did not have allowances reported that they believe they got more out of their parents by asking for money than by having an allowance. Hence, regular weekly or monthly sums may actually not be as hard on the family pocket book as parents think.

The allowance, whether it is small or large, is only a device which gives boys and girls themselves a chance to do the spending, starting with little things they buy and going on to bigger items as they develop judgement. Under such an arrangement, many young people are buying some of their own clothes by the time they come to their middle teens. In this way a child gets a real understanding of the need for sensible planning.

Too often parents give an allowance and then dictate how a child shall spend it. But telling a child how to spend his money actually defeats the purpose of the allowance, which is to teach money management. If a child is told he must save three cents out of every dime or that he can spend only five cents a week on candy, he has no chance to use his own judgement.

On the other hand, parents can talk over with a child questions that come up, pointing out that if he saves a little of each weeks' allowance, he can buy something he really wants at the end of the month.

Children learn much by trial and error, and the errors as well as the successes help them learn. However, it is better for a child to begin learning the implications of impulsive spending while he is on a small allowance, than to face the results only after he is an adult and has his own income.

2 Milking Shorthorn Herds Are Classified

TEST TUBE BABIES

Q. Do "test tube" babies have the same legal rights as other children?

A. We presume that you refer to situations involving artificial insemination. If the husband is the father there seems to be no legal problems. When the situation involves a father (donor) who is not the husband, things get pretty mixed up. In a recent divorce action involving a husband and wife who had both consented to donor insemination, the court ruled that the non-father husband was legally responsible for the support of the child. However, the court did not rule on the property rights of the child.

COLOR BLINDNESS

Q. Is color blindness inherited?

A. Yes, in [illegible] cases. The defect seems to be passed along from the mother to male children. About 5 per cent of all males are "color blind," usually to red and green. Complete color blindness in which everything appears in shades of white to black is very rare.

County Agent Summarizes Extension Service Work

Editor's Note:

This is the first in a series of articles covering the annual county agent's report from the Pennington county extension service. Other articles will be published in future editions.

The extension service in each county is an educational arm of three levels of government. These are the county, state and federal. The county pays for 25 per cent of the agents' salaries and the remainder comes from state and federal sources. The county pays all of the expenses of the extension education activities. Since three levels of government cooperate in conducting the extension education, the service is called "Cooperative Extension Service."

County agents in each county are representatives of the University of Minnesota. Personnel is screened for proper qualifications by the University prior to hiring in the county. Agents also carry U.S.D.A. appointment and hence have federal responsibilities.

The county agents work with all people in the county wherever they may live and whatever they may do. If there is information at the University, experiment stations, USDA or any other source which would help an individual or a group with a problem, the agents search it out and bring it to the people in the county. The scope of the work is unlimited. The needs of an individual or group may vary from topics like marketing, agricultural programs, shelterbelts, RAD or specialty crops to family living, child growth and development, nutrition and landscaping of homes.

Organized groups have been formed in the county to facilitate the educational process. Youth have 4-H clubs with 60 different projects offered to them. In these projects they explore areas of interest, possible careers and gain skills and competencies for adult life. There were 18 clubs with 522 members in the county in 1963. Homemakers also have groups organized to examine areas of interest and need. In 1963, 22 groups had 298 homemaker members.

Area development (RAD) is an organized group for the purpose of accelerating economic growth making adjustments. The group and making adjustments. The group presently has 69 members and 24 sustaining members. Other organized groups include DHIA, Pennington Crop Improvement association and a farm management association.

The county extension service has a direct responsibility to these groups and provides information to them.

The extension service uses various means to disseminate information to both organized groups and the public in general. These means include newspaper releases, radio programs, farm visits, office visits, telephone calls, circular letters, meetings and more meetings.

Office calls	3,465
Telephone calls	3,118
Farm and home visits	702
News releases	194
Radio programs	97
Publications distributed	3,544
Training meetings for leaders	17 (attendance 301)
Youth training meetings	24 (attendance 1,530)
Adult meetings agents attended	173 (attendance 5,580)
Youth meetings agents attended	110 (attendance 20,100)

Adult meetings held by leaders in extension work which agents did not attend: 40 (attendance 438); youth meetings held by local leaders which agents did not attend: 228 (attendance 6220).

Other news releases will cover phases of county extension education programs and some results of each.

Jas. Walker, TRF Pioneer, Succumbs

Resident Here 69 Years Died Suddenly Thursday

Funeral services were held here this morning for James E. Walker, 73, a resident of this city for 69 years. Father Keough Patnode officiated at the services at St. Bernard's Catholic church, and burial took place in Greenwood cemetery. Sinding's Funeral Chapel was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Walker died unexpectedly at Northwestern Hospital on March 12 after a very brief illness.

Born in Hillsboro, N.D. March 8, 1891, he came to Thief River Falls at the age of four, and received his elementary and high school education here, graduating from Lincoln high school and subsequently from a civil engineering course at the University of Minnesota. He was a member of the Society of Professional Engineers, a veteran of World War I, and a member of the American Legion, Elks Lodge, and St. Bernard's Catholic church. He was a road contractor and was associated with Carlton Concrete, Sand and Gravel Co. for a number of years before becoming owner-operator of Walker Sand and Gravel Co. 14 years ago.

He was married to Mildred Hiller at Brainerd on March 4, 1924. They became the parents of seven children. Mrs. Walker survives him as do four sons, Patrick, at home; William, Moorhead; James, Bemidji, and Brian, Hoyt Lakes; and two daughters, Florence (Mrs. Hugh Slocum) of Plymouth, Mich., and Kathleen (Mrs. Patrick Hurley) of Montrace, Calif. Also surviving are nine grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Theone Brown of this city and Mrs. Harry Dybvig of Superior, Wis. One daughter preceded him in death.

Rites Conducted For Carrie Rowley City Pioneer

Funeral services were conducted on Saturday at the Sinding Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Carrie Luvina Rowley one of the earliest pioneers of this city, who died at Northwestern Hospital March 11 at the age of 88. Rev. Dean Headley conducted the services and interment was made in Greenwood cemetery, with Sinding's in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Rowley was born in Alexandria, Minn. on February 9, 1876. She moved to a farm near St. Hilaire in 1878, and moved to Thief River Falls when the town was first established. On March 8, 1903, she was married here to Wilber Rowley. They moved to Williams that same year and lived there until 1925 when Mr. Rowley died. She moved back to Thief River Falls to make her home after his death. She was a member of the community Methodist Church since 1931.

She is survived by one son, Frank Rowley of Billings, Mont., and by three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Her husband, four sisters and four brothers preceded her in death.

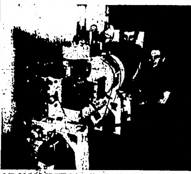
Olaf Wennberg of Clearbrook Dies; Had Brother Here

Olaf A. Wennberg, 76, a brother of Carl Wennberg, of Thief River Falls, passed away at the Clearwater Memorial Hospital in Bagley on March 5. He had been a patient at the hospital for two months prior to his death.

Mr. Wennberg was born on July 31, 1886 in Fertile and he homesteaded in Leon township, Clearwater county in the early 1900's. He was married to Esther Larson in Clearbrook in 1918.

He was a buttermaker for a number of years and worked in the Weme, Gonvick and Bagley creameries. He was a state boiler inspector for several years and also served in the state forestry service.

He is survived by three children and seven brothers. His wife died in 1954.



AT WAHPETON Jim Herold, a 1962 graduate of Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls and Elton Hornseth, a 1962 graduate of Lincoln high school, are shown inspecting controls of a refrigeration unit in the refrigeration department of the North Dakota School of Science in Wahpeton. Elton and Jim are first year students enrolled in the air conditioning and refrigeration technology course. Elton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hornseth of Route 2, Thief River Falls, and Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Herold of Red Lake Falls.

Military Rites At Thief Lake For Adolph Olberg

Funeral services for Adolph Olberg, Chisholm, formerly of the Middle River community, were held March 14 at Our Savior's Lutheran church at Thief Lake, with Rev. Andrew Kubik officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery, with military graveside rites conducted by the Middle River American Legion Post. Collins Funeral Home of Middle River was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Olberg died at the Chisholm hospital on Wednesday afternoon, March 11, at the age of 71 years.

He was born May 5, 1892, at Fertile, Minn. and came to the Marshall county area at the age of eight, settling with his parents in Thief Lake township. He attended school and grew to manhood there. He served with the U.S. Army during World War I and was wounded in action. Following his discharge form the Army he returned to Thief Lake and the Middle River community, where he resided since 1955. He moved to Hibbing in that year and lived there until entering the Chisholm Nursing Home.

Surviving Mr. Olberg are three brothers, Arthur, Middle River; John, Flandreau, S. D.; and Clarence of Fargo, N. D.; three sisters, Clara (Mrs. Jul Klien) of Hibbing; Ella (Mrs. Dick Nepper) of Flandreau, S. D., and Mrs. Mary Knutson of Gary. Preceding Mr. Olberg in death were two sisters.

Arthur C. Olson Dies March 15; Rites Thursday

Directors previously nominated for reelection at district meetings include Manvel Moe, District 2; Stanley Radniecki, District 7; and Raymond Parnow, District 8. Other nominations for directors from these districts may be made from the floor at the annual meeting.

Members making nominations must reside in the district for which they make nominations and only persons residing in the district may vote on candidates from their respective areas. All members casting a vote must be in attendance at the annual meeting.

Capital credit payments, comprising one-half of 1959 capital credits, will be distributed at the registration desk. All members are urged to register early to avoid confusion.

Compare Traffic Toll in Past Years

Death Compared to Miles Traveled Are Cut Since '34

Thirty years ago 697,672 motor vehicles were registered in Minnesota, driven by motorists who did an exceptionally good job of killing people, according to Minnesota highway department records.

In 1934, 641 persons were killed on Minnesota roads and streets in traffic accidents — for a death rate of 13.6 per 100 million vehicle miles travelled.

This is the highest death rate of the past 30 years, the period which death rates have been figured on.

In that record death-rate year, motorists logged 4.9 billion miles of travel, a pittance compared to what motorists travel today.

In 1963, motorists on Minnesota roads and streets travelled 15.4 billion miles, nearly four times as much as in 1934. But with 798 persons killed in traffic accidents last year, there was a low death rate compared to 1934 — 5.2 deaths per 100 million miles of travel.

The lowest death rate in the past 30 years was 4.6 per 100 million miles of travel in 1962, when motorists logged 14.8 billion miles of travel with 694 killed.

In the past 30 years the total deaths was lowest during the war years, 1952-45 inclusive, with 4 killed in 1942, 274 killed in 1943, 356 in 1944 and 46 in 1945. Travel, however, dropped off sharply during this period and did not thereby set a lower death rate.

Hallock Man Head Optometry Board

Dr. G. W. McAllen of Hallock was elected president of the State of Minnesota Board of Optometry at its recent meeting held at the Leamington Hotel, Minneapolis. Dr. McAllen has served as vice president of the board of examiners for the past year.

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

Al R. Wichtrich, executive vice president of the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico, was an interesting host, full of information about the industrial development of Mexico and hopeful for continued expansion of American interests throughout the nation. His organization's membership of more than 1,400 included both American and Mexican companies and through its affiliation with other similar organizations in both countries I am sure it provided a dependable and useful service.

At one time a nation of almost continual revolution, Mexico has now had forty years of stable government under which there has been notable progress industrially, much of which has had American sponsorship and financing. American investors apparently do not fear expropriation. The Mexican government has taken possession of such natural resources as oil and minerals; for which the owners received some compensation. Some large estates have been subdivided into small farms in an effort to encourage land-owning farmers and some progress is being made, I was told, in mechanization which requires larger farms. But government in recent years has not been a thing to be feared.

Mexico encourages expansion of industry by foreign corporations and more and more these foreign owned operations are providing employment at all levels for Mexicans. Some of the larger American companies provide training for such employees in their American plants, teaching them American skills. DuPont is now training 25 Mexican employees in one of their American plants where they are learning how to run what will be their country's first tetraethyl lead plant which DuPont now is building.

Mexico is a nation of approximately 40 million people, composed mainly of descendants of the native Indians and the Spaniards who conquered and colonized the country. Aztec and Mayan stocks, with remarkable cultural backgrounds, have contributed much to Mexico's present culture and the development of what many refer to as Mexico's ruling class, the Mestizos, a cross between the conquering Spaniards and the conquered natives.

More than one of every eight Mexicans lives in Mexico City, and the Mexican government is encouraging industrial expansion in other cities of which there are a number that could be rated as large. The country has more than forty seaports, all of which have possibilities.

Mexico is rich in minerals, oil and gas, and has a large reserve of water power which is being developed rapidly. Agriculture, stock raising and fishing are important. Agriculture has its limits because of the mountainous terrain and its periods of extreme flood and drouth. One of its fastest growing revenue producers in recent years is the tourist industry. Mexico has much to offer the vaction-minded northerner, especially during the winter months, and the Mexicans are doing a good job of exploiting their possibilities. They have built good roads and provided excellent facilities at prices that I would say compare very favorably. The plateau upon which Mexico City is located is a mile or more high and provides a comfortable climate. On either coast there are the tropics.

And Mexico provides an historic background that is especially interesting. I saw only a few of the evidences of that earlier civilization, the Pyramid of the Sun, the Pyramid of the Moon, and a sacrificial altar surrounded by a wall that had much architectural merit. These were within easy driving distance from Mexico City, but the really impressive structures, I learned, are located farther south and mainly in Yucatan. I would like to visit that area.

Among other interesting reports given to me by the manager of the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico was a copy of the organization's last annual report. In the President's statement of which was included the following paragraph which I am happy to pass along:

> "In a world desperate for peace, yet anguished by the threats of war—a world which has focused its attention on Latin America for its tremendous potential markets, natural resources and expanding population—a world which is looking to Mexico for a clue to future patterns to be developed in Latin America, your Chamber of Commerce must fulfill its obligations toward the development of greater understanding between Mexico and the United States."

Kittson Co. Votes Court House Bonds

Approves $300,000 Issue by Margin of 1,912 to 410

Voters of Kittson County gave overwhelming approval to a $300,000 bond issue for construction of a new courthouse in a special election Tuesday. The vote was 1,912 in favor to 410 opposed, according to an unofficial tally.

The bond issue, together with a $100,000 building fund already on hand, will match a $400,000 federal appropriation granted under the Accelerated Public Works Program.

The proposal carried in all the county's 35 precincts. At Hallock the vote was 523-40; at Karlstad 92-50; at Kennedy 107-18; at Lake Bronson 91-23; at Lancaster 95-54 and at St. Vincent 27-10. In North Red River twonship near here the vote was 29-0 in favor of the bond issue.

Construction of the courthouse costing an estimated $800,000 will provide about 525 man months of employment. The bond issue will add 1.7 mills to the county levy, which now includes 2 mills for building purposes.

Roseau Sheriff Injured in Auto Mishap Thursday

Paul Knochenmus, sheriff of Roseau County, was injured in a one car accident early Thursday morning. Knochenmus, driver of the car, and a passenger were en route home from Fergus Falls where they had taken a patient.

The accident happened near Twin Valley. Knochenmus had to walk more than two miles to get help. The sheriff of Norman county investigated the accident and brought Knochenmus to Crookston. He received facial lacerations and a broken jaw which was set Friday.

The passenger in the car was taken to an Ada hospital for observation and released.

Federal Income Tax Deductions Clarified

(This is the eleventh in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

In computing taxable income there are two alternatives for taking deductions. Specific deductions may be itemized or a standard deduction taken in lieu of itemizing deductions. Whichever method will produce the lower tax may be used.

The deductions are taken only after adjusted gross income is determined. Deductions which are used to determine adjusted gross income are not effected by this election and these dedections, such as business expenses, may be taken in arriving at adjusted gross income regardless of whether or not the standard deduction is used.

Once adjusted gross income is determined, it will normally be advantageous to itemize deductions where such items as interest paid and allowable medical expenses exceed 10 percent of adjusted gross income or $1,000. Where itemized deductions are claimed, you may be required to substantiate them at a later date.

The standard deduction is allowed in lieu of itemizing deductions, and there is no requirement for substantiation if the standard deduction is taken. For persons whose adjusted gross income is $5,000 or more, the standard deduction is 10 percent of the adjusted gross income, but not more than $1,000, or $500 in case of a married taxpayer filing separately. Once the standard deduction is taken, then personal exemptions are claimed and the tax determined from the tax rates.

For taxpayers whose adjusted gross income is under $5,000, the standard deduction is taken by determi ning the tax on the basis of the tax table. This tax table is available only to those who do not itemize deductions or take a standard deduction. It takes into account an amount equal to approxmately 10 per cent of the adjusted gross income and the personal exemptions in each bracket. It is available only to persons with adjusted gross income of less than $5,000, and where joint returns are filed, the combined income of husbnd and wife cannot exceed $5,000.

A determination of whether or not to use the standard deduction should be made as a result of comparing the tax due under both methods of claiming deductions. Generally, less tax will be paid by homeowners who itemize their deductions if they pay substantial real estate taxes and mortgage interest. Likewise, those with considerable medical expenses or who make substantial charitable conductions are smaller or where they cannot be substantiated will find the standard deduction advantageous.

Langen Opposes Congress Pay Hike

Calls Proposal an Act of Fiscal Irresponsibility

Washington — "We're running $10-billion a year in the red; we don't even know how the new tax cut will affect the economy; and there's no indication the Congress is ready to hold the line on spending," declared Congressman Odin Langen. "But we do have the nerve to bring up a pay bill in the House of Representatives that contains a $10-thousand a year salary increase for every member of Congress."

Langen, who is opposing Congressional salary increases at this time, suggested that "this Congress should go on record against such pay boosts until the federal budget has been balanced for at least six months. To enact such pay legislation now is to charge the cost to future generations."

Music Students at N.W. School to Give Concert

Student members of various music groups at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, will present their annual spring music concert at the school on Sunday afternoon (March 22). The program is scheduled for 3 p.m. in the Kiehle auditorium.

Fifty-eight voices comprise the mixed chorus under the direction of Conrad H. Kvamme. The chorus will present a group of numbers ranging from light classical music to folk ballads. Also performing will be other mixed vocal groups and soloists.

Under the direction of Robert A. Heckman, the school band will play selections including a Viennese Waltz, marches, and various popular numbers.

On Tuesday (March 17), the piano students will present their spring recital in Kiehle auditorium at 8 p.m. Students participating are pupils of Donald W. Anderson, piano instructor.

Jehovah Witnesses Camp Has Visit

Circuit Director Will Be Here on March 17-22

Frank Sciascia

A period of special activity is slated for the Thief River Falls congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses March 17-22. R. H. Wetenkamp, presiding minister, has announced the semi-annual visit of Frank W. Sciascia, circuit director.

"The congregation anticipates a week of increased activity and spiritual benefit from the visit" Wetenkamp stated.

The visit is described as part of an advanced training program for Jehovah's Witnesses. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday with a ministry training school, followed by a 30-minute discourse by Sciascia.

Wednesday through Sunday some time will be devoted to calling on local residents to better acquaint them with the work of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Saturday the program begins at 8 p.m. with a Bible question period, "New Things Learned", The audience will participate. A discourse by Sciascia giving counsel for improving one's personal ministry concludes the session.

Highlight of the week comes Sunday, March 22, at 2 p.m., when Sciascia gives the lecture, "Benefiting Eternally from God's Own Book." A congregation Bible study brings the week's activity to a close. All meetings will be held at the Kingdom Hall, 701 State av. N. The public is invited and no collections will be taken.

Marshall Co. RAD Group Has Survey

Questionnaires Mailed To Many County Residents

Many Marshall county families have received questionnaires in the mail seeking information on family living. The survey forms were sent out by the Marshall County Rural Areas Development (RAD) committee to obtain information not available from public sources.

Mrs. Verne Green of Newfolden is chairman of the family living sub-committee of RAD and urges persons who received questionnaires to complete and return them as soon as possible. March 20 has been set as the deadline for having the forms returned.

Some of the questions in the survey include ages and marital status of family members, source of family income, employment of wives and teenagers, length of time lived in the home, organizational and church membership, care of aged or disabled, recreation and other items.

Members of the survey committee in addition to Mrs. Green are Mr. and Mrs. Evald Kostrzewski, Stephen; Rev. Clifford Anderson, Newfolden; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Crummy, Argyle; Mrs. Gilford Sannes, Thief River Falls; Mrs. Bert Kron, Viking; Rev. Don Reynen, Stephen; and Julius Kleinwachter, Strandquist.

Police Department Investigates Auto Theft, Break-in

Thief River Falls police are investigating a traffic accident, house break-in and car theft this week. The house break-in was at the Andy Williams home on March 10 Entry was gained by breaking glass in the back door. Several items were reported taken but the value was not determined.

An auto mishap occurred Friday at about 9:15 a.m. when a car driven west on Second street by Jon Larson, city, was struck by a car driven north on LaBree avenue by Boyd Holcomb, Crookston. Damage was estimated at $100 to the Larson car and $150 to the Holcomb vehicle.

On Sunday between 1:30 and 2 a.m. a car owned by Paul Anderson of Red Lake Falls was stolen in Thief River Falls. The car was recovered about 1 p.m. on Sunday, the police department reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Troska, Goodridge, boy, March 13, 8 lb.

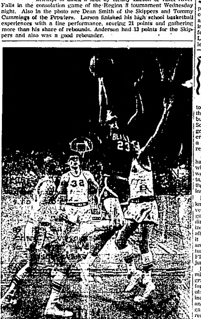
Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Gerardy, Plummer, boy, James Peter), March 13, 7 lb. 3 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold LaValley, Thief River Falls, March 14, girl (Lenette Elen) 6 lb. 12½ oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson, Middle River, March 14, girl(Karen Denise) 7 lb. 13 oz.

RICK Anderson of Middle River goes high in the air in a futile attempt to block a shot by Kenny Larson of Thief River Falls in the consolation game of the Region 8 tournament Wednesday night. Also in the photo are Dean Smith of the Skippers and Tommy Cummings of the Prowlers. Larson finished his high school basketball experiences with a fine performance, scoring 21 points and gathering more than his share of rebounds. Anderson had 13 points for the Skippers and also was a good rebounder.

STRENGTH on the boards resulted in this score for the Prowlers in Wednesday night consolation round play in the Region 8 tournament at Grand Forks. Bob Olson, Prowler center who tallied 16 points against Middle River, captured a rebound and pushed his shot through the hoop. Rick Holmes (32), whose shooting kept the Skippers in the game during the first half, is shown defending with Bruce Lunsetter (12) and Richard Engelstad (42). Ken Larson (51) of the Prowlers awaits the outcome of the shot. The Prowlers won consolation honors 63-53.



KEY MAN in the Bemidji defense of its Region 8 title was John Warford, shown here scoring on a drive-in shot in opening round action against the Thief River Falls Prowlers. Warford scored 17 points against the Prowlers and climaxed a fine tournament performance with some sensational sharp-shooting against Ada in the championship game Wednesday night. Prowler defenders left to right are Ken Larson, Mark Anderson and Rick Nelson.

MAIN STREET, U.S.A.

BY BERT MILLS
Washington Editor, of "National Publisher"

Congress delegates vast powers to the administrative agencies of the federal government but the bureaucrats never are satisfied. Sometimes a commission or bureau goes so far in extending its powers that Congress has to legislate a second time to slap down an overreaching agency.

An interesting example of this has just happened in connection with the tax bill. The Federal Power commission was the principal target of Congress this time, although several other agencies were involved as well.

Federal power is not as well known to the public as many government agencies because it regulates business and has little direct contact with the average citizen. Nevertheless, FPC indirectly affects everybody's life because it controls gas and electric rates, among other things. The states actually regulate consumer rates but FPC plays a key role through its jurisdiction over wholesale rates.

Back in 1962, the Kennedy administration sought and Congress granted an investment tax credit for industry. The aim was to stimulate the economy by providing an incentive for business to expand and modernize. Most economists regard that 1962 law as one of the reasons for the current prosperity of the nation.

There wasn't any question in 1962 about the intent of Congress. Business concerns were to be allowed to reduce their federal taxes to the extent they invested funds in creating more jobs by building new and better plants. Uncle Sam was sure to profit in the long run from greater tax income from individuals and industry.

Bureaucrats Nullify Law

Unfortunately for certain regulated utilities in the gas and electric industry, the Federal Power commission did not agree with the liberalized tax depreciation law, insofar as the utilities under FPC regulation were concerned. FPC decreed there must be a "flow through" of the tax benefits to the ultimate consumer.

To you and to me as customers, this would have amounted to a virtually meaningless seven to ten cents per month in lower gas and electric bills. These pennies would have added up to about $300 million annually in rate reductions by the gas and electric companies—a major loss which would prevent the sort of plant expansion the law sought.

Congress debated this specific question back in 1962, when the regulatory agencies sought to deny the tax benefit to various utilities. Congress decided otherwise and made the depreciation benefits applicable to business generally.

When the House passed the current tax bill last year, the question was re-examined in the light of FPC's "flow through" theory, which had also been adopted by the Federal Communications commission in its regulation of telephone rates.

The House inserted language in the tax bill telling FPC and FCC and a host of other regulatory agencies to stop defying the 1962 law. This set the stage for another full-dress debate on the issue in the Senate. A number of anti-business senators supported the "flow through" theory.

However, a bipartisan band of senators stood firm to require the agencies to obey the law. Sen. Milward L. Simpson (R., Wyo.) charged that "regulatory agencies have seen fit to thwart the will of Congress by denying the investment credits specifically authorized. In effect, they are flouting the law of the land. They are establishing rule by men rather than rule by law."

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D., N. Mex.) agreed: "The regulatory agencies said, 'We do not care what Congress said. We are going to do it our way.'" He conceded that the House had "slapped" the agencies but concluded "It is the only way it can hold them in line when they violate the clear intent of Congress."

Sen. Stuart Symington (D., Mo.) said: "If those companies make investments because they are told by their government that if they make them they will receive tax credits, I do not believe that any regulatory body should have the right arbitrarily to take away, and in effect, therefore, nullify the agreement that was made when they originally invested as the result of the promise of a tax credit."

Sen. Frank Carlson (R., Kans.) commented: "The real difficulty seems to be that some regulatory agencies would change the investment credit from an incentive to public utilities to improve and expand their facilities into a bonus to the users of the utility service."

Will Arm Follow Body?

Now that the tax debate is all over and a law has resulted, it will be interesting to see whether an arm can continue to go off in another direction from the body. FPC is an arm of Congress. The legislative body has reaffirmed its course.

In the midst of the Senate debate, FPC handed down a 3-2 decision in a case involving Alabama-Tennessee Natural Gas company. This edict said that tax savings from the depreciation law "must be flowed through to consumers." A dissenting minority called the decision 'a fundamental and drastic change in our regulatory policy" which will have a national impact with consequences far transcending the importance of this particular case."

The Alabama-Tennessee decision is now clearly illegal. Will FPC bow and reconsider its views in the light of new circumstances? This is by no means sure because bureaucratic agencies are strong-minded and often find a way around the most explicit Congressional directive.

Officers Plan for Setesdalslag at Oklee June 12-13

Sports Show to Open Apr. 10 in Crookston

The first Red River Valley Sports, Recreation and Conservation Show, to be held in the Winter Shows arena at Crookston, is rapidly expanding into what could be the largest such exposition in Valley Sports, Recreation and Conservation Council.

The Show is scheduled for Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 10, 11 and 12.

Feature attractions of the show now include a live trout fishing pool from which the public will fish, and a live wild animal show featuring deer, buffalo, bear, wolf, wolverine, ducks, pheasants, peacocks, etc. John Hall dogs will perform each evening. These highly trained dogs recently performed in Madison Square Garden in New York.

KILO-Hootenany, featuring the entire KILO-Grand Forks troupe, will perform Saturday evening. Tentatively the Red Lake Indians will present an authentic Indian Pow-wow, dance and music, Sunday afternoon. Over $2,500 worth of sports equipment, a boat, motor, trailer, camp trailer and shot gun will be given away at the show.

Sports equipment will be on display including the latest in boats, motors, camp trailers, motor cycles, pontoons, water sleds, etc.

Dozens of exhibition booths will feature displays sponsored by resort associations, chambers of commerce, smaller sports equipment, guns, fishing tackle, etc., garden clubs, garden equipment and supplies, recreations equipment, carnival booths, conservation and wildlife displays, antique displays, etc.

Commercial exhibition space is still available, but exhibitors are urged to reserve space as soon as possible to assure themselves booth space at the show.

Anyone desiring further information is urged to write to Sports Show Box 402, Crookston or to call 281-2900, Crookston.

Large Audiences Attend Operetta

Final Performance of 'Brigadoon' This Evening

More than 600 persons turned out Friday evening and again Saturday evening for the first presentations of the operetta "Brigadoon", successfully staged by Lincoln high school musicians. The final performance will be presented tonight, Monday, at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The production features many tuneful musical selections, attractive settings and colorful authentic costumes characteristic of the Scottish background.

Bryant Ulseth, vocal music instructor, directed the production, while James Solsten directed the Lincoln orchestra, and settings were supplied by sudents under the direction of Donald Lerud, art instructor.

National Wildlife Week Has Outdoor Recreation Theme

Agassiz Wildlife Refuge Manager Asks Observance In Thinking of Future

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge personnel take pride in announcing National Wildlife week — March 15-21, according to Ralph Town, acting manager.

The 1964 theme is: "America Needs Outdoor Recreation—Act Now To Provide For The Future." With expanding populations, more liesure time and ease of modern travel, it is imperative that every community and state develop plans now to provide areas where people can enjoy the out-of-doors, states the refuge manager.

"National Wildlife Week in the past has alerted the public to important conservation problems: the need to preserve endangered species of valuable wildlife, the importance of conserving wetlands for waterfowl, the desirability of fully developing wildlife and outdoor recreation potentials in public land management policies, and the abatement of water pollution in our river basins and waterways," Town added.

The Outdoor Recreation Resources' Review commission was established by Congress in 1958. Congress directed the commission to survey the outdoor recreation needs of the American people for the next 40 years and recommend action to meet these needs.

When the ORRRC report was issued in January, 1962, the following statement was made—All in all, being in the outdoors is a good, wholesome, healthful use of liesure time. The fact that we live in a world that moves crisis by crises does not make a growing interest in outdoor activities frivilous, or ample provision for them unworthy of the nations concern".

"We urge all citizens to become informed on outdoor recreation needs and act now to provide for the future," Town concluded.

Public Notices

Card of Thanks

We wish to express appreciation to the doctors, nurses, and other members of the staff of Northwestern Hospital for the efficient treatment and many kindnesses extended to our mother, Mrs. Louisa Anderson, during her many months of hospitalization preceding her death on March 8. The numerous personal courtesies shown, not only to our beloved mother, but to the many relatives who stood vigil during those months, are appreciated greatly. Mrs. Russell Molldrem (Violet), Mrs. Wendell Beebe (Helen); Mrs. Raymond Munt (Alice). 1t22c

Card of Thanks

We wish to take this opportunity to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for all the many, many expressions of sympathy that were given to us in the sudden passing of our mother. We wish also to thank Pastor Peterson for his words of comfort; Mrs. Don Olson for her songs.; Mrs. Walter Larson, organist; and the pallbearers for their services. Your thoughfulness at this time will never be forgotten. The family of Mrs. Dorothy Krogstad. 1t22p

Card of Thanks

Thanks to all who visited me and sent cards and flowers during my stay at Northwestern Hospital. Special thanks to Pastor Nelson and Pastor Peterson for their visits and prayers; Also Dr. Martin and Dr. Anderson and the hospital staff for the good care they gave me. God bless you all. Agnes Leiseth. 1t22c

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my friends and relatives for gifts, cards, letters and visits while I was in the hospital; doctors at Falls-Starekow Clinic, and hospital staff for their fine care, and Rev. Haakenstad for his visits. It was so much appreciated. God bless you all. Mrs. Walter Sorter. 1t23p

Card of Thanks

Bemidji Whips Ada in Region; Goes To State

The Bemidji Lumberjacks successfully defended its Region Eight basketball title on Wednesday night when, in the finals of the tourney held in the UND fieldhouse in Grand Forks, coach Clarence (Bun) Fortier's team defeated the Ada Vikings, 66 to 51. In a preliminary game the Thief River Falls Prowlers gained third place in the tournament by scoring a 63 to 53 win over the Middle River Skippers of District 32.

The Bemidji Lumberjacks will represent Region Eight in the state high school tournament that opens play on Thursday in the Williams fieldhouse on the Minnesota University campus in Minneapolis. The first-round opponents of the Jacks will be the highly-rated Edina team, champions of Region Five.

In Wednesday night's championship tilt, Coach Denny Anderson's Ada squad, champions of District 30, kept pace with the Lumberjacks throughout the first half, and at one time, in the early minutes of the second period, gained an 18 to 16 lead, and a 25 to 24 lead with a couple of minutes of play in the period. But Bemidji with three field goals and three free throws, pulled away to a 33 to 28 margin at the intermission.

And it was in the third period that Bemidji "broke open" the game. With forwards John Warford and John Dow collecting eight and six points respectively, the Jacks, outpointing Ada 18 to 9, took a commanding 51 to 37 lead.

Ada, in the opening minutes of the fourth period, pared the Bemidji lead to ten points, 54 to 44, but Bemidji, controlling the ball, forced the Vikings to commit personal fouls in an effort to obtain possession, and the Jacks were extremely accurate from the free-throw line, with Howard Hoganson, Bob Saeger, and Warford adding two points apiece on the one-and-one bonus free throw tries.

Coach Jack Junker's Prowlers earned third place in the tournament standings by defeating coach Jerry Snyder's ever-hustling Middle River club, winning by a 63 to 53 score. Kenny Larson, closing out his career as a Prowler cager, paced the scoring for coach Junker's team, racking up eight field goals and five free throws for a 21-point effort. Bob Olson and Mark Anderson, also playing their final games for the blue-and-gold, had 16 and 10 points, respectively.

For the Middle River Skippers, center Rick Holmes, on nine field goals, led the scoring, with burly Rick Anderson scoring 13 points for runner-up honors.

Bobby Olson Leader in Prowler Scoring

Bobby Olson, who must be rated with the fine centers that have been produced at Lincoln high school, won the 1963-64 Prowler scoring title with a total of 349 points. Bob scored a total of 145 field goals and added 59 free throw points for his 349-point aggregate.

Gaining runner-up honors to Olson was southpaw Ken Larson, perhaps the most accurate outside shot on this season's squad. Ken, in spite of missing a couple of games during the schedule, and being "blanked" in a pair of early-season contests, scored 110 field goals and notched 67 free throws for a total of 287 points. His free-throw percentage was the best recorded by coach Jack Junker's squad, with Larson missing only 34 tries in 101 attempts from the free throw line.

During the 23-game season, which found the Prowlers posting a record of twelve wins and eleven losses, the locals scored a total of 1423 points, and gave up 1384 points on defense.

Seniors who will be graduated from this season's club are Olson, Larson, Mark Anderson, Rick Jensen, and Gary Hagen.

Bemidji and Edina Meet in 1st Round of State Tourney

To Play Thursday Night in Basketball Classic in 'U' of M. Fieldhouse

The 1964 Minnesota state high school basketball tourney will begin play on Thursday afternoon on the Williams fieldhouse court on the Minnesota University campus in Minneapolis.

The first-round pairings will find, on Thursday afternoon, Benson of Region Six, with a 16 and 7 record, meeting Proctor of Region Seven, with a 23 and 0 mark; and Luverne of Region Two, with a 17 and 5 mark, playing Hutchinson of Region Three, with a 19 and 4 record. Thursday evening's schedule will find Rochester of Region One, with a 15 and 5 mark, playing Anoka of Region Four, with a 17 and 7 record; and Edina of Region Five, with a 23 and 0 mark, playing Bemidji of Region Eight, with a record of 19 and 4.

The semi-finals will be played on Friday evening; and the championship finals will be played on Saturday night. The defending champion Marshall team, making a bid to return to the state tournament, was defeated by Hutchinson, 47 to 45, in the finals of the Region Three tourney.

Figures and Facts

While the basketball Prowlers, for the 1963-64 season, compiled an ordinary won-and-lost record, having twelve wins and eleven losses, they did produce quite a number of points. In the twenty-three games played, coach Jack Junker's squad amassed a total of 1423 points, and that was good enough for school record runner-up honors.

The Lincoln high school season scoring mark was set by the Prowlers of 1962-63 who, in a twenty-three game schedule, rolled up a total of 1547 points.

Individually, Bob Olson paced the Prowlers in scoring with a total of 349 points. While Bob's total was a creditable performance it was far off the school record set by Dave Hanson back in 1956-57. It was in that season, when Dave was junior, that the smooth-playing center, scoring points at a 24.04 points per game clip, racked up 233 field goals and 111 free throws for a agregate of 577 points. Dave also set a career mark in scoring, for in the three years that he played he scored a total of 1088 points. As a sophomore Dave had a total of 424 points, then came his record-breaking 577 points as a junior, and in his senior, until he was declared ineligible, he had a total of 87 points.

Defensively this season's squad left much to be desired as the club gave up 1384 points, a school record.

Strictly Unofficial

In taking an informal poll from the boys at the scoring table, and from the officials' locker-room, it was the consensus that the following players would make a representative All-Star squad from Region Eight's basketball tournament last week: John Warford, John Dow, and Marv Hanson from Bemidji; Ken Larson, Bob Olson, and Mark Anderson from Thief River Falls; Dave Cirks and Jay McNamar from Ada; and Rick Holmes and Rick Anderson from Middle River.

And breaking this squad into a pair of lineups we would have Warford and Larson at the forwards, Cirks at Center, and Hanson and McNamar at the guards as one five; and the other would find Dow and Holmes at the forwards, Olson at center, and Rick Anderson and Mark Anderson at the guards.

Of this group of ten the most unpretentious and under-rated player would have to be Bemidji's stocky guard, Marv Hanson. Hanson doesn't have very much going for him as he isn't very fast, nor is he a standout scorer; but he does provide the Bemidji Lumberjacks with leadership on the floor, and he is pretty much of a quarterback for coach Bun Fortier's club. And Marv has the rare talent of being able to come up with a "big" play, and such a player has a value to a team that does not always appear in the score book.

North Dakota Champions

I made the drive over to Grand Forks on Saturday night and witnessed the North Dakota state championship basketball finals between the Grafton Spoilers and the Bismarck Demons. And the Grafton club, with a fine all-round performance, won the championship by scoring an 80 to 67 win.

And the question was asked as to how the Bemidji Lumberjacks, or the Prowlers, would have fared in North Dakota competition. Well, the Grafton and Bismarck clubs would both have handled the Jacks and the Prowlers, with Bemidji perhaps having an easier time with Bismarck. Grafton had too much board strength in Wayne Welter, Larry Anderson, and Arnie Lizakowski. This trio was impossible to budge out of their rebounding positions, and their height and strength made it possible for the Grafton guards, Gary French and Ken Demester, to cut and slash into opposing defense for numerous points.

And whenever the Grafton guards would be under pressure, and Bismarck did try to "press" these playmakers, they would pass off to any one of their three big men, Welter, Anderson, or Lizakowski, and then the guards would be free to maneuver into position again. While Grafton's guards earned the scoring spotlight, with French scoring 78 points and Demester adding 57 points, it's a fact that many of these points came as a result of the "protection" provided by the Spoiler's "big three".

Rise in Price of Farm Lands Has Slowed up

Slow activity and a leveling off of prices has characterized the Minnesota farm real estate picture so far in the 1960's. These trends are explained by Dale Solum, research assistant in agricultural economics at the University of Minnesota.

Between the mid-1940's and 1959, land values rose steadily despite the tendency of net farm income to fall or to show little increase. This is explained as a delayed response of farm land values to the rapid rise in farm income from 1939 to 1947.

Now, however, farm land values have leveled off. Since 1959, the average farm land values have only increased four dollars per acre, from $157 to $161. Rate of land title transfers are now at the lowest level since 1926.

In 1963, the average land values for different areas of the state varied from $246 per acre in southwestern Minnesota to $68 per acre in northeastern Minnesota. Land values in other areas of the state averaged $184 per acre in the southeast, $142 per acre in west central, $103 per acre in east central, and $114 per acre in the northwest.

Trends in land prices have not been the same in all sections of the state, says Solum. The northwestern land values have increased about 11 percent during the past two years while values in southern Minnesota have either decreased or increased very little. This difference is explained by a number of factors.

The increase in northwestern Minnesota is due to the extremely good weather conditions during 1963 as compared to 1962 the importance of sugar beets in this area, the current world sugar situation, and the large percentage of purchases being made by the expansion buyer.

The relatively stable value of southern Minnesota land is explained by the poor level of fed cattle prices, the continuing upward trend of property taxes and the disappearance of the Iowa buyer.

There has also been a shift in the type of buyers. The expansion buyer has become more important in recent years. Expansion buyers combine the purchased land with former holdings. Another type of buyer, the owner-operator, purchases farms for his own operation as a complete unit.

In 1963, 44 percent of the farm sales were bought by the expansion buyer and 43 percent were purchased by the owner-operator. In comparison to 1954, this is quite a difference when 25 percent of the farms were purchased by the expansion buyer and 60 percent were bought by the owner-operator. Obviously, the increase in expansion buying has come about at the expense of the owner-operator.

State Income Tax Reminder Issued

Rolland F. Hatfield, commissioner of taxation, announced today that the number of questions received by the department would indicate that many people are not fully aware of the requirements for filing income tax returns and computing the 1 per cent minimum tax.

The income tax law was amended by the 1963 Minnesota Legislature regarding the definition of "gross income" in determining who must file a return and who must pay at least the minimum tax. The amount of gross income that a taxpayer must have before he is required to file a return has been the same since 1959 and is more than $750 for a single person and more than $1,500 for a married person or married couple. It was only the definition of gross income that was changed by the 1963 legislature. This change affects income from farming, business, rents, royalties, and gain from the sale of property. It does not affect income from wages, salaries, fee, commissions, tips, etc.

For the purpose of filing a return and paying the minimum tax, gross income from a farm means total receipts plus gain from the sale of purchased livestock. For example: If a married Minnesota farmer has no income other than from his farming operations, and had total receipts of $10,000 from the sale of produce, and had expenses of $9,000, he would have to file a return and pay at least the $10 minimum tax, as his gross income for this purpose is his $10,000 receipts and not the $1,000 net profit after expenses.

For the purpose of filing a return and paying the minimum tax, gross income from a business means total receipts less cost of goods sold; gross income from rents or royalties means the total amount received before any deduction for expenses; and gross income from the sale of property means the total gain before the 50 per cent capital gain deduction.

Commissioner Hatfield also urged individual taxpayers to file their returns as soon as possible as returns can be processed much quicker now than during April when there is normally a large volume of returns filed.

Rural Artists Are Featured in Show

300 Works Exhibited at 'U' M. Event in St. Paul

More than 300 paintings and pieces of sculpture by Minnesota rural artists will be featured in the 13th annual Minnesota Town and Country Art Show which opened on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul Campus Sunday, March 15.

The gallery, located on the second floor of the Student Center, will be open to the public each day from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. except on Sundays when the hours will be 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. The show will continue through April 3.

Included in the collection this year are paintings by 10 Indian youths from the Red Lake Indian Reservation. The youths, who attend high school in Red Lake, have been taking an art class from Mrs. Barbara Peterson, a teacher in the Red Lake schools.

Most consistent exhibitor in what was previously known as the Rural Art Show has been Mrs. Effie Sheldon Bornhoft, Rush City, who has entered every year. This year's show is the 11th for Mrs. Jennie Arkins, White Bear Lake, Mrs. Hazel Burtzlaff, Stillwater and Dr. Vernon L. Carlson, Buffalo, formerly of Thief River Falls. Sixty-four of Minnesota's counties are represented in this year's exhibition.

Anoka Picks Man to Succeed Bye

Commr. Erling Johnson Named Superintendent

Erling O. Johnson, Minnesota commissioner of education, today was appointed superintendent of the Anoka - Hennepin school district, effective July 1.

He will succeed Morris Bye, who will retire at the age of 68 from the position he has held since 1943.

Johnson will receive $20,000 a year at Anoka, $2,500 more than his salary as education commissioner. Bye's salary is $20,000.

Johnson, 54, said he expects to submit his resignation to the Minnesota Board of Education April 13. He was appointed to the job by the board in August 1961 and assumed office January 1, 1962.

The Anoka-Hennepin District, one of the fastest growing in the state, has seen its enrollment increase from less than 4,000 in 1952 to 16,300 today.

Trampoline Team Here on Tuesday

One of the advances in physical education has been the emergence of the Trampoline as a major tool in developing physical skills. The Nissen exhibition team of trampoline stars well perform in Lincoln Auditorium Tuesday, March 17, at 2 p.m. to show the potential of this relatively new device.

All the phases of trampoline work will be displayed by experts who work at the trampoline for its benefits, not just its most spectacular moments.

The current tour of the Upper Midwest has been arranged by the University of Minnesota Program Service.

Electricity in Action

The American residential and industrial user of electricity pays from a fourth to a sixth less for electricity than does his counterpart in the countries of the European Common Market, according to an analysis by a New York City industrial firm.

Average cost of electricity to the resident in America is 2.47 cents per kilowatt-hour. This compares wih 4.68 cents in Belgium, 4.29 in Luxembourg, 4.26 in Italy, 3.72 in France, 3.50 in West Germany and 2.90 in the Netherlands.

Most of the power in the Common Market countries is sold by non-tax-paying public authorities, while much of the U. S. power is supplied by investor-owned electric utilities that charge less and promote the national welfare by paying heavy state, federal and local taxes. This certainly appears to make a government-owned power system look like a step backward.

It's Sure to Come

The American public can look forward to an all-out effort by the unions this year to reduce the legal work week to 35 hours instead of 40. Naturally the request will be to have the week shortened at no decrease in pay. If granted, this increased cost to industry would be reflected in higher prices and the consumer would again fall victim to an inflationary jump.

Not only would the American consumer suffer, but the competitive ability of American industry in foreign markets would also be weakened. At the present time our industry has been able to compete because of higher productivity and investment in plant and equipment, a huge outlay of money for research and development, experience in competing in free markets and relative price and wage stability.

Organized labor claims the shorter work week would help to solve the nation's unemployment situation. The theory is that the same work would have to be done in the same amount of time and that the five hours deducted from each 40-hour week could be applied to a job for another person.

It is highly possible, however, that hampering American competition in foreign markets could result in decreased production and more unemployment than we have now. It would also increase the attractiveness of "moonlighting"—holding a second job to supplement the family income.

We like to cling to the old idea of a fair day's work for a fair day's pay. Thirty-five hours don't add up to much of a week.

This Thing Called RAD

Of the many government agencies created to provide "assistance" to the American people, the Rural Areas Development program perhaps holds the most promise for success. Local initiative, planning and organization are the basis for the program—and this is the key to whatever success the program may hope to have.

Pennington county was among the earliest in the state to see the opportunities offered by RAD and proceeded to organize and form an Overall Economic Development Plan (OEDP) for the county. The county RAD organization, through local enthusiasm, hope and confidence, has developed to the stage where it is becoming a catch-all for proposed county and community projects.

The RAD committee in Pennington county has conducted investigation and is giving further study to such things as the junior college, swimming pool, alfalfa dehydrating plant, truck stop and sugar beet production and processing. Each proposed project is, in itself, large enough to require a considerable amount of work. We commend those who have taken it upon themselves to make this effort in behalf of community improvment.

We have always been critical of federal "help" programs, feeling that the helping hand is always a little too far away from the hungry beggar—leaving room for dogs to steal the bread. We have been critical of the RAD program for somewhat the same reasons, perhaps being guilty of overlooking some of the good in the program.

We like the RAD approach of local initiative, planning and organization. We don't object to federal loans when private financing is not available, provided the interest is sufficient to make the loan business-like and the proposed use has been investigated sufficiently to indicate feasability. We recognize that federal assistance to this extent is, in some instances, desirable and necessary.

We do object, however, to abuse of the intent of RAD and to RAD projects not in the general interest of the nation. We refer, respectively, to federal grants (not loans) for building such things as plush country clubs, and plans to grow sugar beets in New York when the current producing area has for years been fighting for the chance to grow additional acreage.

These are, admittedly, bad apples in the barrel. Rare, however, is the government service that does not fall victim to poor judgement or illegal attempts somewhere along the line.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture publishes monthly an RAD Newsletter to report on program progress. The February issue cited Hale county, Alabama, where RAD helped in providing 166 new agricultural jobs, 282 indirect new jobs in related and service businesses, promotion of a local tourist attraction, a 56-acre industrial part, new sportswear industry, new asphalt plant and expansion of other businesses.

The Inner Struggle

Almost since the beginning of military service in our country, there has been rivalry between the various branches of the armed forces. In the ranks of enlisted men, the rivalry is primarily that of good-natured banter and pride in one's particular outfit. Writing in "This Week" magazine, Donald Robinson has a different story of rivalry to tell.

"This the American people should know," Robinson writes. "The U. S. Army and the U. S. Air Force are secretly fighting one of the most bitter wars in Washingon history, and the ricochets are reaching all the way to the jungles of South Vietnam. The issue is a simple one, but crucial to the nation's defenses. The Army wants to build a huge air force of its own, and the Air Force is battling to stop it. Never in the 19 years that I've been reporting on military affairs have I seen such rancor between the services."

One can not discount the seriousness of such a controversy. Defense of the nation is an important task and a calling far above the quibbling of which branch of service shall do what. We have enough problems in the world today without internal bickering. The sooner the situation is resolved in a definite basis, the better for all concerned.

Poison Prevention

It shouldn't be necessary to warn the public against taking poison, but there is apparently more need that one might at first expect. Sunday marked the beginning of "National Poison Prevention Week"—and Spring house-cleaning time is an appropriate period to call the dangers to the attention of the public.

Approximately 500 children under five years of age die each year as a result of accidental poisoning. The public health service reports that such accidents involve 500,000 children each year. The service also reports that carelessness and ignorance on the part of adults are the predisposing factors. That doesn't speak very well of us, does it?

Major factors are improper storage of products, particularly where these are in sight and reach of the child; improper handling, for example when items such as liquid bleach and turpentine are poured in cups, glasses and milk and soft-drink bottles; and improper discarding of the toxic products in waste containers accessible to children and pets.

The four classes of products most involved in the reported accidental poisonings are cleaning and polishing agents, pesticides and petroleum distillate products like kerosene, lighter fluid and some furniture polishes and waxes.

Why do children drink kerosene with apparent delight, enjoy consuming furniture polish and eat and drink other substances that would taste horrible to most adults? The answer, according to Dr. Paul Joliet, chief of the Public Health service division of accident prevention, is undeveloped taste. Dr. Joliet states that children under two do not have much taste discrimination. Precautions on the part of the parent are the best preventatives. Your home can be made safer for your children by following these rules:

1. Keep household products and medicines out of reach and out of sight of children, preferably in a locked cabinet or closet. Even if you must leave the room for only an instant, remove the container to a safe spot.
2. Store medicines separately from other household products and keep these items in their original containers—never in cups or soft-drink bottles.
3. Be sure that all products are properly labelled, and read the label before using.
4. Always turn the light on when giving or taking medicine.
5. Since children tend to imitate adults—avoid taking medications in their presence.
6. Refer to medicines by their proper nam-
7. Clean out your medicine cabinet period-es. They are not candies. ically. Get rid of old medicines by flushing them down the drain, rinsing the container in water, and then discarding it.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

March 16

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS, PENNINGTON COUNTY, MINN.
March 3, 1964

Pursuant to adjournment the County Commissioners met in the Commissioners' Room in the Courthouse at 10:00 A.M., March 3, 1964.

Members present: Hanson, Olson, Almquist, Lindberg and Tasa. All present.

The minutes of the meetings of Feb. 11 and 18 were read and approved as read.

Applications for abatement were approved for Peter R. Stensgaard on personal property in Rocksbury Twp. and Homestead classification was approved for Howard Sletten in Rocksbury Twp. and for Sivert Sjulson in St. Hilaire.

Moved by Almquist seconded by Tasa that the Contract for construction of a portion of County State Aid Highway No. 3 with Ed Zimmerman be accepted as complete (SP 57-603-06) and the Auditor was instructed to make final payment. Motion carried.

WHEREAS, Pennington County plans to construct CSAH 27, from the South County line, thence North a distance of 3.0 miles to the Red Lake River Bridge, and

WHEREAS, County Ditch No. 58 runs partly along said CSAH 27, paralleling it from the Southwest Corner of the NW¼ of Section 14, T152N, R39W; thence Northerly along the East side parallel with CSAH 27, a distance of 0.5 miles to the Southwest Corner of Section 11, T152N, R39W, (Hickory township) thence a deflection angle of 90 degrees left or westerly and continuing west along C. D. No. 54, and

WHEREAS, It is advantageous and desirable in the construction of said CSAH 27 to move the location of said County Ditch No. 58 approximately 20 feet East from its present location on that part paralleling CSAH 27, retaining the same original ditch grade and flattening the slopes to blend with the new road construction. Said alterations and change will not in any way affect the functioning and efficiency of said County Ditch No. 58.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the Board of County Commissioners of Pennington County to instruct its County Engineer to file the plans and profiles of said CSAH 27 showing the contemplated changes and alterations of County Ditch No. 58 in detail with the County Auditor, Who shall thereupon fix a time and place for hearing thereon and to give notice of hearing by publication as defined by Minnesota Statutes, Section 106.011, Subdivision 2. The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Olson and declared carried.

Pursuant to the foregoing resolution the hearing was set to be heard at 1:30 P.M., April 7, 1964 in the Commissioners room in the Courthouse.

Moved by Olson seconded by Almquist that the Engineer and Auditor be instructed to advertise for bids for one sand spreader and one Motor grader with a 1950 Adams grader to be traded in on the Motor grader. Bids to be opened at 3:00 P.M., April 7, 1964. With further instructions to advertise for the year's supply of diesel fuel and gasoline and the year's supply of Brush killer with the bids to be opened at 2:30 P.M., April 7, 1964. Motion carried.

Commissioner Tasa introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

RESOLVED, By the Pennington County Board of Commissioners, that Joseph Seidel, County Engineer be and he is hereby authorized, in addition to the Statutory Limitations, to restrict the load limits on Pennington County roads, during the spring break up, between the limits of 2 tons per axle and 5 tons per axle, according to the conditions of each road and to 'post' the load limits accordingly.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Almquist and declared carried.

The following members were present: K. Russell Anderson, Robert Bredeson, John Burtness, Howard Hoel, Lloyd Howick, Morris Owen, and Superintendent Hankerson. The following member was absent: Rufus Olson.

Chairman Howick presided.

Minutes of the following previous meetings were read and approved: January 9, 1964 and February 5, 1964.

A motion was made by J. Burtness, seconded by R. Anderson and carried to grant a high school equivalence certificate to Dale F. Bruggeman who has satisfactorily passed the G. E. D. tests.

A motion was made by M. Owen, seconded by R. Bredeson and carried to approve a $10.00 per month increase in salary effective March 1st to Clayton Molstad to compensate for additional mechanical work.

A motion was made by R. Anderson, seconded by M. Owen and carried to adopt the following resolution on Junior College:

WHEREAS, the State of Minnesota is planning to establish fifteen Junior Colleges within the state and efforts are now being undertaken to determine the most appropriate sites, and

WHEREAS, it has been and is obvious that Northwestern Minnesota is in great need of facilities for higher education and

WHEREAS, Thief River Falls, Minnesota is the logical center of a large area, both from a population and geographical standpoint, and

WHEREAS, Thief River Falls has already indicated its great interest in furthering and improving education by the establishment and maintenance of one of the first Area-Technical Vocational Schools in Minnesota, and

WHEREAS, a number of independent studies have indicated that Thief River Falls is the most logical site for the establishment of a Junior College.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Education of Independent School District Number 564 of Pennington County, Minnesota respectfully urge that the State Junior College Board establish a Junior College in Northwestern Minnesota with Thief River Falls as its site.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Clerk of the school board be directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the President of the State Junior College Board.

A motion was made by John Burtness, seconded by M. Owen and carried to adopt the following resolution on the multi-county library:

"The Board of Education of Independent School District Number 564 of Pennington County, Minnesota wishes to go on record favoring the multi-county library plan and respectfully urges that the Pennington County Board support the plan. The Board of Education further instructs the Superintendent of Schools to make their wishes known to the County Board of Commissioners".

Bonds of Series B maturing in the years 1975 through 1982 are, by their terms, each subject to redemption and prepayment at the option of the School District on January 1, 1967, and any interest payment date thereafter, at par and accrued interest plus a premium of $25 for each bond redeemed prior to January 1, 1971, or a premium of $15 for each bond redeemed on or after January 1, 1971 but prior to January 1, 1975, or no premium for any bond redeemed on or after January 1, 1975. Bonds of said Series C maturing in the years 1973 through 1982 are, by their terms, each subject to redemption and prepayment at the option of the School District on January 1, 1960, and any interest payment date thereafter at par and accrued interest plus a premium of $25 for each bond redeemed prior to January 1, 1973, or, no premium for any bond redeemed on or after January 1, 1973: All principal and interest coming due on all bonds of said Series B and Series C from the date of their issuance through January 1, 1964, has been paid or deposited for the purpose of paying with the paying agent for said bonds, and there is now on hand or will be on hand by January 1, 1965, in the funds heretofor established for payment of said bonds amounts sufficient to pay the principal amount of each of said series maturing on said date, together with the interest on said principal amount.

2. It is hereby found, determined and declared that the interest cost to the School District can be reduced by refunding those bonds of Series B and Series C hereinabove described which mature in the years 1966 through 1982, in the aggregate principal amount of $550,000, by the issuance of Refunding Bonds in accordance with the provisions of Minnesota Statutes, Section 475.54, as amended.

3. This Board shall meet at the time and place specified in the form of notice herinafter prescribed for the purpose of opening, receiving and considering sealed bids for and awarding the sale of Refunding Bonds in the total principal amount of $550,000, and the School District Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to cause notice of the time, place and purpose of said meeting to be published once in the official newspaper of the District, which is a legal newspaper having general circulation in the District, and once in the Commercial West, a weekly financial periodical published in Minneapolis, Minnesota, at least 10 days in advance of the date of said meeting, which notice shall be in substantially the following form.

NOTICE OF SALE
$550,000 Refunding Bonds
Independent School District No. 564
Thief River Falls, Minnesota

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the School Board of Independent School District No. 564, Minnesota, will meet at the office of the Superintendent of Schools in the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, on Wednesday, March 18, 1964, at 11:00 o'clock A.M., to open and consider sealed bids for, and award the sale of, $550,000 negotiable coupon, general obligation Refunding Bonds of the School District. The bonds will be dated as of April 1, 1964, and will be in bearer form, numbered consecutively. The bonds will be in the denomination of $1,000 or $5,000 each, whichever is designated by the purchaser within 48 hours after award of sale, and will bear interest at the rate or rates designated by the successful bidder, subject to the limitations stated below, payable on January 1, 1965, and semiannually thereafter on each July 1 and January 1. The bonds will mature in order of serial numbers on January 1 in the amount of $30,000 in each of the years 1966 through 1971, $35,000 in each of the years 1972 through 1981, and $20,000 in the year 1982. Bonds maturing in the years 1978 through 1982 will each be subject to redemption and prepayment at the option of the District and in inverse order of serial numbers on January 1, 1977, and any interest payment date thereafter, at par and accrued interest. The School District will furnish without cost to the purchaser and within 40 days after award of sale the printed, executed bonds and the unqualified legal opinion of Messrs. Dorsey, Owen, Marquart, Windhorst & West, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, together with the customary no-litigation certificate. The legal opinion will be printed on the bonds. The bonds will be delivered without cost to the purchaser anywhere in Minnesota or Chicago, Illinois; delivery elsewhere will be made at the expense of the purchaser. Principal of and interest on the bonds will be made payable at any suitable banking institution designated by the successful bidder within 48 hours after award of sale, subject to approval of the School Board, and the School District will pay reasonable and customary paying agency charges.

Sealed bids marked "Bid for $550,000 Refunding Bonds" may be mailed or delivered to the undersigned Clerk, and must be received prior to the time of said meeting. Each bid must be unconditional except as to legality, which may be conditioned upon the above mentioned legal opinion, and must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check or bank draft in the amount of $11,000, payable to "School District Treasurer, Independent School District No. 564", to be forfeited as liquidated damages if the bid is accepted and the bidder shall fail to comply therewith. The bids must state a single, uniform basic rate of interest from date of issue to maturity for all bonds having a common maturity date. Not more than five such basic rates are to be specified, and the maturities of the bonds may be split not more than five ways for the purpose of designating such basic rates. Bids may also specify that some or all of the bonds shall bear additional interest, represented by supplemental or "B" coupons, for any portion of the term of the bonds, but such additional interest may not exceed $3,500 in total amount. Each interest rate and any combination of rates applicable to any bond for any portion of its term, must be expressed in integral multiples of ¼ or one-tenth of 1 per cent, and may not exceed 6 per cent per annum. Bids will be compared on the basis of net interest cost (total interest from date of issue to stated maturity, less any premium). No oral bid, nor any bid of less than par and accrued interest to the date of bond delivery will be considered. The School Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids, and to waive any informality in any bid.

Dated February 18, 1964.

BY ORDER OF THE SCHOOL BOARD
Robert Bredeson
School District Clerk
Independent School District No. 564
Thief River Falls, Minnesota

3. Each and all of the terms and provisions of the foregoing form of notice are hereby adopted and confirmed as the terms and conditions of said bonds and of the sale thereof.

Carbon monoxide is a deadly enemy of the motorist, reminds the Minnesota AAA. That is why it is important that a driver never run his car engine in a garage unless all the garage doors are open. Carbon monoxide is odorless and tasteless. When driving, always leave at least one window partly open.

Norman Myrin Is County Spelling Contest Winner

Wins from 16 Entries At Contest Tuesday in Goodridge High School

Norman Myrin, eighth grade student at Lincoln high school, won the Pennington county spelling contest held Tuesday afternoon at Goodridge high school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Myrin of rt. 4, Thief River Falls.

Following a 10-word contest to break a tie for second and third place, Kathie Protz was named second place winner and John Womack was awarded third place in the contest. Kathie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Protz and John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Womack, all of Thief River Falls. Both students are eighth grade pupils at St. Bernard's school in this city.

Sixteen youngsters participated in the contest with the winner to take part in the area contest, to be held April 18 in Minneapolis under the sponsorship of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Other participants in the contest were Laurie Wilkens, Susan Hoffamn and Patti Johnson, Goodridge; Richard Habedank, James Burrell and Mark Engelstad, Lincoln; Allen Gilbert, Alan Johnson, Barbara Wurst and Mary Ann Wood, St. Bernard's; Rae Ann Hanson and Diane Rindahl, District 1558; and Barbara Roisland, District 1556.

Dr. David M. Brown, school administrator for Pennington county, was general chairman for the contest and words were pronounced for the contestants by Marvin Lundin, editor of the Thief River Falls Times. Teachers served as judges for the various phases of the contest.

City Council Purchases Two Trucks at Tuesday Session

Approves Building Permits; Requests Police Car Bids

Purchase of trucks for the water department and the street department was accomplished when the Thief River Falls city council met in regular session Tuesday evening. The council received four bids on each of the units.

Tunberg Motor company was low bidder on a van-type service truck for the water department with a bid of $1,650. High bid was $2,140. Northern Chevrolet was low bidder on a two-ton truck for the street department with a bid of $2,949 with the high bidder offering a truck for $3,125. All bids for box and hoist were rejected with the council to prepare more definite specifications and call for new bids.

Three building permits were approved at the council session. They included Northern Supply, Inc., remodel business establishment, $6,000; Gerald Hare[illegible], new dwelling at 703 Red Lake Blvd., $12,000; and Vance Newbury, new dwelling at 502 Merriam av. S., $12,500. A moving permit for Elmer C. Johnson of Warren to move a house from 105 Main av. S, out of the city limits was also approved.

Following discussion, the council voted to call for bids on a new police car with bids to be opened at 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday, April 21. Cigarette licenses were approved for First Street Grocery and Edward Belland at 727 E. 8th St.

A number of items were brought up for discussion and referred to committee for study and recommendation. Gustafson and Son to have a "No Parking in Driveway" sign placed at the north entry-exit of their lot, referred to the street committee.

Resolutions were approved for final payment of $3,300 to First Federal Savings & Loan association for purchase of property at Tindolph Park and payment of $10,409.55 to Stewart and Walker for engineering and plans and specifications on the airport project. Approval was also given to a pregression raise for Anthony Kozojed, police patrolman who has completed one year of satisfactory service in the department.

The council requested Robert Wurst, city attorney, and D. H. Stewart, city engineer, to attend a public hearing on development of the Red Lake river basin to be held at 1:30 p. m. March 30 at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston.

An adjourned meeting of the council, to discuss the natural gas proposal and hear reports and recommendations from committees, has been set for Tuesday, March 24, at 7:30 p. m. in the council chambers.

County GOP Elects Delegates, Adopts Eight Resolutions

Eight resolutions were adopted and delegates and alternates elected for district and state conventions when the Pennington County Republican party held its county convention Monday evening. The session was held in the basement meeting room of the county courhouse in Thief River Falls.

Delegates to the state convention include Stuart McLeod, county chairman; Mrs. Robert Bredeson, county chairwoman; Al Berge, A. J. Rau and Ralph Luhman. Alternates are Mrs. Gene Sjoberg, Mrs. Grundy Aakhus, Vernon Nelson, Mrs. D. H. Stewart and Dr. A. E. Jacobson.

District convention delegates in addition to the county chairman and chairwoman are Dr. R. G. Anderson, Mrs. Gene Sjoberg and Ralph Luhman. Alternates include Mrs. D. H. Stewart, Vernon Nelson, James Wilson, A. J. Rau and Mrs. Grundy Aakhus. The district convention will be April 17-18 at Moorhead with the state convention June 11-12-13 at St. Paul.

Eight resolutions adopted included the following: (1) Endorsement of Dr. Walter Judd as a favorite son candidate for President; (2) endorsement of Wheelock Whitney as candidate for U. S. Senate to oppose Sen. Eugene McCarthy; (3) urging the 1965 Legislature to adopt a fair and just replacement tax for the present personal property tax; (4) urging adoption of the taconite amendment to secure new industry and maintain present industry in the state;

Also (5) commendation of Congressman Odin Langen for conscientious administration in and devotion to duties of his office in behalf of the Seventh District; (6) urging opposition to the King-Anderson bill or other compulsory Health care through Social Security; (7) endorsement of Thief River Falls as the site for a junior college; and (8) expressed vigorous condemnation and questioned the constitutionality of Gov. Rolvaag's five per cent cutback in use of appropriations by the 1963 Legislature, "thereby jeopardizing mental health, educational and other programs deemed worthy by the Legislature."

Speaker at the meeting was Verlon Welch, executive secretary of the Eighth District GOP. Welch stated that President Lyndon Johnson had placed five public relations contracts in the amount of $3 million each to create a favorable political image in the United States. He also stated that farmers across the nation were disappointed with Orville Freeman as secretary of agriculture and said that present prices at 76 per cent of parity were the lowest since 1937.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Troland and Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Olson left today for Minneapolis to attend the Minnesota state basketball tournaments.

$43,351 Saved in School Bond Sale

District Board Accepted Bids at Morning Meeting

Residents of School District 564 will save approximately $43,000 over the next few years as a result of refinancing of bond issues accomplished by the board of education this morning. Opening of bids was held by the board at the school, with bonds awarded to the low bidder.

Juran & Moody and Associates of St. Paul were low bidders on the bond sale with a net interest rate of 3.4257 per cent. Calculations by the district's bond consultants indicate that the sale will provide a net saving in interest costs on existing bonds of $43,351.

Two other bidders in the sale offered interest rates of 3.451 per cent and 3.46736 per cent. Difference between the high and low bids was about $1,000 in net saving.

Refinancing of former bonds is permitted under special legislation enacted by the 1963 Legislature. The law permits refinancing to take advantage of lower interest rates now being offered than at the time when bonds were sold a few years ago.

Rites Thursday At New Solum For Arthur C. Olson

Funeral services for Arthur C. Olson, a lifelong resident of New Solum township, Marshall county, will be held on Thursday afternoon, March 19, at 2 p. m. in the Bethlehem Lutheran church of New Solum. Officiating will be Rev. R. J. Weltzin and interment is to be made in the church cemetery.

Mr. Olson died on Sunday, March 15, at Northwestern Hospital. He was 76 years of age.

The body will lie in state at Green's Funeral Home until 11 a. m. on Thursday and at the church for one hour prior to the services.

Born October 7, 1887, in New Solum township, he was educated in the rural schools and grew to manhood in that community. His marriage to Olga Gustafson took place May 13, 1916, at Warren. After their marriage, they farmed on the old homestead for 22 years, after which they purchased another farm, which they operated and where they lived since that time. Mr. Olson was a member of the Bethlehem Lutheran church, and has served as a trustee for many years. He also served for a long time on the New Solum township board and on the school board of District 30 for several years.

Mr. Olson is survived by his wife Olga and one son, Alvin Olson of rural Thief River Falls; two daughters, Clarice (Mrs. Raymond Bren) of this city, and Leona (Mrs. John Neegard) of Warren; by one brother, Theodore, of Baudette, and three sisters, Mrs. Celia Erickson of Holt, Mrs. Dorothy Olson of Fargo, N. D. and Mrs. Knudt Tideman also of Fargo. Ten grandchildren also survive him. Preceding him in death was one brother, Racine.

Mrs. Joe Ptacek, 91, Dies March 17; Rites Saturday

Mrs. Joe (Louisa) Ptacek, a longtime resident of Cloverleaf township, died at Northwestern Hospital here on March 17. She was 91 years of age.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday, March 21 at 2 p.m. at Sinding's Funeral chapel, with Rev. Dean Headley officiating. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Visitation hours at Sinding's will be from Thursday evening at 7 p. m. until the time of the services.

Sigurd Dahlquist Dies; Brother of W. E. Dahlquist

Sigurd E. Dahlquist, 74, St. Paul, retired postal supervisor, was interred in Fort Snelling National cemetery on March 16. He died on March 12 following a year's illness.

Mr. Dahlquist was a brother of W. E. Dahlquist of Thief River Falls.

He was at once time a grocer in St. Paul, and had served in World War I with the 604th Army engineers in France. He retired as supervisor of the finance section of the St. Paul postoffice in 1956, and has been president of Local 65 of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks. He was a member of the American Legion.

Survivors are his wife, Veronica; a son; three sisters, and one brother. W. E. Dahlquist was in St. Paul this week, attending his brother's funeral.

Royal Ost Rites Held March 10 at Detroit Lakes

Royal Ost, 49, a resident of Detroit Lakes for the past 10 years, died unexpectedly at his home Friday, March 6. Requiem Mass was said March 10 at Holy Rosary church, Detroit Lakes, with Father Cyprian Seitz officiating. Burial will be in St. Bernard's Catholic cemetery in Thief River Falls in the spring.

Mr. Ost, the son-in-law of the Med Mercils of this city, was born at Fredonia, N. D. December 3, 1914. He married Mildred Mercil March 22, 1943, at Brooks, Minn. He was a veteran of World War II. Ten years ago he moved to Detroit Lakes from Thief River Falls and worked there as a warehouseman for the Soo Line Railroad.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Kay and Luone, both at home, six brothers, Clarence of Nortonville, N. D.; Albert of Jamestown, N. D.; Roland of Renton, Wash.; Edward of Nortonville; Wilbert of Detroit, Mich.; and Harry of California, and five sisters, Mrs. John (Ida) Doddridge of Renton, Wash.; Mrs. William (Marion) of Cary, N. C.; Mrs. Don (Mabel) Kennecott of National City, Calif.; Mrs. Babe (Adeline) Rathke of Seattle, Wash. and Elda of California.

His parents preceded him in death.

Mrs. Olga Farstad Interred Tuesday At Newfolden

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Olga Farstad, a lifelong resident of Newfolden, who died on March 13 at the Karlstad hospital at the age of 68 years. Rev. Leland Steen officiated at the services in the Bethlehem Lutheran church of Newfolden. Interment took place in the Oak Grove cemetery, with Green Funeral Home of Thief River Falls in charge of arrangements.

Olga Lokken was born on June 17, 1895, in Newfolden township, and received her education and grew to womanhood there. On November 10, 1916, she married Louis Farstad at Newfolden, and she made her home there since that time. She was a member of Bethlehem Lutheran church and an active member of the ladies aid. Mr. Farstad died in 1958.

She is survived by a foster-daughter (Betty) Mrs. James Bennett of Kennewick, Wash.; a sister, Mrs. Jennie Anderson of Newfolden, and three brothers, Albert Lokken of Newfolden, Harry of Minneapolis, and Willie of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis. She was preceded in death by her husband and by four brothers and two sisters.

Eggs Top USDA List Of Plentiful Foods

Put eggs at the top of your marketing lists this month and get out your recipes for favorite souffles, omelets and other egg dishes. This is the advice of Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, Pennington county home agent.

Eggs are among the best buys for March, which has been designated as National Egg Month. Used daily by nearly every homemaker, eggs play an even greater role in meal planning during Lent because they are acceptable meat substitutes. They are among nature's most nutritious ready-packaged foods, a source of highest quality protein, many essential vitamins and minerals and only 77 calories, Miss Offerdahl says.

Other foods on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentifuls for March include beef, broiler-fryers, dry beans, peanuts and peanut products, rice, potatoes, canned corn, canned ripe olives and apples.

Look for meat counters to abound with both broiler-fryers and beef. Supplies of both are larger than average and can provide a wide variety of possibilities for economical main dishes.

If you're planning meatless meals, dry beans and peanuts can come to the rescue. Hearty bean soup or baked beans will whet family appetites on blustery March days and provide many of the nutrients needed when not serving meat.

This year's peanut crop tops the abundant 1962 harvest by 166 million pounds—just a little less than an extra pound for every man, woman and child in this country.

A record crop of rice will be filling grocers' shelves in the coming weeks. Rice is especially useful in casseroles and to serve with main dishes, but don't forget rice pudding as a hearty dessert.

Put potatoes and canned corn high on your shopping list too. Both these vegetables continue to be excellent buys. Black olives are available pitted or with pits, in jars or cans, at popular prices. Your best fruit buy this month will be apples from Washington state's bumper crop.

NOTICE OF DITCH HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a Resolution of which the following is a copy, has been filed in the Office of the County Auditor of Pennington County and pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Section 106.011, Subdivision 2, a hearing will be held upon said resolution before the County Board of said County, in the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota on the 7th day of April, 1964 at 1:30 p. m.

Dated at Thief River Falls, Minn., this 9th day of March, 1964.
C. W. Rodekuhr—County Auditor

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS: Pennington County plans to construct CSAH 27, from the South County line, thence North a distance of 5.0 miles to the Red Lake River Bridge.

WHEREAS: County Ditch No. 58 runs partly along said CSAH 27, paralleling it from the Southwest Corner of the NW¼ of Section 14, T152N, R39W; thence Northerly along the East side parallel with CSAH 27, a distance of 0.5 miles to the Southwest Corner of Section 11, T152N, R39W, (Hickory Twp.) thence at a deflection angle of 90 degrees left or Westerly and continuing West along C. R. No. 54, and

WHEREAS: It is advantageous and desirable in the construction of said CSAH 27 to move the location of said County Ditch No. 58 approximately 20 feet East from its present location on that part paralleling CSAH 27, retaining the same original ditch grade and flattening the slopes to blend with the new road construction. Said alterations and change will not in any way effect the functioning and efficiency of said County Ditch No. 58.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: By the Board of County Commissioners of Pennington County to instruct its County Engineer to file the Plans and Profiles of said CSAH 27 showing the contemplated changes and alterations of County Ditch No. 58 in detail with the County Auditor, who shall thereupon fix a time and place for hearing thereon and to give notice of hearing by publication as defined by Minnesota Statutes, Section 106.011, Subdivision 2.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

For a Worthy Cause

The local high school gymnasium will be the site of a four-team basketball tournament on Friday and Saturday, March 20 and 21.

And the four games—two games on Friday night and another pair Saturday night—should be entertaining and exciting. The tournament is being sponsored by the Pennington-Red Lake Association for Retarded Children, so the cause is very worthwhile.

Friday night's schedule will find the Thief River Falls Independents playing the Red Lake Falls Independents at 8 p. m. At 9 p. m. the St. Hilaire "Ridge Runners" will meet the Newfolden Independents. A preliminary game will be played at 8 p. m. on Saturday, between the losers of the first-round games, and at 9 p. m. the championship game will tip-off.

I hear that the St. Hilaire club is being bolstered for its first-round game against the Newfolden club, and if this should prove true, this game should provide plenty of fire-works.

The admission price to the game is fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for students. I'm surely going to pay my fifty cents every night just so that I can boo and second-guess the officials—John Drury and Jim Erickson.

It's Worth a Try

I hope that such ardent fishermen as Lloyd Samuelson, Mouse Efteland, Arn Wysoski, and Harlan Huseth noticed that item in one of the Twin City papers commenting on the food value of the burbot, and that fishermen who toss these fish aside are being wasteful. Well, Sam, Mouse, Arn, and Harlan are perhaps the city's most expert burbot fishermen, and they should realize that they have been throwing away a delicate morsel of food whenever they have been discarding the burbots they have been catching.

According to the item, this rough fish, which is called ling, lawyer, and various other names, should be correctly called a fresh-water cod. The burbot, when properly prepared, is reported to be flavorsome and appetizing.

Lake of the Woods in recent years has produced hundreds and hundreds of these fish, and Ted Rowell at Baudette has established a vitamin-producing plant up there which utilizes the livers of the burbots. A chemical analysis has revealed that the burbot liver is a potent source of vitamins.

And, now, if they can persuade the anglers that the burbots are like fresh-water turkeys, what a bonanza! Perhaps Sam and Mouse and Arn should catch a mess of burbots, and prepare the fish according to tested recipes and then make a report. Sam, I know, is willing to smoke some of the burbots, and he says that he will use old truck tires to produce the smoke! Sam should get Helmer (Ole) Ness to help in preparing the burbots for the smoke house. Ole, who was known as "Set-line Ole" during his boyhood days in Erskine, has had a great deal of experience with such fish as bullheads and redhorse!

A Welcome Cold Snap

The below zero weather that has prevailed the past couple of days has been welcomed by the city's curlers. And the adherents of the "roaring game" are busy at the Fair Grounds arena completing their season's schedule.

The league playdowns, both in the women's leagues and the men's leagues, have reached the semi-finals and finals, and the championships should be decided by Thursday evening.

And speaking of curling, that Lincoln high school rink of Jim Anderson, Don Erlandson, Terry Nelson, and Elroy Froiland compiled a creditable record in the state high school bonspiel held in St. Paul over the weekend. The Prowlers, who were under the supervision of Bill Herzog, had a record of three wins, getting two of these wins by default from Mankato, and losing a pair of matches. The Prowlers scored a 10 to 5 win over South St. Paul, and were beaten, 9 to 7 and 10 to 2, by Bemidji and Hibbing, the two finalists. The Bemidji rink—Steve Berg, lead, Terry Jackson, second, Bob Fenson, third, and Dan Haluptzok, skip—won the state title.

A local rink will participate in the bonspiel being held in Grand Forks this week, and they will find plenty of competition over there according to the entry list that has been announced. Curtis Johnson will have Lyle Liden, Don Jorde, and Ardell Liden on his rink, and this quartet is capable of turning in a surprise or two.

An Edge to Edina

The Edina Hornets, the champions of Region Five, should be given a slight edge in the state high school basketball tourney that opens in Minneapolis on Thursday afternoon.

The first-round pairings (and the games will be broadcast by KTRF), will find Benson of Region Six playing Proctor of Region Seven at 2:00 p. m.; Luverne of Region Two playing Hutchinson of Region Three at 3:30 p. m.; Rochester of Region One playing Anoka of Region Four at 7:30 p. m.; and Bemidji of Region Eight meeting Edina at 9:00 p. m.

Proctor, Hutchinson, Anoka and Edina should win their first-round games. And in the semi-finals, Proctor should best Hutchinson; and Edina should defeat Anoka. And in the finals it should be Edina by about six or eight points.

Crookston Lawyer Dies in Car Crash

John R. Kelly, 42, Death Victim Early Tuesday

John R. Kelly, 42, of Crookston, former municipal judge, was killed early Tuesday when his car left U. S. Highway 2 and rolled into the ditch about 16 miles west of Crookston. Kelly, alone in the car, was traveling east when the accident occurred, according to Polk county sheriff's officers and the highway patrol. There were no witnesses and the cause of the accident was not immediately known, authorities said.

He is survived by his wife; four sons, three daughters; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Kelly of West Bend, Wis.; four brothers, and a sister.

Deadline Nears On Federal Ins.

Farmers Advised Not To Delay in Applications

Farmers in Pennington county are urged not to wait to apply for federal crop insurance on their 1964 crops, according to David Drotts, agent for federal crop insurance in Pennington county.

Normal deadline on small grain crops in Minnesota is March 31, Drotts said, but applications can be stopped if county, state or national quotas are filled or if weather conditions are such that new policies would almost surely result in losses.

All-risk federal crop insurance in Pennington county is available for barley, oats, wheat and flax. Drotts stated he is hopeful that there will be no early closing in Pennington county, but added that farmers who wait until the last week are unnecessarily risking the possibility of an early close.

Applications for participating in the 1964 program can be taken by Drotts in Thief River Falls or Selmer Ramsey, Goodridge salesman.

Bank Debits Gain Here in February

Increase Ten Per Cent to Hit $7,433,000

Bank debits in Thief River Falls during February were up 10 per cent from the same month a year ago, according to statistics released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis. In dollars, this city's bank debits volume during February was $7,433,000. In the same month of 1963 the total figgained 26 per cent to total $9,242,000, while East Grand Forks gained four per cent and Detroit Lakes 17 per cent.

Bank debits represent the dollar volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts. Since most of these checks go to pay for local goods and services, the debit figure is considered to be a fairly reliable indicator of general changes in business volume.

Thief River Snag Removal Project Employed 47 Men

The Minnesota conservation department announced today that snags and other chanel obstructions have been removed from eight miles of the Thief River in Marshall county.

Work was done by local labor and rented equipment under a contract between the conservation department and the Marshall county board of commissioners.

The channel improvement is expected to speed the flow of flood waters and permit better control of water levels in the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge.

The project employed 47 men and cost approximately $10,000. An additional appropriation of $10,000 will become available on July 1, and will be used to complete the clearing of the remaining 25 miles of channel included in the project.

Local VFW Men Attend Rally

9th Dist. Session Held Sunday in New York Mills

A number of VFW members from Thief River Falls traveled to New York Mills on Sunday to attend the 9th District rally held there. Harold Anderson of Thief River Falls, 9th District commander, presided at the meeting.

Roy A. Jorgenson, 9th District Loyalty Day chairman, gave a report on the progress of the 9th District convention to be held in Thief River Falls on May 2 and 3. Ronald Kennitz, department jr. vice commander, represented the Department of Minnesota VFW and gave a talk on membership.

Past Department commander Gene Voss of Minneapolis gave a talk on membership in the VFW national home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., and asked for donations and life memberships to support the home.

The following attended the rally from Thief River Falls: Harold Anderson, Les DeBriyn, Roy A. Jorgenson, Hjalmer Rafteseth, L. H. Torstenson, Howard Comstock and LeRoy Welsh. Mrs. Harold Anderson and Mrs. Howard Comstock attended the ladies auxiliary meeting representing the local auxiliary of the VFW.

RRV Historical Society Formed

Organization Completed Sunday in Grand Forks

Dr. Victor Peters of Moorhead was elected first president of the Red River Historical Society as a group of professional and amateur historians from Minnesota, North Dakota and Manitoba formally organized the new society in Grand Forks Sunday.

The organization meeting was held at the University of North Dakota and followed preliminary meetings earlier this year at Crookston and Moorhead. Other officers chosen at a meeting of the new board of directors, following the organization meeting proper, were Glenn Johnson of Moorhead, vice president; Don Myrold of Crookston executive secretary; Sister Jerome Marie of Crookston, recording secretary; Mrs. E. W. Johnson of Crookston, membership secretary, and Glenn Smith of Grand Forks, treasurer.

Under the terms of articles of incorporation approved at the meeting, selection of Myrold as executive secretary makes Crookston the headquarters for the society while he holds the office.

The 15-member board of directors, in addition to the officers, lists Neil Mattson, Warren, Minn.; Mrs. A. J. Christopher, Pembina, N.D.; D. B. Allan, Wahpeton, N.D.; Mrs. Carl Upgrand, Halstad, Minn.; Gordon Gunnes, Abercrombie, N. D.; Kenneth Smemo, Moorhead; William Syverson, Fargo; Dr. Martin Lutter, Moorhead; Dr. H. E. Pentland, Winnipeg, and Rev. Gerald Foley, Red Lake Falls, Minn.

U.S. Steel Shares Missile Project

To Erect 85,000 Tons of Steel on North Dakota Job

A trio of veteran U. S. Steel bridge builders have been named to head the steel construction team for the huge Minuteman missile project getting underway in eastern North Dakota, it was announced Tuesday at Grand Forks. They are H. N. Johnston, project manager; J. L. Trimble, project superintendent, and J. W. Fecko, project engineer, all of the Chicago district of U. S. Steel's American Bridge Division.

Johnston, who has been in charge of similar projects at Cheyenne, Wyo., and Rapid City, S. Dak., will direct the erection of about 85,000 tons of steel which American Bridge will fabricate and ship to the site during the steel construction phase of the base missile complex. This includes about 40,000 tons of reinforcing bars and 30,000 tons of steel plates. About 15,000 tons of tanks and piping also will be furnished by American Bridge.

The general contractor is Morrison-Knudsen Co. and Associates of Boise, Idaho, in a joint venture for the $121 million project.

Rabies Shots To Be Offered Friday

Vaccination of pets to provide protection against rabies will be provided by Dr. William L. Collins, veterinarian, at his office on Friday. Dr. Collins will be at his office from 5 to 9 p. m. on Friday and during the day by appointment. The office is located at 316 Duluth av. N.

To Give Wildlife Talk at Newfolden

In observance of National Wildlife Week, a member of the staff at Agassiz National Wildlife refuge will speak and show slides Friday at 3 p. m. at the Newfolden community school. The public is invited to attend the program.

Rutford Honored for Conservation Service to State

Skull Rutford, conservation and educational leader at the University of Minnesota for 40 years and recently retired as director of the University of Minnesota agricultural extension service, has been selected by the state award committee to receive the 1964 plaque for "meritorious conservation service to Minnesota", annually sponsored by the Northwest Boat, Sport and Travel Show.

Rutford joined the University of Minnesota staff in 1924 as Yellow Medicine county agent, was St. Louis county agent 1928-1932 then state director of rural rehabilitation. In 1943 he became assistant state extension director and in 1954 was appointed director where he headed a staff of 350 workers. His long experience provided him with a broad philosophy on education and agricultural problems.

Parker Anderson, St. Paul, former University extension forester, will make the presentation on April 3 at the Sports Show which runs at the Minneapolis auditorium March 27-April 5.

Malting Barley Is Topic Friday

Meeting Slated at 8 p.m. in Argyle Public School

Problems associated with the malting barley industry of this area will be the topic for discussion at a barley growers meeting Friday, March 20. The meeting will be held at the Argyle public school starting at 8 p. m.

A report on some of the research conducted to date dealing with production problems, especially those concerning varieties, will be discussed by Dr. Olaf Soine, agronomist at the Northwest School and Experiment Station at Crookston.

Marlin Johnson, associate county agent at Crookston, will discuss results of work that has been conducted on causes and effects of high protein in barley. Johnson did extensive work in this area in preparing for his advanced degree in soils work.

Another feature of the program will be a presentation by several elevator operators dealing with the problems of the grain buyer when he is dealing in malting barley.

The meeting is open to the public and anyone interested in barley production is urged to attend.

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

A representative of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium Tuesday, March 24, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

Nutritionist Offers Tips to Meat Buyers

How do you stretch your meat dollar? The problem is a recurring one with every homemaker, since meat takes the biggest slice of the food budget.

Extension nutritionists at the University of Minnesota suggest that one way of making the meat dollar go farther is to consider the cost per serving rather than the cost per pound. They point out that the number of servings per pound will vary greatly with different meats and different cuts, depending upon the amount of waste in the form of bone, gristle and fat.

Ground beef and beef short ribs, for example, may cost the same per pound, but ground beef will give at least twice as many servings per pound as short ribs.

Usually you can figure on a lb. of fish fillets or boneless meat such as ground beef, caned meats, boned meats, to serve four or five people. A pound of meat with a small amount of bone, such as round steak or ham, will serve three. A pound of spare ribs, on the other hand, will serve only one or two. A pound of turkey or chicken will generally serve two people.

Sometimes it's easy to be misled by the price per pound. If, for example, round steak sells for $1.11 a pound and pork roast for 67 cents a pound, you would actually have to spend as much money for pork roast as for the round steak to get the same amount of cooked lean meat and protein. That's because the round steak has very little bone or has the bone cut out and has little excess fat. On the other hand, when you buy the pork roast, you're paying for considerable bone and fat.

Besides checking the amount of bone, gristle and fat you're buying, give a thought also to food value of the piece you're selecting, the nutritionists suggest. Inexpensive cuts of meat may be as nutritious as expensive cuts; Good grade has as much food value as Choice grade.

Bacon, which is largely fat, is one of the most expensive meats in terms of protein value. Beef, lamb and pork liver give unusually good returns in protein, minerals and vitamins for the money spent. Although chicken and turkey have a large proportion of bone to lean, they are high in protein and are often bargains compared with other meats. Fish is also high in nutrients and often low in cost, considering the amount of lean and protein.

SAILOR RAYMOND JONES RETURNS FROM FAR EAST

Raymond A. Jones, fireman apprentice, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jones of Goodridge returned to San Diego, Calif., March 10 aboard the attack aircraft carrier U.S.S. Oriskany completing a tour of duty with the Seventh Fleet in the Far East.

While serving with the Seventh Fleet, Oriskany was the hub of a fast carrier striking force capable of delivering both conventional and nuclear weapons.

Oriskany's crewmembers had an opportunity to visit cities in Japan, the Philippines, Hawaii and Hong Kong.

World's Fair-bound Motorists Warned.

AAA Cites Differences In New York Driving Laws

The Minnesota AAA today urged all Minnesota families planning a motor trip to the New York World's Fair to acquaint themselves with New York driving laws which may differ from Minnesota's driving regulations.

Although each state, including New York, has its own driving and traffic laws, AAA said the most important regulations which fair-bound motorists should know about are the following:

The minimum driving age in New York (including New York City) is 18. Even though an out-of-state motorist may have a valid license to drive in his own state, he or she must be 18 or older to drive in the State of New York.

New York has a stringent compulsory insurance law. Drivers should carry proof of coverage for liability insurance when they drive in New York. Those not having such insurance are subject to fines of not less than $100 or more than $1,000 and also could face a jail sentence of not more than one year.

A brand new law in New York requires automobile tires to be in good driving condition. New York's tires with a fabric break or cut longer than one inch and deep enough cannot have bumps, bulges or knots related to separation or partial failure of the tire structure; no portion of the ply or cord structure can be exposed.

$65 Million Death Payments in State

Life Insurance Benefits Reach New Peak in 1963

Minnesota families received $65,700,000 in death payments from life insurance companies during 1963, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. This was $5,800,000 more than in 1962 and a 100 per cent increase from a decade earlier.

These amounts were paid on 29,100 policies last year, 26,900 policies in 1962 and 17,400 policies a decade earlier.

The rise in death payments is due mainly to the increasing amount of life insurance protection and larger number of policies owned by American families, according to Blake T. Newton, Jr., predident of the Institute. Policyholder death rates have changed relatively little in the United State during the past decade.

By far the largest share of Minnesota's 1963 total was $38,100,000 paid on 12,600 ordinary life insurance policies owned by individual families. The rest included $25,200,000 on 10,000 goopu certificates and $2,400,000 on 6,500 industrial policies.

"To me it seems as if when God conceived the world, that was poetry; He formed it, and that was sculpture; He varied and colored it, and that was painting; and then, crowning all, He peopled it with living beings, and that was the grand divine, eternal drama. —Charlotte Cushman

Pay the Price

Objection has been voiced by the national organization of Disabled American Veterans against reference to veterans and widows of past and present wars as "welfare or relief" cases. In speaking before the House Veterans' Affairs committee, National Commander Douglas McGarrity had some statements that make sense. He said:

> "Expenditures for veterans' benefits are not and should not be classified as welfare payments made by federal, state or local governments. These benefits are undeniably a direct cost of war, even though payments are often protracted and delayed. They are, in fact, equally as much a part of war as the cost of manufacturing bullets, tanks, airplanes and rockets.
> "If this nation commits itself to war, then it is obligated to pay the cost. It is difficult indeed to evaluate the cost to disabled war veterans, their widows and dependents, in terms of long-term suffering as a result of physical disabilities or death directly attributed to combat service.
>
> "Compensation, as the word implies, is payment that compensates the veteran or his dependents for injuries sustained as a direct result of military service during time of war. From our organization's standpoint, it is grossly unfair to create the impression that all veterans' benefits are the same, or that justification for payment of these benefits is identical."

Where Credit Is Due

Although we may be going out on a limb which could be quickly cut by a more calculating drama critic, we will say that the Lincoln high school production of "Brigadoon" was one of the most enjoyable high school entertainment programs here in recent years.

The patience and perseverance of Bryant Ulseth, vocal director, James Solsten, orchestra director, and Donald Lerud, art director, were rewarded with a performance of which the community can well be proud. No little expense was involved in the costumes and staging, and the time spent in planning and rehearsing is incalculable.

But let us give credit where credit is due. It is to the participants themselves—the high school members of the cast, art department, choir and orchestra—that the biggest bouquet of roses must be thrown. In the span of only a few weeks they learned their lines and music, arranged the staging, ordered the costumes, sold the tickets and presented the operetta in excellent fashion.

"Brigadoon" should serve as one of many testimonies to the fine caliber of our community's young people. They are good kids—wonderful kids—and they radiate an optimism and enthusiasm that should be a lesson to the rest of us.

Occasionally a bad youngster appears in the headlines and creates disillusions about the youth of today. Don't let these rare rebels to society influence your opinion. Today's youngsters are no worse than they have ever been. They are subjected to more pressures than any group of young people has ever been subjected before, but you can bet your last nickel that tomorrow's citizens will make us proud of them.

Wildlife Week

In the rush of every-day activity, we almost missed calling attention of the public to National Wildlife Week which is being observed March 15-21. Theme for this year's observance, promoted by the National Wildlife Federation, is: "America Needs Outdoor Recreation—Act Now to Provide for the Future."

It is a theme which should be of interest to all citizens and a week which is surely worthy of mention. With expanding populations, more leisure time and ease of modern travel, it is imperative that every community and state develop plans now to provide areas where people can enjoy the out-of-doors.

Speaking in general terms, we are among the blessed in this area when we speak of opportunity for outdoor living. Determined efforts of our park boards have resulted in excellent parks—crowded though they may be in the summer season. We have good access to water areas for fishing and boating and facilities for camping. We could use more, and the time to act is now.

Established by Congress in 1958, the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review commission surveyed the outdoor recreation needs of the American people for the next 40 years. The commission's report included the following statement: "All in all, being in the outdoors is a good, wholesome, healthful use of leisure time. The fact that we live in a world that moves crisis by crisis does not make a growing interest in outdoor activities frivolous, or ample provision for them unworthy of the nation's concern."

If you are one of the many who likes to "get away from it all" once in awhile, find yourself a secluded stump on a sunny day, plop yourself down and think—think about the solitude you are enjoying and what you can do to help provide the same opportunity for people in the future.

Right to Criticize

Critical themselves in many things, the nation's newspapers are not above criticism. Nearly all editors will admit to errors in judgment at times in the manner in which they treat stories or editorials on given events or situations. Error is a human frailty.

In many cases an editor will take an extreme view of a situation, not so much because it is his strong personal belief, but to stimulate the thinking of the reading public. An adverse reaction to editorial comment bears more fruit in this respect than no reaction. Criticism of editorial opinion, through personal visits with the editor or published public opinion, is healthy and has a rightful place in our free society.

Though time is often hard to find when there are deadlines to meet, we appreciate letters, visits and calls from our readers. Criticism often leads to correction of a situation which is not recognized to exist. Suggestions for editorial comment are always appreciated since they call to our attenion things which might be inadvertently overlooked.

We have been gratified by the number of public opinion letters received and the calls and visits from those who agreed or disagreed with editorial comment. Freedom of the press goes beyond the freedom of the editor to express personal opinion. We invite and encourage you to make use of your freedom.

A Fair Profit

What does the average citizen consider to be a fair profit on goods sold—10 per cent, 15 per cent, 25 per cent? Of course there is a wide variety of profit percentages in the business world, but what would a good average profit be?

The annual report of U. S. Steel issued by Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board, states that the corporation made a profit of $202.9 million in 1963. Does this seem excessive? The profit last year was only 5.6 per cent on total sales of approximately $3.6 billion—and that was up from a return of 4.7 per cent on sales of about $3.5 billion in 1962. The amount of money doesn't seem as great when we look at the percentages.

Profits pay dividends, and dividends are what keep people buying stock. Sale of stock is what keeps our nation going. Persons who object to a profit are objecting to one of the basics of our American system of free enterprise. Chairman Blough had this to say in his annual report:

> "It is our belief that any company which fails to use every available resource to keep up with the parade of technological progress—and to keep ahead of the parade if it possibly can—places in jeopardy the best interests not only of its employees, but also of consumers and stockholders. Falling behind in the technological parade means becoming non-competitive; and a company that can't stay competitive can't stay profitable. That is the route to economic retrogression, to the destruction of jobs, to denying the consumer more value for his purchasing dollar."

The Political Vacuum

The necessity of gaining popularity to be elected office is both good and bad under our system of government. It is good in that the people can maintain some control over the men representing them—it is bad in that representatives tend to do what seems popular rather than what they believe best.

Take for instance the so-called Civil Rights bill now in the Senate. Under the guise of a do-good bill to end discrimination and protect minorities, it is one of the most dangerous pieces of legislation to come forth in many years. It is in danger of passing, not because it is a good bill, but because power-hungry proponents have deftly soft-peddled the harsh restrictions it contains and given mythical benefits the old hard-sell.

Interesting comment from the address given by Congressman Louis C. Wyman of New Hampshire and printed in the Congressional Record (when the bill was before the House of Representatives) includes the following:

> ". . .Mr. Chairman, let us face squarely what each of us knows deep inside. In several important respects this legislation is an unconstitutional extension of federal power over the private rights of individual American citizens to live their private lives or conduct their private businesses as they please (short of criminal offense) and over the powers and rights reserved to the states and to the people thereof, to regulate the pattern of living within state borders.
>
> ". . . It is way past time here when some pretty plain English was spoken—on the record, and not just in the cloakroom—so that we may get hold of ourselves and not go off the deep end with this legislation. It is common knowledge that if a secret ballot could be taken on this bill in its present form it would not get 50 votes. . ."

It would appear that our leaders are willing to swap our freedoms for political gain. We don't like the idea of being human pawns in a political chess game.

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

This year is a presidential election year in Mexico too, but there is little doubt as to the outcome of that election south of the border. Mexico is pretty much a one-party nation, and that party has already agreed who its candidate will be. His election is taken for granted.

Mexico classifies as a Republic. Its officials, the president, members of its law-making body and its judges are elected by the people, but the government has been referred to by competent observers as a "guided democracy" and probably comes close to being government from the top down. The record indicates that by and large, in the recent decades, it has been good government.

The terms of office of the president and members of Congress are limited to one term of six years but they are eligible to become candidates again after a lapse of six years. The retiring president, Adolfo Lopez Mateos, therefore is not a candidate for reelection. The prevailing party's nominee is Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, a 52 year-old ex-college professor who has served the Mateos administration well in various capacities, his present office being interior minister, concerned primarily with law enforcement.

He is an avowed anti-Communist and his record as the country's head of federal police justifies this assumption. One convincing example that justifies this conclusion is the fact that he moved in fast to stop a Communist-inspired railroad strike by seizing union officials and putting them in jail and he banished two members of the Soviet embassy from Mexico because of conspiracy in the walkout. Early in 1963 he called on swift-striking federal police to successfully put down Red-inspired peasant revolts.

At the same time he loyally supported government policies on agrarian reform and other programs "aimed at social advances for the masses."

Americans in Mexico look forward to the new administration hopefully. As stated by Ames C. Tanner, writing from Mexico City for the Wall Street Journal,

> "In the eyes of most Americans here" the candidate, Ordaz, is a fetching political personality for he presents a picture of continued governmental stability and poses no threat to the generally amiable Mexican-U. S. relationship of recent years. In a fiercely nationalistic nation, where pulling the beard of Uncle Sam can still be good politics, Senor Diaz Ordez seems likely to rely on hand-shaking instead."

I mentioned the strike-breaking incident in which candidate Ordaz moved swiftly to end a transportation tie-up that could have been disastrous for the nation. Labor unions are strong in Mexico and from the information I was able to get from various sources, including labor leaders, the government has maintained a neutral attitude in run-of-the-mill walkouts.

But any strike that threatened the continuation of essential services, the result of which would be detrimental to the economy of the nation as a whole— has been looked upon as a revolution and stamped out quickly.

I wish I knew more about the inner-workings of the Mexican one-party system. I asked a lot of questions about it but all of the answers were evasive. It seemed that well-informed people didn't want to talk about it.

Their national law-making body, their congress, was not an important factor in their government, I gathered. The nation seemed to be organized more by economic interests than by partisan prejudices.

There was organized labor and there was organized agriculture. The third economic group represented business and industry along with a substantial segment of public employees. I came to the conclusion, after hearing many opinions, that these three groups officially organized, were doing a pretty good job of adjusting their differences among themselves and agreeing on a program that could have their support under a one-party system.

American tourist dollars are an important source of revenue in Mexico and give to the Mexicans substantial buying power in our country. For the first ten months of 1963 imports from the United States totalled $709 million, a ten per cent increase over the same period during 1962. Mexican exports to the United States during this ten-month period totalled $484 million.

From the Mexican-American Review, Mexico's English Language business magazine, I pass along these interesting observations on our trade with our southern neighbor:

> "The international line separates two governments—but the communities which face each other over that line are amazingly committed to each other, being intertwined by historic backgrounds, by family ties, by economic interdependence, and by friendship.
>
> "The trade routes flow north and south rather than east and west. Over the past 30 years, first one and then another great highway has opened up more and more traffic connecting the heartland of Mexico with the major centers of the U. S. To this day Mexico does not have a highway that stretches along her northern states from the Pacific to the Gulf."

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Volume Fifty-three — Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota — Wednesday, March 18, 1964 — Number Twenty-three

T. R. Falls Presents Easter Fashion Parade

Eager anticipation surrounds the coming of Spring. There is a touch of romance in the air as winter snow reluctantly disappears in favor of patches of bare ground and cascading rivulets of water. Spring has a special appeal for residents of Northwestern Minnesota. It heralds the end of the home-bound season and the beginning of carefree activity.

Recognizing the charm and vitality of the Spring season Thief River Falls merchants and the Times have cooperated in producing this Spring Fashion section. We know that our area residents want to put their best foot forward when stepping into Spring and our community is ready to meet the challenge.

On display in Thief River Falls stores are the latest flairs in fashion — the newest colors and styles—the most modern fabrics. To assist in showing some of the available items to our readers the Times has cooperated with businessmen to photograph local models in styles fresh as Spring itself.

Information on styles and prices are contained in this section. We encourage you to read it carefully and to save it for future reference. In it you will probably find just what you need to step out in style for the Easter parade.

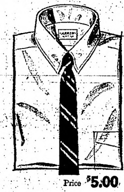
CAN THIS HUMBLE COTTON SHIRT SAVE THIS MARRIAGE? TUNE IN BELOW!



Price $5.00

As you remember from our last episode, John liked all-cotton shirts and Mary just hated to iron. And today we find Mary telling John to give up that cotton-pickin' habit—or the marriage. Luckily, John can explain to her that this is ARROW's Fenway Club, the all-cotton shirt that made irons obsolete. Mary is skeptical but when John points out the "Sanforized-Plus" label she believes and they live happily ever after—after every wash, after wash, after wash.

like the fashionable but comfortable clothes offered at Bjorkman's Clothing in Thief River Falls. Spencer Oen models several of the items now in stock for Spring wear. The black, collar-less jacket by Campus is of orlon-norylic fabric and is machine washable. Trousers by Farah are of Dacron and cotton blend and the shirt by Campus features a hi-roll collar and bold stripe pattern. Completing the outfit are shoes by Leverenz in the popular cubed-toe style.

CASUAL and sophisticated, Mrs. Gordon Dow models a three-piece, linen-like suit by Henry Lee. Brass buttons and flash red lining on the jacket give it the new "cadet" look. Ensemble accessories include a navy profile roller hat, white wrist-length gloves by Hansen and white convertible bag by Rolf. All are available at Elaine's in Thief River Falls.

COATS for Spring are needed items, and Mrs. Douglas Kemmer models an all-wool grey peti-point Sycamore coat, one of many styles available at Elaine's in Thief River Falls. Distinctive shoulder treatment gives this coat smart styling and an "easy going" affect. Completing her ensemble are white elbow-length gloves by Hansen, a veiled pillbox hat of fine navy straw and a navy-with-white bag by Rolf.

MONEY never goes out of style, as the saying goes, and it certainly looks fashionable in the above photo. Northern State Bank in Thief River Falls invites you to read these fashion sections carefully and patronize Thief River Falls merchants with your shopping dollars. It pays to shop where the selection is complete and your dollars go further. Reminding you that you can get money when you need it at Northern State Bank is lovely Judy Czeh of rural Thief River Falls.

DRESSED up for the Easter season are Mark and Marti Jo, children of Mr. and Mrs. John McGinley, wearing children's styles from the Junior Shop in Thief River Falls. Marti Jo wears a two-ply knit dress with sailor effect, complemented by a white hat, purse and gloves. Mark has the grownup look with his man-tailored suit for little lads and matching hat just like Dad's. These and many more cute outfits are now being shown for Easter and Spring at the Junior Shop.

KNITTING skill can provide you with many handsome articles, like this coat hand-knit and modeled by Mrs. Otis Wold. The coat is made of Norse brown Scandia yarn from a pattern designed especially for Scandia. Tischart's Fabrics & Yarns in Thief River Falls offers this bulky type yarn in royal, red, light blue, parchment, winter white, blue candystripe and red candystripe colors. Large needles are used so it knits up readily.

Dividend Income for Income Tax Explained

(This is the twelfth and last in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

Amounts received as dividends from business corporations and as interest on savings accounts, bonds, and other interest bearing obligations must be reported as income. However, certain dividends are entitled to a limited exclusion from income and a credit against the tax. Some receipts normally called dividends are actually treated as interest income and not eligible for the dividend exclusion or credit.

To be eligible for the dividend exclusion from income and the credit, the dividend must be paid by a qualified corporation. Generally, a qualified corporation is a business corporation organized and doing business in the United States. Dividends on mutual fund shares normally qualify for the dividend exclusion.

A taxpayer may exclude up to $50 in dividends received during the year. A husband and wife filing a joint return may each exclude up to $50 provided they each received divided income. If one spouse received more than $50 income from dividends, the husband or wife may not claim the exemption on the excess received by their spouse even though they received no dividends or less than their $50 excludable amount. Dividends paid on stocks which are owned jointly are considered to be the dividends equally of the joint owners and each may apply the exclusion to their portion of the dividends so received.

Dividends received in excess of the $50 exclusion must be included as income. However, an amount equal to 4 per cent of the excess of such dividends over the exclusion constitutes a credit directly against the tax determined to be paid and reduces the tax by that amount, but the credit taken may not exceed 4 per cent of taxable income reported on the return or the total amount of tax due. Mutual fund share owners may receive an ordinary dividend and a capital gain dividend during the year. The ordinary dividend is treated as other corporate dividends and is entitled to the $50 exclusion and 4 per cent credit. The capital gain dividend is treated as a capital gain and reported on the schedule of capital gains and losses and treated as a gain upon the sale of a capital asset.

Payments made on savings and loan association accounts and mutual savings bank accounts are often called dividends. Despite this designation, such payments are treated as interest for tax purposes and must be treated as interest on the return. They do not qualify for the dividend exclusion and credit. Insurance policy owners also receive dividends on their policies. These dividends are normally not taxable since they constitute, for tax purposes, a return of the premium previously paid. However, if the dividend received exceeds the premium paid or if the amount of the premium was previously taken as a busines deduction, the dividend or the excess of the dividend over the premium previously paid constitutes income and must be reported. Veterans insurance policy dividends are not treated as taxable income even though they may exceed the premium.

Certain small business corporations are allowed to elect to be taxed similarly to partnerships. In this way, no corporate income tax is imposed upon the corporation, but the earnings are taxed directly to the shareholders in the year they are earned by the corporation. The amount of such corporate earnings which are reportable by individuals are not dividends for purposes of the credit and exclusion even though such earnings are actually paid to a shareholder.

Bemidji College Newspaper Wins National Honors

Bemidji State College's weekly newspaper, the Northern Student, won a first-place award among college and university newspapers entered in the annual Columbia Scholastic Press association competition, according to word received in Bemidji this week.

The Northern Student was among 14 Minnesota scholastic newspapers to win awards. Only other college to be named was Macalester, which also won a first place award.

Cites Danger from Slowpoke Drivers

State Safety Director Urges Even Traffic Flow

"We hear plenty about the driver who drives too fast and there are still too many of them," Garnet E. Hall, safety director of the Minnesota highway department, said today, "but the opposite type, the snail-pace driver, is an equal menace on the highway."

There are no statistics to indicate to what extent he is directly or indirectly responsible for the frightful accident toll, but it is no secret that his culpability may be as high as the careless speeder, he said.

Traffic engineers agree that all drivers are safest when they are part of a smooth traffic flow with all of the vehicles traveling at about the same speed. There is then little or no cause for trouble unless some driver changes the calm, orderly movement of cars by slowing down his pace.

If the slow-down is maintained for any length of time, the drivers back of it will soon become irritated, blood pressures will rise and, at the first opportunity, some driver will charge around the slow driver, followed by a host of "me-toos", at the peril of all concerned.

Legislation has already been passed in Minnesota authorizing the commissioner of highways to establish minimum speeds below which drivers may not legally operate. It is not in the middle of the traffic picture where the common or garden variety of drivers move that the greatest danger lies, but in the performance of the two extremes—the speeder and the slow driver—that more work needs to be done, Hall pointed out.

Once Goodridge Teacher Honored

Halvorson, executive of a Boston publishing house, is a 1925 St. Olaf graduate. He heads the elementary section of the company and has been with the firm for 27 years.

AN AMERICAN FLAG presented to the Minnesota Press Club by Lutheran Brotherhood, Minneapolis-based fraternal insurance society, now is on display at club quarters in Hotel Radisson, Minneapolis. The flag was presented by A. Herbert Nelson (left), a member of the Lutheran Brotherhood board of directors, to Jim Bormann, WCCO-radio news director and president of the Press club, at a breakfast meeting of the Minnesota Newspaper Association convention in Minneapolis. Lutheran Brotherhood was host at the breakfast at which William G. Fisher, vice president of Lutheran Brotherhood and its director of fraternal activities, was the principal speaker. Mr. Nelson is president of the A. Herbert Nelson Co., Minneapolis, and a former Minnesota state insurance commissioner.

Public Is Reminded of Bicycle Safety Rules

With spring on its way, children will be getting their bicycles out of winter storage. Before they go out on the streets, parents should be certain their children know and observe the rules of the road. Too, now is a good time to check bicycles to be sure they are in good operating condition.

This is a word of advice from Dr. A. B. Rosenfield, director, division of special services, Minnesota department of health.

In 1963, there were 663 motor vehicle traffic accidents involving collision with bicyclists reported to the Minnesota highway department. In 83 per cent (551) of these 663 accidents, violations by bicyclists was a contributing circumstance, according to the 1963 report of motor vehicle traffic accidents.

There were nine fatalities, and one bicycle accident involving property damage only. The 653 instances of personal injury involved 692 persons.

The fact that 74 per cent (518) of these 692 persons injured were between the ages of 5-14 years points up the responsibility of parents to make certain that their children take all possible safety precautions; 223 children were betwenn the ages of 5-9 years; 295 injured children were between the ages of 10-14 years. Another 106 injuries involved persons between the ages of 15-19 years.

Boys are much more apt to be involved in accidents than girls. All of the nine fatalities were males; eight of them under 20 years of age. Of the 692 persons injured, 82 per cent (570) were males. Of these 570 males, 91 per cent (521) were under the age of 20.

Since violations by the bicyclist was a contributing factor in more than three-fourths of all bicycle accidents, it is obvious that many children are riding bicycles who do not have the necessary skills and training to handle a bicycle on the street.

Parents need to make a greater effort to teach their children safety on a bicycle to prevent accidents and prepare the bicyclist to be a safe automobile driver later. The bicycle should be the right size for the rider and place of residence.

Whatever the age of the rider, a bicycle should be kept in good repair. The bearing and chain should be oiled and cleaned, and the coaster brake cleaned and adjusted. The tires should be properly inflated for easy steering. All bicycles should have a chain guard, kick stand, and a tail light or red reflector visible 500 feet at night. If driven at night, the bicycle should have a white light visible 500 feet ahead. Reflector tape is useful in addition to lights. A bell and rear view mirror are good safety equipment. A basket is essential if packages or books are carried so the cyclist can steer with both hands.

More than 7,000 medical research projects are being conducted in facilities of the Veterans Administration by some 3,200 professional personnel with more than 1,100 technical and administrative assistants.

Roadside Parking Areas Increasing

Highway Dept. Getting Cooperation of Jaycees

A roadside parking area within an hour's drive from any place on the state trunk highway system—that's the goal of the Minnesota Highway Department in the next 10 years.

The department is receiving the cooperation of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce in the development of 57 additional roadside rest areas.

At present there are 329 rest areas developed along the 11,905-mile trunk highway system. Their purpose is to provide a safe place for a weary motorist or tourist to rest, to get a better view of the scenery, or to have a picnic.

The parking areas serve both a safety and recreational purpose. However, they do not have adequate facilities for overnight camping, under regulations set by the State Department of Health. They do have signs with directions to the nearest camping area, if one is in the vicinity.

The plant to make the project a cooperative effort was proposed to the department by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the interest of promoting tourism in Minnesota.

COATS set the fashion pace for Spring in this area, and this aqua coat in the new nubby weave from S&L leads the way. Mrs. Helen Lofthus, department manager of women's fashions at S&L, models the 100 per cent wool coat which has straight lines with a notched collar, three-quarter length Dolman sleeves and three-button front. Her dress of beige and brown is a Serrano fabric of rayon and cotton with set-in sleeves and collarless neckline. It is washable fabric and is crease resistant. Completing the wardrobe is a beige hat of synthetic straw with brown grograin ribbon trim.

FASHION moves to the field of conversation (and conversation turns to fashion) when you have a Princess telephone installed in your home. Miss Carol Thorson, switchboard operator at Northwestern Bell in Thief River Falls, is pictured with the new, gold Princess. Why not add convenience to your home this Spring with an extension Princess, available in many pastel colors. To see how a Princess phone looks in your home, call the Northwestern Bell business office at 681-3031.

COATS set the fashion pace for Spring in this area, and this aqua coat in the new nubby weave from S&L leads the way. Mrs. Helen Lofthus, department manager of women's fashions at S&L, models the 100 per cent wool coat which has straight lines with a notched collar, three-quarter length Dolman sleeves and three-button front. Her dress of beige and brown is a Serrano fabric of rayon and cotton with set-in sleeves and collarless neckline. It is washable fabric and is crease resistant. Completing the wardrobe is a beige hat of synthetic straw with brown grosgrain ribbon trim.

COLORED PAPER STOCK

STANDOUT in any crowd will be the young man who wears a striking sport coat like the one modeled above by Pat Munt. The sport coat by Warren Sewell features the three-button style in Glen Plaid pattern and is tailored in wool and orlon fabric. The dress shirt is by Arrow and the trousers by Jay-Mar Ruby... All items are ready for you and Spring at Bjorkman's in Thief River Falls.

YOUNG MEN

like the fashionable but comfortable clothes offered at Bjorkman's Clothing in Thief River Falls. Spencer Oen models several of the items now in stock for Spring wear. The black, collar-less jacket by Campus is of orlon-acrylic fabric and is machine washable. Trousers by Farah are of Dacron and cotton blend and the shirt by Campus features a hi-roll collar and bold stripe pattern. Completing the outfit are shoes by Levcrenz in the popular cubed-toe style.

DRESSED up for the Easter season are Mark and Marti Jo, children of Mr. and Mrs. John McGinley, wearing children's styles from the Junior Shop in Thief River Falls. Marti Jo wears a two-ply knit dress with sailor effect, complemented by a white hat, purse and gloves. Mark has the grownup look with his man-tailored suit for little lads and matching hat just like Dad's. These and many more cute outfits are now being shown for Easter and Spring at the Junior Shop.

KNITTING skill can provide you with many handsome articles, like this coat hand-knit and modeled by Mrs. Otis Wold. The coat is made of Norse brown Scandia yarn from a pattern designed especially for Scandia. Tischart's Fabrics & Yarns in Thief River Falls offers this bulky type yarn in royal, red, light blue, parchment, winter white, blue candystripe and red candystripe colors. Large needles are used so it knits up readily.

Dividend Income for Income Tax Explained

(This is the twelfth and last in a series of articles on Income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

Amounts received as dividends from business corporations and as interest on savings accounts, bonds, and other interest bearing obligations must be reported as income. However, certain dividends are entitled to a limited exclusion from income and a credit against the tax. Some receipts normally called dividends are actually treated as interest income and not eligible for the dividend exclusion or credit.

To be eligible for the dividend exclusion from income and the credit, the dividend must be paid by a qualified corporation. Generally, a qualified corporation is a business corporation organized and doing business in the United States. Dividends on mutual fund shares normally qualify for the dividend exclusion.

A taxpayer may exclude up to $50 in dividends received during the year. A husband and wife filing a joint return may each exclude up to $50 provided they each received divided income. If one spouse received more than $50 income from dividends, the husband or wife may not claim the exemption on the excess received by their spouse even though they received no dividends or less than their $50 excludable amount. Dividends paid on stocks which are owned jointly are considered to be the dividends equally of the joint owners and each may apply the exclusion to their portion of the dividends so received.

Dividends received in excess of the $50 exclusion must be included as income. However, an amount equal to 4 per cent of the excess of such dividends over the exclusion constitutes a credit directly against the tax determined to be paid and reduces the tax by that amount, but the credit taken may not exceed 4 per cent of taxable income reported on the return or the total amount of tax due. Mutual fund share owners may receive an ordinary dividend and a capital gain dividend during the year. The ordinary dividend is treated as other corporate dividends and is entitled to the $50 exclusion and 4 per cent credit. The capital gain dividend is treated as a capital gain and reported on the schedule of capital gains and losses and treated as a gain upon the sale of a capital asset.

Payments made on savings and loan association accounts and mutual savings bank accounts are often called dividends. Despite this designation, such payments are treated as interest for tax purposes and must be treated as interest on the return. They do not qualify for the dividend exclusion and credit. Insurance policy owners also receive dividends on their policies. These dividends are normally not taxable since they constitute, for tax purposes, a return of the premium previously paid. However, if the dividend received exceeds the premium paid or if the amount of the premium was previously taken as a business deduction, the dividend or the excess of the dividend over the premium previously paid constitutes income and must be reported. Veterans insurance policy dividends are not treated as taxable income even though they may exceed the premium.

Certain small business corporations are allowed to elect to be taxed similarly to partnerships. In this way, no corporate income tax is imposed upon the corporation, but the earnings are taxed directly to the shareholders in the year they are earned by the corporation. The amount of such corporate earnings which are reportable by individuals are not dividends for purposes of the credit and exclusion even though such earnings are actually paid to a shareholder.

Bemidji College Newspaper Wins National Honors

Bemidji State College's weekly newspaper, the Northern Student, won a first place award among college and university newspapers entered in the annual Columbia Scholastic Press association competition, according to word received in Bemidji this week.

The Northern Student was among 14 Minnesota scholastic newspapers to win awards. Only other college to be named was Macalester, which also won a first place award.

Cites Danger from Slowpoke Drivers

State Safety Director Urges Even Traffic Flow

"We hear plenty about the driver who drives too fast and there are still too many of them," Garnet E. Hall, safety director of the Minnesota highway department, said today, "but the opposite type, the snail-pace driver, is an equal menace on the highway."

There are no statistics to indicate to what extent he is directly or indirectly responsible for the frightful accident toll, but it is no secret that his culpability may be as high as the careless speeder, he said.

Traffic engineers agree that all drivers are safest when they are part of a smooth traffic flow with all of the vehicles traveling at about the same speed. There is then little or no cause for trouble unless some driver changes the calm, orderly movement of cars by slowing down his pace.

If the slow-down is maintained for any length of time, the drivers back of it will soon become irritated, blood pressures will rise and, at the first opportunity, some driver will charge around the slow driver, followed by a host of "me-toos", at the peril of all concerned.

Legislation has already been passed in Minnesota authorizing the commissioner of highways to establish minimum speeds below which drivers may not legally operate. It is not in the middle of the traffic picture where the common or garden variety of drivers move that the greatest danger lies, but in the performance of the two extremes—the speeder and the slow driver—that more work needs to be done, Hall pointed out.

Public Is Reminded of Bicycle Safety Rules

With spring on its way, children will be getting their bicycles out of winter storage. Before they go out on the streets, parents should be certain their children know and observe the rules of the road. Too, now is a good time to check bicycles to be sure they are in good operating condition.

In 1963, there were 663 motor vehicle traffic accidents involving collision with bicyclists reported to the Minnesota highway department. In 83 per cent (551) of these 663 accidents, violations by bicyclists was a contributing circumstance, according to the 1963 report of motor vehicle traffic accidents.

There were nine fatalities, and one bicycle accident involving property damage only. The 653 instances of personal injury involved 692 persons.

The fact that 74 per cent (518) of these 692 persons injured were between the ages of 5-14 years points up the responsibility of parents to make certain that their children take all possible safety precautions; 223 children were between the ages of 5-9 years; 295 injured children were between the ages of 10-14 years. Another 106 injuries involved persons between the ages of 15-19 years.

Boys are much more apt to be involved in accidents than girls. All of the nine fatalities were males, eight of them under 20 years of age. Of the 692 persons injured, 82 per cent (570) were males. Of these 570 males, 91 per cent (521) were under the age of 20.

Since violations by the bicyclist was a contributing factor in more than three-fourths of all bicycle accidents, it is obvious that many children are riding bicycles who do not have the necessary skills and training to handle a bicycle on the street.

Parents need to make a greater effort to teach their children safety on a bicycle to prevent accidents and prepare the bicyclist to be a safe automobile driver later. The bicycle should be the right size for the rider and place of residence.

Whatever the age of the rider, a bicycle should be kept in good repair. The bearing and chain should be oiled and cleaned, and the coaster brake cleaned and adjusted. The tires should be properly inflated for easy steering. All bicycles should have a chain guard, kick stand, and a tail light or red reflector visible 500 feet at night. If driven at night, the bicycle should have a white light visible 500 feet ahead. Reflector tape is useful in addition to lights. A bell and rear view mirror are good safety equipment. A basket is essential if packages or books are carried so the cyclist can steer with both hands.

More than 7,000 medical research projects are being conducted in facilities of the Veterans Administration by some 3,200 professional personnel with more than 1,100 technical and administrative assistants.

Roadside Parking Areas Increasing

Highway Dept. Getting Cooperation of Jaycees

A roadside parking area within an hour's drive from any place on the state trunk highway system that's the goal of the Minnesota Highway Department in the next 10 years.

At present there are 329 rest areas developed along the 11,905-mile trunk highway system. Their purpose is to provide a safe place for a weary motorist or tourist to rest, to get a better view of the scenery, or to have a picnic.

The parking areas serve both a safety and recreational purpose. However, they do not have adequate facilities for overnight camping, under regulations set by the State Department of Health. They do have signs with directions to the nearest camping area, if one is in the vicinity.

The plan to make the project a cooperative effort was proposed to the department by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the interest of promoting tourism in Minnesota.

Community Methodist

A. Dean [illegible], Pastor

"Operation Involvement" is the Palm Sunday worship theme for 9:30 and 11 worship services. Jesus was safe in Galilee but entrance into Judea made him vulnerable. [illegible] Jr. and Sr. choirs will assist in worship. School at the regular hours. At 5 p. m. there will be a baptismal service for children and adults. 6 p. m. a pot luck supper in honor of all newcomers in the church and the confirmation class. 7:30 p. m. will be the reception of members in the sanctuary. On Palm Sunday let us see the church as it moves from its protected walls in worship into the stream of life. We can once again see the cost of Discipleship and our own part in Kingdom building.

Thurs., Mar. 26, from 7 to 9 a. m. Holy Communion will be administered at the church. The confirmation class will be served as a group at 7:30; other tables each 15 minutes after that time. Come as a family unit, leave when you desire.

Good Friday at 1 p. m. there will be a special worship service with the youth choir assisting the pastor. This service and the Communion on Thursday will help prepare you for the joyous experience on Easter morning.

The services during Holy week will be outlined in detail in a news letter mailed to all members and friends of the church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What do you see here? Figures of statuary? A symbol of religion? A monument to the Master?

Look with your heart and you'll see something else. You'll see the soul of the sculptor.

A man mightily inspired — who wanted with his talents to worship Christ — who took stone and chisel and hammer . . . and all the strength of his body . . . and all the faith of his heart. He said to the world with his Art-Words that which he could never have spoken with his lips nor written with his pen.

For twenty centuries Jesus, the Saviour, has inspired our best. In the annals of mankind a million thrilling breakthroughs in human achievement have been dedicated to His service.

So never pass the humblest creation of sacred art — not even the crayoned Bible-picture of a child — without remembering that you too have a soul. And talents to give your God!

COMPARING favorite foods at the Pennington county 4-H favorite food show Saturday in Thief River Falls are three of the younger exhibitors in the event. Left to right are Betty Swanson, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swanson and member of the Black River 4-H club; Jane Liedberg, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Liedberg and member of the Good Hope 4-H club; and Sandra Wold, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wold and member of the Sanders 4-H club. Their favorite foods respectively were "Rice Krispie Bars," "Marshmallow Delight" and "Butterfly Salad."

Fun for 4H Members

32 Enter Pennington Favorite Food Show

Thirty-two 4-H members participated in the third annual Pennington county favorite food show which was held Saturday at 9:3 a. m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium, according to Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, county home agent.

Exhibitors were judged on their understanding of the preparation of the favorite food, their understanding of the importance of nutritious food and their personal appearance.

Favorite food was judged on appearance, flavor, quality and texture. The menu had to be balanced in texture, flavor, color and food value. It also had to be suitable to the favorite food.

Table settings were judged on their attractiveness and appropriateness to the menu. Linen, dishes and silver were to coordinate and also be suitable to the menu.

Miss Offerdahl stated that the favorite food show was an excellent opportunity for the 4-H members to gain confidence in themselves and thus enable them to give good demonstrations later. A green ribbon was given to each of the participants.

Those participating in the show were: Jerry Muzzy and Londa Jorde, Steiner; Paulette Philipp, Mavie; Charlotte Rude, LaDawn Rude and Pamela Torkelson; Smiley; Gale Berard, Silverton; Sandra Wold and Barbara Wold, Sanders; Claree Drangstvelt, Jane Leidberg, Barbara Cullen and Donna Cullen, Good Hope; Carol Passa and Candace Passa, Steiner;

Also Norma Stuey, Star; Kathy Hillyer, Debra Halvorson and Sharon Jorde, Steiner; Laura Kron and Karen Kron, New Solum; Linnae Hanson, Silverton; Anita Hallstrom, Betty Swanson, Rosalyn Hirst, Gloria Swanson, Petra Swanson, Paulette Swanson, Linda Kopecky and Debbie Sorvig, Black River; Darlene Appeman, Highlanding; and Kayle Brandt, City View.

AUTO DEMOLISHED

Sherman Groven of Minneapolis received minor injuries about 6 p.m. Sunday when the car which he was driving was demolished in a one-car accident at the Highlanding bridge. He was treated and released from Northwestern hospital.

According to the Pennington county sheriff's department, Groven was driving north on SAR 24 when his car struck the east side of the bridge and came to rest with the rear bumper on the west railing, directly across the bridge. Sheriff Charles Richards said the 1964 model car was demolished. The case is under investigation by the sheriff's department.

Soo Line Reports Big Gain in Income

The Soo Line Railroad Co. reported net income of $656,703 on gross revenues of $6,803,000 for February. This compared with earnings of $95,251 on total revenues of $5,951,000 for the same month last year.

For the fist two months of 1964, the railroad had net income of $661,835, compared with a loss of $128,826 for the same period last year.

Tax Meeting Set In RLF Tonight

Red Lake county residents interested in tax reform are invited to attend a meeting to be held at 8 p.m. today at the village hall in Red Lake Falls. Speakers will be Harold T. Miller, research director, and Charles P. Stone, general counsel for the Minnesota Taxpayers association. The meeting is sponsored by the Red Lake County Taxpayers association and is open to the public.

April Court Term Jury Is Selected

A panel of 40 prospective jurors to serve during the April term of Pennington county district court was drawn late last week in the office of Clerk of Court Henry Storhaug. Judge J. H. Sylvestre of Crookston will preside over the term, which will open Tuesday, April 7, for the call of the calendar, with the date when the jurors will be summoned to be announced later. The list of cases to be heard has not yet been completed.

The jury panel includes the names of 22 men and 18 women, 17 of the total being from Thief River Falls and the remaining 23 from other parts of the county.

Thief River Falls residents who will be called include Arthur Buringrud, Duane Battelson, Donald Barron, Mrs. Adlyn Williams, Maynard Waldron, Helen Ellingson, Mrs. Clifford VeVea, Mrs. Harry Ranum, Merlyn Adamson, John Keck, Ralph Gulbranson, Mrs. G. M. Stromsmoe, Mrs. Kendall Gustafson, Russell Patton, Marvin Washnesky, Jon Metusalem and Ethel R. Goethe.

Donald Klopp Is Injured Sunday In Train Mishap

Car Hits Train on 8th Street Crossing; Klopp In Serious Condition

Donald Klopp, city, is reported in serious condition at Northwestern hospital this morning following a car-train accident about 2:20 a. m. Sunday. Klopp is reported to have sustained head and face injuries and may be transferred to Fargo for oral surgery.

According to the Thief River Falls police department which investigated the accident, Klopp was driving east on Eighth street when it struck the Soo Line train traveling north on the main track. A switch engine was pushing about 35 cars, the police report stated, and the Klopp vehicle struck the 20th car from the engine.

Police said the car was dragged 780 feet by the train, receiving extensive damage to the hood, motor and windshield. The 1959 Triumph was considered a total loss. Klopp was alone in the car.

Police also reported property damage resulting about midnight Saturday from a car driving across yards on Kneale, Merriam and Crocker avenues. Included in the damage was a small birch tree which was knocked down in the yard of John Oven, state highway patrol sergeant. The incident is under investigation by the police department.

Brother of Local Man Is Victim of Crookston Mishap

Emery Delorme, 41, rural Gentilly was killed Wednesday at 5:25 p.m. in a tractor mishap on Central Avenue North in Crookston.

Delorme, who lived four miles E. of Gentilly, apparently fell off the far left side of the tractor after turning right on Central Ave. The moving tractor struck the victim's head and he was dead upon arrival at a Crookston hospital, according to Crookston police officers who investigated the accident.

It was reported that Mr. Delorme was taking the tractor home after having it worked on in a local repair shop.

Emery Delorme was born April 5, 1922 in Red Lake County. He married Cecilia Trudeau in 1943 at Gentilly.

Survivors include his widow; 5 daughters, Mrs. Lyle Norberg of St. Paul, Mrs. George Proulx of Crookston, Evelyn, 16, Karen, 14 and Lorrie, 3, all at home; two sons, Allan, 10 and Stephen, 9, both at home; a brother, Ernest of Thief River Falls and two sisters, Mrs. Emilie LaCoursiere.

A requiem high mass was offered Saturday at 10 a.m. at St. Peter's Catholic church, Gentilly, with Msgr. Victor Cardin officiating.

School Board Adopts New Salary Schedule

Salary schedule in the Thief River Falls school system was adopted by the Thief River Falls board of education meeting in special session last week. Approved by the salary committee of the local education association, the schedule will apply for the 1964-65 school term.

According to M. R. Hankerson, superintendent of schools, the schedule calls for a raise of $300 annually in base pay and a $100 annual decrease in dependency allowance. This means a $200 annual dependency allowance will be given to married teachers. When both man and wife work for the school, neither will qualify for a dependency allowance.

Under the new schedule, first-year teachers with B.A. degrees will recive a yearly salary of $4,800 and those with M.A. degrees will receive a starting salary of $5,100, Hankerson said. Top figures after 12 years experience are $7,200 for teachers with B.A. degrees and $7,500 for those with M.A. degrees.

Average salary being received by teachers in the district this year is $6,238, the superintendent noted, adding that this is about $100 below the state average. The Minnesota Department of Education and the state school board association anticipate salary increases for the 1964-65 school term of 4½ to 5 per cent above the present year.

At present the local school district has 78 teachers with B.A. degrees and 28 with M.A. degrees. There are also two teachers with two-year training and 19 with three-year training, all now teaching in the elementary schools. Total increased cost due to the salary increase is not known, Hankerson said, since it is impossible to determine the change in personnel resulting from resignations. It is anticipated, however, that increased state aids will cover most of the increased cost.

The salary schedule adopted by the board is as follows:

Years of Experience	B.A. Level	M.A. Level
0	4,800	5,100
1	5,000	5,300
2	5,200	5,500
3	5,400	5,700
4	5,600	5,900
5	5,800	6,100
6	6,000	6,300
7	6,200	6,500
8	6,400	6,700
9	6,600	6,900
10	6,800	7,100
11	7,000	7,300
12	7,200	7,500

Statements of Policy

Several statements of policy were also included in the schedule. Some of these include the following:

Each teacher is required to attend school every four years on the B.A. level and every five years on the M.A. level or no step or increment advance will be made.

Experience in school systems other than Thief River Falls may be allowed up to a maximum of six yetrs. This would place experienced teachers, new to the local system, on step seven of the schedule if they had six or more years experience.

An allowance of 10 days annually shall be permitted for illness of the teacher. Five of the 10 days may be used for illness or death in the immediate family. Sick leave not used may accumulate to 120 days.

Annual physical examinations may be required at the discretion of the board. Annual increments are contingent on satisfactory service and the board may withhold increments.

Retirement age shall be 65 years. If an employee's 65th birthday comes during the school year he may finish the school year. Teachers may be re-hired on a one-year basis after age 65 at the discretion of the school board and upon written application of the teacher and physician's statement of competency.

Wins in District Butter Contest

Gordon Anderson of Goodridge Cooperative Creamery association won first place in the buttermaking contest of Land O' Lakes District 17 with an efficiency rating of 99.77 at the annual meeting of the district held recently at Grygla. Elwood Jacobson of Karlstad placed second in the contest.

Orville Anderson of Karlstad was elected to the district board to succeed Edgar Rokke of Newfolden. Marlan Augustine of rural Thief River Falls was reelected chairman of the district and member of the Land O'Lakes board. Others reelected were Arthur Norby, Grygla, vice chairman; Carl Krohn, Viking, secretary, and Elmer Severson, Crookston, director.

School Vacation to End March 31

Easter vacation in the Thief River Falls schools started with the close of classes Friday, March 20, and will continue thru Monday, March 30, with classes resuming Tuesday morning, March 31, it was announced by Supt. Marshall Hankerson.

Legislators Talk at RLF March 30

A legislative report meeting is scheduled at the Red Lake Falls Community hall Monday, March 30, with Rep. Richard Fitzsimons of Marshall county as head speaker. Fitzsimons is chairman of the House Appropriations committee.

Rep. Andrew Skaar and Sen. Harveydale Maruska will also participate in the program.

Consumers' Co-op Passes $1 Million Total Sales Mark

Two new directors were elected to the board of Consumers' Cooperative association at the annual meeting held recently in Thief River Falls. The cooperative paid out a total of $23,620.42 earned in dividends by shareholders in 1953 and passed the million dollar mark in sales for the first time.

Elected to the board were Henry Williams of Thief River Falls and Oscar Lundeen of Oklee to succeed Robert Rambeck and E. L. Swanson who declined reelection. Harry Solberg, whose three-year term also expired, was reelected to the board.

At the reorganization of the board held Wednesday afternoon, Gunsten Skomedal was reelected president with Silas Hanson reelected vice president and Solberg reelected secretary-treasurer. Other directors in addition to Williams and Lundeen are Curtis Johnson and Ole Skaar. Leonard Furuseth is general manager.

Total sales of the cooperative in 1963 passed the million dollar mark for the first time and totaled $1,090,751 with gross margins of 22.09 per cent or $240,902.

Merchandising costs totaled $114,043 for 10.46 per cent; administrative expenses totaled $23,046 for 2.11 per cent; and general expenses totaled $25,817 for 2.36 per cent, leaving a net margin of $77,994 or 7.16 per cent.

Sales increased by approximately $132,000 over 1962, the comparative operating statement of the cooperative showed. The cooperative gained $22,729 in patronage refunds and $4,224 in purchase discounts from other cooperatives. Cash discounts given to patrons during the past year totaled $23,579.42.

Total assets of the cooperative are $610,135 while total liabilities are $86,071. Capital equities total $524,064. Current assets total $316,786 with major items being $175,017 in accounts receivable and $130,216 in merchandise inventories. Fixed assets include $19,434 in land, $109,242 in buildings, $37,340 in equipement, $11,576 in bulk plant and $53,717 in delivery equipment.

Approximately 450 persons attended the meeting at which Glenn Thompson, public relations director for Midland Cooperatives, Inc., was the main speaker. Thompson discussed the aid of cooperatives to Latin American countries.

Crippled Children Clinic Service Date Is Changed

Clinic Will Be Held May 14 at Northwestern Hospital in T. R. Falls

Change in date and location for the clinic sponsored by the crippled children services section of the Minnesota department of public welfare has been announced by local officials. The clinic will be held Thursday, Mary 14, in Northwestern hospital.

The date previously announced, and which was changed due to a conflict, was Tuesday, April 21, at Trinity Lutheran church. Appointments for examinations must be made at least two weeks in advance of the May 14 date with Mrs. Harold Buck, local appointment chairman, 235 Kendall av. N., city.

Minnesota children under 21 years of age with heart lesions, convulsions, cystic fibrosis, club feet, scolosis, mental retardation and other physical handicaps may be examined at the clinic. A physician's written referral and summary is requested on each new patient. Children who need periodic follow-up and whose parents can not provide the necessary care may return to the clinic.

Continuing Education Is Extension Program

Continuing education and extension work are synonymous. All people have ability to learn through life with exception of very few unusual cases. Extension service is organized to provide continuing education to all citizens.

Continuing education was directed last year at several problem areas. County agents assisted with community development. They helped compile a description of human and natural resources. The OESDP (Overall Economic and Social Development Plan) is now available to all residents of the county, free of charge, from the extension office.

The county needed to improve some very basic agricultural practices. This was pointed out by study committees working on the OESDP in 1960. The extension service organized a soil testing drive which met with resounding success. The fertilizer dealers, Chamber of Commerce and other cooperating agencies helped put the county into a leading position in the state. It had been low on the list.

In 1963 the county was again first in soil testing in the state. The 18,000 acres tested during 1963 are more certain to bear good yields with proper fertililization. This is only one factor, but a very important one, in getting better returns from each acre of land. Prior to initiating a soil testing drive only 1,500 acres were tested in the county.

Specialty crops are another area in which extension provided much needed information in establishing a new industry in the county. Over 2,000 acres was devoted to specialty crop production which included: sunflowers, millet, pinto beans, potatoes, commercial vegetables and mustard. New legume and grass seeds also need special attention on the part of farmers. Information on these crops was extended at meetings, office and telephone calls, radio, newspaper, and a special tour on these crops.

All new crops and methods and practices needed to handle them have been given emphasis. The R.A.D. committees deemed specialty crop production necessary to develop the area more fully thru diversification of crop acreage.

Another problem area in the county which still needs attention is handling of forage crops. More hay is being cut in the bud stage prior to any blossoming. However, many farmers still wait for tonage and let the hay get old, thus losing a great deal of money in food value. There is much more protein and food value in early cut hay and cattle eat more of it.

Farmers can gain from $20 to $40 per acre by cutting hay in the bud stage as compared to later hay cuttings. Extension has provided information on these topics for three years and more and more farmers are adopting the practice of earlier cutting of hay each year. Hay storage and fertilization are areas where improvement is sorely needed.

Examples of other areas of continuing education were:

1. Farm and Home Management workshop, Oklee, six meetings.
2. RAD (This work will be covered in a special release).
3. Plant Industry Conference for township officials.
4. Seed and Feed Show on RAD, weed control, egg marketing and youth education.
5. Soil and Water Conservation district annual meeting.

Odd Fellows Meet Tuesday Evening

The Odd Fellows lodge will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening March 24th, instead of Thursday evening the 26th as was planned earlier this month. Special business will include action on membership teams and proposals and all members are especially urged to attend.

On Tuesday evening March 31st, the local lodge will be host to a meeting covering District 24, which also includes Fisher and Warren lodges. An added feature will be a talk by Gordon Ekberg of Herman, past grand master of the grand lodge of Minnesota. A lunch and social time will follow the meeting.

The usual social gathering of Wednesday evening is cancelled for this week, but will be resumed again on April 1st.

Roseau C & C Assn. Backs TRF Jr. College

The Roseau Civic and Commerce Association went on record Tuesday in favor of the proposed area junior college at Thief River Falls, Secretary-Manager Don Willey reports. The group met with Superintendent R. J. Halvorson who explained the proposed college, and its effects on the area, to the board.

Eagles Auxiliary 14th Anniversary A Marked Success

With well over 100 local and visiting auxiliary members in attendance, the local Eagles auxiliary celebrated the 14th anniversary of its institution on Monday, March 16 at the club rooms. A large delegation came from East Grand Forks, and others attended from Crookston, Fargo, N.D. and Hallock. A 6:30 pot-luck supper was served buffet style, by the Thief River Falls auxiliary, with one of its officers presiding as hostess at each of the tables.

A brief business meeting followed, with President Tillie Carlson presiding. She presented a corsage to Madam state president, Elizabeth Schmidt, and also a gift in behalf of the local group. Mrs. Carlson likewise received a corsage.

The state president used "Fraternalism and Participation" as her theme for a brief message. Also speaking briefly were presidents or representatives of visiting auxiliaries; LaVaun Clinton, charter member and past president; Agnes Israelson, also a charter member, and Gladys Odegaard. Past presidents and charter members were also honored, and pictures were taken of these groups and of the present officers. A number of officers were unable to attend, due to illness.

Teen Berg was mistress of ceremonies for a program consisting of a Betty Boop pantomime by Ruth Onkka; several seasonal songs rendered by Teen Berg and Ann Tonder as a duet, with piano accompaniment by Marie O'Hara; a novelty number by the same duo, and an interpretation of Louis Armstrong and his horn, also by Mrs. Berg. A community sing featured the anniversary song with Marie O'Hara at the piano. State president Schmidt led the auxiliary theme song. Other entertainment was in charge of LaVaun Clinton and Jean Ranta.

A prize was won by Marie O'Hara and Rose Froseth, of Thief River Falls, and by Mrs. Asleson of Fargo. Shirley Timm won the attendance award, which was forfeited by nine other members.

The evening closed with serving of a beautiful tiered anniversary cake in the form of a shamrock, which was a gift from the local Eagles aerie. Gladys Odegaard and Dorothy Poolman, local auxiliary mother of the year, were at the coffee service.

Medical Mirror

STOMACH ISN'T NERVOUS - IT'S YOU

Q. I have a nervous stomach. What causes this?

A. Your stomach isn't nervous but you may be. "Nervousness" shows up in many ways. Some tension-wrought people have headaches, some have hives, some sweat, and some may think they have "heart trouble." The list could go on and on. Such symptoms, of course, should not be dismissed without investigation. Even though your stomach is organically sound, there may be exaggeration or suppression of function giving rise to symptoms. Treatment may be largely confined to conversation with your doctor, mild medication, and diet.

LEUKEMIA

Q. Is it safe to say that leukemia is "cancer of the blood"?

A. It would be better to say that leukemia is cancer of the blood-forming organs. Even this is not technically correct unless the term "cancer" is used as a description of body cell behavior. As with other forms of cancer, the basic trouble in leukemia lies within the body cells.

The real "miracle" of today's medicine is that so much cure costs so little.

Pink-Blue Shower Held For Mrs. Orvis Sletten

A pink-and blue shower held at the Alfred Nabben home on Sunday afternoon, March 15, honored Mrs. Orvis Sletten and her infant daughter. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Jack Syrnsky of St. Hilaire; Mrs. Duane Opdahl, and Mrs. Wendell Wegge, both of Thief River Falls.

A number of gifts were presented to the honored guests, and Mrs. Sletten won the door prize also. There were other prizes awarded to the winners of the contests staged to provide the entertainment of the afternoon, in addition to the social hour. Several special cakes were served with the buffet-style lunch served by the hostesses to conclude the afternoon.

Guests were Mrs. Sletten and baby; Mrs. Alfred Nabben, Mrs. Henry Schwartz, Margie and Marlys; Mrs. David Schwartz and Jackie; Mrs. Mathis Nabben, Mrs. Clarence Sletten, Linda and Diane; Mrs. Marvin Sletten, Verna, Donna, and Arlys; Mrs. Willard Sletten, Mrs. Wilfred Sletten, and Mrs. Esther Hagen.

Hannah M. Gustafosn Feted On Her Birthday

Hannah M. Gustafson of this city was feted on her birthday March 17 at an afternoon coffee party at C. Gustafson & Son. Her co-workers presented her with a corsage. She was also entertained at a dinner party in the evening at the Dine-A-Mite cafe by Mr. and Mrs. Noramn P. Peterson, Mrs. Freeda Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gustafson. Later in the evening children of the Petersons and Gustafsons joined the group at the home of the latter for an informal get-to-gether. The guests enjoyed birthday cake and coffee. Miss Gustafson was presented with a gift from her nieces and nephews: Mrs. Norman Peterson and Ken Gustafson of Thief River Falls, Mrs. A. C. Tiedeman of Carmichael, California, Charles Gustafson of Dayton, Ohio and Ralph Gustafson of Morrison, Illinois.

Maureen B. Morrison To Wed Frank Barzen

Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Morrison announce the engagement of their daughter Maureen Bernadette to Frank Gross Barzen son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Barzen of Thief River Falls. The wedding will take place in St. John the Evangelist church Toronto, Ontario Canada, on April 18.

Miss Sharon Louze To Wed James Mitterling

Mr. and Mrs. Neary Louze of this city announce the engagement of their daughter Sharon Janet, to James R. Mitterling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Mitterling of Warroad.

The bride-elect is presently attending school in Minneapolis while her fiance is with the Armed Services of the United States and is employed at Evanston hospital, Evanston, Ill.

Housewarming Party Held at L. Martinsons'

A housewarming party honoring Mrs. Lila Martinson, Sharon and Larry, was held on Sunday March 15 at their new farm home which was recently completed. A social afternoon was spent. Mrs. Martinson was honored further, since it was also an observance of her birthday which occurred on March 11. She was presented with a birthday cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Frank Hible. The Martinsons were given a gift of money from the group. The self-invited guests then served a potluck lupper.

Those attending included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kalsnes and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hible, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swenson, Mrs. Esther Solseng, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Solseng and family, of Norden; Mr. and Mrs. William Puppe, Mrs. Stanley Beba, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hible and Dawn; Joe Jagol, and a visiting guest, Mrs. Louise Iverson of Thief River Falls.

LDA Mother-Daughter Luncheon Plans Made

Silver Creek LDA held its regular meeting on March 17, opening the program with singing of the theme song, "Break Thou the Bread of Life."

Discussion was held concerning the selling of cards to raise funds, but the idea was abandoned. Committees for the Mother-Daughter luncheon were set up, and the members voted to turn the funds over to the ladies' aid.

On the program was a song, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," and devotions by Martha Torgerson, who also assisted Margaret Rupprecht in giving Bible study. The reading for March was given by Darlene Iverson and the offering meditation was by Melrene Nelson. The group sang the table prayer, recited "The Lord's Prayer" and then played games, after which hostess Margaret Rupprecht served lunch.

'Finance' is Topic At Monday's BPW Supper Meeting

Stanton Dahlen, president of the First Federal Savings and Loan in Thief River Falls, addressed the March meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club Monday night, March 16. Meeting in the Terrace Room of the Rex cafe, the group enjoyed a 6 o'clock supper, after which Mr. Dahlen was presented to the group by one of his employees, Dorothy Morehouse, March program chairman of the general program on "Finance." He told of the romance associated with the making of home loans, especially to couples about to establish their first home. He explained loan procedures and other technical aspects of the business which he heads locally.

President Clarice Collins presided at the business meeting which was conducted after the program. Discussion was held on the cub's anniversary celebration here next month. A brief report on the District I convention held in Crookston on March 15 was presented by Ruth Wilson and preliminary plans were discussed for a bake sale to be held by the club next month at one of the local grocery stores. A capsule report of significant needs developments of the past month was given by Joanne Weduk.

Next meeting of the club will be on April 21, with Flora Allison as program chairman. Her topic will be "Public Relations," and will feature a Bell Telephone movie on telephone etiquette. The film is entitled "Manner of Speaking."

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. LAWRENCE AASE

A sweet and colorful ending to a perfect meal, apricot dessert will be found not too filling and yet will satisfy the yen for dessert. Spring calls for the light and pretty touch, which this recipe provides. It seems altogether fitting for the upcoming Easter feast.

APRICOT CHIFFON DESSERT

- 1 1-lb. 14 oz. can apricots, drained. (Reserve 1½ cups of the syrup for later use.)
- 2 tablespoons apricot preserves or apricot jam
- 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatine
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 cup chilled whipped cream
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla
- ¼ teaspoon almond extract
- 1½ dozen (or two-thirds cup) vanilla wafers, crushed
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted

Put apricots through a sieve. Stir in the preserves or jam. In a saucepan, mix gelatine and sugar together and stir in the lemon juice and the reserved apricot syrup. Stir over low heat until gelatine and sugar are dissolved, and add this to the sieved apricots. Chill in refrigerator until syrupy. Blend the extracts into the whipped cream. Beat the gelatine mixture slightly. Fold in the whipped cream.

In a bowl, combine the crushed wafers with the melted butter and spread two-thirds of the crumbs in the bottom of an 8 inch square pan. Pour the apricot-cream mixture over the crumbs. Top with the remaining crumbs. Chill until firm, and serve to 8 or 9 pleased diners.

A son and daughter round out the Aase family. Neil, now married, lives in Minto, N.D. His name will be recalled by hockey fans as a member of the local team which captured state championship honors in 1954. His sister Janice, also married, resides in Sioux Falls, S.D. She and Neil have added 3 grandsons for "Grandma and Grandpa Aase" to be proud of.

Mr. Aase is a carman on the Soo line and is employed in the local yards. He and Mrs. Aase are music and TV fans, and relax with good magazines during many wintertime hours. In summer, they garden, and spend many enjoyable hours maintaining a cabin on Maple Lake, and boating and fishing. They have always enjoyed these pastimes and with the children also shared a great interest in sports.

Local Teachers to Go to Delegate Assembly of MEA

41st Annual Meeting Is Scheduled for April 3 and 4 in St. Paul Hotel

Nearly 200 delegates will attend the Minnesota Education association's 41st annual Delegate Assembly April 3-4 in the Hotel St. Paul.

The MEA Delegate Assembly is the governing body of the state's largest professional organization and is charged with the responsibility of determining overall policy and for guiding the actions of its elected officers.

"The democratic makeup of our legislative body is indicated by the jobs its members hold," explains Dr. Irvamae Applegate, MEA president and dean of education at St. Cloud State college. "Elected directly to represent our more than 33,000 members in the eight geographic divisions are 103 secondary teachers, 36 elementary teachers, 37 administrators, and 15 from colleges, special schools and other areas."

Representing Thief River Falls will be Lawrence Brown, MEA director; and Francis Hamerlinck, Ted Hellie and Ted Mills, delegates. Other delegates from this area include Dr. David Brown, Goodridge; James Turgeon, Oklee; and Betty M. Johnson, Roseau.

Moorhead College to Tighten Admissions

Moorhead State college will initiate next fall a limited slective admissions policy which has been sanctioned by the Minnesota State College Board, Dr. John J. Neumaier, president, announced. The new regulations will appy to applications for admission received after April 23, 1964.

Under the recently-adopted admissions policy, new freshmen will be admitted if they rank on or above the 38th percentile in their high school graduating class or if they earn a composite score of 16 or more in the American College Test. Admission denials will be considered only for those students who have both an ACT score of less than 16 and who also rank below the 38th percentile in their class.

An applicant who is denied admission and who wishes to present other evidence of college ability may do so. This appeal will be considered by a special faculty committee, President Neumaier pointed out. Students who are accepted on the basis of an appeal will be admitted for a one quarter probationary period during which they will be required to earn a "C" average in a normal program of 12 credits or more.

Deadlines for applying for admission also have been established at the college. The deadline for applying for admission for the fall quarter, 1964 has been set for August 14, 1964.

In commenting on the new admissions policy, President Neumaier emphasized that the minimal entrance requirements adopted, coupled with appeal provisions, makes it "highly unlikely that students who can do successful college work will be denied the opportunity to do so."

The new regulations were proposed as one means of coping with the high dropout rate at Moorhead State College. College studies over the past five years indicate that about 45 per cent of the entering freshmen at Moorhead State College do not last beyond the first year, nearly 80 per cent of these for academic reasons. Very few students in the lower ranks covered by the new policy would ever finish the first year under retention standards currently enforced at Moorhead State College.

Bemidji Man Finalist for Teacher of Year

Seven men and four women — from a second grade teacher to a college professor — make up the honor roll of teachers in the search for the 1964 Minnesota Teacher of the Year.

One of them will be named Teacher of the Year during a luncheon April 6 in the Minneapolis' Sheraton-Ritz hotel.

The finalists in the search were among some 100 nominated from 79 communities and were among 31 "teachers of excellence" announced recently.

Harold Cantor, English and journalism teacher in North High school of the North St. Paul-Maplewood school district.

Carl J. Ostrom, audio-visula director in Cannon Falls public schools.

The Teacher of the Year search is sponsored jointly by the Downtown Council of Minneapolis and the Minnesota Education association (MEA). Purpose is to bring to public attention the thousands of outstanding teachers in the state, who will be symbolized by the person selected. That person will be eligible, too, for the national Teacher of the Year award.

Urges Compliance in Wheat Program

Marshall County ASCS Says, 'Heed Allotments

Marcel Dahl, chairman, Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, stresses the importance of compliance under the 1964 wheat program.

In order to be eligible for price support and receive full wheat history acreage credit for 1964 the producer must stay within his 1964 wheat allotment shown on the notice mailed to him on April 22, 1963. There is no wheat diversion program for 1964. Anyone overplanting his 1964 wheat allotment will receive his allotment as base credit and not full credit for his wheat-base. This will make a reduction in his wheat allotment on his farm beginning in 1966.

Having guests? Call the Times

JUDGING at the Pennington county 4-H favorite food show Saturday was conducted by Mrs. Leslie Matts of Thief River Falls. She is shown asking questions about food preparation and nutritional values at one of the 32 tables arranged by 4-H club members for the event. The show is designed to provide experience to 4-H club members and make demonstrations easier at competition later in the year.

SETTING an attractive table at the Pennington county 4-H favorite foods show on Saturday in the Thief River Falls city auditorium was Linnae Hanson, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hanson of Thief River Falls. Linnae is in her second year of 4-H club work and is enrolled in the snacks and luncheons project. Exhibiting at the favorite foods show for the first time, she used "Scotcheroos" as her favorite food.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Carolyn Offerdahl

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Even though you are 60, 70 or more years of age, do not "retire" from good eating habits. All of your life you need foods that will give you protein, minerals, vitamins, energy and warmth.

Unless you have a special health problem, you should continue to include in your daily diet the following: (1) milk products; (2) meat, poultry, fish, eggs or dry beans and peas as occasional alternates; (3) bread and other cereal products; and (4) fruits and vegetables. Some fats and sweets may be included in this diet. In other words, include the basic four.

If you cook for two, or just for yourself, the 'large economy size" is no bargain. Part of it will grow stale or spoil before it can be used and leftovers can be dull. When you do have leftovers, do make a new and interesting dish by combining them with each other or with freshly prepared foods.

You can prepare a nourishing meal even on a one-burner hot plate. A one dish meal that includes meat and vegetables is an example of this. You can also cook one food in the bottom of a double boiler while another warms on the top. Food cooked in a heavy, covered pot will stay warm while you use the burner to cook the other.

If you do not want to set the table, prepare an attractive tray and take it to the television or that window with a view. In any case, make meal time pleasant — and include the basic four.

No. Central Shows Less Profit in '63

North Central Airlines, Inc., Thu. reported increased revenues but lower profits for 1963. Revenues were $28,101,209, up from $27,159,551, while profits dropped to $505,711 from $534,333.

Red Lake Electric Co-op Will Hold Annual Meeting

Election of Directors, Reports of Officers To Take Place at Oklee

Election of three directors and reports of officers will be featured at the annual meeting of Red Lake Electric Cooperative to be held Wednesday, April 1, in the Oklee high school auditorium. Leonard Melin, president of the board of directors, will preside at the meeting.

Member registration will begin at 10 a. m. so that capital credit payment checks may be distributed. The registration desk will remain open until 12:30 and members of the cooperative are urged to register as early as possible.

Speaker for the meeting will be Edward E. Slettom, executive secretary of the Minnesota Association of Cooperatives. He is a former deputy commissioner of agriculture in Minnesota and is a graduate of the University of Minnesota college of agriculture.

Futher details on the annual meeting and the speaker will be published in a later edition of the Times.

Pennington Has 5 In Attendance at Welfare Event

Five board and staff members from the Pennington county welfare office attended the 71st annual Minnesota Welfare conference held last week in Minneapolis. Benjamin Youngdahl, director of the graduate school of social work at Washington university in St. Louis, Mo., was the main speaker.

Attending from Pennington county were Mrs. Beverly Rongen, Burton Kvernevig and Ronald Mooers, staff members, and Merle Lindberg and Donald L. Olson, board members.

F. Roger Headley, director of the Beltrami county welfare board, was president of the conference.

FIF Distributes Regular Dividend

More than 110,000 shareholders of Financial Industrial Fund received quarterly dividends of $0.024 per share from investment income recently according to Ralph A. Luhman of Thief River Falls, district manager.

Total payment came to $1,423,448 and will raise to $39,085,441 the distributions from ordinary income since the inception of F. I. F. 29 years ago.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Gjernes

Time (that evasive article we are given so little of, to do so much in) can best be spent doing something constructive! Various people have various interpretations of the word "constructive". . . and that which seems so to some, may not be thought so to others! Obviously, this is the reason so many hobbies have been invented by the creative-minded. . .so individuals can pick and choose!

Your librarian, well aware of the individual tastes of the borrowing public, tries (and most successfully) to stock the shelves with volumes of interest to the hobby-seeker as well as to those "established" in their off-the-job 'work'. The purchasing of books takes a great deal of time and market-study, as well as the knowledge of desires of the borrowers. Limited buying power and hundreds of items to choose from makes buying books for the general reading public a rather ticklish job! Your librarian does an excellent piece of work along this line. . .just visit neighboring libraries and you'll be able to best judge your own.

But, librarying is a profession . . .so back to the hobby department. Two new books in this broad category are, 'How to Make Your Own Picture Frames" by Ed Reinhardt and Hal Rogers, and "Picture Framing" by Edward Landon. One is equally as good as the other. However, the former is photographically illustrated, profusely, along with clear, concise text, while the latter has marginal line drawings to show the different steps involved in the framing process.

Another new book, one sure to be popular, is "Decorating with Pods and Cones" by Eleanor Van Rensselaer. The author begins her book by describing the availability of materials and the joys of collecting them. There's a chapter on preparation of materials and one on design and mechanics. The author's step-by-step directions are easy to follow. The projects range from large 'trees' to miniature arrangements for place cards and match boxes. Those who have become interested in treating and arranging dried pods and cones will find this book one of the best "textbooks" on the subject. Those searching for a hobby will attempt to form at least one of the artistic arrangements illustrated.

Many paint china as a hobby (and it can certainly turn into a lucrative one, should the hobbyist care to sell the wares!) Ruth Little covers the subject of "Painting China for Pleasure and Profit" admirably in her book.

And, for the pleasure-seeking individual who volunteers "just give me a good book...I'm happy" the library is akin to paradise! Good books cover the walls and burden the tables...books to live by, to dream by, to learn by!

One of the newest in the last category is William O. Douglas' (that's the Supreme Court Justice Douglas) newest called "Freedom of the Mind". Justice Douglas presents his thoughts on freedom of speech and communication; he considers legislative investigations into the rights of Americans...and he takes a good, long, hard look at censorship. One of his remarks about it is, "The real purpose is to make the public live up to the censor's code of morality...the desire to protect either juviniles or society turns out to be a pretense." Justice Douglas says in his book, "If we are to have freedom of the mind, we must produce a generation of men and women who will tower above the press, as well as the crowd, and make tolerance for all ideas the symbol of virtue."

So...enjoy one of your great American rights...the right to choose any book you want to read, about any subject...in your own public library!

Borrowing is not a very good habit to foster, unless it is public library borrowing! The doors are open from noon-to-nine. Why not come in and take home a "cup of pleasure"...just to be neighborly!

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

by Bill Dahlquist

In Mexico City I stayed at a good hotel but one that would not rate among the swankiest. The room rate was $125 a day but this was in terms of Mexican dollars which were worth 8½ cents in our money. So actually the room cost was roughly $10 a day, a little less than what comparable facilities would cost in our country.

The low buying power of the Mexican dollar, generally referred to as a peso, was due of course to several periods of inflation when several Mexican administrations bought temporary prosperity by spending more than taxes would produce, resulting in huge debts that could be paid eventually only by a devalued currency.

Incompetent, and sometimes dishonest, politicians in our country have at times resorted to this plan for securing temporary prosperity, followed inevitably by difficult periods of adjustment. Our unwillingness to face our financial problems realistically has reduced the buying power of our dollar to 38 cents.

The economists who deserve our confidence are generally agreed that our present program of cutting taxes, along with increased spending, will bring a period of temporary prosperity that could prove to be disastrous. The Mexican spenders did not spend Mexico rich and recent Mexican administrations have had considerable respect for balanced budgets. There is much truth in that old saw that while wise men learn by the mistakes of others, fools can learn only by their own.

A report on labor conditions and labor organizations in Mexico, issued last August by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor, in cooperation with the Agency for International Development, presents an interesting picture. It states that:

> "According to the (Mexican) labor law all workers are entitled to join unions and engage in collective bargaining except managers, administrators and others considered to be representatives of employers (confidential employees). 'No workers may be forced to join or not to join a union, but a union has a right to request and obtain from an employer the discharge of members who resign from, or are expelled by, the union.'

In general the overall labor problems in Mexico seem to be similar to the labor problems here in the states. Quoting again from the report:

> "In the 1930's the major issue in labor-management conflicts was labor's demand for union recognition. Today this issue provokes little conflict. Most conflicts now relate to union demands for higher wages, more fringe benefits and better working conditions and to union-management, interpretations of existing contracts or existing law. In certain industries layoff of unnecessary workers is a major issue in labor - management conflicts. Management wants to modernize with consequent reductions in the work force and the unions want to protect member's jobs."

These are basically the same as the labor problems we have in our country. There are three interests to be considered—the selfish interests of the employers, the selfish interests of the employed, and the public interests.

My guess is that eventually these problems will be resolved in the best interests of the public. That is the only logical solution. In a highly competitive world market we must encourage efficiency in all branches of production, including that very important factor in the cost of production, the steadily increasing cost of government at all levels. Reasonable solutions for these problems must be found both north and south of the border.

As I see it the reasonable solution for the problems of automation is to pass along the benefits of increased efficiency to the consumers of the world in the form of lower prices. If we could reverse the present trend to steadily increasing prices and give to the American dollar and the Mexican peso greater buying power rather than less, the increased demand for goods thruout the world would gradually put an end to surpluses and unemployment.

It is my guess that the leaders of Mexico have come closer to recognizing the soundness of such a solution than have the leaders of our country. The one-party system, as it has developed in Mexico, seems to have made possible a more reasonable approach to economic problems than we have been able to achieve politically with our partisan politics and solutions that appeal only to mass hysteria.

The Mexicans seem to have learned some important lessons from the mistakes they made years ago, resulting in the inflation that gave them an eight cent-dollar. I was favorably impressed by the calm campaign-year approach of the government south of the border to the many problems with which their nation is confronted. The conduct of our leaders in recent years has left much to be desired.

NEWLY remodeled interior of the Amundgaard-Lunke Implement company in Thief River Falls is shown in the above photo. New parts bins, paneling, light fixtures, window glass and other items were made necessary as a result of a fire late last year. A new ceiling was also installed and the entire interior of the building was repainted.

7th District GOP Convention Set

Session Scheduled in Moorhead April 17-18

The 7th district Republican executive committee at a recent meeting in Fergus Falls set April 17 and 18 as the dates for the 1964 district Republican convention and chose Moorhead as the site. Duane Lund of Staples, district GOP finance officer, was named to serve as convention chairman.

The naming of chairmen for various convention committees awaits respective party county convention selections of representatives to district committees.

In addition to the county chairman and county chairwoman, each county is entitled to name one voting delegate and one alternate for each 550 votes or major fraction thereof cast in the November 1962 election for former governor Elmer Andersen.

Major agenda items at the district convention in Moorhead will be the election of two delegates and two alternates to the national Republican convention, which opens July 13 in San Francisco.

The district convention will include passage of resolutions on key issues and consideration and possible adoption of endorsements for state office candidates.

Kittelson Heads District Social Security Office

Clifford Kittleson, manager of the district Social Security office at Norfolk, Neb., for the past seven years, has succeeded Walter D. Kistler as district manager of the Grand Forks office of the Social Security administration. The district includes 17 counties in Minnesota and North Dakota.

Kistler has been transferred to the St. Louis office of the administration. Kittleson began work with the Social Security administration in 1948 at Fargo, N.D. He visited at the Times briefly on Tursday as he was traveling thourghout the district to introduce himself to people in the area his office serves.

Marine Corps Taking 3-year Enlistments

The regional Marine recruiting office in Minneapolis has announced that for a limited period of time, the U. S. Marine Corps will be accepting an increased number of three-year enlistments. Although three and four-year enlistments have been available in the past, the three-year enlistments have been limited. An increase in Marine recruiting quotas has necessitated this temporary change in policy.

Woolworth Buys State Products for Lunchrooms

Pork turkeys, eggs, butter and potatoes purchased for Minnesota and other producing areas by the F. W. Woolworth Co. reached a record high in 1963 for the fourth straight year.

Purchases exceeded 2,400,000 pounds of pork, 5,500,000 pounds of eggs, 1,850,000 pounds of butter and 16,000,000 pounds of potatoes during the past year, said H.W. Bode, vice president of restaurant operations for the 85-year-old retail merchandise chain in a year-end report.

Woolworth now serves more than one million people each day through its 1,706 luncheonettes and 23 cafeterias, located in all 50 states, according to the report. Its facilities can seat 70,587 persons at one time. Woolworth is the largest purveyor of prepared food in the world.

Gully Bonds Sold To Gonvick Bank

Northern State Bank of Gonvick, in combination with the First National Bank of St. Paul, was the successful bidder on $150,000 in general obligation bonds sold by the Gully school district Tuesday evening. Interest rate was 3.6806 per cent. Orville Calhoon, clerk of the district, said the board will call for bids on construction of the new building as soon as plans are completed by the architect.

Red Lake County Centenarian Dies in RLF on Monday

Peter Lefalvre, age 100 years and two months, died Monday evening at St. John's hospital, Red Lake Falls.

Mr. Lafalvre was born Jan. 16, 1864 at Buffalo, Minnesota. At the age of 12 he came with his parents, the late Peter J. and Matilda Berthume Lefalvre, to Gentilly. When a young man he homesteaded in Terrebonne township where he farmed for many years. He was also employed by various farmers in the Terrebonne and Red Lake Falls area.

He never married. Survivors include a brother-in-law, Alcime Juneau, Sr., of Red Lake Falls, and 352 nieces and nephews to the fifth generation.

Emma T. Tandberg, Retired Northrop Principal, Dies

Funeral services are set for Tuesday afternoon, March 24, at 2 o'clock at Trinity Lutheran church for Miss Emma T. Tandberg, a lifelong resident of Thief River Falls, and for many years the principal of Northrop school here, preceding her retirement. Rev. Reuben Wangberg will conduct the services. Interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery, with Sinding's Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements.

The body may be viewed at the funeral chapel until noon on Tuesday and at the church for one hour prior to the services.

Steven Goodrich, 6, Dies Suddenly At Fargo Hospital

Steven Goodrich, 6 years old, passed away suddenly at the St. John's Hospital, Fargo, N. D. Sunday morning. Steven was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Goodrich of this city.

Funeral services will be conducted in the Mission Covenant Church, with arrangements pending at the Green Funeral Home.

William A. Olson, 87, Dies At RLF Mar. 19; Rites Tues.

William Arthur Olson, 87, died at Hillcrest Nursing Home in Red Lake Falls on Thursday afternoon, March 19. His death was sudden and unexpected.

Funeral services are set for Tuesday afternoon, March 24, at Bethany Lutheran church of Red Lake Falls, with Rev. Clinton Erickson officiating. Interment will be in the Folden cemetery near Holt. Peterson Funeral Home of Red Lake Falls is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Olson was born January 19, 1877, at Hinsdale, Ill. The family moved to Worthington Minn., when he was still a youngster, and he grew up there. On September 23, 1903, he was united in marriage to Miss Ann Marie Erickson at Worthington. They moved to Battle Lake in 1913, and he lived there until 1925, which was several years following the death of his wife. Early in the '40s, Mr. Olson went to live with a daughter on a farm near Holt. He worked in various capacities for several years, and about 15 years ago moved to the Red Lake Falls area, where he worked for the June grass companies as well as for A. S. Moran. He had been a guest at the nursing home for the past several years.

Surviving Mr. Olson are his daughter, Linnea Marie (Mrs. John Ness) of Newfolden; three grandchildren; one brother, Edwin, and two sisters, Miss Anna Olson and Mrs. Alma Albinson, all of Worthington. He was preceded in death by five brothers and sisters.

Relatives and friends may call at the funeral home on Monday afternoon and evening, beginning at three o'clock, and at the church for one hour prior to the services.

Mrs. Brekkestran Dies Suddenly At Gatzke at Age 51

Funeral services were held at the United Lutheran church at Gatzke on Saturday, March 21, for Mrs. Leonard Brekkestran, who died suddenly at her home near Gatzke on Tuesday morning, Mar. 17. Rev. Andrew Kubik officiated at the services. Interment was in the Moose River cemetery near Gatzke. Funeral arrangements were by Collins Funeral Home of Middle River.

Mrs. (Evelyn Haugen) Brekkestran, who was 51 years at the time of her death, was born April 7, 1912, in Marsh Grove township, Marshall county, Minn. She attended school and grew to womanhood near Newfolden. On June 24, 1932, she was married to Leonard Brekkestran at Newfolden, and they lived in the Newfolden community until moving to Gatzke in 1936.

Survivors include her husband; six sons, Melroy, Minneapolis; Wendell of Thief River Falls; Arvin, with the U.S. Army at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., Earl, Galen, and Dwight, all of Gatzke; five daughters, Mrs. Larry Dahl (Irma); Arlette, Janet, Bonnie and Lynelle, all of Gatzke. She is also survived by 10 grandchildren, two sisters, and five brothers. She was preceded in death by one daughter, her parents, one grandchild, and one brother.

Louise Ptacek Rites Held Here On Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise (Joe) Ptacek 91, longtime resident of Cloverleaf township and lately of Thief River Falls, were held at Sinding's Funeral Chapel on Saturday, March 21, with Rev. Dean Headley officiating at the rites. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery, with arrangements handled by Sinding's.

Mrs. Ptacek died on March 17 at Northwestern hospital of this city.

She was a native of Germany, having been born there on February 7, 1873, and receiving her elementary education in that country. She came to the United States with her parents in 1887, and they settled in Klemme, Iowa. In 1890 she married Joe Ptacek at Spillville Ia. They farmed in Iowa for some years before homesteading in Pennington county in the year of 1904. They lived on the same farm for 57 years, moving to this city in 1961. Mr. Ptacek died in 1962.

Surviving Mrs. Ptacek are two daughters Annie (Mrs.Clem Sebek) of Claire City, S. D. and Emma, (Mrs. Henry Klockman) of Goodridge; two sons, Charles, of Thief River Falls, and Albert of Silverton township; 19 grandchildren, 31 great-grandchildren; two great-great-grand-children, and a sister Mrs. Minnie Wenz, Goodell, Ia.

In addition to her husband she was also preceded in death by two daughters.

Signe Svedal, Former Teacher Here, Dies at 66

Word was received here of the death in St. Paul on March 13, of a former teacher in the Thief River Falls public school system, Miss Signe B. Svedal, 66 years of age.

She was interred March 16 in Roselawn cemetery at St. Paul.

Miss Svedal taught in Minnesota schools from 1920 to 1956, when she retired as principal of the Sandstone, Minn. high school.

The wedding that almost didn't happen!

A loan from Thorp made it possible...

The plight of this young couple is duplicated hundreds of times in the files of Thorp Loan & Thrift. They were devoted but without money to marry and set up housekeeping. As a fledgling dentist, his limited funds were earmarked for office equipment, not home furnishings and appliances.

But Thorp recognized their integrity in not rushing into things without help. They were warmly received with real Thorp courtesy — that hometown understanding of people's money problems — and offered a very prompt loan of $50 to $5000 or more, on convenient terms of up to 36 months.

They are happily married now, comfortably settled. And the low monthly payments to Thorp put no strain on the young dentist's income or on his bride's budget.

Thorp is in business to help all such good people, whether they are still establishing credit or already have achieved financial status. And you can easily borrow all the money you need — arranged for by telephone if you wish.

You are always welcome to discuss your financial problems with your Thorp office manager — assured of his sincere desire to help.

$228,000 SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS
INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 561
STATE OF MINNESOTA
(GOODRIDGE SCHOOL DISTRICT)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the School Board of Independent School District No. 561, State of Minnesota, will meet at the School Building in Goodridge, Minnesota, in said district, on Wednesday, the 8th day of April, 1964, at 8 o'clock P.M. for the purpose of receiving and considering the sealed bids for the purchase of $228,000 general obligation bonds of the district dated April 1, 1964, bearing interest payable January 1, 1965, and semiannually thereafter on January 1 and July 1, and maturing serially on January 1 in the years and amounts as follows: $8,000 in 1967; $10,000 in each of the years 1968 to 1974, both inclusive, and $15,000 in each of the years 1975 to 1984, both inclusive. All bonds maturing after January 1, 1974, are subject to redemption and prior payment, in inverse numerical order, at the option of the district, on said date and any interest payment date thereafter at par and accrued interest and a premium of 2% if redeemed on or before January 1, 1979, and without premium if redeemed January 1, 1980, or thereafter. Both principal and interest will be made payable at any suitable bank designated by the purchaser within 48 hours after the award or otherwise at the selection of the district.

The school district will furnish printed bonds in the denomination of $1,000 each, or at purchaser's request, part of the bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, and the approving legal opinion of Messrs. Howard, Peterson, LeFevere, Lefler and Hamilton, Minneapolis, Minnesota, both without expense to purchaser. Delivery will be made without expense to the purchaser anywhere in the continental United States, such delivery to be made within forty days after the date of sale, accompanied by customary final delivery papers including a certificate showing absence of litigation. The text of the legal opinion will be printed on the back of each bond and certified by the district clerk if requested by the purchaser.

All bids must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for School Bonds, Independent School District No. 561" and delivered to the undersigned prior to the above stated time. Each bid must be unconditional except as provided in this notice and must be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check or bank draft payable to the order of the "Treasurer of Independent School District No. 561" in the amount of at least $4,500, to be forfeited as liquidated damages in event the bid is accepted and the bidder fails to comply therewith.

Bids shall state one basic rate of interest from date of issue to maturity for all bonds having a common maturity date. Not more than five such rates shall be specified for the issue and the maturities may be split not more than five ways for the purpose of designation of such rates, provided that bids may provide that all or some of the bonds may bear additional interest evidenced by separate coupons in amount not exceeding $2,280. All rates and combinations of rates must be stated in integral multiples of one-quarter or one-tenth of one percent and not to exceed 5% per annum. The bid offering the lowest net interest cost (total interest from April 1, 1964, to stated maturities, less any premium offered) will be deemed the most favorable. No bid of less than par plus accrued interest to date of delivery or providing for a total interest rate on any bond for any period exceeding 5% will be considered. Oral auction bids will not be received. The right to waive any informality, to reject any and all bids and to adjourn the sale are reserved.

BY ORDER OF THE SCHOOL BOARD
A. B. Heltne
School District Clerk

Underrated Luverne Wins State Cage Meet

The Luverne Cardinals, champions of Region Two and rated a pre-tournament "dark horse", won the 1964 Minnesota state high school basketball championship on Saturday night by scoring 72 to 66 win over the Rochester Rockets in the finals of the three-day state tournament at Williams Arena court in Minneapolis.

In a game to determine third place in the tournament standings, the Edina-Morningside Hornets of Region Five, the tournament favorite, defeated the Proctor Rails of Region Seven, 85 to 67. And in a game to decide the tournament's consolation honors, the Bemidji Lumberjacks of Region Eight scored a 44 to 38 win over Hutchinson of Region Three.

Luverne, showing great strength on the boards, pulled away from the ever-trying Rochester in the final period to gain the 72 to 66 win, and earn the first state basketball title ever won by Luverne. With the score knotted at 55-55 with six minutes to play in the final period, Luverne racked up three field goals, and the Rochester club could not mount an attack that could overtake that point-advantage.

In state tournament first-round play on Thursday, Proctor, given high rating by the experts, was hard-pressed to hold off the rallying Benson squad from Region Six, winning by a 64 to 63 score. Luverne won its first-round game by overpowering Hutchinson, winning by a 65 to 50 margin. In Thursday night's play, Rochester defeated Anoka of Region Four, 61 to 54; and Edina, with a strong second half, defeated the Bemidji Lumberjacks, 58 to 44.

In tournament bracket play on Friday night, Luverne, with a surprising display of all-round strength defeated the Proctor Rails, 80 to 57. And the Rochester Rockets defeated the heavily-favored Edina club, 78 to 73, in a game that required an overtime period.

In consolation first-round play on Friday afternoon, Hutchinson, after gaining a lop-sided lead in the first period, was pressed to hold off Benson and win by a 57 to 52. And the Bemidji Lumberjacks, trailing by Anoka Tornadoes, 42 to 41, with but seconds of play remaining, won the game when forward John Dow, an all-state tournament selection, dropped in a field goal to give coach Bun Fortier's squad a 43 to 42 win.

In addition to some six million home loans for veterans, the Veterans Administration has guaranteed or insured 72,000 farm loans and more than 238,000 business loans.

Job Offices Seek Resort Workers

Now Listing People for Summer Work in State

"It is not too early for resort owners and tourist camp operators to begin placing orders for the personnel needs they expect to have this spring and summer," said Frank T. Starkey, commissioner of the department of employment security.

The 33 local offices of the state employment service are cataloging the skills of hundreds of college and high school youth of the state who are interested in resort and related summer jobs. Many are skilled along the lines of work needed and many have had good experience in the field. Others are eager to learn the business, Starkey said.

He pointed out that resorters who place orders early will have the best chance of getting the kind of help they need; although he emphasized that this type of referral service is carried out all summer long, wherever there is a demand.

The service is available throughout the state, and most of the applicants will consider any area. Registrants include waitresses, bus boys, cook helpers, cabin girls, dock hands, and hostesses; a supply of experienced cooks and maintenance people in the middle age-group are also registered, he said. Starkey urged resort operators to indicate their needs for help to the nearest State Employment Office.

Dentists Examine 205 Ninth Grade Students Here

Local dentists examined 205 ninth grade students in Thief River Falls school recently and written reports have been sent home with students to inform parents of findings and recommendations, according to Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse.

Examination showed that 59 students had no cavities, 18 had one cavity, 18 had two cavities, 18 had three, 19 had four, 12 had five and 42 had six or more. Fourteen students were recommended for one extraction while four needed two extractions, four needed three and one needed seven extractions.

Parkins Attends Lions Eye Bank Board Meeting

James M. Parkins, director of the Minnesota Lions Eye Bank association, attended a meeting of the board recently at the University of Minnesota hospital in Minneapolis.

Parkins noted that the Minnesota Lions Eye bank has been involved in more than 100 successful corneal transplants during its two and one-half years of operation.

Formation of a network of "ham" radio operators across the United States has taken place to assist in the program. These operators are on the air at 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. (CST) each day to provide emergency assistance. To date the radio operators have had 26 emergency calls and been successful in answering all of them.

Persons interested in donating their eyes to the eye bank at the time of their death may receive eye bank membership cards from Parkins at Parkins Corner Drug in Thief River Falls.

Six Children Die In North Dakota Fire Wednesday

Six members of the John D. Hills family at Bowesmont, N. D., perished in a house fire early Wednesday morning. Dead are Daniel, 11; Barbara, 9; Dickie, 8; Patty, 6; Billy, 4; and John Jr., 2. Only survivors are the parents, who were attending a card party in St. Thomas, and their 13-year-old son Michael.

According to reports, Michael discovered a small blaze in the living room near the oil burner. He shut off the burner, awakened his brothers and sisters and the three older children followed him outside in their night clothes. He then ran to the Leo Burke home two blocks away to summon help.

The older children had apparently re-entered the home in an attempt to save their younger brothers and sister. Bowesmont is located in Pembina county about nine miles north of Drayton.

FIRST Canada geese arrived at Agassiz National Wildlife refuge March 16, according to Ralph Town, acting refuge manager. Twelve geese were observed on the ice in headquarters pool, having arrived a week earlier than last year and joining six mallards observed March 12. More than 100 pairs of geese are expected at the refuge again this year with nesting activity to be underway by mid-April. People driving through the refuge are asked to watch for geese along the road as the birds are sometimes slow to give up the right-of-way as they attempt to defend their nesting territories.—Photo by Jim Thompson.

Congratulations to Bun and the Jacks

The Bemidji Lumberjacks upheld the prestige of Region Eight Bemidji style basketball in particular, by winning the consolation honors in the state tournament that was concluded in the Williams fieldhouse in Minneapolis on Saturday night.

Bemidji, after dropping their first-round game to the highly-rated Edina Hornets, 58 to 44, came back to defeat Anoka, the Region Four champions, 43 to 42, and Hutchinson, the Region Three champions, 44 to 38, in consolation play. And during the process of winning the consolation honors, the Lumberjacks provided the fans with an exhibition of tough, competitive style of basketball that is the trade-mark of Bun Fortier's teams. Although beaten by Edina by fourteen points in a first-round championship bracket game, Bemidji did not panic, and for better than two periods of the game the Jacks played the Region Five champions on even terms.

John Dow, Bemidji's right forward, was named to the all-tournament team, and it must be noted that Dow is only a junior and will return for next season's basketball campaign. Taking a long range view of Region Eight basketball, it appears that Bemidji will be just as solid and competent a team next season as they were this past season. In addition to Dow, coach Fortier will have the services of Bob Saeger, who took over at guard when Dick Fortier was injured, centers Duane Sheets and Howard Hoganson. And, of course, Dick Fortier, along with his twin brother Bob, will be back for their final season of basketball. talents of John Warford and Marv Hanson but not by so much that Bemidji won't be favored to win the Region Eight title again.

Unfortunate Scheduling

It was unfortunate that the four-team independent basketball tournament had to be slated for the same weekend as the state high school basketball tournament. The independent tournament, with teams from Red Lake Falls, St. Hilaire, Newfolden, and Thief River Falls competing, was sponsored by the Pennington-Red Lake Retarded Children Association. And there was plenty of action on the local gymnasium court on Friday and Saturday.

In Friday night's first-round games, the St. Hilaire Ridgerunners, in an overtime game, edged out the Newfolden team; and the Thief River Falls Independents defeated the Detroiters of Red Lake Falls.

In Saturday night's finals, the Thief River Falls, and the local club can put a solid team on the floor, defeated the St. Hilaire team.

But it was tough for the boys to run competition against the state high school tournament, and a later scheduling would surely have increased the attendance.

Miscellany

Bobby Nick, son of former Prowler basketball and baseball coach, Bob Nick, was elected captain of the Concordia college basketball squad for the 1964-65 season. Bobby, who played grade-school athletics with the Washington team while his dad was coach here, played his high school basketball at Princeton. Bobby is a two-sport man with the Cobbers, being a quarterback on coach Jake Christianson's Cobber football squad. . .Doug Tegtmeier, former sportscaster for local station KTRF, and now with KNOX radio in Grand Forks, was named as radio sportscaster of the year for North Dakota. Doug was at the KNOX mike during the District 31 and Region Eight basketball tournaments played at Grand Forks. . .Bill Froiland gave me a news item clipped from the St. Paul Dispatch, and which was datelined, Bena, Minn. The item was as follows: "The body of Tom Sky, about 70, who had been missing since last November, was found Saturday in a heavily wooded area in the village of Bena. Deputy Sheriff Jim Godfrey said Sky had apparently frozen to death after losing his way. Sky was known as an amateur baseball pitcher a number of years ago." And there are many old-time baseball fans, particularly in the Red Lake Falls area, who will recall the pitching feats of Tom Sky. He was a southpaw, and a good one, and he pitched for the Red Lake Falls club during the years that Spider Yost managed the club. Sky was one of a number of fine Indian ball players who were in action in this area in those days. . .Frank Brosseau, one of the most promising baseball prospects to come out of the Drayton American Legion junior baseball club, has transferred from North Dakota U, where he spent his freshman year, to the University of Minnesota. Gopher coach Dick Seibert has a very high opinion of Brosseau's baseball talents. Frank is a fine all-round performer, being a high-average hitter, a steady fielder, and a first-rate pitcher. In case you missed my predictions in the state tournament cage tournament, I picked Edina to defeat Proctor for the state title. I continue to look good. It was Luverne over Rochester—and where did those two teams come from?

Two Men Address Lions at Luncheon

Dr. S. E. Pollman Tells of Anti-smoking Campaign

Guest speakers at the Lions club luncheon meeting last Wednesday noon in the Elks club rooms were Dr. S. E. Pollman of this city and Clayton Drake, detail man for Smith, Kline & French

Dr. Pollman supplied information on the five-day plan to stop smoking, which started with a meeting Sunday night, March 22, in the Lincoln cafeteria and continues there each evening at 7:30 through Thursday, March 26.

He stated that a similar program was held here last year with considerable success, and added that the need has been rendered more acute by the recent report of the U. S. surgeon general condemning the practice of cigaret smoking. Local sponsor of the campaign is the Seventh-Day Adventist church, and there is no charge.

Mr. Drake in his talk told of the development in recent years of many highly effective drugs, which have sharply reduced the number of deaths from tuberculosis, pneumonia, heart disease, diabetes and other diseases. He also defended current charges for prescriptions, which he said average $3.21 each, adding that prices have increased less than other commodities in recent years.

14 Cases Tried Last Monday in Municipal Court

Failure To Display '64 License Tabs Again Most Frequent Charge

Fourteen cases were tried in Thief River Falls municipal court on Monday and an additional case tried on Friday. Judge Stanley N. Mortenson presided at the trials with cases brought by the state highway patrol and city police department.

Patrol cases on Monday included Virgil Erikson, Middle River, no 1964 license tabs, fined $10; Lillian Thoreson, Goodridge, no driver's license, fined $30; Earl Woods, Oklee, no 1964 license tabs, $10 bond forfeited; and Larry Wayne Peterson, St. Hilaire, careless driving, personal injury accident involved, $100 bond forfeited.

Police cases included the following: Kenneth Noreen, rt. 3, leave the scene of an accident, fined $50 with $15 suspended; David Langseth, city, and Warren Larson, city, no 1964 license tabs, fined $10 each; LeRoy Derosier, rt. 5, Brainerd, speed, $19 bond forfeited; and one drunk. Forfeiting bond of $10 each on charges of having no 1964 license tabs were John Kostrzewski, rt. 3, Stephen; Miles Thorson, city; Milan Engen, city; Ralph Stinar, Warren; and Roy Storhaug, city.

Appearing on Friday was James Harbott of St. Hilaire who had appeared on Monday and pleaded not guilty to a reckless driving charge. He changed his plea to guilty on Friday and was fined $50.

Snow and Chilly Weather Usher in Springtime Here

Spring arrived in this area in an unseasonable manner, with a total of six inches of snow falling Thursday and Friday, the first precipitation of any consequence to be recorded to date in March.

Two subzero readings were recorded last week, with the mercury dropping to 10 below zero on Saturday. High temperatures were 35 Sunday and 30 last Thursday.

Additional snow was falling this morning, and was predicted to continue into Tuesday, with the extended five-day forecast calling for temperatures six to 12 degrees below normal.

Learning by Earning Important to Children

Learning by earning is a very important part of children's experiences. Should parents pay children for tasks they do around the house? Should children earn the allowances they receive? These are questions parents often ask.

Almost as soon as children begin to have any use for money, they also get the urge to earn some.

Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, Pennington county home agent, says it is difficult to take into account this very real need of children and at the same time keep them from being too money conscious.

Some parents insist children should earn every cent they receive. In these families children must earn their allowances, and they are paid for helping with household tasks. The result is, Miss Offerdahl says, that they grow to regard everything and everyone as having a price. Cooperation, mutual aid and similar values which make for emotional depth and richness tend to go undeveloped.

Other parents are afraid to pay children for performing duties about the house for fear of putting on a money basis services that should be given as a part of cooperative living. However, such concern is needless if the family is really a unit.

With every member having his share of responsibility, love and security so that a spirit of mutual helpfulness exists, the home agent stated.

In every home there are extra things to do—tasks that have to be done seasonally or that come irregularly—which give children chances to make a little money. An 8 or 9-year-old may have as his regular duties such tasks as picking up his toys and bringing in the milk bottles, but he might be paid for "extra" jobs like polishing silver or shining his mother's pans.

Children get real satisfaction from having something to show for their efforts at an age when there are no ways for them to earn money outside the home. The ingenious parent will think of many ways of giving children the thrill of earning small sums without endangering the child's willing cooperation when he is not paid for tasks, Miss Offerdahl says.

Motorists are cautioned by Triple-A to slow down and be extra alert while driving in parking areas at shopping centers. Remember to follow the lane markings and directional signs—they were put there for your protection.

Oklee Group Seeks Sr. Housing Loan

Applies for $200,000 Loan from FHA Agency

Formal application for a $200,000.00 loan for construction of an Oklee housing project for senior citizens was sent to the Farmers Home Administration in Washington Tuesday through its area office.

The sponsoring association now has 155 paid-up memberships in addition to 82 more persons who have expressed a desire to become members of the association.

Upon approval of the application the sponsoring association will incorporate as a non-profit organization and elect a board of directors.

The board in turn will oversee the construction and operation of the project which will provide low-rent modern housing for persons 62 years of age or over.

Baudette Bridge Tolls Fail to Meet Interest Charges

International bridge improved its dollar picture in 1963, the audit report on the Baudette-owned structure reveals, but the net loss for the year — following payment of interest on indebtedness — is substantial, despite the improvement over prior years, says the Baudette Region.

Net dollar loss in 1963 was $5,630, bringing to $37,163 the cumulative loss for 1961, 1962 and 1963.

The bridge showed gross operating income of $80,048 last year, and operating expenses were $28,820, but it left a net loss.

In 1961 net loss was $12,045, in 1962 it was $19,488.

Gully Co-op Plans Fertilizer Plant

Pending acceptance by the Farmers Union Central Exchange fertilizer department which will provide most of the financing, Farmers Cooperative Oil association at Gully plans to build a fertilizer blending plant at Gully.

Mike Peterson, manager, said that a building about 50x70 feet is planned for the plant with approximately an equal space for bagging and warehousing. It would be located along the railroad tracks west of the grain storage bins in the village.

Mrs. Conlon Cited For Bad Conduct

Princess Kay Chaperone Pays Fine in Austin

Mrs. L. H. Conlon of 1729 Snelling av. N., Falcon Heights, chaperone to Princess Kay of the Milky Way, appeared in municipal court in Austin last Tuesday and was fined $25 on charges of disorderly conduct and being drunk. The complaint was lodged by Mrs. Beverlee McKay, night clerk at the Red Cedar Inn, who alleged that Mrs. Conlon insulted her.

Princess Kay, Audrey Meyer of Clarks Grove, was not involved in the incident. She was asleep at the time and Conlon himself was not aware of Mrs. Conlon's jailing and court appearance until afterward, hotel officials said.

Mrs. McKay said that Mrs. Conlon had called to complain about accommodations, heat and the absence of a luggage rack in her room. When Mrs. McKay disconnected the phone to end the conversation, Mrs. Conlon renewed her complaints in person.

Mrs. Conlon, whose husband is manager of the Minnesota Dairy Industry committee, has been chaperone for all Princess Kay winners since the Princess Kay program originated at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls 10 years ago.

Teens Get Clothing Clues from Labels

A teenager does not need to be a Sherlock Holmes to solve the mystery of the fading shirt or the shrinking sweater. "All you have to do is read the labels and tags on the clothes you buy," says Miss Carolyn Offerdahl, Pennington county home agent. "Only these—not looks, feel or price — give any clues to the life of your clothing."

Never let a bow on a slip or buttons on a collar be your incentive to buy. Always investigate labels (sewn in) and the tags (hanging) before buying a garment. All the names, terms and instructions may overwhelm you at first, but they are your clues to good clothing. Learn what they mean. Then look for the following:

1. Fiber content. Whether it is wool, cotton or man-made—each behaves differently from the other. Knowing the fiber will help you know how well the garment will wear. Some fabrics are blends of two or more fibers such as "65 per cent Dacron and 35 per cent cotton." These possess characteristics of each fiber but act more like the one with the highest percentage.

2. Amount of shrinkage. You may find your skirt or slacks embarrassingly short, or your sweaters too snug, if you don't check this item. More than two per cent shrinkage is risky! The term "sanforized" tells you that the garment will not shrink more than one per cent. "Presrunk" means nothing unless it is followed by a line saying how much it will shrink. "Will not shrink," "shrinkproof," "unshrinkable", and "shrinkless", are meaningless and misleading. Every garment will shrink a little.

3. Color fastness. Most tags tell you if the garment is "fast" or keeps its color when exposed to sunlight or perspiration. They state if it is washable or if you should "dry clean only." A little sleuthing here prevents fading or staining later.

4. Any special finishes. These are bonuses for easy upkeep. Fabrics with such finishes may be labeled "water-repellent," "wrinkle-resistant," "stain-resistant," and so on.

5. Directions for care. In giving these, the label also warns you about the amount of effort needed to keep the garment presentable. Be sure it corresponds with what you're willing to do.

If you check the above on the labels or tags of garments, you will be more satisfied with the purchases you make, says Miss Offerdahl.

Editorials . . .

"Be courteous to all, but intimate with few; and let those few be well tried before you give them your confidence. True friendship is a plant of slow growth, and must undergo and withstand the shocks of adversity before it is entitled to the appellation. Let your heart feel for the affections and distresses of everyone, and let your hand give in proportion to your purse; remembering always the estimation of the widow's mite, that it is not everyone that asketh that deserveth charity; all however, are worthy of the inquiry, or the deserving may suffer." —George Washington

This Is Government?

According to Sen. Beall of Maryland, the federal government runs nearly 19,000 commercial and industrial businesses that are in direct competition with private concerns. The list has an almost infinite variety—from coffee-roasting plants to rum distilleries to printing and power plants to manufacture of medical and dental equipment to plastic-laminating—and even includes operation of movie theaters and ice cream plants.

A quotation from the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey states: "Uncle Sam's sole business is to govern and he has no business in any other business." Governemnt businesses commonly operate at a loss. We would prefer not to have the government operating business other than the business of government itself. That is a large enough task.

Both Good and Bad.

Organized labor has been severely criticized at various times throughout the nation—in many cases without justification if all the facts are known. Labor is a topic about which Americans take very definite sides, and neither side is entirely right or completely wrong.

There are both good and bad points to the labor movement—with the bad following the good as it does in most programs. Labor has been of primary importance to many working people, lifting them from suppressed positions of poor working conditions and low pay to a level of decent living. This was particularly true in the earlier stages of the movement..

ty was quoted on a number of comments favoring organized labor. Getty is described in the article as an oil magnate and industrialist and he is said to be the richest or second richest man in the world. Some of his quoted statements follow:

"I've usually found that organized labor is fundamentally fair—but it wants to know the facts. Unlike some businessmen, I've never objected to the activities of free, honest labor unions. I recognize the right of labor to organize and bargain with management, because I recognize the innate human urge to a better life.

'I've frequently observed that the most vociferous union haters of this type are individuals who demand for themselves identically the same advantages that they condemn organized labor for seeking. None but the most antediluvian specimens dwelling in the murky fens of reaction's lunatic fringe would want to turn the clock back to the sweatshop era. Enlightened modern-day business understands and accepts the need for trade unions.

"Free and honest labor unions have helped raise the living standards not only of the American worker but of every American citizen. The gains organized labor has won at the bargaining table have, by raising the workers' buying power, contributed materially to the country's growth."

These are some of the good points of organized labor. Particularly in recent years, the labor movement has suffered from some of the bad points. This is due to internal corruption by officials and is not the fault of the unions themselves.

Gangland tactics, political pressure, managed elections, underworld associations, corrupt leadership and dictatorial attitudes have all combined to give labor a bad reputation. Conviction of James Hoffa on jury tampering charges was the latest of these "bad flavored" incidents.

Labor may be likened to a family alarm clock which stopped running because it was neglected to be wound. Its inability to keep time is not the fault of the movement but of the people to which its keeping is entrusted. The same story applies to organized labor, and will continue to apply as long as workers are unwilling to concern themselves with making the movement tick.

Unfortunate Circumstance

Recently conducted in Thief River Falls was a fund-raising campaign by the national Easter Seal society. This society solicits funds for its operations in the state and nation and is the parent organization for many crippled children's societies throughout the nation.

In Minnesota, however, there is a right in the state and national organizations. The Minnesota Society for Crippled Children and Adults is entirely a state-only organization. It participates in United Fund campaigns to finance its operation which is directed toward aiding crippled children and adults in Minnesota. It is not affiliated with the national Easter Seal society.

This office recently received an "open letter" from the Minnesota Easter Seal Citizens' committee. The letter states: "Here are the facts: 89.7 per cent of the money raised stays in Minnesota...We have an active board of directors...The Society has been duly registered under Minnesota's charity law...All regulations have been complied with...Our programs will meet unmet needs in Minnesota...They will be non-duplicating...and finally, there is a tremendous need for our services, particularly in speech therapy, our highest priority."

There was a considerable amount of confusion arising from the campaign. Most people, including some of the solicitors, were not aware that the state and national societies were divided. Many contributions were made, we are informed, with the idea that the money would assist in such programs as Camp Courage. This camp is one of the state society's projects.

It is unfortunate that such a situation came about in the campaign, but perhaps the problem has been magnified beyond its importance. The fund drive last week was for the national organization, a worthy charity, and its work conducted in both the state and nation. It was not for the state society. Now that this is explained, it is best left alone for another year.

The Right Approach

We believe the Thief River Falls city council is taking the right approach toward providing natural gas service to Thief River Falls. It was the recommendation of the previous council that natural gas for the city be provided on a franchise basis by private enterprise. From all appearances it now seems that the present council also favors a franchise rather than municipal operation.

Information we have received indicates that there are several companies interested in serving Thief River Falls with natural gas. We believe that they should be given the opportunity to bid for a franchise and that the successful bidder should have the chance to make private enterprise work here.

Private utility companies throughout the nation have been doing the job of serving the public in excellent fashion. They have done this in spite of high costs of operation and high taxes. This is a credit to them and to our economic system.

On the natural gas situation, however, the federal government has been playing both ends against the middle. On one hand it has been attempting to stimulate taxpaying private enterprise with tax cuts, accelerated depreciation schedules and other aids. On the other hand it has been undermining private gas companies with handouts to municipal gas utilities.

During a recent six-month period the Community Facilities Administration handed out a total of nearly $4 million to municipal gas utilities. Between March of 1963 and a recent date the CFA has made grants to 17 communities for construction of gas distribution systems through the Accelerated Public Works program. These grants are, once again, a system of using public money to finance purely local activities.

Not only does the taxpayer lose his tax dollar on handouts like these, he loses the money which would be paid in taxes by a private utility doing the same job. He must also pay the bill for government agencies operating these programs. This makes him a three-time loser. We give the city council our vote for their decision in letting private enterprise get the job done in Thief River Falls. —

"Because that, my dear," he replied, "is exactly what I've got in the bank."

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

by Governor
KARL ROLVAAG

Recently the Minnesota Welfare Association held its 71st Annual Conference in Minneapolis. The theme of that conference was particulary appropriate for our time: "Wanted: Citizens' Participation in Welfare."

Two Basic Ways

To my mind, there are two basic ways to achieve citizen participation in public welfare programs exclusive of actually being a recipent. One of these ways is the pragmatic or "first hand look" approach, which is certainly preferable, and the other is through a strong informational program. Obviously it is extremely difficult to give every taxpayer a first hand look at how his dollars are being used to help other citizens attain useful and productive lives.

Double Barrels

The recent bus tours I have made to our mental institutions would appear to have proved particularly fruitful in gainging public support for state programs in mental health and mental retardation. On these tours private citizens, public officials and legislators have had first hand looks at the progress being made in our state institutions and have gone home to report on their findings. This combination of first hand experience with a willingness to infuse it into an informational program can be helpful in getting the "welfare story" to the people who care.

Positive Aspects

Much of what we have seen on these mental hospital and mental health centers was positive in nature. We were witness to valuable new treatment programs. We saw methods being implemented to "weed out" the patient who does not belong in the institution at all. We were shown that there are improved patient-staff ratios and the increased discharge of patients. We became convinced of the value of dedicated volunteers, observed a new recognition of patient's rights and needs, and saw the workings of dedicated staffs. We were shown through new buildings and shown new equipment.

Woeful Scenes

But there were woeful scenes and conditions, too. Throughout the system, for all the good things we saw and could mention, there was a counterbalance of the most foul circumstances. We were witness to inhuman overcrowding — dormitories and wards with beds almost touching, inadequate toilet and bathing facilities, lack of space for indoor exercise and recreation. In some places there is inadequate fire protection...fire traps which would stand condemned if they existed in our home communities.

Seeing is Believing

There is no doubt in my mind and in the minds of most of those who accompanied me on these visits that if all citizens could see what we had observed we would have far more extensive and enthusiastic citizen participation and understanding of the need to devote more time, money and attention to our less fortunate citizens. For our nation and our state are only as strong as the people in it. Each person who is deprived of the possibility of achieving a full and useful life in the community stands as a living detraction from the accomplishemnts of our own lives.

T.R. Falls Churches Arrange Good Friday and Easter Rites

The holy season of Lent will reach its climax this week-end, with special services scheduled in local churches Good Friday and on Easter Sunday, the day of Christ's resurrection.

Groups of churches have arranged for two joint services on Good Friday, in addition to which separate observances will be held in several other churches. Local stores will remain closed Friday between the hours of 12 noon and 3 p.m.

"Christ As They Saw Him" will be the theme of the combined Lutheran Good Friday service to be held at Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls from noon to 3 p.m. on Friday, March 27.

Ministers participating in the service are Rev. Frederick Arneson, Rev. R. A. Wangberg, Rev. Harold Peterson, Rev. Leland Steen, Rev. Dennis Rodin and Rev. Milton Wilson. Also participating will be student intern John Skarsten. Churches will also offer special music numbers.

Cooperating in Good Friday rites at the Mission Covenant church from 1 to 3 p.m. are the Evangelical Free, First Baptist, Our Saviors, Assemblies of God, Faith Lutheran and Mission Covenant churches; and the Salvation Army.

The Community Methodist church will conduct Good Friday services from 1 to 2 p.m., while St. John Lutheran church rites are scheduled from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

The Easter Sunday schedule at Trinity church includes a sunrise service at 6 a.m., Luther League breakfast at 7, and festival services at 8:30 and 10:20.

The Community Methodist church has arranged a Methodist Youth Fellowship Easter sunrise service at 7:30, followed by a breakfast; and identical festival services at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

A full schedule of Holy Week observances at St. Bernard's Catholic church will be climaxed Easter Sunday by low masses and holy communion at 6, 7 and 10:30 a.m.; and a high mass and holy communion at 8:30 a.m.

Zion Lutheran church will hold an early Easter service at 7 a.m., followed by a Luther League breakfast at the Rex Cafe at 8:30; and a festival service at 10:30, with music by the senior and children's choirs.

The Redeemer Lutheran church announces a sunrise service at 6:30 a.m., followed by festival services at 9 and 10:30. St. John Lutheran church will hold a sunrise service at 7 a.m., and festival services at 11. The Evangelical Free church has set its services for 11 a.m., and members of the Mission Covenant church also will worship at 11 a.m.

The First Baptist church has scheduled services for 11 a.m., with an Easter musical program set for 7:45 p.m. Our Saviors Lutheran church will hold services Sunday at 9:30 a.m., and the Assemblies of God will meet at 11 a.m.

DAMAGED in a two-car accident on highway 59 about one-half mile south of Thief River Falls at 3 p.m. Monday were the cars shown above. A station wagon driven north by Robert Schuehle Jr., Faribault, was reported to have skidded into the path of the Buick sedan (bottom photo), driven south by Leonard Berg of Plummer. Berg and Mrs. Erling Anderson, Plummer, passenger in the Berg car, are reported in good condition today at Northwestern Hospital. Mrs. Anderson's two children, also passengers in the car, were not injured. Treated and released from the hospital were Robert Schuehle, Jr., 17; his mother, Mrs. Robert Schuehle Sr.; a sister, Kathy, 10; and brother, James, 12. A fourth Schuehle child was not injured. The state highway patrol stated that the Berg car was returning to Plummer from Thief River Falls and that the Schuehle family was enroute to Thief River Falls to visit with Mrs. Schuehle's parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Jacobson.

Pennington Rural School Districts To Review Law

Discussion on the effects of the "closed school district law" will be held at the Highlanding town hall for all residents of the rural districts of Pennington county on Tuesday, March 31, at 8 p.m.

This law was enacted by the Legislature at its last session and provides that all non-operating school districts become part of an operating district by July 1, 1965, according to Dr. David M. Brown of Goodridge, Pennington county school administrator.

B. N. Hendrickson, consultant on school district reorganization for the state department of education, will be present to lead the discussion. Supt. Carl G. Quist of Oklee and Supt. M. R. Hankerson of Thief River Falls will also be on hand to discuss any questions regarding their schools.

All residents of Pennington county rural districts are urged to attend this meeting at 8 p.m. in the Highlanding hall.

Elks Lodge Elects Officers Mar. 26

The local Elks lodge will conduct its annual election of officers Thursday evening, March 26, it was announced today by Irvin J. Wilson, who is completing his term as exalted ruler. A steak dinner at 6:30 will precede the meeting.

Parcel Post Rate Increase Slated To Begin April 1

Rise of 13.1 Per Cent In Domestic Rates Is Announced by Postmaster

R. J. Dryden, Thief River Falls postmaster, reminded residents of Thief River Falls that an effective date of April 1 has been set for new domestic parcel post rate increases.

The parcel post increase — approved recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission and averaging about 13.1 per cent — is expected to yield about $75.4 million annually.

Catalog rates will be increased approximately 13 per cent and will produce added revenue of about $2.4 million if 1962 volume is maintained. The higher rates do not effect air parcel post or international parcel post.

Postmaster Dryden said he has been advised by the Postmaster General that the decision of the ICC will assist the post office department in carrying out its objective of reducing the drain on the federal treasury by $100 million. The last parcel post increase was on February 1, 1960, Dryden said.

To illustrate the effect of the new rates here, the postmaster noted that a six-pound parcel — which is the average weight — for local area delivery will cost 37 cents instead of 32 cents.

Drivers License Examiner Tests

Openings are available for drivers license examiners, according to an announcement by the Minnesota Civil Service commission. Applications will be accepted until April 3 at the Minnesota State employment office in Thief River Falls. The office is open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and application blanks and further information are available there.

Candidates should be high school graduates, must have minimum vision in each eye of 20-40 corrective to 20-20 and must be between the ages of 21 and 40 years. Age limits will be waived for veterans. Wage scale is from $400 to $487 per month.

County and City Offices to Close for Good Friday

In observance of Good Friday, March 27, county and city offices will remain closed all day, and the Chamber of Commerce has asked member business places to close between the hours of 12 noon and 3 p. m. while Good Friday services are in progress in local churches. The Carnegie public library will remain closed all day Friday.

Rites Tuesday for Emma Tandberg, Retired Educator

Former Northrop School Principal Dies at Age 74; Was Native of Community

Last rites were conducted for Miss Emma Tandberg, 74, at Trinity Lutheran church on Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. Reuben Wangberg officiating. Miss Tandberg, a retired Thief River Falls educator, died at Northwestern Hospital on Mrch 20 after only a brief illness.

She was a teacher, librarian, and finally principal in the city's public school system, serving for many years as teaching-principal of Northrop school.

Miss Tandberg was born in what is now Pennington county September 28, 1889, attended elementary school in Red Lake Falls and high school here. She graduated from Moorhead State Teachers' College, and also attended teachers' college at the University of Chicago. A member of Trinity Lutheran church, BPW club past vice president of the Elementary Principals' As's'n. of Minnesota, she spent her entire adult life in the field of education in Thief River Falls, serving until retirement in 1957. She was awarded a life membership by the Northrop Parent-teacher Ass'n. after she had retired.

Interment was in Greenwood cemetery, with Sinding's Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Miss Tandberg's survivors are three sisters, Miss Esther Tandberg, Thief River Falls; Miss Agnes Tandberg, Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. B. O. (Ida) Norby of Larkspur, Calif.; and two brothers, Elmer O. Tandberg of Garretson, S. D. and Theodore C. Tandberg of Minneapolis. She was preceded in daeth by four brothers.

Weather Here Is Un-springlike: 8 In. Snow and —13

Decidedly un-springlike weather prevailed this week in Northwestern Minnesota, with a total of eight inches of snow being recorded Monday and Tuesday on the airport gauge, and the mercury slumping this morning to a frigid 13 below zero.

The heavy snowfall, which will supply much-needed moisture to parched soil, in this area, was accompanied by high winds which hampered traffic by creating low visibility. Numerous meetings were canceled, and some area schools were closed.

Weather Cancels Red Lake County Taxpayers' Meet

Due to the heavy snowfall and high winds Monday evening, the scheduled meeting of the Red Lake County Taxpayers association was canceled, according to Dave Ostby, association chairman. Representatives of the Minnesota Taxpayers association had been scheduled to speak.

Charles P. Stone, general counsel, and Harold T. Miller, research director for the state association, will speak at the annual meeting of the Red Lake county association to be held April 16. Further announcements on the meeting will be carried in later editions of the Times.

Council Seeks Ordinance On Natural Gas Service

Appointment of a three-man committee to work with the city attorney in drawing up an ordinance for a natural gas distribution system was accomplished at an adjourned meeting of the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday evening. Named to the committee by chairman Arthur Christianson were aldermen Roy Jorgenson, Dr. A. E. Jacobson and Lowell Swenson.

It is expected that the ordinance can be completed in time for reading and discussion at the next regular meeting of the council in April. The ordinance would be a basis in calling for bids for a franchise operation on natural gas service to the city.

The council also adopted a resolution expressing opinion on the silt problem in the Red Lake river and requesting the U. S. government to conduct appropriate dredging. The resolution will be presented at a hearing to be held Monday at Crookston. Provisions of the resolution call attention to the uses of the river for power, water and recreation in the city and note that dredging up river has created a problem of silt residue above the dam in the city.

Exhibits attached to the resolution include information from the park board noting that last year an average daily use of swimming facilities involved 846 persons with a single day high of 2,037 swimmers. Information also states that the river channel has become filled and almost clogged in places, jeopardizing the water and power supply and recreational uses.

The airport committee was asked to be represented at a hearing to be held with Gov. Rolvaag in St. Paul. Representatives have been instructed to request state assistance in helping smaller communities in negotiation with the Civil Aeronautics Board and airline companies in regard to local service.

Employment of William Elleson on a full-time basis at the municipal liquor store was approved. Approval was also given to a contract with Schlecter Paint company for floor replacement and repair at the store.

A resolution was adopted to grant $35 per month additional to Max Jensen in his contract with the city for garbage collection. The addition is due to the annexation of Northwestern Trailer Court to the city, resulting in 52 additional collections.

Resolutions were also adopted to grant salary increases of $15 per month to Miss Frances Shanahan and $10 per month to Miss Bertha Hastad at Carnegie Public library, and $20 per month to each employee of the police department with the exception of the chief and clerk.

A hearing on city projects on Spruce avenue and LaBree av. S., was set for Monday, April 13, at 7:30 p. m. at the city auditorium.

Highway 59 To Be Improved on Canada Side

U.S. Work Planned Suggest Completion Of Highway in 1965

The Province of Manitoba's highway improvement program for the year 1964-1965 was announced Monday by Public Works Minister Walter Weir. The $36 million program he presented to the Legislature is of special interest on this side of the border because it includes the completion of trunk highway 59 to the border. As reported by the Winnipeg Tribune, highway 59 will be improved at three points as follows:

HIGHWAY NO. 59

HIGHWAY NO. 59 SOUTH

9.3 miles — Morden-Sprague Road to U. S. Border. Gravel base and asphalt surface treatment.

HIGHWAY NO. 59 NORTH (FLOODWAY DIVERSION)

9.8 miles — North Perimeter Highway — North. Base and pavement (4 lanes).

E. C. Pearson of this city, resident engineer with the Minnesota Highway department, states that the date for the letting of the unfinished mileage on this side of the border has been set for August 21 of this year. This letting calls for grading and bituminous surfacing of the new road along the Soo tracks southeast from Lancaster to 3.2 miles northwest of Lake Bronson. This should mean the completion of highway 59 from here to Winnipeg in 1965.

Olaf Dahlen Heads Automotive Unit of Trades Group

The automotive section of the Minnesota Trade and Industrial association held its spring clinic at the Willmar Community college. Twenty-five auto mechanics, instructors and coordinators from all major technical schools in Minnesota convened for the two-day meeting March 13 and 14. Olaf Dahlen, a Willmar college instructor, formerly of Thief River Falls, is chairman of the group.

Athletic Banquet Speaker Selected

Charles Benson, head basketball coach at North Dakota State university in Fargo, will be guest speaker at the annual Thief River Falls athletic banquet. The event will be held Monday, April 20, in the basement of St. Bernard's Catholic church in this city. The banquet has been sponsored jointly by the Rotary and Lions clubs, Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees.

INVOLVED in a car-train accident in Thief River Falls about 2:20 a.m. Sunday was this sports car driven by Donald Klopp, city. The car struck the train at Eighth street and was dragged 780 feet from point of impact. Klopp received head and face injuries and was hospitalized at Northwestern hospital before being transferred to Fargo Tuesday for oral surgery.

C of C To Offer Program of Noted Speakers April 3

Dr. Elmer Learn, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Minnesota, will keynote the First Annual Northwestern Minnesota Farm Forum to be held Friday, April 3, in Thief River Falls. The program will begin at 10 a.m. in the National Guard armory.

"The Minnesota Farmer in Foreign Trade" will be the theme of the forum which is sponsored by the agriculture committee of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Minnesota Extension service. Noon lunch will be served at a 25-cent charge and the forum program will continue in the afternoon.

Other noted speakers to appear at the forum will be Hon. Eugene McCarthy, U.S. Senator from Minnesota's Seventh District. definite confirmation has been received from all speakers, according to Fred Sorensen, chairman of the agriculture committee.

Speakers will be given time on the program to discuss the issues and implications of foreign trade on Minnesota farmers. Persons attending will be given opportunity to submit written questions to a panel comprised to the three speakers. Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington will serve as moderator of the panel.

Among topics to be discussed will be the European common market, wheat sale to Russia, imports and exports of grain, sugar and livestock, fundamentals and economics of foreign trade, St. Lawrence Seaway, foreign policy in relation to exports and imports and local implications of foreign trade.

The forum is designed to be of special interest to residents in Penfes, Sorensen said. There is no admission charge for the forum and all interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Sub-committee chairmen working on arrangements for the forum include Paul Stelmaschuk and Peter Probasco, program; John Wold and Vernon Nelson, food; Jon Metusalem and Marvin Lundin, publicity; and Harland Knutson and John Lang, clean-up.

Slettom To Speak

Red Lake Electric Meeting at Oklee

Edward E. Slettom

Edward E. Slettom, executive secretary of the Minnesota Association of Cooperatives, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of Red Lake Electric cooperative to be held Wednesday, April 1, at the Oklee high school auditorium. Leonard Melin, president of the board of directors, will preside at the meeting.

Three directors will be elected for three-year terms and reports will be given by officers of the association. Entertainment and movies are planned for the meeting in addition to a free lunch to be served at the conclusion of the session.

Early registration, beginning at 10 a.m., is being planned so that capital credit checks may be distributed, according to Charles M. Kleven manager of the cooperative. The registration desk will remain open until 12:30 p.m. and members are urged to register as early as possible to avoid congestion.

A concert by the Oklee high school band will begin at 12:30 p.m. and the meeting will be called to order at 1 p.m.

Sletoom's talk will be entitled, "The Important Role of Cooperatives in American Agriculture". Prior to his present legislative, educational and public relations responsibilities with cooperatives, he served as deputy commissioner of agriculture in Minnesota.

A graduate of the University of Minnesota College of Agriculture, he taught vocational agriculture at Fairmont, served with the armed services in World War II and was Rice county agricultural agent at Faribault from 1946 to 1951.

In addition to his present duties with the association of cooperatives, Slettom is a member of the board of directors for the Cooperative League of the United States, secretary of the state councils division of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, chairman of the Minnesota highway users conference and a member of the Attorney General's consumer advisory council.

Dairy Day Judge Has High-Ranked Guernsey Herd

Olaf Kjomme & Sons of Spring Grove Named Gold Star Guernsey Breeders

Olaf J. Kjomme and Sons, owners of Valleyland Farm at Spring Grove, have been named Gold Star Guernsey breeders for 1963 by the American Guernsey Cattle club. This is the second straight year the Kjomme's have won this coveted award. Kjomme has judged cattle at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls for several years.

Kjomme and sons met all of the high requirements for this award during the past year. Some of these requirements were that all Guernseys over eight months of age owned by the farm were registered, that the herd included at least 10 registered Guernsey cows with production records made official during the year with at least 70 per cent of them home-bred, that the herd was on official AR or HIR-DHIR test with a lactation average over 10,810 pounds milk or 525 pounds fat, 305-2Q M. E. and that 80 per cent of the cows with official records completed during the year were classified with an average score for the group of 82.5 per cent or better.

The production summary of Kjomme's herd showed 24 cows with 24 records averaging 11,410 pounds of milk, 550 pounds of fat, 305-2X M. E. and with an average classification for 24 cows of 84 per cent.

SOCIAL SECURITY MAN HERE TUESDAY

Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

Extension Class Opens Here Apr. 2

Bemidji College Course Postponed from Mar. 19

Bemidji State College extension classes at Thief River Falls will not start until Thursday, April 2, according to Dr. John C. Brady, director. The classes were originally scheduled to start March 19, but due to inclement weather they will commence April 2 at 6:30 p. m. at the Washington school.

Courses to be offered are Education 531, Methods of Research for graduate students, Music 400, Problems in Music and Education 311, or Education 302, Human Growth and Development.

Dr. Donald Churchill will teach the graduate course, Fulton Gallagher will teach the music course and Robert Baker will teach Human Growth and Development.

Anyone who registers after April 2 will be charged a five dollar late registration fee and no one will be permitted to register after April 9.

Claims Against State Are Due Not Later Than May 1

The State Claims Commission announces that its calendar of claims is becoming quite heavy with 123 claims to file to date, and in order to allow adequate time for consideration, hearing and decisions on claims to be submitted to the 1965 Legislature, such claims must be on file with the commission no later than May 1, 1964. The commission office is located at 109 State Capitol, St. Paul. The commission is composed of six members of the Legislature, whose duty it is to hear and adjudicate claims against the state. The chairman of the present commission is Representative John A. Yngve, Wayzata.

Trinity Women Host Speaker at Two Sessions

Mrs. Carroll Hinderlie, Minneapolis, will be guest speaker at the meetings of the two divisions of the Trinity Lutheran Church Women on Wednesday, April 1, at 8 p. m. and Thursday, April 2, at 2 p. m. She will speak on "Witnessing for Christ in Our Homes and Church". Special invitations have been sent to the churches in the area and the meetings are open to all women who are interested.

Mrs. Hinderlie is a sister of Mrs. Hans Chommie of Thief River Falls. The Hinderlies were in the Phillipines preparing for the mission field in China when World War II broke out and they were interned in a Japanese prison camp for three years.

Mrs. Hinderlie was listed by the "Christian Century" as one of the few women theologians in the United States. A graduate of St. Olaf college, she has her M. A. degree from the University of Minnesota and has attended the Universities of Oslo, Norway; Heidelburg, Germany, and Copenhagen, Denmark. She co-authored, "The Festival of Christmas", and for three years taught at Augsburg College.

Music for both meetings will be provided by the TLCW chorus under the direction of Mrs. Harold Peterson. The circles in charge are: Hannah and Deborah, program; Eunice and Mary, hostess; and Lois and Martha, hospitality.

G. S. Troop 87 Hosts at Party for Retarded

A delightful Easter party was given by girl scout members of troop 87 at the Day Activity center for retarded children on Saturday afternoon, March 21, at the Redeemer Lutheran parish house, according to Mrs. Melvin Grinde, instructor of the special classes.

Many original games and contests were planned with the Easter theme in mind. One of these was hunting for Easter candy treats. At the beginning of the hunt, each pupil was presented with a cleverly designed basket which had been made by the troop members. Other members of the patrol were responsible for table decorations and lunch preparation. All of the pupils in the special class were in attendance at the party.

The girl scouts and their leaders, Mrs. Donald D. Olson and Mrs. Byron Sagmoen, who were responsible for this activity were Jill Berry, Karen Charlson, Peggy Fuller, Janice Kauppila, and Jebeth Sagmoen.

Baptismal Services For Peggy Ann Hamre

Baptismal services for Peggy Ann Hamre, infant daughter of the Ronald Hamres, were held at Trinity Lutheran church Sunday, March 22. Officiating clergyman was Rev. Reuben Wangberg.

Entertaining at dinner after the services was the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Hamre. She had as guests the sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knutson and son; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burtness and girls, and the child's parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hamre and Perry.

VFW Auxiliary Met Monday Night

The V.F.W. Auxiliary 2793 met in the post club rooms on March 23rd with Delpha Comstock presiding. President Comstock reported that the Jr. Girls unit had been invited to do the floor work for the institution and installing of a new Jr. girls unit of the Jess-Omundson Post 1676 of Detroit Lakes on March 31st. She also reported that the Post had donated $150.00 to help defray expenses. Also that the 9th district officers were buying the Jr. unit two flags.

Gladys Loeffler was asked to obtain the foreign exchange student and the Voice of Democracy winner as guest speakers for the meetings in May. The raising of the 1965 dues was the issue of the evening with the Auxiliary voting to raise the dues and keep the cancer insurance. A $10.00 donation for the American field Servuice was decided upon and also to pay the expenses and registration fees for three of the Jr. Unit girls to go to the convention in Sauk Centre, and to pay the expenses of a chaperone for the girls. Katie Anderson and Delpha Comstock gave a short report on the rally held in New York Mills. Discussion on the Loyalty Day rally to be held in Thief River Falls and the two bowling banquets the Auxiliary is to serve was held followed by the closing of the meeting. Gladys Hamre and Emma Homme won the prizes, while Mary Ann Myhrer lost the attendance prize.

WCTU Probes Many of Our Modern Problems

WCTU meeting was held at Mission Covenant church on Friday, March 20, with Mrs. Tarkel Ose in charge. Rev. Terpstra posed the challenging question, "What Kind of World are We Leaving Behind?" emphasizing that "since all worth-while movements are brought about by Christians, their responsibility to right the wrongs of the world rests heavily upon Christian people."

Miss Anna Koglin read statements on the Becker amendment which seeks to permit listening to or reading Scripture and having prayer in public schools, if done on a voluntary basis. Miss Agnes Longren and Mrs. Olga Larson reported on several chapters of the book on smoking, after which Mrs. Tarkel Ose presented her young people in a speech contest. Eunice Wold was awarded the silver medal.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Iver Nelson and Mrs. Bernard Johnson.

Annual Report Shows . . .

Homemakers Vital in Extension Work

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles covering the Pennington County Extension Service annual report.

Teaching in the extension program continues in the home program as it has been found there is a need for education in home economics. Over-all objectives in the home program are improving of family living, developing of skills, advancing creativity and adding to the general well being and happiness of the home.

Because of this, homemakers groups are organized in order to have a mailing list of interested people. The Pennington county home program consists of 22 homemakers clubs with 298 members. To coordinate the necessary lessons, a home council is organized and consists of 22 members. Each club sends a representative to the council which meets four times a year to plan the year's program of work.

A food freezing lesson was given to improve the food preservation habits of the people. The objective of this lesson was to teach how the homemaker could obtain good quality fruits and vegetables through use of the home freezer or locker.

Also in the food line was the serving of buffet meals. The objective of this lesson was to aid the homemakers in entertaining graciously by serving a buffet meal and thus strengthening friendships, giving children happy memories and satisfying instincts related to homemaking and creativity.

Along the lines of good grooming, a lesson was given with an objective to develop in the homemakers an understanding of the importance of good grooming in relationship to their daily lives. The presentation covered topics such as cleanliness, clothing, posture, voice, hair, skin, hands, teeth and inner beauty. The main idea that was projected to the women was that they should look at being a housewife as an important job - a job as important, as fruitful and as rewarding as the job of a career woman.

Objectives of the flower and dried arrangement lesson were to create interest in the effective use of dried materials as decorative accessories, to learn and be able to apply art principles in arranging and using dried materials in the home, and to appreciate the beauty of natural materials found in abundance in fields and along the road sides. At the landscaping meeting an understanding and appreciation of the beauty of correct landscaping was developed.

Four heart-of-the-home classes were given to give helps for a longer life to the women in the county. The purposes of these four meetings were to teach more efficient methods of managing meal preparation, laundering, bedmaking, cupboard storage and other ideas.

It was found that there is a need for people to be creative. The making of Christmas decorations for the holidays satisfies part of this need. The objective of the Christmas lesson was to develop in the homemaker an understanding and an appreciation of the art principles as well as the ability to make the articles.

A successful achievement day was held to climax the homemakers' year. The purpose of the achievement program is to emphasize the work of the homemakers and it serves to highlight the year's activities that have been taught by the extension service.

There are a few of the activities that have been organized by the Extension service in the home program. In addition to these lessons, education is done on an individual basis by farm visits, office calls, telephone calls, newspaper and radio releases.

William Sandberg, TRF Businessman, Buried at Fertile

Funeral services were held on March 16 from the Concordia Lutheran church in Fertile for William Sandberg, operator of the Culligan Soft Water Service here since 1959. Rev. Harold Peterson of Trinity Lutheran church of this city and Rev. David Halbakken officiated at the service. Place of interment was the Concordia cemetery. Erickson-Vik Funeral Home of Fertile was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Sandberg died March 12 at the age of 65. He was born in Nicollet county, Minn., on August 31, 1898. At the age of 5 he moved with his parents to Polk county, and was educated and grew to manhood there. On May 26, 1923, he was united in marriage to Margaret Insdahl at Alvarado. He farmed in Garden and Woodside townships of Polk county for many years before moving to Fertile in 1946 and engaging in business there for several years also serving on the school board there for a few years. In 1950 he moved to Thief River Falls, where he operated the culligan Soft Water Service until the time of his death. He was a member of Trinity Lutheran church of this city.

Survivors are his wife Margaret; four daughters, Mrs. Norris Johnson (Karen) of Fertile; Mrs. Howard Erickson (Mona) of Albert Lea; Mrs. Dan Downs (Joyce) of Fertile; Mrs. Merlin Schumacher (Patricia) of Minot, N.D.; one brother, Norman, Erskine; a sister, Mrs. Olga Wahlin of Rindal, and 17 grandchildren. He was preceded in death by an infant son, a brother and one sister.

93-Year Mother Of Mrs. Klennert Succumbs In N. D.

Funeral services were held at Crookston on Saturday for Mrs. Christine Bergene, 93, who died Wednesday at the home of her daughter at Petersburg, N.D. Rev. Eyrick E. Hanson officiated at the services. Burial was made in the Oakdale cemetery.

Mrs. Bergene was the mother of Mrs. Annette Klennert of Thief River Falls.

She was born Christine Haugen at Spring Meadow, Minn. on October 1, 1870. She moved to Crookston as a young woman, and married Arnie O. Bergene, who preceded her in death, as did a son and a daughter.

Mrs. Bergene resided at Crookston until moving to Thief River Falls in 1958 to reside with her daughter. She had lived with another daughter at Petersburg only two months preceding her death.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Clyde (Ruth) Ralston, Petersburg; Mrs. Annette Klennert, of this city, and Mrs. Robert (Edna) Nelson, Long Beach, Calif.; 15 grandchildren, 47 great-grandchildren and 5 great-great-grandchildren.

NORWEGIAN weathermen use Arctic Cat vehicles manufactured in Thief River Falls to check recording instruments on the highest mountain in Norway. Pictured above, this was one of the many uses for the machines in that country; according to Steve Rugland, sales manager, who recently visited Norway to gain first-hand information and determine what improvements could be made in the vehicles. Other uses include snow rescue work in the mountainous ski areas, daily delivery runs from trading posts to surrounding cottages and travel to and from inland resorts. In Lapland the residents use the vehicles for rounding up herds of reindeer. They find the leader of a herd, tire him out by chasing him in the deep snow with the Arctic Cat, rope him in wild west fashion and tie him behind the vehicle. The herd then follows the leader to the Laps' camp. Rugland also arranged for a distributor in Stockholm, Sweden, and stated that shipments to that country will begin in June or July.

U.S. Tax Refunds in State Are Up

Federal income tax refunds have added almost 30 million dollars to Minnesota's economy during the first two months of 1964, Gilbert A. Engel, acting district director of internal revenue, announced today. As of February 29, the St. Paul district had processed 194,258 returns with tax overpayments, and the total tax refunds amounted to $29,793,000. This represents an increase of almost 4½ million dollars in total Federal tax refunds issued during the same period in 1963, Mr. Engel indicated.

No. Central Sets New High Records

North Central Airlines announced today that its February ontime operating performance reached an all-time high and new passenger and cargo marks were also established.

According to Frank N. Buttomer, vice president-traffic and sales for the Minneapolis - St. Paul-based carrier, 92.4 per cent of North Central's 12,977 scheduled flights arrived on time during February.

"This accomplishment tops North Central's previous high of 92.2 per cent set last July," Buttomer said. He also noted that of the airline's 1,085,020 scheduled miles, 99.8 per cent were completed—a new February record.

Passenger boardings totaled 92,406, a 9 per cent increase over February 1963, while freight ton miles increased 25 per cent to 95,353, and express ton miles rose 13 per cent to 52,089.

Buttomer pointed out that "for 19 consecutive months, each month has broken its own passenger boarding record. Similar consecutive month records are being set in both air freight and air express."

Rep. Langen Condemns Heavy Imports to U. S. of Farm Commodities

Congressman Odin Langen Thursday called for a complete study and review of our entire foreign policy in regard to the relationship between agricultural imports and falling prices paid to domestic producers of farm commodities. "The United States has become the dumping ground for every surplus commodity because of unfair restrictions placed on U. S. products abroad and the lack of restrictions imposed on foreign products in America," said Langen in a letter to the United States Tariff Commission with copies to Christian Herter of the Geneva Trade Team and the Departments of State and Agriculture.

Langen termed the worsening import situation "the most pressing problem facing U. S. Agriculture today, one that needs immediate attention if this year's Geneva trade talks are to be realistic. And it's a problem that extends to all of agriculture, not just one segment."

"The United States imports well over half of all the beef offered for export by the rest of the world," noted Langen. The Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service says this enormous increase in beef imports was encouraged by the increase in import restrictions in other countries, while the United States remained the only major market without any quantitative restrictions and with a very nominal fixed import duty.

"Now we have shipments of eggs from Denmark; 300,000 dozen in February with more on the way, despite the fact that we received no eggs at all from Denmark last year. The reason is traced to recent hikes in Common Market tariffs, forcing Denmark to seek low-tariff outlets such as the United States. And this happened during the same month that the Department of Agriculture announced details of an egg purchase program for distribution to needy families, a move to bolster the low prices of domestic eggs, a neat trick in the face of increasing imports.

"Just these two examples show how other nations protect their own agricultural commodities through the raising and lowering of variable import levies, forcing surplus commodities to be exported elsewhere. The United States, with constant and low tariffs and practically no non-tariff levies, then attracts the foreign surplus to the disadvantage of the American producer. This is why it is so important that the interests of American agriculture be protected at the coming Geneva trade talks."

Langen noted that the so-called agreements between our Agriculture and State Departments with the governments of Australia, New Zealand and Ireland to hold meat imports to the 1962-63 levels did nothing to help the worsening import situation. "These agreements merely guaranteed a continuation of the already excessively-high-levels, putting a floor under rather than a ceiling over unwarranted imports."

Carlson Herd Tops D.H.I.A. for February

Myron Carlson's dairy herd at Angus topped the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association for the month of February, according to Orville Peters, association supervisor. The Carlson herd averaged 1,132 pounds of milk, 48.9 pounds of butterfat and had an average test of 4.32 per cent butterfat.

There were 25 herds on test during the month with a total of 754 cows or an average of 30.1 cows per herd. Eighty-one per cent of the cattle were milking and average amount of milk produced was 914 pounds per cow with an average test of 3.70 per cent butterfat or 33.8 pounds per cow. Fourteen owner - sampler herds had 331 cows, 80 per cent of which were milking.

Eleven cows finished their testing year with 500 pounds or more of butterfat in 365-day or less lactation. Myron Carlson had two of the top cattle with production of 16,350 pounds of milk and 660 pounds of butterfat in 365 days and 14,230 pounds of milk and 577 pounds of butterfat in 353 days.

Other dairymen, pounds of milk produced per cow and butterfat totals include Warren and Lowell Hamrick, 13,840 milk and 533 fat and 20,350 milk and 700 fat; A. Peterson, 16,320 milk and 539 fat and 17,290 milk and 595 fat; Mehrkens Farms, Inc., 16,000 milk and 557 fat and 14,010 milk and 513 fat; Harold Sabo, 12,820 milk and 535 fat; and John Burtness, 15,980 milk and 552 fat and 14,570 milk and 514 fat.

Top herds for the month of February include the following:

Herd	Lbs. Milk	Lbs. Fat
Myron Carlson	1132	48.9
Don Bruggeman	1284	43.5
John Burtness	1204	42.9
Darrow Lundeen	1263	42.2

Fitzsimons Has Tour With Resources Group

Rep. Richard Fitzsimons of Argyle returned hme on Sunday of this week after attending a series of meetings of the Minnesota Outdoor Recreation Resources Commission that extended over a period of nine days. Meetings were held at the state capitol in St. Paul and included a tour with meeting in New York City, Williamsburg and Jamestown, Va., and Washington, D. C.

The state capitol meetings covered several subjects which included state parks, campgrounds, public access, state mapping, geologic survey, roadside parking areas, historic monuments and a meeting of the entire commission on Friday of last week.

In New York City the visit resulted in the hiring of Conrad Wirth, former director of the national park service, as a consultant to the commission. In Williamsburg and Jamestown the delegation met with national and state officials in regard to the program of restoration that was carried out at this birthplace of our nation.

The Washington, D. C. meeting included many meetings with federal officials and a meeting in Sen. Humphrey's office with representatives from all the Minnesota Congressional delegation. Main topic of business was to come to an agreement on the site of a proposed federal office building the old Fort Snelling site. Congressman Odin Langen met the Minnesota delegation at a breakfast meeting.

One of the long-range proposals suggested to the MORRC is the restoration of old Fort Snelling and the development of the area around it as a state park. The delegation making this eastern trip was well pleased with all the information they gathered and were particularly pleased to have the federal agencies involved in the proposed office building agree on a site somewhat removed from the state park, Fitzsimons said.

Of particular interest to the commission was the arrangement made for state and federal joint effort. Making the trip were Rep. Fitzsimons and Rep. William O'Brian from the MORRC Commission; Commission Coordinator F. Robert Edman; Sam Morgan, president of the Fort Snelling Park association; Russell Fridley, director of the Minnesota Historical society; and former Governor Elmer L. Andersen, chairman of the Fort Snelling restoration committee.

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

This will wind up my observations on Mexico. The short visit was very interesting for me and I hope to return for a longer stay. My previous view of Mexico was limited to what I could see as a rollicking trooper in Uncle Sam's 12th cavalry in border service at Columbus, New Mexico, where Pancho Villa had staged his raid. That was in the summer of 1917 and that's a long time ago.

Up to that time revolutions were common and almost constant. But now, for a period of more than forty years, Mexico has had stable government and very substantial progress has been made. There still is much poverty south of the border and much remains to be done but I came away with the impression that Mexico has been well governed in recent years under the leadership of a political party that represents labor, agriculture and business, with each group controlling about one-third of the directors. This one-party system seems to have worked out very well.

As an indication of the country's relatively strong financial position I will quote Paul P. Kennedy, writing from Mexico City on March 13 in a special report to the New York Times. His references to dollars is in terms of American dollars. He states:

> "Mexico's gold and dollar reserves have reached a historic high of $490.4 million, according to Antonio Ortiz Mena, Minister of the Treasury.
> "It was one of the highlights of the annual address of the Treasury Minister to the nation's banking hierarchy.
>
> "The annual state of the nation's economic condition this year was considered more impressive than ordinarily because of its highly optimistic tone and because it actually was a resume of the six-year administration of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, whose term ends in December of this year.
>
> "This year's reserve position was $83.7 million higher than that announced last March by Mr. Ortiz Mena. This year's reserve, he said, takes into account payment last week to the Export-Import Bank of $42 million, which was not due until next month.
>
> "In addition to the primary reserves," he added, Mexico has her usual secondary reserves of $345 million in the International Monetary Fund, the Export-Import Bank and in a standby credit with the United States Treasury.
>
> "The Treasury Minister told the 1,200 banking officials, "We have now completed precisely 10 years without a change in our monetary stability despite severe strain and that constitutes an estimable record.
>
> "The condition of our economy makes it possible for me to affirm now that our stability will continue for many more years."

As further evidence of progress the Treasury Minister pointed out that 4.5 million "registrants" are now paying income taxes compared to 700,000 in 1958. We are fortunate in having as a southern neighbor one Latin American country that not only is friendly to us but also is making good progress in raising the standard of living of its people by self-effort and sound principles.

I wish I could tell you that I attended one of our neighbor's most popular sporting events, but I will have to admit that I didn't take advantage of an opportunity to be a bull-fight spectator at no cost. In this field my experience is limited to what I have seen in the movies. From that limited knowledge of the sport I will have to go along with Will Rogers who stated that he no longer attended bull fights because he invariably found himself cheering for the bull.

From Mexico I returned by way of Los Angeles for a brief visit with the Helmer Sahls, formerly of Thief River Falls, who now are custodians of my four grandchildren. I am sure that all of the three boys will make the major leagues as ball players and the granddaughter certainly will star some day as a brilliant pianist. They threaten to visit me here at Thief River Falls this coming summer.

In driving through the suburb of San Dimas where they have their home the thing that impressed me was the cleanliness of their streets. There was no litter, and on inquiry I learned that California has a state-wide law that imposes a mandatory fine of $50 on anyone who drops gum wrappers or other litter on the highways or on the streets of the cities and villages. To discourage litterbugging the cities and villages provide receptacles for the convenient disposal of litter. Some California cities, I was told, have local laws that provide fines of up to $500 for repeating offenders.

I am not suggesting that a new anti-litterbugging organization be formed in Thief River Falls. We already have too many organizations that presumably were formed in part to make Thief River Falls a better city. Maybe one of these organizations would adopt as an important part of its program the need for making Thief River Falls a cleaner city.

I am satisfied that under extreme pressure, with perhaps a few marches on city hall by indignant citizens, the city fathers would respond to any reasonable request. They might even be induced to make available, at taxpayers' expense, the adequate receptacles that are essential to a "let's-keep-our-city-clean" campaign.

But the real pressure should come from the merchants themselves. In the first place they have the primary interest in the problem. And, in the second place, they, to a certain extent, are the worst offenders. After the city has cleaned the streets each morning, the merchants, arriving at work later in the day, sweep the wind-blown litter that has accumulated on their sidewalks, back into the streets to blow around for another day.

Well, it's nice to be home, and now I can devote more of my time to straightening out more of our own problems.

Warroad Trucker Given Additional Rights by RRWC

Ron Anderson, chairman of the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission, announced this week than an extension to his irregular route trucking authority has been granted to James D. Keeney, Warroad.

Under the extended authority, Anderson said, Keeney will also be authorized to transport seed from Roseau to the Twin Cities area; alfalfa meal from Swift, Minnesota, to Perham, Wadena and Kellogg; oil in cases and barrels from the Twin Cities to Warroad; fertilizer from the Twin Cities, Pine Bend and Winona to Salol; steel and wire from Minneapolis to all points north of and on Truck Highway 10 and wire, steel and cement from Duluth to Warroad.

Anderson said that the additional operating rights were granted as the result of a public hearing at Thief River Falls on February 26.

ADVERTISEMENTS FOR BIDS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District at the County Commissioners' Room in the Pennington County Court House in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, at 1:00 P. M. on Friday, April 3rd, 1964, for the construction of Bridge No. 10 over the Lost River, located two miles east of Oklee, Minnesota.

Bids may be mailed to Stanley N. Mortenson, District Secretary, at Thief River Falls, Minnesota, marked "Bids on Bridge No. 10". Bids will be opened and read publicly immediately after the hour set.

The work involves the construction of a three-span bridge, precast concrete channel deck (31-31-31x20'), 1380 linear feet treated timber piling, 6.15 MBM treated timber, and related items.

Plans, specifications and proposals may be obtained at the office of Lloyd Ofstedal, Consulting Engineer, Court House, Crookston, Minnesota. Plans $2.50.

Bids must be accompanied by a certified check payable to the Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District, or a Bidder's Bond in the amount of ten per cent (10%) of the total bid, as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract and furnish surety bond in the amount of seventy-five per cent (75%) of the contract price.

No bids will be entertained which exceed by more than 30% the Engineer's estimated cost of $33,000. The Red Lake Drainage and Conservancy District reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Dated this 6th day of March, 1964.

Prize of a Lifetime Contest Meets Favor

Response to the "Product of the Month-Prize of a Lifetime" promotion has been fantastic, according to Thief River Falls business places participating in the program. Deadline in the contest is April 11.

In addition to outstanding bargains on the eight participating products, 49 fabulous prizes are being offered readers of the Times merely for depositing their coupons in the official coupon boxes located in the stores participating in the "Product of the Month" program.

Grand prize is a trip for two to Hawaii and the Reef Tower Hotel at Waikiki Beach, plus $100 cash. Winners will fly to Hawaii by jet airliner for 10 days and nine nights of "fun in the sun" at one of the newest resort hotels in Waikiki.

Contest rules are simple:

Just sign and deposit the correct half of the redeemable coupon no later than April 11. Anyone may enter except participating publishers, their employees and immediate families. Only one prize will be awarded per family and cash will not be substituted for any prize awards. The drawing, conducted by an independent judging firm, will be held immediately after the close of the program and winners will be announced in the Times during the week of April 19.

In addition to the all-expense paid trip, there are 48 other prizes being offered. These include a transistor organ, portable TV, diamond wristwatches, weekends for two at the Golden Steer Motor Hotel in St. Paul, electric coffeemakers, camp stoves and fresh-frozen Minnesota turkeys and insulated picnic bags.

Chevrolet will go to any length to make you happy

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be.

So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17½ feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size makes it a luxury car. But not the price.

Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15¼-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space.

This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over).

Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvette—still 14½ feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to.

The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.

LEGAL NOTICE

March 25-26
$225,000 SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS
INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 561
(GOODRIDGE SCHOOL DISTRICT)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the School Board of Independent School District No. 561, State of Minnesota, will meet at the School Building in Goodridge, Minnesota, in said district, on Wednesday, the 15th day of April, 1964, at 8 o'clock P.M. for the purpose of receiving and considering the sealed bids for the purchase of $225,000 general obligation bonds of the district dated April 1, 1964, bearing interest payable January 1, 1965, and semiannually thereafter on January 1 and July 1, and maturing serially on January 1 in the years and amounts as follows: $5,000 in 1967; $10,000 in each of the years 1968 to 1974, both inclusive, and $15,000 in each of the years 1975 to 1984, both inclusive. All bonds maturing after January 1, 1974, are subject to redemption and prior payment, in inverse numerical order, at the option of the district, on said date and any interest payment date thereafter at par and accrued interest and a premium of 2% if redeemed on or before January 1, 1979, and without premium if redeemed January 1, 1980, or thereafter. Both principal and interest will be made payable at any suitable bank designated by the purchaser within 48 hours after the award or otherwise at the selection of the district.

The school district will furnish printed bonds in the denomination of $1,000 each, or at purchaser's request, part of the bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, and the approving legal opinion of Messrs. Howard, Peterson, LeFevere, Lefler and Hamilton, Minneapolis, Minnesota, both without expense to purchaser. Delivery will be made without expense to the purchaser anywhere in the continental United States, such delivery to be made within forty days after the date of sale, accompanied by customary final delivery papers including a certificate showing absence of litigation. The text of the legal opinion will be printed on the back of each bond and certified by the district clerk if requested by the purchaser.

All bids must be enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for School Bonds, Independent School District No. 561" and delivered to the undersigned prior to the above stated time. Each bid must be unconditional except as provided in this notice and must be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check or bank draft payable to the order of the "Treasurer of Independent School District No. 561" in the amount of at least $4,500, to be forfeited as liquidated damages in event the bid is accepted and the bidder fails to comply therewith.

Bids shall state one basic rate of interest from date of issue to maturity for all bonds having a common maturity date. Not more than five such rates shall be specified for the issue and the maturities may be split not more than five ways for the purpose of designation of such rates, provided that bids may provide that all or some of the bonds may bear additional interest evidenced by separate coupons in amount not exceeding $2,200. All rates and combinations of rates must be stated in integral multiples of one-quarter or one-tenth of one percent and not to exceed 5% per annum. The bid offering the lowest net interest cost (total interest from April 1, 1964, to stated maturities, less any premium offered) will be deemed the most favorable. No bid of less than par plus accrued interest to date of delivery or providing for a total interest rate on any bond for any period exceeding 5% will be considered. Oral auction bids will not be received. The right to waive any informality, to reject any and all bids and to adjourn the sale are reserved.

A New Record

The Schmidt's Beer team of the Thursday night Commercial league set a new three-game total-pins mark last week when the squad bowled a 2902 series. The team, making a bid to overtake the league-leading Thief River Realty squad in the Commercial league bowling, had games of 964, 962, and 976. But in spite of this record-breaking series, the Schmidt's dropped a point in the league standings to the Realtors. The Thief River Realty swept their series, picking up four points, while the Schmidt's bowling against the Winjum's Super Market team, lost a point when the merchants rolled a 1025-pin first game.

In compiling this new record, which bettered the old mark of 2873 set by the Thief River Realty some months ago, the Schmidt's had Del Harbott leading off with a 566, Larry Gilbertson had a 579-pin total, Pat Poole racked up a 607-pin total, Dave Clough had a 590, and anchor-man Wally DuChamp came in with a 570-pin mark.

Another item of interest that occurred in last week's league bowling was the triplicate 180 scored by Harold Johnson of the Hamm's Beer during Friday night's City league-trundling. The Hamm's are trailing league-leading Western Oil & Fuel by two games, but it appears that they are making a stong bid to overhaul Del Seefeldt's oil men. The Hamm's had three bowlers, Truman Hemmestvedt, Chuck Krause, and Harold Johnson on the honor roll this past week.

More on Bowling

And the Thursday night Commercial league seems to be pressing the Tuesday night Business league for high-average honors. Last week's honor roll reveals that, for the first time, a league had all five of its top bowlers above the 600-pin total, and this league was the Commercial league. Junior Harbott led off with a fine 649-pin total, followed by Dwight Tangquist with a 621, Sam Samuelson with a 615, Pat Poole with a 607, and Marland Kloety with a 601.

I have been following with great interest the duel between Mel Scholin and Red Thyren, of the T & S Implement team in the Tuesday night Business league, for the team's high-average honors. In 75 games, Red has piled up a total of 12,931 pins for an average of 172. Mel, in 72 games, has amassed a total of 12,480 pins for an average of 173. Red has all the confidence in the world that he'll win the high-average trophy, and he has already begun to draft his trophy-acceptance speech.

Hockey Notes

The Warroad Lakers, by a margin of four games to one closed out their best-of-seven series against the Terrace Bay, Ontario, club on Monday night by scoring a win in a game played at Warroad. The victoy gave the Lakers the Thunder Bay Intermediate hockey title and moved coach Dayton Grafstrom's club into the semi-finals of the Canadian Intermediate hockey playdowns. The Lakers will now mark time while the Flin Flon Warriors and the Hamiota teams compete for the Manitoba championship, with the Lakers scheduled to meet the winner in a best-of-five series. It's probable that this series will be played on the Winnipeg Arena ice sheet.

Romauld (Ike) Ikauniks, the former Crookston Cathedral hockey star, has received one of the highest hockey honors at Harvard University. Ikauniks, a high-scoring right-winger, has been named as co-recipient of the John Tudor Memorial Hockey Trophy, which is presented annually to the most valuable player on the Crimson team. Ikauniks shares the honor with captain Gene Kinasewich of Edmonton, Alberta.

Ikauniks, named to the Ivy League's second all-star team, concluded his three-year career in hockey at Harvard in a tie for ninth place on Harvard's all-time list of hockey scorers.

It's just a year or so ago that Bill Taylor, the former Crookston Central all-around athlete, was honored by Harvard with the Most Valuable Player trophy as a member of the Crimson football team.

'Variety', the show business weekly, reviewed the Liston-Clay fight as "Vaudeville. Dance and patter. 45 minutes." The reviewer said, among other things, that the team displayed the classic vaudeville patterns. "Liston is the straight man, Clay the loud-mouthed comic counterpart...Their act could use some tightening her and there to lend an element of credibility." Clay had the best writers, 'Variety' said, and the ending of the act was weak.

And 'The Sporting News', the 'bible' of Organized Baseball, which also gives publicity to such sports as basketball, football, hockey, and bowling, has decided, as its editorial policy, to omit boxing news and items. And the national weekly will continue this ban on boxing until the sport undergoes a thorough house-cleaning.

To old-time sports fans in this area the Liston-Clay match was about as unpalatable as the result of the Loren Curtis vs. Sailor Jack middleweight wrestling match held here in the early 1900's. Back in those days, according to all reports, wrestling was a major sport here, and with the city being a center of the lumbering industry, with a big mill and a large number of lumberjacks in town, the matches were well-attended. Curtis, a native of the Halstad area, came up here and proved to be a first-rate attraction. And as a middleweight he was just about unbeatable. In fact, Walter Miller, the champion, refused to meet Curtis.

Sailor Jack, a Duluth wrestler, came into a town and challenged Curtis. All of a sudden there appeared to be a lot of Sailor Jack money available for betting, and by fellows who usually didn't have too much money. The match was scheduled, and Bert Ring of Duluth was engaged as referee. It was to be a best-of-three match, and was held in the old auditorium. After about 26 minutes of wrestling, Sailor Jack gained a fall. And then a near riot erupted. Referee Ring declared a no-match, realizing that Curtis was not putting up much of a match; and Judge E. M. Stanton came into the ring to declare that all wagers were off. That night must have been a red-hot one for the old town, to hear the old-timers tell.

OFFICERS of the Thief River Falls Curling club for the coming year were elected at the annual meeting held Monday evening. Left to right are Mrs. Roger Tunberg and Mrs. Jerry Amundgaard, directors, and Mrs. Ardell Liden, president of the women's division; Morris Roadfeldt, Dave Sorvig and Curtis Swanson, new directors of the men's division. Mrs. Tunberg and Mrs. Amundgaard succeed Mrs. Harold Nabben and Mrs. Rudy Rude with carry-over directors including Mrs. Wallace Tunberg and Mrs. Everett Amundgaard. Swanson was elected president of the men's division with Sorvig as secretary-treasurer. Other directors are Harland Knutson, Lester Halvorson and Roger Tunberg.

Newfolden . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larson of Fargo, N. D. and Mrs. Agnes Tunhiem of Thief River Falls were supper and overnight guests at the Andy Bakke home on Monday night.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the relatives of Olaf Tunhiem who passed away on Monday of last week. Mr. Tunhiem was formerly of Newfolden. The funeral services were held at Donaldson on Friday.

Conrad Bjornrud returned home Saturday after spending some time with his children in Minneapolis. Mrs. Neal Swanson and children accompanied him home for a few days visit.

Mrs. Leonard Brekkestran (nee Evelyn Haugen) of Gatzke passed away suddenly at her home Tuesday morning. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the Brekkestran and Haugen families.

Fine and Applied Arts Festival to Open in Crookston April 26th

Nearly 100 persons from communities all over the Red River Valley area are now involved as members of committees activating the divisions of the first annual RRV Fine and Applied Arts Festival Week scheduled for April 26—May 3, in Crookston. "This Festival Week is now growing into perhaps the largest such event in the entire history of the Valley area" states T. W. Thorson, president of the RRV Fine Arts Council.

The festival is divided into two major categories: The Fine and Applied Arts Exhibition scheduled for Thursday—Sunday, April 30—May 3 and the Arts Festival scheduled for Sunday, April 26—Sunday, May 3.

Divisions of the Exhibition which will be held in the RRV Winter Shows Arena include Art division: Featuring the Ford Foundation traveling art exhibit, and over 200 Valley area paintings (many of which will be available for purchase); and the Music exhibition: featuring the Conn and Selmer Instrument Company's antique musical instruments collections and antique instruments from all over the Valley.

Booth, displays, lectures and movies pertaining to most aspects of home economics and homemaking will be featured in the Home Economics Division.

Exhibition of spinning and carding and other homecraft displays will be sponsored in the Pioneer homecraft division, by the Senior Citizens Club. Hobbycraft and collections from all over the Valley area will be on display in the hobby division and Great Books and advertising art will be featured in the books division.

On Sunday, April 26, a day devoted to music, 3 concerts are scheduled. They include an afternoon elementary spring music concert and an evening piano and string ensemble concert. Also scheduled is a boys choir festival mass, directed by Father Donald Krebs. Participating in the Festival will be groups from Mahnomen, Detroit Lakes, East Grand Forks, Park Rapids, Argyle and Crookston.

On Monday, April 27, the program, devoted to dance, will be presented by the Grand Forks Ballet Company, Mimi Marr, Director.

Music is featured again on Tuesday, April 28, when, tentatively Schubert's "Mass in A Flat" will be presented by the University of North Dakota Choral Union directed by Robert Van Vorhees.

Drama is the festival theme on Wednesday, April 29, when a "One act Play Festival" is scheduled. Comedy, farce and fantasy will be featured in plays presented by Oklee and Crookston high schools and Mount St. Benedict and Corbett College. Stan Osborne will be narrator.

Music is spotlighted again on Thursday, April 30, when the Grand Forks Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Leo Haesle will present a concert. Soprano soloist will be Mrs. Lowell Swenson of Thief River Falls. Mrs. O. Lewis Ugeland is president of the orchestra.

Drama again is the Friday, May 1, Festival theme, when the College of St. Benedict, St. Cloud, Minnesota, will present "Minnesota Rivals", a modern adaptation of the 18th Century "Rivals" by Sheridan.

The finale program, a "Tribute to the Fine and Applied Arts," will be held Saturday, May 2, in the Winter Shows Arena. An all-Valley massed chorus featuring over 300 voices from East Grand Forks, Climax, Twin Valley and Crookston high schools (public and parochial), a 160 piece all-Valley massed band from Fertile, Red Lake Falls, Climax, East Grand Forks and Crookston high schools and a dance program will pay tribute to music and dance. All other Valley and area choruses and bands are urged to participate in the festival finale massed chorus and band program. For information directors are urged to contact Garfield Reichert or Lloyd Lee at Crookston high school.

Monsignor James P. Shannon, president of St. Thomas College, one of Minnesota's largest liberal arts colleges, will be the Festival Finale's main speaker. His topic will be "A Tribute to the Fine and Practical Arts."

Those wishing to display or sell paintings in the exhibition are urged to write to Art Exhibition, Box 402, Crookston. Those desiring to display hobbys or antique musical instruments are urged to write to Hobby Exhibition, Box 402, Crookston, Minnesota.

St. Cloud Girl Wins Homemaker Award

Cynthia Conner 1st In Betty Crocker Contest

Cynthia Norton Conner of Saint Cloud Technical high school, Saint Cloud, has been named 1964 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Minnesota and will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills. Cynthia ranked first among 14,691 senior girls in 451 of the state's high schools.

Ranking second in the state is Marcelyn Jane Berglund, Milaca high school, Milaca, who will receive a $500 scholarship. Among honorable mention winners are Dorothy Ann Rouse, Bemidji; and Karol Lynn Benewicz, Detroit Lakes.

Awards are based on the tenth annual Betty Crocker homemaking knowledge and attitude test, prepared and scored by Science Research Associates, Chicago. A total of 484,879 high school senior girls in 14,059 high schools throughout the nation were enrolled for the examination on December 3, 1963.

As Minnesota State Homemaker of Tomorrow for 1964, Miss Conner now becomes a candidate with state Homemakers of Tomorrow from the other 49 states and the District of Columbia for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Determining factor in the choice will be her score on the original test, plus personal observation and interviews during an all-expense paid historical tour state homemakers will take in April to Colonial Williamsburg, Washington, D. C. and New York City, including the World's Fair.

The St. Pauli L. C. W. will meet at the Jesse Skaaren home Thursday afternoon March 26, at 2:30 o'clock. Bible study will be given by Mrs. Sig Folkedahl. Lunch will be served by Mrs. Skaaren and Mrs. Carl Alberg.

Neil Nelson Celebrates Birthday

Helping Neil Nelson celebrate his birthday, Thursday evening March 19, were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lambert and Richard, Mrs. Norman Nelson, Gerald and Roger. The main feature was a birthday cake, representing an Easter bunny which was baked and decorated by Carolyn Lambert.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rude and family were Sunday visitors at the Chester Rude home of rural Thief River Falls.

Sunday dinner guests at the Carl Finstad home were Hilda Ahlberg of Thief River Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Kermith Finstad and girls, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Alberg.

Harlan Rude and Vernon Lappegaard visited Sunday at the Geo. Delhi home at Soudan, Minn. On their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Rude who had spent a couple weeks with her parents, the George Delhis.

Mrs. Norman Nelson and Sharon Lokken visited Sunday afternoon with Carolyn Nelson at the Ben Wichterman home near Plummer.

38 State Groups Back Taconite Amendment

The Taconite Amendment no. 1 which will be on the ballot on Nov. 3rd, received the unanimous endorsement of the Minnesota Welfare Conference at their convention held last week in Minneapolis, making a total of 38 leading state and local organizations that have endorsed the amendment to date.

Dr. W. J. Mayo, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for the Taconite Amendment No. 1, said, "It is encouraging to note that so many organizations are endorsing the amendment and that so many leading citizens are recognizing the unquestionable necessity of passing this important amendment that will mean so much for all citizens of Minnesota. We expect that many more will endorse it during the coming months."

Other groups that have submitted resolutions favoring the amendment are: Democratic-Farmer-Labor and Republican parties, AFL-CIO, Minnesota Bar Association, Minnesota Broadcast-America District 33, Minnesota School Boards Association, Minnesota Motel Association, Minnesota League of Municipalities, Duluth Builders' Exhange, Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, Range County Bankers Association, Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, Minnesota State Grange, Chamber of Commerce of: Benson, Bloomington, Duluth, Eveleth, Grand Rapids, Minneapolis, New Ulm, Red Wing, St. Cloud, St. Louis Park, St. Paul, Virginia, West St. Paul, and Winona. Other local organizations are: 8th District American Legion Buhl, 8th District American Legion, Virginia, Engineers Club of Northern Minnesota, Kiwanis Club of Ely, St. Louis County, Club, Rotary Club of Virginia.

In a recent statement by Senator Hubert Humphrey he said, "I determined to support the Taconite Amendment precisely when we in the leadership of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor party of Minnesota received firm assurances from the top management of serveral major steel companies that heavy investments in taconite production facilities in Minnesota would be made following passage of the Amendment. At the same time, agreement was reached to limit the duration of the Taconite Amendment to 25 years, rather than in perpetuity, as had been earlier proposed.

"If we in Minnesota are to benefit in terms of jobs and income from our great natural deposits of taconite, if we are to break the back of poverty in northeastern Minnesota, if we are to remove the burden of welfare of northeastern Minnesota from the shoulders of other Minnesotans, must ratify Amendment No. 1 at the polls next November.

"In short, the Taconite Amendment will help northeastern Minnesotans to help themselves."

Highway Workers to Receive Awards

To Be Honored for Their Safety Records in April

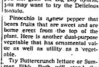
Commissioner James C. Marshall will present special Governor's Awards to 31 veteran employees during the annual safety awards program sponsored by the Minnesota highway department. The program will be held statewide, from April 7 through April 29. This is the thirty-third year of the safety recognition event which occupies an important place in the department's internal safety program.

The Governor's Awards will be given in honor of 30 accident-free years on the part of the highway employees. Nearly 2,000 other employees will be eligible for National Safety Council safe driving awards for accident-free employment from one to 33 years.

George Meskal, maintenance engineer and E. J. Heinen, construction engineer, will present the awards in their divisions.

In addition to the presentation of awards, there will be guest speakers and the showing of films on various phases of highway safety and maintenance. Speakers will include Garnet E. Hall, safety director of the department; Eugene Farrell, who coordinates the employee safety program; Joseph Reth insurer of Department motorized equipment; and the host district and area engineers.

The meetings will begin at 8:30 a.m. or 1:00 p.m. During the mornings and afternoons preceding and following the awards programs, the time will be devoted to presentation and discussion of maintenance and construction matters. The meetings that have been arranged include: Bemidji, April 22, 8:30 a.m.; and Crookston, April 23, 1:00 p.m.



Yard 'n Garden

New Vegetable Varieties for 1964

Gardening will be more fun if you plant a few new varieties each year. Some may be only novelties, but others prove to be adaptable and very useful.

The Prizetaker pole lima bean produces large pods 6 to 7 inches long and 1" inches wide. Because of the large seeds, this variety takes much less shelling to make a meal.

A new Swiss chard called Burgundy has attractive red stems and deep maroon leaves. Here is a vegetable that is suitable for the flower border as it has ornamental value in addition to its use in salads or as a cooked vegetable.

Zenith and Cleopatra are two new broccoli varieties. Cleopatra is an early F1 hybrid with resistance to cold and drought. Both are all-America selections this year.

Most gardeners like to try different tomatoes. Delicious is a new one that produces large smooth globe-shaped fruits, many of which weigh as much as 2 pounds. If you can grow the Big Boy hybrid, you may want to try the Delicious tomato.

Pinocchio is a new pepper that bears fruits that are sweet and are borne erect from the top of the plant. Here is another dual-purpose vegetable that has ornamental value as well as utility as a vegetable.

Try Buttercrunch lettuce or Summer Bibb. Both will stand the warmer temperatures without going to seed. Their quality is superior to most other varieties of lettuce.

Harris Model parsnip is one of the smoothest and whitest of all parsnips. Roots taper uniformly from crown to tip with a minimum of side branches.

These are just a few new varieties you may want to try. You'll find many others listed in seed catalogs.

Now, get extra bales of clean, leafy hay per acre!
Switch to 919 Brand The balanced alfalfa
For leafier, finer stemmed hay and more of it over the next four years, plant 919 Brand alfalfa seed this spring. It's the one alfalfa that combines these features—
1. A combination of northern, hardy alfalfa proved in this area.
2. NOCULIZED seed—pre-inoculated with live nitrogen-fixing bacteria.
3. Exclusively Wes-Gro processed to reduce hard seed.
4. More disease resistant than ordinary alfalfas.
5. Outstanding winter-hardiness like the long rotation alfalfas.
6. Highest standards of seed purity (99.6%) and germination (92%).
These important benefits add up to one thing: HIGHER YIELDS! We want to help you choose the best alfalfa for your land, weather, and rotation plans. Before you order your seed, you'll want to know the facts about 919 Brand, so see us first. This week!

On Teacher Salaries

As published in the Monday edition of the Times, a new salary schedule for teachers in the Thief River Falls school system was adopted by the board of education recently. The schedule will go into effect when contracts are signed with teachers for the 1964-1965 school term.

Through meetings with the salary committee of the Thief River Falls Education association and through individual and collective investigation, the board has thoroughly studied the local salary situation in the schools. Taken into consideration have been the salary schedules of comparative schools, the economic condition of our area, the facilities available now and soon to be available in our district and other factors.

We believe the schedule to be a good one. We like the start made toward the elimination of the "dependency allowance"—formerly a $800 annual payment made to married teachers, exclusive of husband and wife teaching combinations. We believe payment should be on the basis of the work accomplished, and that the marital status of the teacher is entirely apart from this.

We also believe, after comparison of the local schedule with other schools and with the state average, that the increases granted were not too large but that they were also sufficient. They should be, in fact, sufficient to the extent that they should apply for the next several years without increase.

Thief River Falls has been generally blessed with an abundance of good teachers. Whether this is due to careful screening by superintendents or the good fortune provided us by Divine Providence we don't know, but we do know that many of our teachers have become valuable members of our community. The longer their tenure in our district, the better job they are doing in giving our youngsters the best education possible.

The school board apparently recognizes that it receives in proportion to what it pays in salaries. Raising the base salary will give the superintendent more bargaining power in securing better qualified young teachers. The increased pay for experience is an incentive for good teachers to stay.

While it is generally true that salaries increase with the size of the school, this should not necessarily be true. A large school does not always mean a wealthy district, nor does it mean a better job of teaching or a more difficult job of teaching is necessary in a large district. Quite often the reverse is true.

Larger districts are usually more disposed to provide teaching aids and other materials of benefit to both the teacher and student. Total education may be better in a large district, not because the teachers are better, but because the facilities and number of courses offered provide a better choice of subjects and a more comprehensive course of study.

We do not believe the increases granted by the board were too large. We also urge the teachers to consider the economic condition of the district and the school facilities available for their use before requesting further increases in the future.

Difference In Opinion

On March 9 these columns carried an editorial criticizing the Marshall, Roseau and Kittson county boards of commissioners for action or inaction on the proposed multi-county library. We invite you to read the difference of opinion expressed by the Marshall county board which appears in the public opinion column in today's issue of the Times.

We do not plan an editorial reply to the letter. We feel that this would be taking advantage of an editorial position and that engaging in a personal feud would serve no useful purpose. For the basis of comparison with the pubuic opinion letter, however, we are reprinting below the editorial as it appeared in the March 9 issue and which is the topic of the commissioners' letter. You may form your own opinions.

> "Efforts of people in four counties to secure improved library service have been thwarted by the governing body of a single county. Marshall county commissioners put a heavy stamp of disapproval on a proposed multi-county library plan with a 5-0 vote against the proposal last Tuesday.
> "Roseau and Kittson county boards put themselves in an unattractive position by tabling action to "wait and see" how the Marshall county board would react. By riding the fence they showed a lack of intestinal fortitude—neither having the courage to approve the plan or the personal strength to disapprove it.
>
> "Marshall county commissioners, by disapproving the plan, have shown a lack of faith in their own ability. Under terms of the trial program offered, without cost to the counties involved, commissioners need only agree to CONSIDER continuation of the program at the end of the trial period. They were apparently afraid they would be unable to say "no" then. By refusing to let the reading public assist in evaluation of the multi-county program, the commissioners have displayed a fear of being proved wrong.
> "No matter what the commissioners may say, they were not considering cost to the county when voting on the proposal. No cost to the county is (or was) involved at this time. If they claim to have been considering cost, then they are guilty of not understanding the question on which they were voting.
>
> "In our democratic society, we elect officials to do two things—to administrate the affairs of the governing body to which they are elected and to do the will of the people they represent. We seriously wonder if the Marshall county commissioners heeded the requests of their constituents. We are inclined to believe they did not, but rather that they confused far-sighted personal vision with a near-sighted approach.
>
> "As for Roseau and Kittson county inaction, residents of those counties should expect more than they received from their commissioners. At least Marshall county board members (probably because they were forced into the situation) had the courage to make a decision. Right or wrong, at least that much should be expected of every public official.
>
> "State funds, already appropriated and available, will now go to some other multi-county unit. Our four-county area will be devoid of the service it could have had and will continue aimlessly along, not really knowing for sure whether or not the library program might have been successful. Cross off the multi-county library as the diamond lost in the cloudy water and effectively swept down the drain."

Where Your Money Goes

The following report is for people who like to read statistics and make comparisons. It is taken from "Minnesota News Features" publication and is printed in its entirety:

"St. Paul—Cost of running the state government of Minnesota for the last six months of 1963 went up $144,183,131 from the cost of running it for the same period in 1962, according to the biennial report released today by State Auditor Stafford King.

"For the 1963 six-month period, according to the report, it cost the taxpayers $507,460,415 to conduct the government where $363,277,284 did the job in 1962.

"Biggest increase in the difference between the two six-month periods was in the state's public debt requirements. It took $91,579,758 to pay interest and principal on this debt in the last six months of 1963 against $4,625,659 for the same period in 1962.

"The state turned over $32 million more in grants to its local governments in this 1963 period over 1962 — $250,244,995 against $218,139,378. During the same period it bought property for roads, parks and buildings, at a pace nearly $22 million greater than in 1962 —$86,855,347 worth for the six months of 1963 against $65,041,198 in this same period of 1962.

"Salaries for state officials and employees totaled $59,543,272 for the last six months of 1963 against $56,698,383 the year before, with special services calling for $10,662,303, a half million more than the $9,935,422 spent in the last six months of the previous year. More than $8,200,000 was spent for materials and supplies in the 1963 six-month period.

"During this same period, the state's income increased $25,462,743, of which $11,277,438 came from taxes. The state got $64 million in aids from the federal government, about $15 million more than it did during the 1962 six-month period, plus about $1 million increases in interest and fees for use and sales of property owned by the state."

The Fly-by-Nights

At the time of this writing, heavy snow is falling and Mother Nature is apparently unaware that Spring has officially begun. It scarcely looks like the kind of weather when people would be inclined to travel. This season, however, is the one that brings forth the annual migration of traveling salesmen.

There is only one reason that these travelers come into our communities—and that reason is because it is profitable for them. They are not out on charity crusades and they can't make money by giving something away for nothing. There is only one way to stop the pests and that is to make it unprofitable for them.

These salesmen sell an infinite variety of items—magazines, insurance, paint, roofing, siding, encyclopedias, fertilizer, seed, you-name-it—and you can bet any one of them will cost you more than the price charged by a local dealer. Thief River Falls and area merchants offer similar items at competitive prices and will still be around at a later date to stand behind the merchandise they have to sell.

Through the local Chamber of Commerce, Thief River Falls operates a Better Business Bureau. This agency works in cooperation with law enforcement agencies to investigate itinerant salesmen, their operations and their companies. Legitimate firms welcome this investigation and are not embarrassed by it. The fly-by-night companies and bogus salesmen live in mortal fear of the bureau.

If you must listen to the sales pitch of a slippery salesman, don't sign any contracts or make any payments immediately. Ask the man to call back—and then call the Better Business Bureau at 681-3720. The bureau will investigate and give you background information before you make your decision to accept or reject the offer.

Contracts offered are usually legally binding documents—and there isn't much that can be done for the signer after he has given his signature. It pays to find out if the offer is legitimate. Often a cost and quality comparison can be made with a local dealer to determine the value of the goods offered.

This is the season of the fly-by-nights (snow or no snow) and it behooves all area residents to beware. An ounce of investigation can prevent a pound of cure.

Employment in State Higher Than Year Ago

Although nonagricultural wage and salary employment in Minnesota declined seasonally from 975,100 jobs in January to 971,500 jobs in February, the February total was 17,700 higher than last year, according to Employment Security Commissioner Frank T. Starkey.

The over-the-month decrease of 3,600 is 500 less than the 5-year average drop of 4,100, he said. This slightly-better employment picture is partly due to the high sugar beet production in Minnesota last fall which kept the processing plants in operation past the middle of February this year; in most years, the processing is completed by the end of January. As a result, employment in sugar refining remained at 1,700, the same as in January; and 1,400 more than a year ago.

Durable goods employment was up by 300 from January because of the employment increase of 500 in nonelectrical machinery; however, changes from a year ago show that employment in primary metals, meat packing, and railroads is continuing to show the long-term downtrends occurring in these industries. On the brighter side, employment in the mining, construction, and trade categories continues to remain significantly above a year ago.

The increase in total wage and salary employment of 17,700 since last February is the highest over-the-year increase which has occurred for any month since February of last year. Three events have been mainly responsible: the larger sugar beet crop; fewer mining layoffs this winter; and the relatively mild winter, which has helped to keep construction employment at a higher level.

Total unemployment in Minnesota declined slightly between January and February, from 110,100 to 109,800, which is 4,200 lower than in February a year ago. The same three factors are also primarily responsible for keeping unemployment down. The unemployment rate increased from 7.7 per cent to 7.8 per cent because the labor force declined proportionately more than did unemployment. The current rate is four points below the 8.1 per cent rate of a year ago. The unemployment insurance benefits continue to reflect the lower unemployment totals by being 5.4 per cent below a year ago.

Starkey said that production workers in Minnesota's manufacturing industries earned an average of $105.47 per week in February by working 40.3 hours at an hourly rate of $2.62. The corresponding figures for January were $106.94, 40.8 and $2.62 and those for February, 1963 were $104.21, 40.4, and $2.58.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor, the Times

We have been sent a copy of your editorial of March 9th, entitled "Down the Drain."

It would seem to us that you could well profit by taking counsel and "check the facts" before you write such harsh, condemning editorials about the Commissioners of your neighboring County. You tell us we have no faith in our own ability; that we are afraid to say "no"; that we are afraid of being proved wrong; that we don't do the will of the people and that we are near-sighted. Despite all our faults, you tell us nevertheless we do have the courage to make a decision, even though it was wrong and we didn't really make the decision ourselves because we were probably forced to. Thank you very much, Mr. Editor. We are sure the County Boards of both Kittson and Roseau Counties will want to thank you for the complimentary label of "gutless" you have placed on them too.

We cannot begin to give you all of the reasons for our action in turning down the multi-county library in this letter, but if you are interested in learning more about this, one of us Commissioners would be happy to discuss it further with you in person. In fact, we think you could learn something about this matter by talking to your own County Board, as they passed the plan by only a 3 to 2 vote. Does that sound like a 'cut and dried' propostition?

You condemn the County Boards of Kittson and Roseau Counties for not taking action. Why should they, since the question is moot and immaterial? Are you angry because you suspect they too would have unanimously turned the proposal down? We would guess your suspicions may be well founded.

County Commissioners do try to represent the will of the people, and it is our considered opinion that we were doing so in taking the action we did. We have checked with our constituents you may be sure, and we have also checked with Commissioners in other Counties who have this plan in operation. Many that we talked to are dissatisfied and wish they could withdraw from the plan.

Unfortunately, once you get caught up with, its not so easy to withdraw. Money has been spent and investments made and there is no way to get out without taking a big loss. There is no such thing as a 'free trial period'. You, and we, and the rest of the taxpayers are paying for it. Even if we did try it for one year, we know book-mobile buses would have to be bought; people hired to administer the program; Books acquired, and much other expense incurred. We are not anxious to get caught in this situation since we have learned the plan has been received with such poor results in other Counties.

We are hopeful that in years to come some other plan can be worked out to strengthen community libraries to better serve the people. We think that if Legislation is provided, making it possible for School districts to set up community libraries and assess the people in the district, such a plan would be more desirable and used to a much greater advantage. We are not interested, however, in building a huge library over in Thief River Falls at the expense of our County taxpayers when the worth of the book-mobile idea has yet to prove itself.

We think over the years the Commissioners of Marshall County, as well as the Commissioners of other Counties in this area, have proved very co-operative with both Thief River Falls and Pennington County. (We might add, with the City of Crookston as well). We have been the biggest taxpayers in support of the Oakland Nursing Home. We support your schools and municipal enterprises. We are supporting the move to locate a Junior College in Thief River Falls, to name a few. Now, you condemn us soundly because we do not feel we should build a new library for you. If we thought we would get any good out of it, we would, to be sure, open up our taxpayer's purse strings again.

Even though you may think we are just a bunch of country boys over here in Marshall County, Mr. Editor, you could learn one thing from us. Just "check the facts" before you put your foot in your mouth. In the meantime, we are throwing your editorial "Down the Drain".

Yours truly,
County Commissioners: Wm. A. Lindberg, Herbert Pagnac, Sofus H. Bjerhess, and Oscar A. Rokke

Cook County Gets 40 In. Winter Snow

County in Michigan Gets Aggregate of 222 Inches

Cook county, in Minnesota, this year holds the record for snowfall as usual, says the U. S. Weather Bureau, but adds that this has not been a heavy year for snow. At Grand Portage ranger station the snow for November and December 1963, and January and February, 1964, totaled 40 inches. This contrasts with 13.6 inches in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area for the same period.

The heaviest snow ever recorded in Minnesota was in the winter of 1949-50, when there was 170.5 inches recorded at Pigeon River bridge, in Cook county.

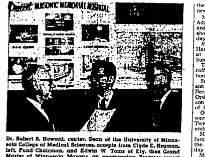
Not all states have escaped heavy snow. As usual the Upper Peninsula of Michigan has had its share. Keweenaw county, which is on a promontory of the Upper Peninsula in Michigan, has been the perennial champion of the state for years but this year is being nosed out by Gogebic county, in the western end of the peninsula (on the Wisconsin border). So far this winter 222 inches, almost 19 feet, has been recorded at Wakefield by the U. S. Weather Bureau. This compares with 190 inches in Keweenaw county last year and 167 so far this year.

Auto Thefts Hit New Peak in 1963

Automobiles were stolen at the rate of one every 90 seconds in 1963.

This was a new all time United States record, the National Automobile Theft Bureau reports. The value of such cars was $376 million, the nation's costliest property crime.

The increase in this crime was 11.5 percent last year and represents 41,000 cars, to a total of 396,418 for the year. At the rate of increase in such thefts, it is estimated the total will be 700,000 annually by 1970.



Dr. Robert B. Howard, center, Dean of the University of Minnesota College of Medical Sciences, accepts from Clyde E. Hegman, left, Fund Chairman, and Edwin W. Toms of Ely, then Grand Master of Minnesota Masons, an encouraging Progress report on the Masonic drive to enlarge the Memorial Cancer Hospital they gave the University six years ago. More than $681,000 of the $1,100,000 needed has been pledged toward a two-story addition to house more beds and additional laboratory equipment.

Pres. L. B. Johnson Heads 4-H Agency

Is Honorary Chairman of Service Committee

President Lyndon B. Johnson has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the National 4-H Service Committee, and has consented to the presentation of silver trays in his name to six top ranking 4-H Club members next December at the 43rd National 4-H Club Congress.

The announcement comes from Norman C. Mindrum, director of the Committee. Mr. Mindrum explains that since 1924, the President of the United Stats has served as honorary chairman. The late John F. Kennedy had been chairman.

In accepting the post, President Johnson said, "I deem it a pleasure to accept your kind invitation, and will also be happy to permit the traditional awards to be presented in my name to those 4-H Club members holding superior records in citizenship, leadership and achievement. My cordial good wishes for the continued success of this youth program."

The National 4-H Service Committee this year is celebrating its 40th anniversary as a non-profit educational corporation, stated Mindrum, although it began to function in 1921. Its stated purpose is to support and promote 4-H Club work conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

"From a humble beginning and donations of a few thousand dollars used to bring 4-H members to the International Livestock Show, the Committee has increased its support to one-and-a-quarter million dollars annually," Mindrum said.

Traffic on Duluth Bridge Increases

Interstate Span Used by 10,487 Daily in January

The story of what has happened to traffic between Superior and Duluth since the opening of the new Interstate bridge and the purchase of the Arrowhead bridge is at least partially revealed in a set of traffic volume statistics compiled by the Minnesota highway department.

Traffic on the new Interstate has shown a normal increase — fluctuating between 9,509 average daily traffic for the first official month of its operation in January, 1962 (dedication ceremonies were held Dec. 2, 1961) and 10,487 average daily traffic in January, 1964. Some months have been higher due to seasonal variations, for example, August, 1962, when the traffic was 15,727 average daily.

Agreement between Minnesota and Wisconsin for purchase of the Arrowhead bridge from the stockholders was concluded in March, 1963. The first month of its operation as a toll-free facility in May, 1963, showed a daily average traffic of 3,141 as compared with 1,315 average daily traffic in November, 1962, about double the traffic, a rate which has been maintained in later months.

This indicates, say spokesmen of the highway department, that the purchase of the Arrowhead bridge was a good investment for motorists in the two states, since it obviously eliminated a restriction of movement between certain parts of Superior and Duluth.

All dressed up for EASTER

We know a dour old philosopher who always has something nasty to say about what makes others happy. His latest diatribe is against folks "parading to Church in all their Easter finery."

But he won't get far with his complaints. For, strange as this might sound, the modern Easter "outfit" has its root in the very meaning of the day.

Easter has always stood for newness of life. It marks Christ's victory over death. It promises an eternal destiny to those who embrace the Faith.

Easter puts old things away and brings out the new — as the Earth sends forth its verdure — as God reveals our Hope.

And if there is a glow of happiness in wearing that new dress or hat or suit . . . well, it's only a hint of the joy that comes with finding that New Life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Civil Defense . . .

Course in Family Preparedness Set

Citizens of Pennington county will be given an opportunity to take an adult education course in personal and family preparedness under the county civil defense program. Ellsworth Jorgenson, deputy county director, will instruct the course to begin Thursday, April 2, at 7 p.m. in room 127 of the area vocational-technical school.

The course will include four three-hour sessions to be held on successive Thursdays through April 23, Jorgenson said. Free textbook and other government literature for future reference will be provided. Films, slides and filmstrips will be shown and there will be discussion, question and answer periods. Certificates will be awarded to all who complete the 12-hour course.

Jorgenson has been certified by the state department of education and the course is financed by a federal grant. No charge will be made to those who attend.

Topics to be discussed include the following:

1. How to protect yourself from fallout;
2. Different ways of purifying water and how to prevent water from becoming contaminated by fallout;
3. Why you need a fallout shelter and how to build one in your own basement;
4. Why you need stocks of food for 14 or more days;
5. The importance of planning for home emergencies and how to made a family plan;
6. How to decontaminate yourself and your family from radioactive dust;
7. The duty of federal, state, county and municipal government in time of disaster;
8. What the social welfare agencies may do for you and what you must do for yourself in time of disaster;
9. Our national, state and local warning systems.

Advance registration for the course is not necessary but would be appreciated. Interested persons may contact Ellsworth Jorgenson at the Pennington county treasurer's office or register for the course at the first session.

ELECTED exalted ruler of the Thief River Falls Elks lodge Thursday evening was Vern Erickson, general agent for the Soo Line here. He will take over his new duties April 9, succeeding Irvin J. Wilson. Other officers elected include Bruce Hall, leading knight; Glenn Peterson, loyal knight; Ralph Foster, lecturing knight; Ole Engelstad, secretary; R. J. Dryden, treasurer; Olaf Myhrer, tiler; and John Halvorson, trustee for five years. Appointive officers will be named later by Erickson.

Hanson Reelected Crop Ass'n. Head

Silas Hanson of route 4, Thief River Falls, was reelected president of the Pennington County Crop Improvement Association at the annual meeting held Tuesday. Edgar Naplin was reelected treasurer and Leonard Skaar was elected as the new vice-president. County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk serves as secretary to the association under Minnesota Crop Improvement regulations.

Association members at the annual meeting heard Robert Potts, fieldman for the Minnesota Crop Improvement association, discuss production of grass and legume seed. Potts stated that birdsfoot trefoil holds much promise to add income to farms in the area. He stated yields of 300 to 400 pounds per acre can be produced. At $.50 a pound, the crop can produce excellent income.

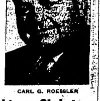
Potts stated that trefoil has never sold for less than 35 cents a pound. This year certified seed is difficult to find. Foundation seed is selling for three dollars a pound with 2½ to 3 lbs. of seed used per acre. The main use of trefoil is for pastures since neither cattle nor sheep have been known to bloat on trefoil. Alfalfa will outyield trefoil for hay.

In producing red clover seed, farmers were urged to install two bee colonies per acre to get good seed yields. Proper fertilization, clipping in early June and controlling injurious insects are other practices which must be followed to get good red clover. Three hundred pounds per acre of red clover seed has been produced by three county farmers who have applied the management practices above, Stelmaschuk said.

Timothy seed is another crop which many farmers could grow economically in the area. Contracts on Merriam bluegrass are available, according to Potts. Merriam bluegrass is similar to Park bluegrass grown successfully in the Roseau area.

The seed growers discussed the annual Pennington county Seed and Feed Show for 1965. A decision was made to emphasize beef and crops. The women's division of the show and youth activities will be also continued.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stokke of Viking were Sunday visitors at the home of the Hjalmer Johnsons.



CARL G. ROESSLER

Lions Club to Note Its 25th Year Tuesday

Director of Lions International to Be Speaker at Banquet

The Thief River Falls Lions club, which received its charter November 16, 1938, will hold a belated observance of that event when it stages a 25th anniversary banquet Tuesday evening, March 31, at 6:30 in the Elks club rooms.

Dr. O. D. Beich, club president, will officiate as toastmaster for the program, and will introduce the guest speaker, Carl G. Roessler of Woburn, Mass., member of the board of directors of Lions International, and a past district governor. Mr. Roessler is general manager of the General Ship and Engine Works and president of the Boston Shipyards association.

Dr. Beich also will give recognition to the few remaining charter members of the club, while Armond Sannes of McIntosh, district governor, will bring greetings. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Ulseth will supply vocal selections, and Wayne Thureson of Baudette will provide dinner music on the Cordovox. Rev. Paul Biegner, pastor of St. John church, will offer the invocation and benediction.

The Lions club received its charter November 16, 1938, after having elected its first slate of officers October 19 of that year. Included were M. G. Peterson, then manager of the Montgomery Ward store, as president; Dr. A. R. Hulbert, A. M. Magnuson, and Dr. J. G. Hillard, vice presidents; L. A. Ihle, secretary; R. G. Weeks, treasurer; A. C. Purdy, lion tamer; and Dr. E. S. Amesbury, tailtwister.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trickle (nee Judy Thorstenson) of Sioux Falls, S. D. spent the Easter weekend at the respective parental homes, the Claude Trickles and Larry Thorstensons.

Proposed Truck Stop Asks Bids On Gas, Fuel Oil

Information Needed To Submit Application for Loan from Government

Bids are being asked from oil companies for operation of a truck stop at Thief River Falls. A local corporation has been formed and is making application for a federal loan to operate the new facility which expects to sell a half-million gallons of gasoline and fuel oil in its annual operation.

Studies are now being made under the Pennington County Rural Areas Development (RAD) organization, according to Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent. The proposed Pennrad Truck Stop will be entirely locally-owned and operated. Formation of the corporation has taken place but articles of incorporation have not been approved by the Attorney General.

Since projected cost and income figures must be included in the application for federal loan, bids are being taken to obtain cost figures for gas and fuel oil to be sold.

Bid requests ask the laid-in price on approximately 250,000 gallons of regular and premium gasoline and 250,000 gallons of No. 1 and No. 2 fuel oil. Bids will be received by Percy Hagen at Newfolden until April 8.

DFL Convention Set Here April 12

L. J. Lee of Bagley, state representative from Clearwater and Mahnomen counties, will be the featured speaker at the Pennington county Democratic-Farmer-Labor convention scheduled for Sunday, April 12, at 2 P.M. in the court house meeting room. All delegates, alternates and interested DFL'ers are urged to attend.

Business will consist of selection of delegates and alternaties to the district convention to be held in Detroit Lakes on May 10. Pennington County will send six delegates.

The resignation of Chairman Cy Carpenter, resolutions to the district convention, and other business will be acted upon at the meeting. Lunch will be served.

Report Break-in At St. Hilaire

Break-in at the Redwood Inn at St. Hilaire is being investigated by the Pennington county sheriff's department. According to the department, entry to the inn was gained through the front door about midnight Thursday or early Friday morning. Stolen were six or seven cases of beer and a small amount of change from the cash register.

Joel P. Rosengren Retires After 29 Years with FHA

RETIRED last week after 29 years of service with the Farmers Home Administration, Joel Rosengren of Thief River Falls was honored at a social hour in the meeting room of the Pennington county courthouse. He is shown wearing the curling sweater he received as a gift while being presented with a traveling kit from courthouse employees by Albert Mattson, his successor in the post. Mattson has been supervisor for the MEA at Roseau for the past 18 years.

Joel Rosengren, supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration with offices in Thief River Falls since 1942, put in his last day on the job Friday. A retirement party was held Thursday afternoon in the Pennington county courthouse meeting room with about 75 people making an appearance during the afternoon.

State, district and local FHA personnel presented Rosengren with a knitted curling sweater as a retirement gift. He also received a travel case from courthouse personnel and a cash gift from local agricultural agencies.

With 29 years of service to the FHA, Rosengren had the longest service of any supervisor in Minnesota at the time of retirement. He began work with the federal agency in the summer of 1935 in Olivia, serving there for three months. He also served in Slayton for about three years, Pipestone for two years and Ivanhoe for one year before moving to Thief River Falls.

One of the first projects tackled by Rosengren upon moving to this city was the transfer of 110 government resettlement farms to private ownership in Pennington, Polk and Red Lake counties. It is believed that in his tenure with FHA he has processed more loans than any other supervisor in Minnesota.

In 1961 Rosengren made the first rural housing loan in Minnesota under a new program adapted by FHA. In addition to his FHA work, Rosengren has served as a trustee at Trinity Lutheran church, was a member of the defense board and other boards during World War II, has served on many agricultural committees, is president of the Pennington County Historical society and chairman of the technical action panel for Rural Areas Development groups in Pennington and Red Lake counties.

When Rosengren first came to Thief River Falls, his territory included Pennington, Marshall and part of Beltrami county. Seven years ago the areas were changed and Pennington and Red Lake were combined to form the district he has served since.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosengren have three sons. Keith is a teacher in Hallock public schools, Stanford is a minister in Buffalo and Robert is serving with the U. S. Army in Germany. Joel's hobbies include gardening in the summer and curling during the winter.

Successor to Rosengren at Thief River Falls is Albert Mattson, supervisor in Roseau county for the past 18 years, who began his work with FHA under Rosengren at Thief River Falls in 1943. He worked at Detroit Lakes for 18 months before moving to Roseau in 1946. Mr. and Mrs. Mattson have two married sons and a daughter who is in eighth grade at Roseau. They plan to move to Thief River Falls when this year's school term is completed.

Tax Delinquency In County Is 2.56%

Tax delinquency in Pennington county for 1963 totaled 2.59 per cent, the lowest figure since 1.8 per cent in 1958, according to figures released by Ellsworth Jorgenson, Pennington county treasurer. Delinquent taxes totaled $37,367.95 on a total levy of $1,440,046. There was a total of $1,400,928 in taxes paid with $3,231.43 in cancellations and abatements.

The 1963 delinquency of 2.59 per cent compares with 2.87 per cent for 1962, 2.73 per cent for 1961 and 3.04 per cent for 1960. Other sample delinquency percentages were 4.1 per cent in 1954, 5.6 per cent in 1951, 2.66 per cent in 1948, 4.5 per cent in 1945, 9.6 per cent in 1942, 11.8 per cent in 1940 and 15.0 per cent in 1938.

Comparative figures for total levy and amounts delinquent were $1,325,215 and $38,101 in 1962; $1,170,633 and $25,508 in 1959; $677,610 and $37,795 in 1951 and $326,078 and 48,893 in 1938. Statistics for 1963 include the following for Pennington county townships (all odd cents dropped):

VFW Post Will Host Ninth Dist. Convention Here

Members of the VFW Post 2793 in Thief River Falls have been busy the past month organizing plans for the Ninth District Loyalty Day parade and convention to be held here May 2 and 3. The post has elected committee chairmen and all committees are now at work.

Last week the members of the post started soliciting merchants of the city for the sale of advertising in a brochure for the convention. They expect to finish the drive this coming week.

The parade committee is working to secure various units for the parade. Theme of the parade is "Loyalty Day", and the committee is trying to get parade entries to carry out this theme in the unit they enter. Anyone having floats, cars, bands, marching units or any entry for the parade is asked to contact Ollie Mossestad or Al Saxberg. The parade will be on May 2 at 4 p. m.

Harold Anderson and Roy A. Jorgenson are general chairmen of the district convention with other co-chairmen including the following: Charles Krause and Eldon Harbott, brochure; Benhard Johnson and Bud Nabben, decorations; Arnold Kelley and Harlan Huseth, fund raising; Myrl Carlson and Kenneth Rustad, publicity; M. R. Leverson and L. H. Thorstenson, housing; Clarence Dicken and Ambrose Wysoski, banquet registration; Al Saxberg and Oliver Mossestad, parade; Del Harbott and Les DeBriyn, finance; and Selmer Dimmen, poppy float.

EXPECTANT PARENT CLASS CONTINUES

Classes for expectant parents will resume Tuesday at Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls, according to Mrs. Myrl Vettleson, R. N., director of the program. The class last week was postponed due to bad weather. Time for the class will be 7:30 p.m. in the hospital cafeteria with both expectant fathers and mothers invited to attend.

Odd Fellows Set District Meeting

On Tuesday evening, March 31, at 8:00 p. m., the local Odd Fellows lodge will be host to a meeting for District No. 24, which includes Fisher, Warren and Thief River Falls. Recommendation of new district deputy grand master and election of the district officers will be conducted.

Present officers include Deputy Grand Master Emmett Mousley; Albert Sjolsvold, president, and Millard A. Nelson, secretary, of this city; and J. Arthur Frykholm of Alvarado as vice president.

Gordon Ekberg of Herman, Minnesota, a past grand master of Minnesota, will be the guest speaker. He will give a talk at 9:15 p. m., open to anyone interested, including Rebekahs, and past members. The meeting will spearhead a membership drive. A lunch and social time will follow.

Legion Birthday Party April 18

Howard Lohman of Moorhead, Ninth District commander of the American Legion, will be featured speaker at the 45th anniversary celebration of the American Legion Saturday, April 18, in Thief River Falls. A dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. at the clubrooms and will be followed by a program at which Commander Lohman will speak.

Gary Battlesons Feted March 22 At Open House

An open house wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. Gary Battleson of Hopkins was held at the home of Mrs. Battleson's parents, the Jerrold Nelsons of rural Thief River Falls on March 22.

The Battlesons, who were married November 30, were greeted by a large number of friends and relatives, and they recieved a number of gifts, for which they expressed their thanks to the guests. The afternoon was spent socially, and climaxed with a buffet-style lunch. A tiered wedding cake, trimmed with bells, floral motif, and tiny birds, centered the serving table, and carried out the pink and white theme of the reception.

Melrene Nelson and Judy Kaushagen were hostesses. Guests were registered by Denise Holden; Karen Kaushagen opened the gifts, Mrs. Glen Olson cut and served the cake, and Mrs. Wesley Johnson presided at the coffee service. Kitchen hostesses were Mrs. Gordon Kaushagen and Mrs. Ray Nelson.

Parents of Mr. Battleson are the Dunne Battlesons of Thief River Falls. The couple resides at 134 Monroe avenue South in Hopkins, where both are employed.

Chad and Chris Town Baptized March 22

Chad and Chris Town, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Town of the Lake Agassiz refuge staff were baptized Sunday afternoon, March 22 at the Community Methodist church in Thief River Falls, with Rev. Dean Headley administering the rite. Sponsors for the children were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Olson of the refuge.

A supper was served at the church following the baptism. All new members of the church were guests, and among them were Mr. and Mrs. Town and Mr. and Mrs. Olson, who joined the church that evening.

Moccasin Garden Club Changes Meeting Date

Meeting date of the Moccasin Garden club has been changed to Tuesday evening, March 31 at 7:30 at the Norton Nelson home. A lesson on the planting of spring bulbs will be presented by Mrs. Vivian McCrum.

AGING

Q. When do people reach old age?

A. Probably no one has ever lived long enough to answer this question. But seriously, it depends largely upon one's viewpoint. Teenagers think they will be old at twenty-five. Grandmother at fifty-five may consider sixty-five the mark of old age. Actually, the aging process is gradual and begins at birth. If Father Time could be stopped and the body made to retain the healing and resisting powers of a 10-year-old, you could expect to live hundreds of years.

Q. Do we inherit long life from our parents?

A. There is a good deal of truth in the old saying, "If you want to live to a ripe old age, choose your parents carefully." One way doctors study the effect of heredity on aging is by comparing twins. Identical twins (one-egg twins) tend to show their age at about the same time. They seem to inherit an equal measure of life span. Two-egg twins, who are twins just because they were born at the same time, usually show different age patterns. One twin may age early — the other late.

J&B DRUG & GIFT STORE

SNOWBALLS were logical substitutes for Easter eggs Sunday as heavy snow cover still remained and temperatures were on the chilly side. Only a few brave souls sported Easter bonnets as they attended church services in Thief River Falls Sunday morning. Sub-zero weather has followed the heaviest snowfall of the winter here, and the early Easter date left no opportunity for it to disappear. Demonstrating the snow-covered Easter in the above photo are Judy Iverson, Miss Thief River Falls, and Jeri Jean Lundin, daughter of the Times photographer and owner of the Easter basket. On Easter a year ago, the river was open and warm, shirt-sleeve weather prevailed.

Enoch Hestad Notes His 97th Birthday

Enoch Hestad, one of the early pioneers of the Grygla community, celebrated his 97th birthday on March 10 at the Art Nordby residence, where he has made his home for the past four-and-a-half years.

In addition to Mr. Hestad and the Nordbys, others present for the occasion were a son Milton of Bovey, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Nordby, Paul and John; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Nordby and Larry; Mrs. Arvid Anderson and Nancy; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hagen and Janice; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hagen, Julie, Baryth, Rocky, and Orlo.

The three-layer decorated cake, with lighted candles, was baked and decorated by Mrs. Art Nordby. Other cakes were also among the gifts he received, along with a number of cards and messages of congratulations. The near-centenarian is enjoying good health.

Loren Voldness Baby Christened At Zion

Robin Tina, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Voldness, received holy baptism at a private service at Zion Lutheran church on Wednesday morning. The sacrament was administered by Rev. Leland Steen, with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seibel of Thief River Falls as sponsors.

Also present were the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Voldness, and Mrs. Robert Hirst and Rosalyn; Mrs. Seibel's mother, Mrs. Weidmeier, and Mrs. Clarinda Terrian.

The baby received a gold cross on a chain as a gift from the sponsors, and wore the same dress worn by a sister at her baptism, to establish a family tradition. After the service the child's mother served lunch at her home for all those in attendance at the rites, and to the Seibel children.

Pink and Blue Shower Honors Mrs. Hilding Hume

A surprise pink and blue shower held at the Robert Thompson home recently, honored Mrs. Hilding Hume. Hostesses were Mrs. Andy Homme and Miss Jerry Thompson.

Table centerpiece was an umbrella in the shower theme, with with streamers of pink and blue. Appropriate games were played throughout the evening, with the winners receiving prizes. Climaxing the event was the presentation of gifts to the guest of honor who was seated beside the gift table, and wore a corsage comprised of small items used in baby care.

Refreshments were served on individual trays.

Included among the guests were Mrs. Hume, and Mmes. Leland Nelson, Alvin Nelson, Norman Leader and Ellen Larson; Walter Leach, Louise Dorn, Leo Langevin, Don Anderson, Norman Berry, all of Thief River Falls; Leonard Melin of St. Hilaire, Mrs. George Bucklin of Crookston; Mrs. Dave Wefald, and Mmes. Howard Langlie, Ole Waale, Dagney Schuster, Roy Sorum, Beverly Thompson and Miss Sandra Homme. Gifts were received also from Mrs. Lewis Hruby, Mrs. Ida Brouse, Mrs. L. H. Thorstenson, and Mrs. Al Bacon.

Antonio Laliberte Is Calif. Honor Student

Antonio M. Laliberte of San Diego has qualified for first honors on the first semester honor roll at Saint Mary's College, San Diego, Calif., according to Brother Walter, F. S. C. dean.

Laliberte, who completed 8th grade at St. Bernard's school here, and was a 1961 graduate of Saint Augustine High School, is a junior enrolled in the School of liberal arts. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Pete Laliberte, San Diego. The Lalibertes, who formerly operated Pete's Cafe, next to Jung's bakery, lived here for five years.

Sharon Lindwick To Marry Galen Englund

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Lindwick of Goodridge announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sharon Lee, to Galen Englund, son of Emil Englund of Thief River Falls.

Miss Lindwick is a 1960 graduate of Goodridge high school and is employed at home. Mr. Englund is a farmer near Grygla.

The wedding date has not been set at this time.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

Mrs. Leo Herber

With cottage cheese as a basic ingredient, this tasty main dish is unique in both flavor and preparation. It yields itself readily to a wide variety of accompaniments with which to round out the meal. Mrs. Herber likes its flexibility, and serves it with many different vegetables, salads, and desserts. The latter often includes ice cream and a cooky or fresh or canned fruit. She sometimes serves left-over gravy over them also, and calls them a "big hit" with those at her table. She likes the patties because they are so easily prepared, and since her husband is a doctor, this is one criterion for which any dish could become a favorite. (Dr. Herber is one of the two doctors who staff the Thief River Clinic.)

Cottage Patties

- 1 small carton cottage cheese
- 1 cup crushed Zwelbak or dried bread crumbs
- ¼ teaspoon sage
- 1 minced onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce

Mix together and mold into patties. Bake in a lightly-greased pan at 300 degrees for 30-45 minutes or until golden brown. Yield, 8 or 10 patties. Serves 6.

Bird-watching, with a pair of bird feeders in the yard to attest to their interest, is a hobby with the doctor's family, especially with his wife. She also likes gardening, but they have little or no space for this activity. She is a dedicated reader, her preference mostly in the non-fiction areas. The family enjoys music, especially that in a light or semi-classical vein. They live near the river and this enhances their enjoyment of nature, with the kids enthusiastic participants in their outings. At Mud Lake, they are fascinated, in season, with bird migrations. They have a boat, and try to get away from the hubbub of everyday life as often as possible, at least every week, if they can.

Their children are Timothy, 12; Katie Jo, 10; Kelly Sue, 6; and George, 4.

Mrs. Herber is also a Pathfinder leader in the Seventh-Day Adventist church, and teaches camp crafts and other related activities.

Additional Locals

Eugene Fisher, a student at St. John's University, Collegeville, Minn., spent the Easter vacation with his parents, the Ed Fishers.

Visitors at the Darrell Vollmer home in Grand Forks, N. D. on Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. William Marciniak, Curtis and Dwight, Miss Jan Haugen of Alvarado, and Mary Jane Grabanski.

Mrs. Flora Allison entertained for Easter dinner and afternoon luncheon the Sam Shafers and four children of Greenbush; Steven Shafer of Crookston, Dean Shafer of Greenbush, and Diane Allison of Grand Forks, N. D.

Preparing for Tomorrow

4H Program Helps To Develop Youth

Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles on work of the Pennington county extension service and contains information taken by the agents from their annual reports.

Youths of today are citizens of tomorrow. They must have proper skills, values, curiosities and information in order to solve problems and to cope with their environment. The 4-H program helps to develop these.

4-H clubs are groups of young people that carry on educational projects. They are guided by volunteer local leaders who work with county extension agents.

4-H is a family-centered program. Parents sometimes assist with club leader-ship, and at all times they should help and encourage their 4-H'ers to successfully reach their goals.

By exploring various projects, boys and girls are given an opportunity to see what aptitudes and interests they really have. Projects, meetings, events and contests all are a part of the 4-H program to help individuals discover facts, interests and talents and to nurture these for maximum development of the individual.

The adult and junior leaders are doing an excellent job in conducting club and county 4-H programs and events. The club program in the county has shown a steady increase in the last several years showing the effectiveness of the work of a strong 4-H council. 1956, 366; 1957, 388; 1958, 390; 1959, 511; 1960, 396; 1961, 421; 1962, 463; 1963, 522.

4-H events include: county fair, state fair, junior livestock show, Northwest Dairy Day, Brown Swiss day, black-and-white show, winter shows, Greenbush Sheep days, achievement banquet, 4-H tours, radio speaking contest, 4-H plays, share-the-fun, favorite food show, 4-H livestock judging, demonstrations, crop and garden day, conservation camp, health camp, Crookston 4-H club week, 4-H livestock roundup, dress revue, dairy princess contest, seed and feed show and 4-H institute.

4-H'ers in Pennington county are enrolled in 60 different projects which enables them to learn different understandings, skills and values. Meetings 4-H'ers conduct or attend are wonderful learning experiences for them.

Various events organized for the 4-H'ers stimulate competition. Competition needs to be channeled into competition of the individual against himself. This enables him to improve himself and to develop his abilities to the fullest extent.

4-H'ers are also given information at 4-H council, farm visits, office calls, telephone calls, radio, the various news releases in the Times.

PUBLIC OPINION

To the Editor:

Our brash new editor has things to learn when it comes to expressing opinions of a controversial nature. When he takes to task the commissioners of the neighboring counties because they refuse to rush to the pork barrel, I. E. the library proposition for the various counties, he is demonstrating his total immaturity of thought.

If he had delved into this library deal as it applies to the counties that have taken it on, he will find dubious results. In Polk county you will see a disconsolate bookmobile parked on a deserted street in the county villages with the driver drowsing at the wheel. He sleeps while the assiduous bookmobile attendant is out trying to promote culture. Results are not encouraging.

The American people are not in search of culture. We must recognize that fact. The only way you can sneak culture into the reading of the American public is to bait it with sex. This leaves us with the prospect of sending out bookmobiles to purvey this type of lurid sex reading which is representative of the best sellers of today.

So Mr. Editor, let us not go over-board on this matter. Certainly you must not be naive to the point where you think this library deal is anything but another boondoggle. More important, when you cast jibing remarks at our neighboring counties you are attacking Thief River Falls where it hurts the most, in the pocketbook. These people that you attack are our customers and you had better not forget it for one moment.

In the future therefore, Mr. Editor, please temper your judgment with the knowledge that there are people in the world who may have more knowledge than you have, and are acting in the best interest of the community. This I am sure the commissioners have done.

Yours very truly,
R. E. Johnson

Dear Sir:

I just finished reading the rather amusing letter in your March 25th edition signed by the county commissioners of Marshall County. In my estimation, that letter is a living testimony affirming the need for better library facilities in Marshall county. It would be interesting to know what motivated them to write such a letter.

They state that the book-mobile idea has yet to prove itself. Is this true? I find it hard to believe that the idea hasn't proven itself when you consider the funds the State is willing to invest in the idea. I grew up in a small town where the book-mobile was something to look forward to. The idea proved itself there.

They state that they are not anxious to get caught in this situation since the plan has been received with such poor results in other counties. I would be glad to review any "facts" they care to present showing these poor results.

They state that you, and I, and the rest of the taxpayers would pay for this plan. This is true. We're going to be paying for it whether we have the service or not. And the sad, sad thing about it is that now, another part of the state will benefit because the plan was voted down by the Marshall county commissioners.

Lord knows there is little enough for our children to do for recreation in rural northwestern Minnesota. I'm sorry my kids aren't going to have a book-mobile to look forward to, and I bet that there are a few other parents sorry also. Of course, reading books can be a waste of time.

Sincerely;
John O. Muldoon

Side Line Observations

BY BILL DAHLQUIST

With the national election not much more than seven months away, campaign issues are shaping up, and in several fields the Johnson administration is going to be subjected to serious criticism. President Johnson is not personally responsible for all of the errors but in the campaigning he will have to assume responsibility for the questionable acts of his predecessor as well as his own. And not all of the criticism is going to come from Republicans.

For instance the Winnipeg Tribune last week carried a Southam News Service report written from Washington by Bruce Phillips, which expressed surprise about a recent attack on the administration's foreign policies by none other than Senator J. William Fulbright, respected chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, and, of course, a leading Democrat. According to Phillips, "the administration was staggered by his charges." He stated:

> "Washington sources say that President Johnson was surprised and embarrassed by Fulbright's attack, since it comes at a time when the United States has suffered several recent setbacks and with a presidential election campaign approaching."

And now that the administration has committed itself to an aggressive military campaign in Viet Nam, that could very easily explode into another Korea, the administration's foreign policy is going to be subjected to much more criticism. The American people do not know why we are assuming the full burden of that Viet Nam operation, without the support of the United Nations and those nations, our allies, that have a common interest with us in maintaining peace in southest Asia. The administration is vulnerable now in this field of foreign relations and a stepped-up operation in Viet Nam is going to make the administration more vulnerable to criticism.

And the Bobby Baker scandal, the investigation of which has been opposed by the administration, and which now seems to be destined for permanent disposition, on the shelf after a whitewashing statement by the Democratic majority to the effect that while Baker's conduct was not good, there is no reason to believe that leading Democrats in the Senate were in any way involved in his activities.

When Baker's unexplainable rise to riches first made the headlines President Johnson referred to Baker as his pal, in effect giving support to those who did not want Baker investigated. In a later statement the President reversed himself by stating that Baker was already a Senate employee when he, as majority leader, assumed responsibility for the senate majority management.

But ending this investigation by the Democrat-controlled Senate committee will not end all investigations, and most of the facts will be revealed regardless of whom they hurt. That process is already well under way.

For instance in two issues of the Wall Street Journal published last week, that publication devoted nearly two pages to a factual report, written by staff reporter Louis M. Kohlmeier, on the rise to riches of the Lyndon Johnson family, dealing mainly with the development of a fortune in radio and television operations under the direction of Johnson's wife, Lady Bird. An original investment of $17,500, which purchased a money-losing T-V station in Austin, Tex., has bloomed into a radio and T-V empire that is estimated to be worth $7 million.

It must be assumed that Mrs. Johnson was a competent manager, but according to Kohlmeier's report, much of the success must be attributed to the fact that the Johnson operations received very favorable consideration by the Federal Communications Commission which has to do with the licensing and control of such operations.

But at the time of the purchase Lyndon Johnson was a member of Congress, which might or might not have influence the F. F. C. Communications Commission acting on Mrs. Johnson's application to operate the station on an unlimited-hours schedule and quadruple the station's 250-watt transmitting power. Nevertheless the station started to produce profits.

Since that time the Johnson radio and T-V empire has expanded to other cities in Texas, always with the approval of the Federal Communications Commission. Other applicants who wanted to enter the field in competition with the Johnsons were discouraged, and in the large city of Austin the Johnsons have a monopoly, with authority to serve a large area and providing the service of three networks.

There may not be anything wrong with this activity and in reporting the facts the Wall Street Journal writer obviously has made a special effort to remain factual. There was no reference to the activities of Bobby Baker, who also became rich during this period. But in the committee hearings that were held dealing with Bobby Baker's activities as Lyndon Johnson's lieutenant, then serving as the majority leader in the Senate, there were some indications that at times Bobby Baker served as Senator Lyndon Johnson's errand boy in personal matters.

These matters will no doubt receive further investigation long after the Senate committee will have closed its books in regard to the matter. But it becomes increasingly clear, as we approach the election, that foreign policy and party integrity are going to be important issues in the coming campaign.

Mrs. A. S. Knutson Succumbs Mar. 31 In Minneapolis

Mrs. Arthur S. Knutson, a resident of Thief River Falls and community for many years, passed away on Friday, March 27th at the University Hospital of Minneapolis at the age of 62 years.

Final rites will be held on Tuesday afternoon, March 31, at 2:00 p. m. at St. John Lutheran church. Rev. Paul Biegner will officiate and interment is to take place in Greenwood cemetery.

The body will be reposing at the Green Funeral Home until noon on Tuesday and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

A complete obituary will be in the Wednesday edition.

John Campbell Dies Here Today; Rites Pending

John Campbell, a resident of the Goodridge community for many years, passed away at Northwestern Hospital this (Monday) morning at the age of 87. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Green Funeral Home. A complete obituary will appear in a later edition of the Times.

Farmers Union Hears Parity Pledge from National Politicians

Reaffirmation of a goal of parity income for agriculture was made by President Lyndon B. Johnson and three top administration spokesmen in messages to the 62nd annual convention of National Farmers Union held in St. Paul last week, according to a news release from the Farmers Union.

The convention opened Monday on a questioning note with national President James G. Patton asking what had become of the parity goal. It came to a conclusion with firm reassurances from President Johnson himself and from Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Senate assistant majority leader Hubert H. Humphrey, and poverty program director R. Sargent Shriver, Jr.

President Johnson's message came to the convention in the form of a live long-distance telephone conversation with President Patton which was piped into the auditorium public address system and heard by the attending delegates and visitors.

In a speech at the closing session of the convention, Secretary Freeman stated that "the goal of this administration in agriculture is 100 per cent of parity of income for the farm family.

"Let me repeat it again: President Johnson and his administration seek 100 percent parity of income. This is simple justice. The farmer ought to be able to earn as much in agriculture as the same investment of capital skill and labor earns in other occupations," Freeman continued.

"We have made progress toward the goal since 1960, but we have not been able to go far enough or fast enough. Thus, when Jim Patton says he is disappointed in the level of farm income, I frankly say that I share his disappointment."

In an address to the convention which was presented on sound film, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey warned that farm income must be improvel to insure economic progress in the country.

Re-elected at the convention were President Patton and Vice-President Glenn J. Talbott, each for a two-year term.

Edwin Christianson, president of Minnesota Farmers Union, was renamed chairman of the executive committee of National Farmers Union, and Leonard Kenfield of Montana as vice-chairman.

The next convention of Farmers Union was announced for March, 1965 in Chicago, Illinois.

Brother of Local Woman Accident Victim March 15

Requiem mass was sung at St. Mary's Catholic church in Euclid on March 20 for Yeoman 2c Edward B. Arnold, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Arnold of Angus. Rev. Father Joseph Sheehan served as celebrant, and military rites were conducted by the Warren American Legion Post 27. Military escort for the body was James W. Parr, A. B. H. C. A. U.S. Navy, stationed at the Colorado base.

Yeoman Arnold was the brother of Mrs. Don Omdahl and the grandson of Mrs. Emma Arnold, both of Thief River Falls. He lost his life near Manitou Springs, Colo., on March 15, when his car plunged off a mountain highway. He was with the North American Defense Command and had served in the Navy for five years.

He was born in Crookston on December 29, 1940, and graduated from the Warren high school in 1958.

Survivors are his parents; a brother George of Moorhead, three sisters, Mrs. Donald (Constance) Omdahl, Thief River Falls, and Misses Jacalyn and Sandra Arnold both of Angus, and his grandmother.

Attending funeral services from here were Mrs. Emma Arnold; Mr. and Mrs. Don Omdahl, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Arnold and Linda; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Konickson and Vicki.

Willie Winson, Formerly of TRF, Dies In Wisconsin

Willie Winson, 61, a former resident of Thief River Falls, died in a Muskego, Wis. hospital on March 18. He was the brother of Mrs. E. E. Kelly and Mrs. Nels Fontaine, both of this city.

Services were held Friday, Mar. 20 at the Koelsch Funeral Home and interment was in Highland Memorial Park at Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. Winson, the son of the late Ole Winsons, was born in Gatzke on December 29, 1902. He came to Thief River Falls at the age of 19 and lived here for several years before moving to Milwaukee. He married Dorothy Hunt a short time thereafter.

His wife survives him, as do two sons, Marvin and Leslie; seven grandchildren; his two sisters, and a brother, Ellert. Preceding him in death were his parents, two sisters, and two brothers.

Services Held for Gunhild Knutson, 96, Oklee Pioneer

Funeral services were held Saturday, March 28, at Valle Lutheran Church east of Oklee at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Gunhild Knutson, a resident of the Oklee community for 68 years, who died Sunday at the age of 96.

One of the first settlers in Red Lake county, Mrs. Knutson was born Gunhild Krossen Feb. 22, 1868, in Bygland, Satesdalen, Norway.

She married Aslak Knutson in Norway in 1890 and together with their oldest son, Knute, immigrated to America in 1891. They lived at Fisher and Crookston before they homesteaded in Equality township, Red Lake county in 1896.

They lived in Equality township 52 years. Since her husband's death in 1945 she has made her home with her son Andy, in Oklee.

Mrs. Knutson helped organize the first Lost River Ladies Aid and church which later merged with the Valle church.

She was preceded in death by her husband, two grown sons, Knute and Amund, four small daughters, two brothers and two sisters.

Mrs. Knutson is survived by two daughters and three sons, Anna, who took care of her mother the last five years, Mrs. Gunnuf Breivold, Oklee, Andy of Oklee, Torkel of Twin Valley, and Ole of Calumet, Minn. Also surviving are six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Francis Comstock, Longtime Resident, Interred Here

Francis L. Comstock, a resident of Thief River Falls for many years, and of Minneapolis for the past 12 years, died on Monday, March 23 in Minneapolis. He was 89 years of age.

Funeral services were conducted on Friday afternoon, March 27 in the Green Funeral Chapel of this city, with Rev. A. Dean Headley officiating, and interment in Greenwood cemetery.

Mr. Comstock is survived by five sons, Alvin C. of Duluth; Howard of Thief River Falls; George, Harry, and Ray, all of Minneapolis; and four daughters, Mrs. Donald Green, Mrs. Bernard Besse, Mrs. Lloyd Helm, all of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Jennie Stephens of Rockford, Ill.; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Fetter of El Monte, Calif., and Mrs. Orintha Singer of Rockford, Ill. There are also 28 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren surviving him.

Final Rites for Mrs. Ellen Dahl Set For April 1

Mrs. Ellen Dahl, a resident of Thief River Falls since 1929, died on Friday, March 27, at the Northwestern Hospital at the age of 82 years.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday, April 1, at 2:00 p. m. in the Green Funeral chapel. Rev. Wesley Johnson will officiate and interment will be in the Lanstad cemetery west of Thief River Falls.

The body will lie in state at the Green Funeral Home from Tuesday noon until time of service on Wednesday.

A complete obituary will be given in the next issue of the Times.

One Week Remains For Prize of a Lifetime Drawing

49 Prizes Offered in Product of the Month Promotional Campaign

Only one week remains to register for one of 49 prizes offered in the "Product of the Month - Prize of a Lifetime" promotion, sponsored locally by the Times and Thief River Falls businessmen.

Prizes (49 of them), premiums (eight of them) and savings (all of them) are as near as your local stores displaying the "Product of the Month - Prize of a Lifetime" banners. Deadline for entering the drawing and taking advantage of the bargains being offered is Saturday, April 11.

The newspaper supplement, which appeared in the March 18 issue of the Times, featured eight products in redeemable coupon form. Each coupon consisted of two portions, one half offering bargains on nationally-advertised brand products and the other portion containing registration forms for one of the 49 prizes.

Complete rules governing the contest were included on the supplement. Prizes include a Hawaiian vacation for two, TV, diamond wristwatches, weekends at a St. Paul motor hotel, stoves and fresh frozen turkeys in insulated picnic bags.

Game Wardens Nab 306 in February

Arrested for Violating State Game & Fish Laws

Minnesota game wardens arrested 306 persons for violations of the state game and fish laws during the month of February, the conservation department reported today.

Most numerous violation noted by wardens was for fishing with more than one line. This offense accounted for 180 arrests during the month.

There were also 22 persons found fishing without a license and 29 who had over the limit. Miscellaneous offenses accounted for the balance of a total of 231 arrests for fishing law violations.

Fish spearers also came in for their share of arrests with 21 persons apprehended violating one or more of the spearing regulations.

Trapping offenses brought 9 arrests and small game law violations 6. Prosecutions for big game law violations amounted to 16 for the month.

There were 14 arrests for carrying loaded or uncased firearms in a motor vehicle. Arrests for miscellaneous infractions made up the balance of arrests for the month.

Subzero Readings Daily Past Week

Mercury Hits 5 Below at Airport Easter Morning

Behaving in decidedly un-springlike fashion, the weather man brought subzero mercury readings to this locality each morning since last Wednesday, and rising no higher than 17 above zero in the afternoon.

High and low readings for the week at the airport included: Wednesday, 10 and —13; Thursday, 10 and —14; Friday, 16 and —13; Saturday, 17 and —11; Sunday, 17 and —5; and this morning, —5. One inch of snow fell Saturday night.

With its low reading of —5, Easter Sunday was one of the chilliest of recent years. The low of 7 above zero in Minneapolis broke the record of 10 set in 1894. Up to nine inches of snow fell in Chicago Sunday.

High readings in the 30s or 40s are forecast for this afternoon.

Cancer Crusade Kickoff Meeting Slated in Warren

Mrs. Alfred Persch, Duluth, a registered nurse who lost her larynx to cancer, who now speaks by using an electro-larynx, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Marshall county chapter of the Minnesota division of the American Cancer Society at the high school auditorium in Warren on Tuesday at 8 p. m.

The meeting will serve as the official "kick-off" of the 1964 Marshall county crusade in which workers in all parts of the county will solicit funds for research for fighting the disease, said William A. Lindberg, Warren, crusade chairman.

The general public and all volunteer workers are urged to attend the meeting. Light refreshments will be served to all in attendance in the home economics rooms in the high school following the program.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Would You Believe It?

Would you believe that the Prowlers competed in a Region Eight basketball tournament held at Benson? Well, it's a fact. I got into a good-natured argument with Bill Sponheim on this point, and I expressed doubt that the Prowler cagers ever played in a regional tourney at Benson. I knew that Region Eight, at one time, included such cities as Moorhead, Fergus Falls, Elbow Lake and others in that area. But to hear that a Region Eight tourney had been held in Benson, just forty miles from Willmar, sounded pretty far-fetched.

It was back in March of 1930 that coach George Hays brought his Prowler team to Benson for Region Eight tourney play. In a first-round game, the Prowlers scored a decisive 42 to 12 win over the Ada Vikings, and that Ada team was coached by Bill Claffy, who later became school superintendent here.

In the regional finals, the Prowlers met coach Glenn Hanna's Moorhead Spuds, the state champions in 1928 and 1929, and after a hectic game, the Spuds emerged the winner, by a 26 to 21 score. The Prowlers played the highly-rated Spuds on better than even terms for much of the game, and the score at the end of the third period was deadlocked at 14-all. In the final period, Moorhead, with such tournament-wise and experienced players as Moran, Malvey, and Marquardt, pulled away to mark up a 5-point win. Moran and Malvey had gained all-state tournament honors in 1929.

Prowler squad members in 1930 were captain Rip Dablow, Roy Lonson, Ken and Merle Lindberg, Arnold Mickelson, Howie Holum, and Arnold Rustad. But in that finals game against the Spuds, coach Hays used but five players, having Dablow and Lonson at the forwards, Holum at center, and Mickelson and Ken Lindberg at the guards.

An interesting sidelight on that game is that only eleven personal fouls were called. The Prowlers were charged with seven personals, while the Spuds were assessed but four fouls.

Another Bowling Record

In last week's comment on the record-breaking bowling performances that have been on view at the Family Bowl Lanes, mentioning the 2902 three-game series by the Schmidt's, I, unfortunately, forgot to note the single-game mark set by the Len's Tire Service team.

The Len's Tire squad, in a match against the Elks Club in a Business league encounter a couple of weeks ago, bowled a 1045, setting a season's mark for a high single game. In marking up this high game, the Len's were paced by the 245-pin game bowled by Dean Anderson. Carl Onkka chalked up a 212; Marland Kloety had a 210; Pat Poole a 191; and Del Harbott a 187.

They Could Be

Cal Marvin, manager of the Warroad Lakers senior hockey team, contends that this season's club is the strongest and best-balanced to ever represent Warroad. And Cal could be right.

I saw the Lakers on Saturday night in the opening game of their best-of-three series against the Flin Flon Warriors. The Lakers, although outshot by the hustling northern Manitoba team, scored a 7 to 5 win in the game, and coach Dayton Grafstrom's Lakers appeared to be a "solid" club. If the Lakers defeat the Flin Flon club, and it would be an upset if the Warriors should come back and defeat Warroad, the Minnesota team would move out west and play the Saskatchewan representative in a best-of-five series. And if successful in this series, the Lakers would meet the Alberta-British Columbia winner in a best-of-five series for, as Cal states, "all of the marbles". This final series, and I hope it comes about, would be played in the Winnipeg Arena.

But to get back to the present Warroad club, and its roster. They have three fine lines—Murray Balagus, Ron Shally, and Myron Grafstrom; Billy Christian, Bob Bartlett, and Roger Christian; and Reg Morelli, Jim Stordahl, and Sam Grafstrom. The blue-line contingent is composed of George Goodacre, Buck Forslund, Dayton Grafstrom, Bobby Lund, and Bill Mathews; and in the nets they have Allie Reynard.

In Saturday night's game against Flin Flon, it was the play of goalie Reynard that proved to be the factor that gave the Lakers the victory. Particularly in the first period, when the fast-skating Warriors were applying the pressure, was Reynard spectacular. The sturdy goalie kicked out fifteen shots in the opening period, while Flin Flon's George Allard had but five stops. Reynard had thirteen stops in the second period, and ten saves in the final period for 38-stop effort for the game.

Seven Cases Tried In Municipal Court

Variety of Offenses Is Noted Among Few Cases

Only seven cases were brought into Thief River Falls municipal court last Monday by the state highway patrol, sheriff's office and city police, with Judge Stanley N. Mortenson presiding.

Highway patrol cases included Floyd Hoefer, rt. 5, drive through a stop sign, fined $15; and Harvey Allen Hanson, rt. 3, speeding, fined $15.

Sheriff's department cases included S. Bernard Wilson, Goodridge, assault, fined $50 with $25 suspended; and Gladys Elg, Goodridge, careless driving, fined $35 with $10 suspended.

City police cases included Thora Skomedal, rt. 2, and Mrs. Alma Elofson, city, forfeited $10 bond each on charges of not having 1964 license tabs; and Kenneth Johnson, St. Hilaire, driving while under the influence of liquor, fined $100 and driver's license revoked.

Postmaster Dryden Warns of Mail Frauds

Noting that mail frauds filch millions from the public annually and are increasing, Postmaster R. J. Dryden urged today that local residents take care in responding to solicitations from unknown companies or to "offers too good to be true."

Dryden said that he had received informational material from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski about the problem and that the postal service is pressing a strong drive against quackery by mail, land fraud promotions, gyp work-at-home schemes and the like.

Dryden noted that one of the stiffest prison terms ever administered to a medical "con man" was given to Roy Wright DeWelles, of Pass Christian, Miss., who made an estimated $1.5 million peddling a worthless "oxygen therapy" device known as Detoxacolon.

In another recent case at San Francisco, Edward H. Johnson, doing business as Comstock Land Company and E. H. Johnson Company, was sentenced to six months in prison, followed by four and one-half year probation, for mail fraud. Johnston was also ordered to make restitution of $60,000 to purchasers of worthless desert land near Elko, Nevada. Postal inspectors accounted for nearly fifty investors who had signed contracts totaling $250,000 in the belief that the famous Nevada Comstock Ranch was involved.

In Augusta (Georgia), Homer C. Ward pleaded guilty to mail fraud and was sentenced to two years probation for operating a faith healer scheme. Public loss is estimated in excess of $2,300.

And in Chicago, Beldon Clyde, convicted of violating 18 USC 1821 which forbids use of the mails in the taking of impressions or the manufacture of dentures by other than persons licensed to practice dentistry, was sentenced on December 20 to 30 days in the custody of the Attorney General and two years' probation. Operating as Tru-Grip Dental Laboratory, he encouraged owners of the old plates to make their own impressions with a preparation he furnished and from which new plates were manufactured. Many complaints were received alleging dissatisfaction.

"It should be emphasized," Dryden added, "that most businesses doing business by mail are reputable firms, including many that may not be familiar to the prospective purchaser. However, if there is any doubt, it is best to get information from reliable sources, such as the Better Business Bureau. In cases where their is a genuine basis for suspicion of fraud, we would like to have prompt information from the public in my office—and I will see that appropriate action is taken."

Red River Valley Exhibit Is Slated at New York Fair

A Red River Valley exhibit in the Minnesota Pavilion at the New York World's Fair was assured today with the signing of a contract with the North Star World's Fair Corporation by Otter Tail Power Company, Minnkota Power Cooperative and the Fargo Forum newspaper, co-sponsors of the exhibit. The signing took place at a special ceremony at the F-M Hotel in Moorhead this noon.

The exhibit, which will be built and installed in the Minnesota Pavilion at Flushing Meadows Park prior to the opening date of the Fair April 22, will bring a panoramic view of the Red River Valley of the North, its products and resources, to the World's Fair visitor.

Featured in the display, which will fill a space 18 feet wide by 18 feet high, will be a bas-relief map of the entire valley from south of Wahpeton to north of Winnipeg, Manitoba.

'U' Man Tells How to Make Good Lawn

Specialist Recommends Good Fertilizer Program

A good fertilizer program will probably give the most for the money you spend on your home lawn, according to a University of Minnesota horticulturist.

A luxuriant lawn requires dollars and "sense," but common sense is not always common among gardeners spending dollars for lawn care, N. E. Pellett told an audience at the final session of the University's three-day horticulture short course in St. Paul Tuesday.

Each gardener will have to decide just how good he wants his lawn to be, Pellett said. Common sense procedure, he declared, is to make a list of items on which a home owner might spend money for lawn care. Included in the list would be lawn seed, fertilizer, lime, weed sprays, fungicides, insecticides, soil test, lawn tools such as sprinklers and hose, lawn mower depreciation and lawn mower repair and sharpening.

The next step is to decide how to distribute the dollar to give the best lawn. A good fertilizer program will probably pay the best dividends, he said. All fertilizer must be sold with an analysis of nitrogen-phosphorus and potassium, with the analysis given by three numbers, each representing the percentage of the nutrient in that order. Since nitrogen is the most limiting nutrient in the lawn, consider the cost of nitrogen in each lawn fertilizer and then buy the cheapest, Pellett advised.

MAIN STREET, U.S.A.

BY BERT MILLS

Washington Editor of "National Publisher"

Congress appears about ready to turn thumbs down on one of the few genuinely new proposals submitted by President Lyndon B. Johnson—a law to require certain employers to pay double overtime wage rates.

Fifteen million Americans work overtime now in a period when four million others are unemployed. As a result, the President has proposed a share-the-work plan. The idea is to make overtime so costly that business firms will hire new workers instead of keeping the regular staff after hours.

A subcommittee has been holding hearings on the White House proposal. A storm of opposition has arisen and it now seems sure the legislators will defer action in favor of a lengthy study. If so, a major legislative defeat for President Johnson will be the result.

Organized labor is all in favor of double overtime, but not in the form suggested by the White House. AFL-CIO dislikes the industry-by-industry approach proposed by the President. It would prefer an across-the-board law to force all employers to pay double overtime.

At present, the law requires that workers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act be paid one and one-half times the regular rate for overtime. The whole theory of higher pay for overtime hours is to penalize the employer in an effort to force him to create more jobs.

Business Bucks Bill

The House subcommittee has been snowed under with requests from business groups anxious to testify against the double overtime bill. So many opponents have asked to be heard that the original plan for quick hearings has been revised, even though some prospective witnesses have been persuaded to file their statements for inclusion in the printed record rather than appear in person.

The Subcommittee also invoked a 15-minute limit for oral presentations, with an additional 30 minutes for subcommittee questioning. This original schedule has now been discarded in favor of an extensive study—a decision leading to the conclusion that passage of a new law this year is highly unlikely.

Business contends that a double overtime requirement would not create jobs. A spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers testified that increasing the overtime penalty would lead to "either a price increase or a squeeze on profits," neither of which would mean more jobs.

Automation would also be accelerated under a double overtime law, business representatives have argued. Certain labor-saving devices which are uneconomic at present wage costs would become economical at the higher labor costs that would be imposed if twice the regular rate became mandatory for overtime.

Testimony has also been presented to demonstrate that most overtime is by skilled workers—and most of the unemployed are unskilled. In many cases, a shortage of trained workers is the reason for overtime. Employers in some industries are forced to work their present staff extra hours because extra hands cannot be found.

In many fields, strong unions protect their membership by imposing limits on the number of apprentices that can be trained by employers under a union contract. For example, there is a shortage of printers and yet publishers bound by union contract can train only a limited number of apprentices.

A Pay Cut for Many

Overtime has become so prevalent in some fields that many workers have come to depend on the extra income. They would be hard hit if a new law should make overtime pay so expensive that employers could no longer afford it.

While the union chieftains are strong for spreading the work by making overtime impractical for many business concerns, Congress has seen little evidence that rank-and-file workers would surrender willingly the extra money they earn by putting in extra hours. One Congressman told a reporter, "I've gotten several hundred letters against this bill and not a single one for it."

From the political standpoint, President Johnson's espousal of double overtime has served to open the eyes of some businessmen who felt that the new President would be less pro-labor and more pro-business than his predecessor. President Kennedy rejected the double overtime idea several years ago, but President Johnson adopted the scheme when he was looking for a way to ingratiate himself with union leaders.

Attend the Farm Forum

Complexities of foreign trade and their influence on Minnesota agriculture will be reviewed at the Northwestern Minnesota Farm Forum to be held Friday at the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls. All farmers in northwestern Minnesota should find the forum topic extremely interesting.

The program sub-committee of the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee has secured three of the best speakers possible for the event. Diversity in the opinion of speakers should provide a comprehensive outlook on the topic and guarantee a thorough discussion.

Dr. Elmer Learn, head of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Minnesota, is one of the best informed men on world trade, the European common market and trade impact on agriculture in the nation today. Sen. Eugene McCarthy should provide a candid view of the administration's policy on exports and imports. Rep. Odin Langen will likely give support to his stand against imported agricultural commodities which compete with American-produced items.

Each of the speakers will be given time on the program to present his personal views and evaluations on the topic, "The Minnesota Farmer in Foreign Trade". Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent, will moderate a panel discussion with the three speakers as panel members. Persons attending will be given the opportunity to submit written questions to the panel.

Designed to be of interest to farmers in Northwestern Minnesota, the forum will begin at 10 a.m. and is expected to conclude at mid-afternoon. A noon lunch will be served for a minimal 25-cent charge to defray expense of the food.

We believe this can be one of the better informational programs held in Thief River Falls for some time, and urge farmers and businessmen in the area to plan on attending the forum. It should be a dandy.

Medicare Is Mediocre

Edward H. O'Connor, president of the Insurance Economics Society of America and a veteran of 48 years in the insurance field, had some words of wisdom to say recently on the King-Anderson proposal for medical care for the aged. O'Connor spoke on the eve of his retirement, from the viewpoint of an older person. Some excerpts from his talk follow:

> "We cannot help but recognize that elderly people of low or marginal incomes have health care cost problems. But it is not necessary to throw all of us into a compulsory system to aid this segment of our population. We now have voluntary and flexible programs to answer this condition and they should be permitted to expand and improve. It has been estimated that the King-Anderson bill would cover less than 25 per cent of the total yearly health costs of the average aged person.
> "Here is a piece of legislation that can be classified as a vote-getter, using the so-called 'senior citizens' as a front to put over a government-regulated system that would eventually strip each and every one of us of our freedom of choice and give us all the evils of assembly-line medicine.
>
> "Under this proposed legislation the citizen would have no policy, the benefits would be subject to change, the tax would be compulsory, the cost would be questionable and the whole program would be subject to the political whims and pressures of every succeeding session of Congress."

It has been noted that Social Security taxes now are $848 per year on a salary of $100 per week. These taxes would have to be increased immediately to $429 per year if the proposed program is to start on a sound financial basis.

A worker beginning employment at age 25, receiving $100 per week until retirement age of 65 would invest $13,920 in the Social Security program if there was no increase in rates. That amount of money would buy a lot of private insurance.

A Change In Tune

Remember back a year or so when Sen. Hubert Humphrey was loudly calling for a complete investigation of 13½ feet of concrete on highway 35? This was a short time before the election which resulted in a gubernatorial recount and the unseating of Gov. Elmer Andersen in favor of Karl Rolvaag.

At that time our verbose senator called highway 35 "a scandal of substantial proportions". On his request, a team of experts dug through concrete on the controversial road, looking for evidence that would indicate skulduggery in awarding of contracts. The investigation was completed after the election was held, and it showed that work on the project was in accordance with specifications.

When the shoe pinches the other foot, however, Sen. Humphrey's cry is quite different. He was quoted as saying in Washington that the Senate rules committee probe of Bobby Baker should be halted. There is no need to "punish and punish and dig and dig", he said of the Baker investigation. He asked the committee to quit "wallowing in filth" and "get on high ground."

The "filth" about which the senator speaks is comprised of a combination of circumstances. These circumstances involve means under which Bobby Baker was able to amass a fortune while a salaried employee of the DFL in Washington. Prominently mentioned in the investigation was the "gift" of a hi-fi set to Lyndon B. Johnson, prior to his becoming President.

The hearing, as such, did not accomplish a great deal. Baker and his former beauty queen secretary refused to answer any important questions asked of them, and the committee has no judiciary powers for prosecution. We would agree that the hearings should be halted, providing that Baker and his cohorts are brought into a court of law instead and prosecuted for alleged misdeeds. As an upholder of the Constitution, Sen. Humphrey should not object to this due process of law.

Is It Necessary?

In the face of high agricultural production which creates surpluses and depresses prices, the reason for developing new land for farming seems somewhat vague. In fact, the idea tends to lean more toward the ridiculous. We are inclined to agree with an editorial in the Waseca Journal which stated:

> "Back in 1910, when 35 per cent of our people lived on farms, farming was our major industry. Thus 54 years ago it was well for the nation to be interested in developing new agricultural areas and opening new lands for development. But times have changed.
> "Our national leaders have failed to keep pace with the agricultural progress. They are thinking and planning just as they did a half century ago. We have more food than we know what to do with but some politicians are still interested in developing new agricultural areas. Even more unfortunate, some of our educators refuse to condemn their thinking and even poohpooh the thought that perhaps new land put into production is a factor in the agricultural problem."

The editorial commented on the pending bill to authorize the Garrison water diversion program in North Dakota. It noted that "...the $212 million appropriation necessary to provide irrigation for 250,000 acres mounts to an average cost of $848 per acre." By the standard of land values in agricultural areas, this is a high price to pay for land that is not needed.

If we are spared the devastation of war and the population of the world continues to increase, the time is sure to come when more land will be needed to produce food. In spite of fantastic technical advances in agriculture, there must be a limit to the amount of food an acre will produce. We are far from that limit now, however. To us there doesn't appear to be a valid reason for paying $848 an acre to compound our farm problem.

LOOK WHAT'S HAPPENED TO THE COST OF ELECTRICITY
—from Otter Tail

Sometimes when we tell folks about the decreasing cost of electricity, they look at us with a pitying smile. The chart above shows how the average cost per kilowatt hour has gone down for most Otter Tail residential customers. Why? Because we use more electricity these days to earn a lower rate and because Otter Tail continually seeks (and finds) more efficient ways to manufacture and distribute electric power. A happy combination that spells economy when it comes to the family budget.

Twelve Jury Cases on April Court Calendar

The April term of Pennington county district court will open in Thief River Falls next Tuesday morning, April 7, at 10 o'clock, with Judge J. H. Sylvestre of Crookston presiding, it was announced today by Henry Storhaug, clerk of court. The calendar will be reviewed, and members of the jury panel will be notified later by Sheriff Charles R. Richards when to report for duty.

Scheduled for trial are a dozen jury cases, many of them involving personal injuries arising from automobile accidents, and two cases alleging wrongful death. One continued case to be heard is that of Starr Nelson, by Richard Nelson, her father, vs the city of Thief River Falls, a personal injury action.

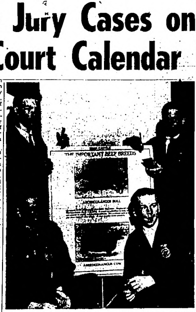
Three of the new jury cases are the outgrowth of a tragic automobile accident December 1 on Highway 59 southeast of the city limits, in which three Lincoln high school students lost their lives. They were Roger Oftelie, Cyril Fisher and Rudolph Jehlicka.

The cases are those of David Belland, a minor, by his father, Edward Belland, vs. Gerald Johnson and Duane Oftelie; Rudolph Jehlicka, trustee for the estate of his son Rudolph Jr. vs. Duane Oftelie and Gerald Johnson; and Edward Fisher as trustee for next of kin of Cyril Fisher, vs. the same defendants.

A personal injury action is that of Harold A. Anderson vs. Mervin T. and Pamela Rendahl and Gordon and Larry Pittman.

Other jury cases are those of Ervin and Evelyn Voecks vs. the city of Thief River Falls, Robert J. Lund, secretary of the board of cemetery commissioners, involving a disinterment; Elmer L. Johnson vs. Soo Line railroad, personal injury; Daniel Keefe vs. John Michener, involving a contract; Gordon LaBree vs. Walter Jung, also a contract dispute; Walter Anderson vs. city of Thief River Falls and Russell Moen; and Richard A. Sovde vs. Kenneth B. Mehrkens, arising out of an automobile accident.

To be heard without a jury are several divorce matters.



ADVANCING to state competition on the basis of placing third in the Region I Future Farmers of America general livestock judging contest last week is this team of judges from the Thief River Falls FFA chapter. Left to right in the foreground are Ronny Konickson and James Nelson and in the back are Alan Newton and Kermit Solem. Nineteen teams were entered in the event and Solem placed third among 76 individual judges in the event. The state contest will be held in St. Paul in May.

Owen W. Glassburn, public relations director of the World Gospel Mission; Rev. Harold Lovestrand, pioneer missionary to West Irian (Dutch New Guinea); Rev. Herbert Epp of the "Back to the Bible" broadcast; and Rev. Eric Bowley, native-born South African and missionary to Nigeria.

Evening sessions will begin at 7 p. m. with a special film or slide picture. These are designed to give the congregation a 30 minute "trip" to some mission field in order to increase their understanding of the culture and society of that people.

Special speaker for the first half of the conference will be Rev. Owen W. Glassburn. He has just returned from a mission's field trip to Haiti.

Rev. Herbert Epp is the son of the internationally known director of the "Back to the Bible" radio broadcast, Rev. Theodore Epp. He is a former missionary to Ceylon and is preparing to go to the Philippines. With Epp will be Rev. Eric Bowley, native born South African.

Conference sessions will be held at 3 and 4 p. m. Monday through Saturday. Another special feature this year will be the Men's fellowship breakfast at the Rex cafe Wednesday at 6:30 a. m. Rev. Owen Glassburn will speak.

Details are in the church announcement section. The public is cordially invited to each session.

Margie Vik Wins PTA Scholarship Awarded Locally

Miss Margie Lu Vik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vik of rt. 5, Thief River Falls, has been named winner of a $250 scholarship offered by the Thief River Falls PTA council in cooperation with the St. Hilaire PTA.

Selection was made by a special selection committee last night, according to Robert Reeve, senior high school counselor at Lincoln high school. The scholarship is offered to a senior at Lincoln who plans to attend college in Minnesota and major in education.

Miss Vik is editor of the high school paper, member of the student council, active in church and 4-H club activities, and has participated in band, chorus and orchestra activities at the school. She plans to attend Concordia college in Moorhead and major in elementary education.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stewart returned last week from a three-week's trip to California, Arizona, and other states, where they visited with friends.

Annual RAD Meeting Set On Wednesday

Election of Directors & Speaking Program Featured Attractions

First annual meeting of the Pennington County Rural Areas Development (RAD) association will be held Wednesday, April 8, according to Cy Carpenter, president. The meeting will start with a noon luncheon in the basement of the city auditorium. Two featured speakers will talk on RAD topics beginning at 12:30 p. m.

Everyone in the county, whether member or not, is urged to attend this important meeting. A special invitation is extended to businessmen to attend the luncheon which will be served at noon. There will be a small charge and children must be accompanied by parents.

The first speaker will present his talk at 12:30 p. m. George Donohue; extension rural sociologist, University of Minnesota, will speak on "Progress of Rural Area Development in the U. S.". He will review the origin, purpose and functions of RAD.

The second speaker will be Howard Newell, district supervisor of extension work. Newell will speak on "Progress of RAD in Minnesota" and review the work being done in various counties in Minnesota. Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agent, will report on the Pennington county organization.

The Pennington county unit of the National Farmers Organization (NFO) will meet at St. Hilaire Tuesday evening, April 7, at 8:30, Albert Kotrba, secretary, announced today, adding that all members should attend and report to the livestock bargaining chairman.

A meeting also will be held in the school gym at Grygla Thursday evening, April 2, for NFO members in Marshall, Pennington and Beltrami counties.

Kotrba stated that a NFO television program is held on Channel 6, Fargo, each Tuesday at 12:30 p. m., and that a radio program is broadcast over Station KTRF Mondays through Fridays at 12:40 p. m.

Foreign Trade Is Topic At Farm Forum Friday

Hon. Odin Langen

Dr. Elmer Learn

Hon. Eugene McCarthy

Dr. Learn, Langen And McCarthy To Be Guest Speakers

"The Minnesota Farmer in Foreign Trade" is the topic for the first annual Northwestern Minnesota Farm Forum to be held Friday at the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls. The forum will begin at 10 a. m. and continue in the afternoon following an hour recess for a noon meal.

Speakers will be Dr. Elmer Learn, head of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Minnesota; Hon. Eugene McCarthy, U. S. Senator from Minnesota; and Hon. Odin Langen, Congressman from Minnesota's Seventh District.

Implications of foreign trade on Minnesota farmers will be discussed by the speakers in individual talks. With the diversity of opinion by the speakers on the controversial topic, a comprehensive look at the situation is expected. Persons attending will also have the opportunity to submit written questions for discussion by a panel composed of the three speakers and moderated by Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent.

Serving as master of ceremonies for the program will be Fred Sorensen, chairman of the agriculture committee of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the forum in cooperation with the Minnesota Extension service. Wide interest in the forum has already been expressed, Sorensen said, and it is expected that the armory will be filled to capacity for the timely program.

For the benefit of farmers and others coming from a distance to attend, a noon lunch is being provided at the armory for a 25-cent charge to cover the cost of food. The forum is open to the public, there is no admission charge, and everyone interested is encouraged to be in attendance.

Dr. Learn to Speak

Dr. Elmer Learn holds B. S., M. S. and Ph. D. degrees from Pennsylvania State University and came to the University of Minnesota as a research assistant in October of 1956. His research specialization is in agricultural prices and policy. One major project in which he participated with others concerned policies for expanding food consumption in the United States.

Twice in the past two years he has taken part in research involv-

General Dahlen Tells Rotarians About Army Work

Functions of the U. S. Army Reserve program and Reserve Officers Training corps were outlined by Maj. Gen. Chester A. Dahlen, Commanding General of the 14th Army Corps, at the noon meeting of the Thief River Falls Rotary club on Monday. Gen. Dahlen is a native of Thief River Falls.

General Dahlen is a 1933 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point and served in World War II and the Korean conflict. His citations include the silver and bronze stars with oak leaf clusters, legion of merit with oak leaf cluster, second award combat infantry badge and citations from the government of France and Republic of Korea.

Officers of the club for the coming year were also elected at the meeting. Harold Storhaug will succeed Al Bacon as president of the organization with Donald L. Olson as vice president and Kenneth Onken as secretary-treasurer. Directors for two years will be J. W. Ewing and Roy Oen while Douglas Kemmer will be director for a one-year term.

Gen. Dahlen noted that his command covers Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa and Wisconsin and that he is responsible for 313 army reserve units, 14 senior ROTC divisions, four military academies and several high school ROTC units. Under his command are 1,074 officers, enlisted men and civilians in addition to the men serving in the reserve and ROTC units.

Particular emphasis was placed by Gen. Dahlen on the ROTC program. It is a program which effectively teaches fundamentals of leadership, he said, and is valuable to all young men entering college today.

Crookston Hosts Event

Red River Hearing Held On Tuesday

Testimony favoring a primary dam and reservoir in the Huot area and secondary dams and reservoirs at a number of other sites on the Red Lake river was presented at a hearing held Monday at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston. A number of people from Thief River Falls were among more than 200 attending the hearing.

Lt. Col. Leslie B. Harding, St. Paul district engineer for the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, presided at the hearing which was held to determine the need for further development of the water and related land resources of the Red Lake river basin. Persons testifying said that controlling the flow of the Red Lake river to avert flood losses in the spring and water shortages later in the year would solve many of the area's problems.

Thief River Falls delegations at the hearing requested dredging of silt deposits from the river here, stating that the deposits had resulted from earlier projects upstream. Spokesmen for the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians asked restoration of marshlands which they said had been destroyed by previous projects conducted by the Corps of Engineers.

Woodrow Almquist, Pennington county commissioner, spoke for the village of St. Hilaire, emphasizing the recreational aspect of a reservoir in that area. He said St. Hilaire would be glad to take the 'middle man' role between the problems upstream in the Red

Memorial Coins Honoring Kennedy Are Distributed

Each of the two local banks last week received $50 worth of the newly minted John F. Kennedy memorial half-dollars, and the limited supply was quickly exhausted. The U. S. mints are expected to release more of the coins at a later date, additional specimens will be available locally.

Cancer Crusade In Pennington To Begin On Monday

Kick-off Luncheon Set At Rex Cafe Saturday; Ellingson Heads Drive

Official kick-off luncheon of the Pennington County Cancer Crusade will be held Satuday at 10 a. m. in the Rex cafe, according to Morgan Ellingson, county crusade chairman. All volunteer workers and captains are asked to be present to receive crusade kits and information.

Solicitation in the Thief River Falls business district and rural areas will begin on Monday, April 6, Ellingson said. The residential canvass will begin on Monday, April 13, and continue through April 30.

Preparation for this year's crusade will concentrate on more effective training of volunteers to do the door-to-door bell ringing which is so important in raising funds and educating the public in ways to protect themselves from death from cancer, Ellingson added. He stated that expectations are that this year's crusade will surpass the total collected in 1963.

"Men and women everywhere are becoming increasingly aware of the urgency of the cancer problem and what they can do about it personally," the crusade chairman said. "Last year more than 44,000 men and women were saved from cancer who would have died had they developed the disease 10 years ago.

"It is now possible to save at least one out of two of those who develop cancer, but only one out of three is actually being saved. This means that some 90,000 persons will die of cancer this year simply because they did not get to their doctors in time for early diagnosis and prompt treatment," he added.

Ellingson noted that the society's number one goal in the April crusade will be the saving of those lives that are lost unnecessarily. "That means getting everyone to a doctor in time for early detection and treatment," he said. "Delay can be fatal. One's best protection against death from cancer is an annual health checkup—an event which should be observed as regularly as a birthday."

Unique Accident Happens Saturday South of City

Escaping injury in a unique accident near Thief River Falls Saturday was Mrs. Allene Hildre of Fergus Falls. State highway patrol officers investigated the mishap which occurred about 3:15 p. m. on highway 32 just south of the city.

According to the highway patrol, Mrs. Hildre was driving north on the highway and meeting a car and trailer driven by Mark Larson, Thief River Falls. A large wooden box blew off the trailer, smashing the windshield on the Hildre car as the two vehicles met. The Hildre car went into the ditch but no further damage resulted. The accident is under investigation by the highway patrol.

Furniture Buying Course Planned

"So You Want to Buy Some Furniture" is the title of the adult evening class for homemakers to begin on April 6 at 7:30 p. m. in room 111 of Lincoln high school. Furniture design, construction features, furniture periods and furniture arrangement will be the topics for consideration.

Miss Carol Ellingson, a new member of the Lincoln high school home economics staff, will be the instructor in charge. Fee for the course is $4. Advance registration may be made by calling the area vocational office, 681-4588.

One hundred forty Lions and their ladies attended an enjoyable banquet in the Elks club rooms Tuesday evening, arranged in observance of the 25th anniversary of the Thief River Falls Lions club. Sharing in the affair were delegations from Lions clubs in Crookston, East Grand Forks, McIntosh, Roseau and Warren.

Guest speaker on the program, over which Dr. O. D. Beich, club president, presided effectively, was Carl G. Roessler of Woburn, Mass., a member of the board of directors of Lions International.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of engraved silver loving cups to Bill LaFave, L. A. Ihle and N. A. Holen, the three remaining charter members who have retained their membership through the years. James Parkins, international counselor and past district governor, with a record of 23 years perfect attendance, was presented by President Beich with an engraved silver tray. LaFave responded for the honored group, giving reminiscences from the club's past.

Armond Sannes of McIntosh, district governor, spoke briefly, congratulating the club for having shown the biggest gain in Accentuate the positive! Flatter your figure with well placed accessories. Because accessories of contrasting colors call attention to the part of the body where they are worn, use them only where they will accent good figure features.

If you are small, you will look more attractive when you keep your contrasting colors in one area. If you are stocky, wear your color contrasts high and toward the center of your figure.

And remember, when you are selecting your spring garments and accessories, that light or bright colors add width and height to your figure and dark or dull colors seem to diminish its size.

A hat is as essential to your new Easter suit as a zipper is to a skirt. In fact, you are not giving your outfit a chance to look its best if you go bare-headed.

A hat is a frame for your face. It can emphasize good features and play down bad features. Hats and hairdos go together, so keep your hat simple when your hairdo is elaborate. If you wear glasses, choose a hat with a brim or bit of trim in front to balance the glasses.

Do not forget the color magic that you can perform with a hat. If you want to appear taller and slimmer, choose a hat the same color as your main garment. If you are tall and want the opposite effect, then choose a style in contrasting color. But, be sure the hat size relates to your own size - small if you are short and large if you are tall.

The 1964 fashion votes that the large hats are the most likely to succeed this spring. Two of the most popular styles are the brim and the cap shapes. The brim is worn level-headed, covering part of the forehead. Many brim hats are straw which is either very smooth or very rough. The cap is draped turban-fashion in sheer, silky-texture and printed fabrics. Some, called "mop caps", are gathered to cover all the hair.
